THE *OVERBY SPLINT

A New Method for the Preservation of Teeth

A technique of intracoronal splinting of mobile teeth, developed by Grant E. Overby, provides the dental profession a new effective method to preserve periodontally involved teeth.

Special precious metal screws and sleeves, Fig. 1, are utilized to fasten a rigid VITALLIUM® splint immobilizing each affected tooth. Teeth are easily prepared, no paralleling necessary, for cementation of the sleeves, Fig. 2, and the screws secure the especially constructed VITALLIUM splint, Fig. 3. Posterior teeth also may be prepared for sleeves or inserts in appropriate areas as indicated in Fig. 4.

President's Message

As President of the Alumni Association for this year, I would like to express my deep appreciation for the honor of serving you and also to express a sincere wish for the continued health and success of the Alumni. This year the officers and the executive council have the unique task of assisting in the organization of a celebration of the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, the first dental school in the world. Under the chairmanship of Dr. Kyrle W. Preis, and with the support of all the subcommittees of the Alumni Association, together with the School, we hope to present a program reflecting an illustrious past and our promising future. Gardner P. H. Foley, Professor of Dental History, has consented to write a history of the Baltimore dental schools.

It will be the primary objective of the present administration to increase the active membership of our Association. To effect this, we shall need the help of all of you. In the near future, the new dental school building will be under construction. The administration of the school will need our support, both financial and moral. We should be standing by, unified and ready to help.

In the meantime, I hope to see many of you at our annual function during the coming American Dental Association meeting in San Francisco. I am counting on you to lend your valuable support to all the activities of this exceptionally important year in our history.

Medical Care Under Social Security?

At the time of this writing the Senate passed a bill incorporating the health care of the aged under the Social Security Program. Representative Mills, who was one of the proponents of the Kerr-Mills Bill, will head this joint committee. This committee will ultimately determine the fate of this proposed bill.

Medicare is the term used to designate health care under the Social Security Program. The Administration and those who support Medicare argue that it is quite proper to force the young workers of today to pay higher taxes to buy health care for those sixty-five or over. All those receiving Social Security benefits would be covered regardless of their financial need, the wealthy and the well-to-do included.

Means Test

They insist that it is degrading for any one to be subjected to a means test in order to receive the benefits. Congress has passed the Food Stamp Act. Needy people are given either stamps or surplus food that the government has in storage bins. Yet no one insists that the means test be eliminated in the Food Stamp Act. The purpose of the means test is obvious—to prevent abuse. Maximum utilization of the tax dollar is assured if only those in need receive the benefits of the program. The Social Security Program itself is a means test. If a person sixty-five years old earns in excess of $1,200.00 per year his benefits are cut off. The Social Security payments are stopped even though he may have contributed to the program for thirty years.

Advocates of medicare claim that private insurance is inadequate in coverage and too expensive for people over sixty-five. More than 9,500,000 people over sixty-five have purchased health insurance with a much broader coverage than that which is proposed under Medicare. Their objection seems invalid.

Each year the economic condition of the aged is improving. In 1949, 23% of the entire population was receiving old age assistance. Last year only 12% were receiving this aid. In a recent Census Bureau Report the median income of those over sixty-five increased 4.5% while the median income for all families increased only 2%. While those over sixty-five comprise 9% of the total population, they receive 8% of the income in this country.

The supporters of medicare claim that medical, dental and hospital bills wipe out the assets of the aged. No medical, dental or hospital bills were owed by the 96% of those over sixty-five in a survey conducted by the University of Michigan.

Medicare would benefit eight or ten people for every one that actually needed help. In addition, this proposed bill would fail to protect three to four million people not eligible for Social Security.

Critics have attacked the Kerr-Mills Bill charging that it is not meeting the need because most of the benefits are going to only a few states.

Some 38 states have adopted plans to implement the Kerr-Mills Program. It is true that a great percentage of the federal money is going to four states: New York, Michigan, California and Massachusetts. But, it is also true that about 25% of the aged live in these states.

The Kerr-Mills Program must be judged a success even if all the states do not utilize it. Several states have extensive programs of their own. Colorado has not adopted it, but ten million dollars are spent annually for health care of the elderly. Texas, which also has not adopted the Kerr-Mills Program, provides health care for the elderly through a contract with Blue Cross-Blue Shield. The program in Texas is considered an ideal plan. Direct payments are made for hospital, surgical, medical, and nursing home care in the Texas program.

Private Insurance

The government has estimated the cost of the proposed medicare program at about 2.5 million dollars. H. Lewis Reitz, an insurance executive, after examining the insurance claims of over 13 million elderly persons, estimates the cost at nearly 5.5 million dollars. The supporters of Medicare have grossly underestimated the cost. Further, the government maintains that these costs will level off. Yet the average daily hospital cost rose from 14 dollars in 1949 to 32 dollars in 1960. Can anyone sanely predict that the cost of this program will not increase by rather substantial amounts annually? A significant fact often overlooked is that increased coverage generates greater utilization of hospital and medical services. Just look at the galloping costs of the Blue Cross.

In 1961, 9 million or 53% of the aged had health care insurance. By allowing insurance companies to pool their funds, low cost health coverage can be provided for the aged. Pooling of funds is against anti-trust laws. But Connecticut has given the insurance companies this opportunity. The result was the highly successful "Connecticut 65" health insurance policies. This plan covers all medical expenses ($500 deductible) up to $10,000. The cost is only $10 per month. This plan is open to all regardless of past or present health status.

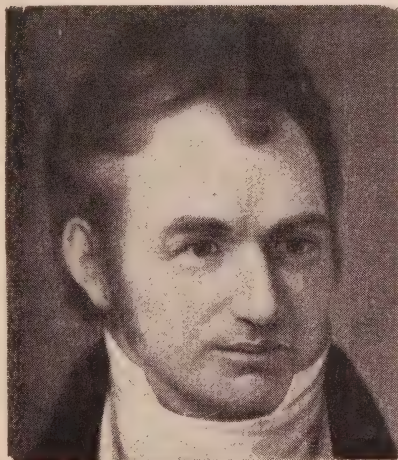

Look at what happened to Great Britain. In order to provide health care to all, funds have been cut back in 1) hospital building and 2) salaries to health personnel. Since the beginning of socialized medical care only one new hospital has been built. Yet two new cathedrals have been built with private funds.

From 1955-1960 more than 3,000 physicians have immigrated to the commonwealth countries and foreign countries. This is equivalent to one-third of the physicians graduated during that time. It is estimated that 40% of the hospital physicians in England are from foreign countries. Were it not for this immigration of foreign physicians, hospital services would have to be curtailed. More than 50% of the patients who needed elective surgery waited from one month to two years for the service. The physician performing the service was not of the patient's choice. In many instances, a foreign resident rendered the medical services which the patient needed.

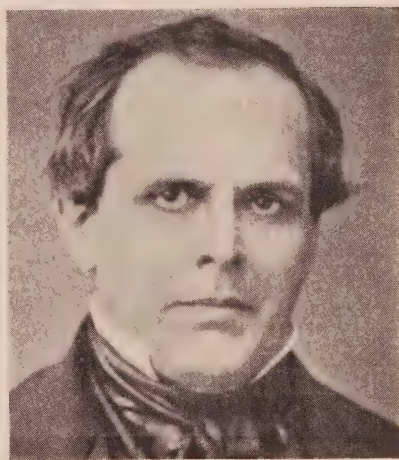

Many of the critics of medicare have said that the administration is just trying to buy votes.

If socialization comes to the practice of medicine, does one dare to think that dentistry will not be included. The problem is not merely one of self-preservation. An expensive red-tape octopus is about to grasp the aged and health professions. The wage earners, small businesses and corporations of today will only have to feed this octopus through high taxes. The wage earners of tomorrow will feed the progeny of this sea monster. Stop this octopus! Write to your representatives. Tell your representatives why you object to medicare. Do not resolve to act. By the time pen is in hand, socialization may be at hand.—J. H. SEIPP, JR.

125th Anniversary

HORACE HAYDEN

CHAPIN A. HARRIS

The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was founded by Dr. Horace Hayden and Dr. Chapin A. Harris in 1840. On March 4, 5 and 6, 1965, the 125th Anniversary Celebration will be held in Baltimore, Maryland. For details see pages 44 and 45.

The One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 4, 5 and 6, 1965. Dr. Kyrle Preis, chairman of this committee of the 125th anniversary has been planning carefully over the past two years to present an interesting and varied program. The dates chosen are most appropriate since the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was on March 6, 1840. Incidentally, this is the fifth year that a triennial meeting has been held in the spring of the year. To commemorate the names of the founders of our alma mater, the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, a memorial lecture has been established. Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, the Secretary of the American Dental Association, will present the first Hayden-Harris memorial lecture. We are most fortunate in having such an outstanding key-note speaker.

The alumni association and the school will jointly sponsor the publication of a Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary. Each of the sponsors has pledged $5,000.00 for this publication. (This publication is similar to, but smaller than the proceedings of the 100th Anniversary). The Proceedings will be mailed as a benefit to those attending the meeting.

As plans develop, a two and one-half day meeting is being programmed.

On Thursday, March 4, the entire affair will be held at the Belvedere Hotel. A continental breakfast will be served at which the Past Presidents will be honored. After a welcome by Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin there will be scientific sessions. At noon there will be a 'lunch and learn' by Deans John J. Salley, Kenneth V. Randolph, Harry B. McCarthy, Lewis Fox and Alvin L. Morris. There will be but one panel discussion in the afternoon to allow time for the members to prepare for the reception and buffet honoring Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, Secretary of the American Dental Association. Dr. Hillenbrand will deliver the first Hayden-Harris memorial lecture at 8:00 o'clock.

On Friday, the entire scientific meeting will be held at the Student Union Building.

The Alumni Association will sponsor a golf tournament on Saturday morning. There will also be a tour of the inner harbor on the U. S. S. Port Welcome for the non-golfers. The meeting will terminate with the luncheon at noon. For details see pages 44 and 45.

This meeting has been carefully planned to bring to you the outstanding men in clinical dentistry, dental education and medicine. Plan to attend the 125th Anniversary Celebration of the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. This is a rare opportunity. Take advantage of it.—J. H. SEIPP, JR.

PERIODONTICS

The Dentist, The Patient, and Education

CHARLES T. PRIDGEON, D.D.S.

The periodontal care of our patients has and will continue to be the responsibility of the general practitioner. The recognition of periodontics as a specialty should in no way diminish or relieve the general practitioner of the obligation to bear in mind the physical well-being of the patient by providing for a complete or total dental health service. This can only be done by placing periodontal management in its rightful order in the daily practice.

There is a definite need and place for periodontal specialists possessing graduate and special training to cope with those cases that offer a challenge as to etiology, treatment and prognosis. On the other hand, studies indicate that the greater number of periodontal conditions encountered are of the "common or garden type" variety, and if the general practitioner's basic periodontal training were adequate, and if directed properly, it would more than assure successful and gratifying results in prevention and treatment of periodontal disease.

The general practitioner sees by far the greatest number of patients seeking treatment on a regular basis. Periodontal disease, as others, has the most favorable prognosis when recognized and treated early. For this reason, the opportunities for prevention and early treatment of periodontal disease are unlimited in the hands of the general practitioner. By the same token, the opportunities are also unlimited to initiate, aggravate or perpetuate periodontal lesions.

Prevalence

Despite the shortcomings of the various indices used in epidemiological studies for quantitative and qualitative assessments of periodontal disease, it is generally accepted that its prevalence and incidence are extremely high on a world-wide geographical and population distribution. A patient, regardless of age, that is completely free of some degree of periodontal involvement is the exception rather than the rule.

The American Dental Association has gathered data of other surveys indicating that in men over the age of 35 and in women over the age of 40 years, periodontal disease has been responsible for between two and three times as many extractions as dental decay. The National Institute of Health in a recent report stated, "Preservation of teeth through fluoridation, diet and better care is nullified by the attack in middle age of periodontal disease."

There are socio-economic and educational factors which influence and regulate the number of patients who seek dental care with regularity.

It has been estimated that less than 40% of the population receive what might be called adequate dental care. In spite of receiving dental care with regularity we found an alarming number of patients who have artificial replacements of some or all of their teeth. Statistically, it has been shown that unnoticed and untreated periodontal disease has been responsible for the loss of teeth necessitating artificial replacements.

With the foregoing as a background the need for periodontics in the daily practice would appear to need little for its defense. Given the proper attention, periodontics would occupy a reasonable and adequate share of the practice. Unfortunately, this is not the case.

One of the reasons advanced for the absence or relegation of periodontics to a minor role in the average practice has been the argument that the philosophy or concept of dentistry begins in the undergraduate school, and if the training is concentrated on technical skills then it follows a dental practice will be apportioned accordingly. Dr. Glickman says—"the school is the place where impressions are formed that mold the habits of our dental practice . . ."

The 3 R's

Dentistry, as a profession, was founded on the need for repair, removal and replacement of diseased teeth. These are the so-called 3 R's in dentistry. The progress along these lines has been noteworthy, and for these accomplishments we should be justly proud. But certainly after a century we must have more in the way of a health service to offer our patients. Unquestionably, the 3 R's are a necessary and important part of dentistry, and for sometime to come will continue to monopolize the greater part of our practice.

The introduction of periodontics in every day practice is not done with the idea to displace or replace our old standbys, but merely to give it a place—a place it rightfully deserves. The danger of the 3 R's concept is that it generally leads one to think in terms of individual teeth, instead of relating health and disease to the entire mouth and the general well being of the patient.

Dental educators have recognized the important role of periodontology in dentistry. There has been an increasing emphasis on periodontology with an awareness at the same time of not decreasing the effectiveness of other valuable subjects in the curriculum.

Our dental school, it can be reported, has recognized the need to improve the quality and quantity of periodontal instruction. The faculty and administration have been most cooperative and given much encouragement to effect improvement.

As a starter, a new location was provided for the department. The Oral Medicine Department now occupies the space of the old Clarence J. Grieves Library. All new equipment has been provided. There are 12 chairs for periodontics and 8 for endodontics. In addition space has been provided for the staff, an x-ray room, dark room, records and supplies, etc.

Objectives

The entire course in periodontology has been revised and patterned on the following objectives:

1. To correlate and integrate the basic biological sciences to the periodontium in health and disease.
2. To provide a basic and thorough understanding of the etiology, diagnosis, prognosis and treatment of periodontal disease.
3. To inculcate in the student the concept of total dental care; the inter-relation of all aspects of dentistry for a well organized plan of treatment for therapy; and the important role of periodontics therein.
4. To accentuate the importance of and the need for early treatment, prevention and the control of periodontal disease for maintenance of oral and general health.
5. To correlate the principles of occlusion and the relationship of occlusal forces to periodontal disease.
6. To motivate the student to greater interest in periodontics and to encourage the pursuit of periodontal training at the graduate level.

Future Plans

The lecture hours have been increased from 12 hours to 56 hours, and a 24 hour pre-clinical laboratory course has been established. Beginning the fall semester of 1964 the senior class will receive a 32 hour didactic course. The first 16 hours will be devoted entirely to the principles of occlusion and its ramifications as related to periodontics and other disciplines of clinical dentistry. For the three years that periodontics is now taught the credit hours have increased from 3 to 5.

In the near future the clinical hours will be increased from a total of 43 hours to 128 hours. The time allotted to clinical periodontics is limited only by the number of chairs presently available.

The teaching staff has been increased from 2 to 5. This includes 2 full time and 3 half time members. All members of the staff are graduate trained periodontists. To further augment the program, qualified guest lecturers have been invited to participate in both the lectures and clinical program of the department.

In the planning stages for the not too distant future provisions are being made for graduate study leading to a M.S. Degree, for post-graduate, and for continuing education courses.

Research is encouraged among the students and staff. Several students have and some are currently engaged in periodontal research projects for their thesis. The staff members are collaborating in a pilot study in preparation for a clinical research project concerning the reproductiveness of certain periodontal disease indices.

Summary

In summary the major problem of periodontal disease in modern dental practice has been reviewed. The responsibility of the general practitioner for periodontic care of his patients has been discussed. The obligation of dental education to create greater interest in periodontology at all levels has been described, and the progress that our school has made in this direction has been reported.

To best describe the objectives and motives of those interested in promoting periodontology it would be fitting to conclude with the following statement made by the research committee at a Workshop For Teachers in Periodontology a few years back.

"Many problems in periodontology are as yet unsolved. However, the fact that we know little about some aspects of periodontology should not be enlarged into the broad generalization that little is known about the etiology and nature of periodontal disease. There is a sizable accumulation of useful knowledge regarding periodontal disease derived from clinical and laboratory research which should be incorporated into the teaching of periodontology at the undergraduate level. This should not be done for the purpose of aggrandizing the subject of periodontology and not for the purpose of seeking a place in the academic sun, but for the purpose of enabling dental schools to do a better job in the preparation of dentists properly to serve the public needs."

OUR HERITAGE

Expressed In Symbols

ETHELBERT LOVETT, D.D.S.

In past issues of the ALMA MATER we have dealt with our professional heritage, and our obligation to the great men of dentistry who have gone before us. Now it is time to consider our cultural heritage, and our indebtedness to the great civilizations of the past that have left us an inheritance that is our birthright today.

This birthright, or cultural heritage, is made up of religious, moral, philosophical, medical, and political principles. It is the condensed wisdom of the ages.

These principles have been expressed in symbols as a sort of philosophical shorthand, and are used in all walks of life as an important part of our communication system. A symbol is a graphic sign that represents an idea, rather than just a word. So, symbols are ideograms that help us grasp and remember whole concepts. An excellent example of an ideogram is the Cross (Plate I, Fig. A) which represents to our minds the whole story of Christianity. This has had a tremendous influence in shaping our educational, medical, and political institutions and is an important part of our cultural inheritance. During the Dark Ages it was the Church that kept our literature from being lost, and, during the Middle Ages and later, it was the Church that established schools and hospitals.

Our religious heritage goes beyond this. When we see the Menorah (Plate I, Fig. B) we are reminded of our obligation to Judaism, to the people who were the first, as a nation, to believe in One God, and to give us the Ten Commandments, the basis of our moral law.

Although the gods of ancient Greece and Rome are remembered only in mythology, a vestige of our religious heritage is found on all medical prescriptions. This is the Rx (Plate I, Fig. C). It originally was a form of a prayer, an invocation of divine aid. The chief god among the Romans was Jupiter. His symbol was X. The R is an abbreviation of recipe, to take, and is an order to the pharmacist. The addition of the X, or symbol of Jupiter, is a prayer to the great god to bless the prescription, just as we ask a blessing before a meal, or end a prayer with amen.

The Rx on the prescription helps to connect our religious heritage with our medical heritage. The caduceus, or wand of Hermes, is the symbol of the medical profession (Plate I, Fig. D). When a D is placed in the center it becomes the symbol of the dental profession. It is a rod with two serpents twined around it, and two wings at the top. The entwined black and white serpents represent the struggle between good and evil—disease and health. The caduceus reminds us of the close connection between our religious heritage and our medical heritage, for both professions deal with the eternal struggle between the powerful forces of good and evil.

Too often we forget that our political heritage has deep roots that are nourished by our religious heritage, but the evidence is before us, in symbolic form, every day. Look at the reverse side of a dollar bill. There you will see the Great Seal of the United States (Plate I, Fig. E). Congressman Maury Maverick, writing about the Great Seal, said, "The founding fathers of the United States were obviously looking toward far horizons when they depicted the eagle on one face of the Great Seal. But they were also conscious of the great heritage of civilization, and its birthplace—Egypt—when they depicted the pyramid on the other face, thus forging the link between the United States and Egypt.”

The reverse of the Great Seal shows an unfinished pyramid which represents “Solid Strength and Duration”, as stated in the law adopted by Congress, and means that the United States will always continue to build, grow and improve, with a continuous evaluation of truth.

Above the pyramid is the “All-Seeing Eye of Providence” within a triangular Glory. This indicates the spiritual above the material. Above the eye is the Latin motto, “ANNUIT COEPTIS” which means “He (God) has favored our undertakings.” Mr. Barton, one of the designers, said, “This alludes to the many signal interpositions of Providence in favor of the American cause.”

The unfinished condition of the pyramid denotes the belief of the designers of the Great Seal that there was still work to be done. The thirteen layers of the pyramid refer to the Thirteen States. At the bottom are the words “NOVUS ORDO SECLORUM”, meaning the “New Order of the Ages”, beginning in 1776.

On the obverse, or face, of the Great Seal is the familiar American Eagle with a shield, grasping an olive branch in one talon, and arrows in the other talon, surmounted by thirteen stars and the Latin motto, “E PLURIBUS UNUM”, out of many, one (Plate I, Fig. E).

Above the “Eagle of Democracy” is a Glory (of God), a ring of light in gold indicating the spiritual above the material. Inside the Glory are thirteen stars representing the thirteen Original States.

The top of the shield in blue represents Congress, free elections, representative democracy and justice. The head of the eagle represents the Executive Branch. The nine tail feathers represent the Judiciary or Supreme Court. And so, the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial branches of government are united with a motto in the beak of the Eagle, “E PLURIBUS UNUM”.

The vertical stripes, red and white in the shield represent the union of the states. In the right talon of the Eagle are 13 green olive leaves and seeds, which always represented peace to the Chaldian, Judaic, Egyptian and other middle Eastern cultures. In the left claw are 13 arrows of American Indian origin, representing war. The head of the American Eagle always turns toward the olives, indicating a desire for peace, although being prepared for war.

Our heritage is from the great civilizations of the past, and we in the United States today are heirs of Egypt and Palestine, of Rome and England. We have inherited a way of life that has permitted medicine and dentistry to develop unhindered by religious or political controls. But to keep our freedom we have to be constantly on guard. “Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Freedom”.

June Week 1964

The June Week Activities for 1964 got underway with the traditional Omicron Kappa Upsilon Convocation on Wednesday evening, June 3, an affair described in detail elsewhere in the Alma Mater. Early Thursday morning, sixteen of the past presidents of the Alumni Association met for breakfast and for the usual photographing of assembled past presidents. The Board of Trustees met after this breakfast and when they adjourned the Annual Business Meeting was convened. All of these activities were held in the pleasant surroundings of the Baltimore Union Building. The afternoon highlight was the annual golf tournament which was held at the Rolling Road Golf Club this year. Fifty-two Alumni participated. On Thursday evening, the separate reunion classes held their dinner-dances at various spots around the city.

The Friday Pre-commencement exercises were held in the Health Sciences Library Auditorium which was completely filled to see the graduates honored and to hear an address by the Right Reverend Noble C. Powell, retired Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Maryland. The Alumni sponsored a luncheon in the Baltimore Union for all students, families, faculty, staff and guests. Three hundred and ninety-nine persons enjoyed this fine buffet.

The climax of June Week was the Dinner-Dance. Two hundred and forty-nine persons gathered to honor the Class of 1964; the Distinguished Alumnus, Dr. Conrad L. Inman; and the Class of 1914, who were celebrating their fiftieth reunion. The remarkable turnout of twenty-five members and twelve of their wives certainly spoke well of the Class of 1914, some from the University of Maryland and some from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. We were honored by the presence of Mayor McKeldin; Vice-president Albin O. Kuhn; Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of the Board of Regents; many officers and past officers of our Association; many past Distinguished Alumnus; and Deans Salley, Aisenberg, Randolph and Robinson.

Dr. Daniel E. Shehan introduced Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Sr. with the following words:

"Mr. Toastmaster, President Emmart, honored guests, fellow alumni, members of the class of 1964, their relatives and friends, ladies and gentlemen:

"To have been designated by the committee to present the distinguished alumnus of the year is, I assure you, a distinct honor. For me to introduce the recipient of this award seems rather superfluous as he is so well known an introduction seems quite unnecessary. To extol his many qualifications and virtues one scarcely knows where to begin.

"Conrad Lucius Inman, born in Mt. Airy, North Carolina in September of 1894, received his degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1915. He entered the general practice of dentistry in Baltimore at Fort Avenue and William Street. Later after careful preparation, he established himself as a specialist in the practice of oral surgery.

"Dr. Inman was elected president of the Baltimore City Dental Society in 1932 and of the Maryland State Dental Association in 1951, continuing his interest in both of these organizations by serving in an active capacity on their many committees. He is a Fellow of the American College of Dentists and a past president of its Maryland Chapter—a past president of this the National Alumni Association of the University of Maryland, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery—a member of Psi Omega Fraternity and a past president of the Oriole Alumni Chapter—a member of the Omicron Kappa Upsilon Society and served as president of the Maryland Chapter—charter member and past president of the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons and a member of the American Society of Oral Surgeons serving at present as a member of its House of Delegates and on its Board of Examiners. In 1947 he was made a diplomate of the American Board of Oral Surgeons.

“He is the chief of Dental Surgery of Saint Joseph’s, Bon Secours, Lutheran and South Baltimore General Hospitals. He is also staff member of Union Memorial, Sinai, Women’s, Maryland General, Church Home, St. Agnes and Mercy Hospitals and is a consultant at the United States Public Health Hospital of Baltimore. This year he retires from the teaching staff of Oral Surgery and Anesthesiology at the University of Maryland School of Dentistry. He has just retired as president of the South Baltimore Boys Club. He is a member of the First Christian Church, the Masonic Order and of the Boumi Temple Shrine.

“‘Connie,’ as he is affectionately known to his many friends (and they are legion) has been gifted with a most genial personality. His sincerity, his loyalty, his charitable characteristics, and his innate professional ability make him one of the most highly respected and loved members of our profession.

“Connie and his lovely wife Clara are the proud parents of two very fine sons, Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Jr. and Mr. Thomas Inman, each of them being highly successful in his own right. Also associated with him in practice is his highly regarded nephew, Dr. Wallace Inman. This is certainly a reflection of Connie’s own unique success and of an impeccable home life. He is also blessed with five wonderful grandchildren. Such a closely knit family and such strong familial devotion I have rarely observed.

“Mr. President, it is a real privilege for me to present the unanimous choice of the Committee for the Distinguished Alumnus Award of 1964 Dr. Conrad Lucius Inman.”

The plaque for the Distinguished Alumnus was then presented to Dr. Inman by Dr. Emmart.

The Committee was pleased with the response of the Alumni and felt that as usual, this response creates a successful affair.

Class Reunions

Class of 1914

The golden anniversary reunion of the 1914 class of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, has come and gone. The event was regarded by all as an outstanding success.

Twenty-two members, or 46% of the 47 now living, attended the reunion. The 47 members now living represent 39% of the combined total of 126 who graduated from the two schools in 1914.

Others who made reservations but did not attend were Paisley Fields (B.C.D.S.) who died suddenly a few days ahead of the meeting date; Elmer Hachman (U.M.) whose wife became suddenly ill the day before his intended departure from home; and John Lamb (U.M.) who wired that he was not well enough to undertake the trip. We extend to the family of Dr. Fields our deepest sympathy, and to Mrs. Hachman and Johnny Lamb our sincere wishes for a speedy recovery.

The wives who accompanied their husbands were Mesdames Clautier, Comley, Holmes, Martin, Olive, Quitt, Samuel, Van Natta, Webb, Wohrna and Yount. Guests present were Mrs. C. A. Ruppertsberger of Baltimore and Mrs. Evelyn Searing of Lake Worth, Florida.

On Thursday evening, June 4th, the members present assembled for a reunion dinner in the Red Room of the Belvedere Hotel. A total of 34 members of the class, their wives and guests were present for dinner. The gracious Mrs. Howard Van Natta planned and carried out in detail this feature of the reunion. There were no formal speeches but each member spoke informally on the subject of his choice.

On Friday evening, June 5th, the members of the class and their wives attended a formal banquet as guests of the Alumni Association. As a main feature of the evening program, J. Ben Robinson, president of the U. M. class, was asked to present his classmates to the president of the Association who awarded each of them a Certificate of Distinction in recognition of his or her "fifty years of personal merit and professional achievements." All members indicated their deep appreciation of the high honor that was conferred on them.

Sons and a daughter of members of the 1914 class who are practicing dentists and who attended the banquet were: Don Comley (Pitt. 1947), son of Walter Comley; Naomi Dunn Eichenbaum (B.C.D.S. 1939), daughter of the late Maurice Dunn; Leonard Quitt (B.C.D.S. 1943), son of Solomon Quitt; and Carter Tinsley (B.C.D.S. 1939), son of John Tinsley.

This reunion of old school friends held after 50 years separation was, to say the least, a very happy experience. Time has brought a degree of change in our personal appearances, but the spirit of good fellowship remains keenly alive. Time has not eroded old ties of friendship nor has it lessened our interest in the well-being of our alma mater or our abiding loyalty to the revered institution that gave us professional birth. It is regrettable that all living members of the class could not be present.

May strength of body and peace of mind be the happy lot of each of us in the remaining years that lie ahead.

Class of 1924

The fortieth reunion of the Class of 1924, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, was held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland, on June 4th, 1964. The festivities began at 6 P.M. with a cocktail and fellowship hour. There were heart-warming greetings, reminiscing of days and years gone by, and the singing of old college songs led by the original class quartet accompanied by an accordionist.

Following this happy hour (a very long hour, indeed) all twenty-nine present sat down to a delicious dinner selected from the Lord Baltimore's finest Maryland menu. The invocation was given by Dr. H. Glenn Waring, followed by a moment of silence in memory of our departed classmates. Pleasant conversation, music and singing led by Comrade Bauder continued throughout the dinner.

Our special guests were Dr. and Mrs. James H. Ferguson and Dean and Mrs. Myron S. Aisenberg. Dr. Ferguson, our first speaker, (Dr. Jim to his students) reminded us that the class of 1924 was the first class graduated following the merger in 1923 of the old Baltimore College of Dental Surgery with the Dental School, University of Maryland. At that time, Dr. Jim was Superintendent of the Clinic and Professor of Prosthetic Dentistry at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. During his talk, he recalled many of the events affecting the students of our class. Mrs. Ferguson recalled her pleasant associations with Jim's boys at the school dances and other functions.

Dr. Aisenberg, now retired Dean of the Dental School, reminded us that when we were students, he was fresh out of school himself; he was a scared young instructor in the Department of Bacteriology and Pathology under Dr. Maldeis. He particularly recalled the hot dry summer of 1923 when he was instructing us in bacteriology and pathology. The course was necessary at this time due to the change in requirements which required greater emphasis in the basic sciences. Dr. Aisenberg spoke of the pleasure given to him as a teacher and as Dean of the Dental School in counselling the sons of his former students who elected to follow in their father's footsteps. Mrs. Aisenberg reminisced about the many years she came to know not only the students (and later practicing dentists) but also their families.

It was wonderful to have the Fergusons and Aisenbergs as our guests representing the two schools now functioning as one.

Following our guest speakers, all members of the class spoke of their college days and briefed us on their activities; past, present and future plans. A resolution was passed expressing our regrets at the inability of those members of the class who could not attend the reunion. We regret that our Dean, J. Ben Robinson, Dean John J. Salley, and Dr. Katharine Toomey, (Katie to all of us who love her) were unable to attend.

The evening's festivities were completed by several vociferous renditions of the Class of 1924 theme song, "We're Glad We're Not Young Anymore!"

JAMES W. MCCARL, Chairman

Class of 1929

From a class of one hundred and three, there are eighty-three still living; of this number thirty-four returned for the 35th reunion. Many arrived early, so that by the time of the official cocktail hour they were well on their way to renewing old friendships. However, three men arrived too late to be included in the photograph.

Mrs. Buttermore received and entertained the wives who came prior to dinner in the Falstaff Room. Mrs. Vanden Bosche was their guest.

Dr. Vanden Bosche was enthusiastically welcomed as our guest of honor. Following dinner, someone suggested calling the roll. To our amazement Dr. Vanden Bosche, without notes, commented on various episodes and interesting experiences of thirty-five years ago. Our master of ceremonies, Kyrle Preis, read some letters from several classmates who could not attend and asked for a few moments of prayerful tribute to our deceased members. Dr. Van spoke about the plans for expansion and new building program. This prompted so many impromptu discussions from the group that the entire evening could have been spent without any planned entertainment.

Virginia Blair, a beautiful and gifted soprano, and Mr. Shapiro, a baritone, sang. They were accompanied by Mr. Sidney Raffio who originally was program manager for C.B.S.

Classes of 1924 and 1929—No captions were submitted.

We were visited by Dean and Mrs. Salley and also Dr. Katharine Toomey who was, as always, warmly received.

There was some discussion about re-convening before 1969. We hope it materializes; but if not, God willing, we hope more can come five years hence. Until then, God bless the Class of 1929.

Class of 1934

The Class of 1934 was reunited after thirty years to celebrate another milestone into the future. Our Class was known through our dental school career as the "class of consideration". Our invited guests were our lovely wives, Dean and Mrs. Salley, Dr. Katharine Toomey, and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Deems; Dr. Deems was our Honorary Class President. The Reunion Chairman acted as toastmaster for this affair.

In silent meditation we remembered our departed classmates who contributed so much to our school and to dentistry.

It must be noted that conviviality of the evening, enhanced by memories, stories and a libretto of the past thirty years permeated the reunion for the entire evening. The dancing to the music of the orchestra which played the tunes of yesteryear was enjoyed by everyone. All in all, the "Evening at the Belvedere" went by too rapidly. However, the memories will linger on until we meet again.

JESSE TRAGER, Chairman

Class of 1939

The class of 1939 held its 25th reunion in the Jubilee Room of the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel on Thursday, June 4, 1964.

Before eating a delicious dinner with filet mignon and all the trimmings, we had a very enjoyable cocktail hour. Old friendships were renewed, and humorous experiences of college days were recounted. Believe it or not, some fellows had changed so much in the eyes of another that they would come up to a friend and say, "Do you remember his name?" However, as the evening waned everyone looked familiar again and the fun-rating rose to new heights. Bernie Auerbach obtained a lively three piece combo for us, and everyone had a ball dancing and singing.

Our reunion was honored by visits of Dean and Mrs. John Salley, Dr. J. Ben Robinson, Dr. Edward Dobbs, and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Deems.

The wife of each alumnus received a handsome silver tray that was appropriately engraved for the occasion. Eddie Stinebert's wife, Doris, deserves a word of praise for the gift selection and the tremendous job she did in promoting our reunion.

The official parting time was 12:30 A.M., but quite a few stayed and talked until after 1:00 A.M. Some were still ready to go out and help close up some of the more interesting night spots at that late hour.

We were very sorry that some of our classmates were unable to attend. However, we shall be looking forward to seeing them in 1969, along with those who returned for this memorable evening.

Class of 1944

The twenty year class reunion of the class of 1944 of the B.C.D.S., University of Maryland Dental School, was a great success.

The affair was held on Saturday evening, June 6, 1964, at the Southern Hotel. The affair started with a cocktail party at 6:30, dinner at 7:45 and dancing from 9:00 to 1:00.

Thirty-six men returned for the reunion and thirty-three of these were accompanied by their wives. They came from as far as Puerto Rico and California, which we felt was an honor.

Guests of the class were Dr. J. Ben Robinson, Dr. Katharine Toomey, and Dean and Mrs. John Salley. The guests gave short speeches which were enjoyed by all.

We had a show of hands to see if on our twenty-fifth reunion we should have the banquet on Thursday or Saturday night. Saturday night was selected as the unanimous choice and it is hoped that we have a large attendance five years from now.

Fifteen of our men came with their wives to the alumni banquet on Friday evening, June 5th. This was the best turn out of any class except the 50th reunion class. We honestly believe the change of dates was responsible for such a large attendance.

Pre-dinner cocktails and hors d'oeuvres were served in the beautifully decorated Garden Room. All of the ladies received matching carnation corsages to pin on their lovely summer gowns. Silver bowls that were appropriately inscribed were distributed to all couples. A sumptuous dinner was served and was followed by dancing to the Brayden Ridenour Orchestra.

Amid much handshaking and "old son-of-a-gunning", the evening passed entirely too soon. If promises mean anything, our tenth reunion should be even better and larger.

Intending to attend were: Dr. Adolph Cura, Dr. Billy Gaskill and Dr. Lester Levin.

The Deans' Corner

Dean Salley's Message

Your Editor has again allowed me the opportunity to extend greetings from the administrative and teaching faculty of your Alma Mater.

The year 1963-64 has been an exciting one for all of us in the School. In late April of 1963, two months prior to my official arrival at the

DEAN JOHN J. SALLEY

School, I had the privilege of beginning a close association with the department heads in the School of Dentistry who were constituted as a special Committee on Curriculum and Building Planning. We had and still have the task of answering many questions vital to the future of our dental education program. Through the diligent and dedicated work of several sub-committees, we were able to iron out many knotty problems relating to such things as formulation of a set of objectives; dental manpower needs in Maryland, present and future; development of improved concepts of teaching; the role of dental auxiliaries. Perhaps one of the more important items was and is the statement of objectives, which in essence expresses our rededication to the fine heritage left us by our predecessors. Because we feel that this document puts our whole program in proper perspective, it was published in the April, 1964 issue of the Journal of the Maryland State Dental Association. With the indulgence of those of you who receive that journal, I would like to repeat this statement for the benefit of our many alumni who reside in other states.

Objectives

The dedicated and guiding purpose of this School is the firm establishment of an academic environment founded on three basic aims; the highest quality of instruction in dental art and science; an atmosphere of investigative spirit; and an abiding attention to the service obligations incumbent on the dental profession. Further, the interdependence of these fundamental goals—teaching, research, service—will be primary consideration in all aspects of faculty and student life in order that this program of dental education will be an integral part of the greater University of Maryland.

To define more clearly these essential objectives the following statements of basic aims and purposes are presented:

—To remain ever sensitive to the dental needs of the area which the School serves; to provide well-educated dental practitioners to meet the dental health needs of the State of Maryland and to contribute an equitable share of such graduates to national dental manpower needs.

—To maintain and continually seek to improve an accepted course of instruction for dental students so that the ever changing concepts and methods of modern dental practice will be included in the overall educational program as well as in individual course design.

—To establish a program for education and training of auxiliary personnel, and to inculcate in these students as well as dental students an understanding of their proper role and mutual dependence within the framework of the dental profession.

—To qualitatively and quantitatively extend the program of graduate studies so that more and better educated individuals may be provided to the ranks of dental and other health science educators by thorough recruitment of qualified candidates for graduate degrees.

—To initiate appropriate courses of instruction in the clinical disciplines of dentistry which are represented by specialty boards and to prepare candidates to qualify for certification by such boards.

—To admit to the School or any divisions thereof only those persons who have demonstrated high academic achievement in preparation for their professional education; who exhibit the high qualities of moral integrity required in a professional career; and who in all respects give promise of becoming successful students and members of good standing in their profession.

—To encourage in all segments of the School's student body a thirst for new knowledge, a spirit of industry and a desire to participate in various student organizations as they may be related to the welfare of the student body and the maintenance of good student-faculty rapport.

—To initiate an understanding by the student, the strength of which shall be nurtured during his academic years, of the many non-professional obligations he will be expected to assume upon his becoming a member of the dental profession; efficacious participation in the cultural, social, religious and civic activities of his community, with a particular responsibility for adopting a course of thinking which will result in a constant awareness of the needs of the public which he will serve.

—To foster in the student by faculty example and all other means available a cognizance of the benefits to be derived from a vital and habitual interest in the perpetuating values of the scientific literature with the intent that he may preserve and exercise this interest throughout his professional career.

—To impress upon the student his obligation to membership and participation in local, state and national dental organizations that he may individually express his loyalty to his profession and promote its best interests.

—To prepare the student to become a dedicated alumnus so that he may lend his enthusiastic interest and support to the activities of his University and its alumni organization.

—To organize and effectively pursue a program of continuation education by providing regularly scheduled refresher courses for the dental practitioners of Maryland and its neighboring states.

—To provide a faculty that will by general design and individual purpose present a manner of professional conduct and a spirit of dedicated application to their responsibilities so that they will assure the superior education of their students.

—To provide, furthermore, a faculty that will present a curriculum of quality and which will continually seek out better methods of instruction by self appraisal and curriculum study and experimentation.

—To promote on the part of both faculty and students a sincere appreciation for the benefits to be derived from a strong program of research in fundamental, applied and clinical sciences as they relate to improved methods of patient care and better instructional procedures.

—To afford to each laboratory and clinic the best available equipment and materials for the proper and effective training of all students in the exercise of the many procedures that are applicable in the practice of the art and science of dentistry.

—To provide to the community and the state a diagnostic and treatment center for alleviation of oral disease, and to offer consultation service to any member of the health professions of the State of Maryland.

—To establish a program of teaching dental care for that segment of the population which is physically or mentally handicapped and might otherwise be denied treatment.

—To inculcate in the student a recognition and acceptance of the concepts of preventive dentistry, that he may by his practice methods and by his advocacy of patient participation contribute to the oral and general health of the community which he will serve.

—To cultivate in the student a knowledge of the history of dentistry and an appreciation of the contributions made throughout the centuries to progress in the art and science of dentistry; to develop in him an awareness of dentistry's historical relationship with the scientific, economic and social factors of mankind's advancement; to especially make the student cognizant of the heritage and pioneering influence offered by this School as the first dental college in the world; and to instill in the student a feeling of deep respect for the varied and ever-improving services of dentistry in the alleviation and correction of the physical and mental afflictions of mankind.

With the adoption of the above statement as a broad listing of our goals, the planning group proceeded to identify methods by which these objectives may be accomplished. The Committee, after study of manpower needs, recommended that we increase our entering class size from the present 100 students to 128 students. The Committee has recommended also that we expand our activities in postgraduate education, graduate education and continuing education. A division of dental auxiliaries has been recommended to include educational programs for both dental hygienists and dental assistants. With respect to teaching concepts, a study of our present curriculum revealed great need for better correlation between the basic biologic sciences and clinical dentistry. It demonstrated, too, the need for expanded efforts in teaching comprehensive dental care to our clinical students. Community dental health needs have been recognized also, and we are attempting to answer them in the restructuring of our curriculum. All of these needs relate to the more basic point that our primary mission, and consequently the nucleus of our new program, will be improved education of general practitioners of dentistry. In order to relate such other activities as advanced education and dental auxiliary education to the education of dentists, we envision our new building as a "dental health center."

With reference to the building itself, once the program took shape and was adopted by the Curriculum and Building Planning Committee, we were able to present it to the University Committee on Capital Improvements. After several sessions with this group, agreement was reached for a building which will have six floors and which will contain approximately 250,000 square feet. (We now occupy 60,000 square feet.) Concurrence with the program and a building to meet its needs was expressed by the University Board of Regents in May, 1964.

From that time to the present our architects, the Baltimore firm of Cochran, Stevenson and Donkervoet, worked many late hours in order that a submission of preliminary plans could be sent to the State Planning Commission by July 1, 1964. We met the deadline by fifteen minutes! The University has requested 3.5 million dollars from the State to meet construction needs, and we are now in the process of formulating our application to the U. S. Public Health Service for Federal support under Public Law 88-129. We are hopeful of an amount of money which will more than match the State's share. Equipment needs, which will come in a later appropriation from the State, are projected at one and a half million dollars.

I think I can say that a great deal of progress has been made in the year just passed, and I would take this opportunity to pay tribute to those responsible for it—the faculty committee who has so carefully guided the planning. Our hope now is for favorable consideration by the members of the Maryland State Legislature in their 1965 session.

Dean Frank J. Houghton Retires

From left to right: Dr. Charles F. Bartels, general chairman; Dr. Edward J. Cooksey, member of the board of trustees of the American Dental Association; Dr. Gerald D. Timmons, dean of the Temple University School of Dentistry, who was principal speaker; Dr. Houghton, retiring dean of the School of Dentistry at Loyola University in New Orleans; Very Rev. Andrew C. Smith, S.J., Loyola president, and Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, secretary of the American Dental Association. The dinner, sponsored by the Louisiana and New Orleans Dental Associations, was given in recognition of Dr. Houghton's 39-year career in dental education.

A testimonial dinner honoring Frank J. Houghton '17, retiring dean of the Loyola University School of Dentistry (New Orleans), was held Saturday, May 9 in the Queen Anne Room of the Monteleone Hotel.

Principal speaker was Dr. Gerald D. Timmons, dean of the Temple University School of Dentistry in Philadelphia.

Other visiting speakers included Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, Chicago, secretary of the American Dental Association, and Dr. Edward J. Cooksey, Houston, member of the ADA board of trustees.

Dr. Houghton is retiring in July after a 39-year career in dental education. Before coming to the university in 1951, Dr. Houghton served for 25 years as chief of dentistry at the Jersey City, N. J., Medical Center.

Other speakers at the dinner included the Very Rev. Andrew C. Smith, S.J., Loyola president; Dr. Alvin N. Dumestre, President of the Louisiana Dental Association; Dr. Frank A. Kruse, President of the New Orleans Dental Association; Dr. Edmund E. Jeansonne, who will succeed Dr. Houghton as dentistry dean, and Dr. Charles F. Bartels, general chairman of the testimonial.

The speakers praised Dr. Houghton for the many accomplishments of the Loyola Dental School during his tenure as dean.

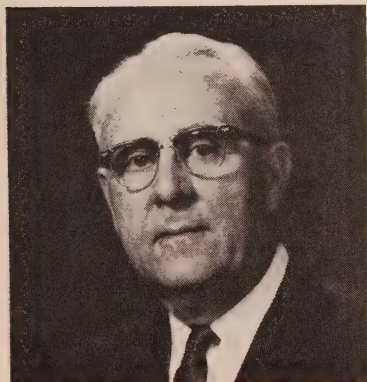

Among these were the replacement of almost all the scientific equipment in the school, the augmenting of the school's faculty and research programs and the establishing of a program for the training of dental hygienists.

Through Dr. Houghton's efforts, the Kellogg Foundation made a $50,000 grant to Loyola to inaugurate the dental hygiene curriculum. The dean was also instrumental in the securing of the recent $248,000 grant for a strontium-90 survey of teeth and grants for programs in dental care for the aged and bed-ridden.

Dr. Houghton also served as senior visiting dental surgeon and chief of dentistry at Charity Hospital in New Orleans, one of the nation's largest hospitals, where Loyola University conducts the dental clinics. When the Association of Hospital Dental Chiefs was formed several years ago, Dr. Houghton was elected as its first national chairman.

Dr. Sidney J. Tiblier, former dental dean at Loyola, served as toastmaster at the banquet and Dr. Houghton's son, the Rev. Francis Houghton, Westfield, N. J., delivered the invocation.

National and Component Meetings

A.D.A. Meeting

Atlantic City, New Jersey was the location of the 1963 Annual Session of the American Dental Association. Since many alumni lived within the East Coast area, two affairs were planned and co-hosted by the National Alumni and the New Jersey Alumni Society of Baltimore College of Dental Surgery.

On Tuesday, October 15th, at 8:00 o'clock in the morning, the Alumni held their breakfast at the Haddon Hall. Present at that early convention hour were four hundred alumni and their wives. The Master of Ceremonies was Dr. Joseph Cappuccio, secretary of the National Alumni. Welcoming the guests to New Jersey and representing the New Jersey component of B.C.D.S. was Dr. Elwood S. Snyder, Jr. Greetings from the National Alumni were extended by Dr. L. Lynn Emmart. The American Dental Association was represented by its new president, Dr. James P. Hollers. Dean John J. Salley spoke on behalf of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Also present were Dr. Calvin J. Gaver, President-elect of the National Alumni; Dr. James Mahon, Secretary of the New Jersey Society; Dr. Joseph Seipp, Editor of The Alma Mater; and Dr. Kenneth Randolph, Dean of the Dental School of West Virginia and Dean J. Ben Robinson.

Tuesday evening a cocktail reception was held in honor of Dr. John J. Salley, new Dean of our Dental School. Receiving guests and introducing them to Dr. Salley were Dr. L. Lynn Emmart, Dr. Elwood S. Snyder, Jr. and Dr. Joseph Cappuccio, current officers representing both the National Alumni Association and the New Jersey Society. Approximately 250 people enjoyed a fine social gathering. Everyone present had an excellent opportunity to informally meet Dr. Salley, renew old acquaintances, and to partake of the superior hors d'oeuvres and cocktails prepared by the Chalfonte Hotel.

Seated at the Head Table were the following: Dr. L. Lynn Emmart, President; Dr. Calvin J. Gaver, President Elect; Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, Secretary; Dr. Sidney N. Greenspan, President of the D. C. Dental Society; Dr. Morton O. Alper, General Chairman, D. C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting; and Dean John J. Salley.

Greetings were extended on behalf of the D. C. Dental Society by Dr. Greenspan.

Dr. Morton Alper, General Chairman of the D. C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting extended welcome to the Alumni.

Dean Salley gave a short report on the future plans for the Dental School. He emphasized the curriculum and the new dental building.

Dr. Cappuccio, Secretary, served as the Toastmaster for the breakfast meeting.

Unfortunately the attendance was not as large as expected due to parking limitations around the hotel. The plans for next year's meeting are to increase the attendance through better publicity and parking facilities.

We are sorry every alumnus could not attend. Plan now to make the effort to be present next year. Dean Salley spoke of the plans for the "New Look" and the future of "Our Dental School". Things sure must be humming in Baltimore. The Dean invited us all to visit and inspect their progress.

The Rhode Island Section has published a news letter. Below are some of the items included:

Tony Regine is planning an affair, probably a dinner dance, sometime in October. He will be calling on some of you to give him a hand. Please do so, and let's all help make it a gala occasion. Be nice to the WIFE and give her a big night out. More details of this later.

Dr. Edward Morin is recovering from his illness very well and will be back in harness soon. Best of everything to you, Ed.

Dr. Bill Casey has been Surfing in Hawaii, at least he calls it Surfing! Some people have the real nice kind of luck—Yes???

Dr. Gene Nelson has offered, and the offer has been accepted, to handle the addressing of all correspondence with plates. The plates have been made. If there is an error in your address, please notify Lee Nathans, our Secretary, and the correction will be made.

The Fall River area, as well as the Rhode Island area, is being covered with our correspondence and Alumni in that area who are not on our list, will be placed there if the secretary, Dr. Lee C. Nathans is notified.

Dues are payable to the Treasurer and if your bill is enclosed, payment should be sent to Dr. Ferdinand Ascioffa, 450 Manton Avenue, Providence, R. I.

The Maryland Fund is a tax deductible item and a check with a designation for the Dental School would help. Please contribute, if you have not done so.

The 1963 meeting of the New Jersey Alumni Society of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was held at the Hotel Robert Treat, Newark, on Wednesday evening, October 31. Although it was Hallowe'en we left the tricks for the children and concentrated on the treats. The program began with cocktails followed by a hearty steak dinner. Following the dinner, Dr. John J. Salley, the new Dean of Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, was presented to the members of the New Jersey component by Dr. Elwood S. Snyder, Jr. '57, President. Dr. Salley received a birthday cake from Dr. Saul M. Gale at this time. The new dean presented some of his observations concerning the dental school and the Alumni Association, and also some of his ideas for future progress.

The business meeting was called to order by President Snyder at which time the minutes of the 1962 meeting were read by Dr. James Mahon; and the treasurer's report given by Dr. Samuel Byer was approved. Election for the forthcoming year 1964 was held with the following men named to be officers and directors.

Anniversary Greetings From The President of The American Dental Association

Greetings to the Alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, who will celebrate the 125th anniversary celebration of the founding of your school on March 4, 5 and

JAMES P. HOLLERS

6, 1965. Since your school was the first dental school in the world, you have much to be proud of at your celebration. Your choice of a keynote speaker, Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, Secretary of the American Dental Association is an excellent one. Dr. Hillenbrand will deliver the first Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture. This is an appropriate occasion to establish a lectureship in honor of the founding fathers of dental education, Dr. Horace Hayden and Dr. Chapin A. Harris.

I understand that there will be published a proceedings of this meeting. Appropriately this will contain a history of the Dental School written by Professor Gardner P. H. Foley.

My very best wishes to you upon the occasion of the 125th Anniversary Celebration, I'm sure that your celebration will be an overwhelming success.

Best Wishes

(Signed) James P. Hollers,
President of American Dental Association

President Emmart's Report Annual Business Meeting—June 4, 1964

It is customary for the President of this Association to submit his report to this body at its annual meeting. I approach this responsibility with mixed emotions, since on the one hand it represents the end of my stewardship to this Association, and on the other hand I pass the mantle of the office to a very capable young man, Dr. Calvin J. Gaver.

The Alumni Association and the administrators of the School are now involved in a very significant transitional period in which an endeavor is being made to develop a dental curriculum and dental facility which will project our Alma Mater well into the future.

Dean Salley has commented on a number of occasions of the important role that the Alumni Association will play in helping to develop this program for the future. In these future developments are included the establishment of a School of Dental Hygiene, the utilization of the dental assistant and other ancillary personnel. Two other objectives are: 1) to develop dental school sponsored continuing education courses and 2) graduate studies in all phases of dental education. Dental research will also be a vital part of the new program at the Dental School.

There have been a number of new appointments to our teaching staff in order to augment the program as outlined by the Dean.

The plans are now being formulated for the development of the new dental building which will be constructed in the vicinity of Baltimore and Greene Streets. It is anticipated that the new building will be realized within the next few years. In order that this very ambitious program can be a reality, it will be necessary for our Alumni Association to work very closely with the administration of the dental school particularly during these planning stages.

It is most important that all alumni unite in a concerted effort to bring about what all of us have desired for many years. In order to accomplish this, I urge very strongly that you become an active member of the Association by becoming a dues paying member. The active members of our Association are far below our potential.

I would be remiss if I didn't take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Officers, Executive Council, Board of Trustees, Committee Chairmen and Committee Members for their outstanding cooperation and enthusiastic support throughout my administration.

I especially wish to thank the June Week Chairman, Dr. J. Philip Norris, and his committee for planning this very outstanding meeting.

To the Editor of our Alma Mater, Dr. Joseph H. Seipp, Jr., and to our Treasurer, Dr. Jesse Trager, my sincerest congratulations and thanks for a job well done.

I wish to express my appreciation and thanks to Dean Salley and his staff for their most helpful cooperation throughout the past year. To

Dr. Kyrle W. Preis and his committee, I wish to offer my sincere best wishes for continued success in the planning of the 125th Anniversary of the founding of our Alma Mater which will be celebrated on March 4, 5, 6, 1965.

I have reserved my last accolades for my right hand man, Mr. Alumni, the Secretary of this Association, Dr. Joe Cappuccio, for his untiring efforts and competent devotion to his Alumni Association and Alma Mater. His services were most invaluable to me throughout the past year, and I wish to thank him for all that he has done.

In conclusion, I wish to offer the following recommendations for consideration by the incoming administration:

1. The continued cordial relations between our Association and the administration and staff of the Dental School.
2. The establishment of Memorial Lectures in honor of deserving and distinguished alumni who have passed on.
3. The establishment of Student Loan Funds to help needy and deserving dental students to complete their dental education.
4. The establishment of an Alumni Office in order that the permanent records of this Association can be preserved for the future.
5. The continued perpetuation of the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture which will be presented for the first time during the 125th Anniversary Meeting.
6. That a change in the Constitution and By-Laws of our Association be considered which would allow the election of the Editor for a 3 year term.
7. The consideration of establishing Breakfast, Luncheon or Cocktail Meetings of our Alumni Association at the Greater New York, Chicago and Philadelphia meetings.
8. The appointment of a special committee to study the life membership structure of our Association and to make necessary recommendations.

It has been a pleasure for me to have served my Alumni Association as President and I thank you for this privilege.

Respectfully submitted,

L. LYNN EMMART, President

Annual Business Meeting—June 4, 1964

President Emmart called the Annual Business Meeting of The Alumni Association to order at 10:15 A.M. He welcomed the alumni present and thanked them for their attendance.

In order to allow Dean Salley an opportunity to meet a previous commitment, he called on the Dean to give his report to the alumni. Dean Salley reviewed in detail the contemplated academic program and the future new dental school facility. The Dean presented a very well organized report with illustrations. The report was very well received by the alumni and was greatly appreciated.

Dr. Emmart called on the Secretary to read the minutes of the last Annual Business Meeting. Dr. Cappuccio presented the Secretary's Report. The minutes were approved as read. The Treasurer's Report was read by Dr. Trager. It was a very detailed accounting of the receipts and expenditures throughout the year. Dr. Trager announced that his detailed report would be published in the next issue of the Alma Mater. The Treasurer's Report was approved as read.

The Editor, Dr. Seipp reported on the activities of the Alumni Publication, The Alma Mater. He presented a complete report on all phases of the Alma Mater. He announced that bids were to be secured before the next issue would be published. Dr. Seipp also announced the retirement of Dr. Calvin J. Gaver from the Alma Mater staff. He thanked his entire staff, members of the staff of the Dean's Office and many others who had helped to make the publishing of the Alma Mater possible. His report was informational and it was approved as read.

Dr. Bell, Secretary-Treasurer of the Trustees, reported on the endowment funds and other funds under the jurisdiction of the Board of Trustees. He gave a complete picture of the financial structure and showed that the endowed funds were in excellent condition. This report would also be published in the Alma Mater along with the Audit Report of these funds. Dr. Bell's report was approved as read. Dr. Bell should be congratulated for his devotion and untiring efforts to make this aspect of our Alumni Association a very successful one.

Dr. Stone gave the General Alumni Council Report for Dr. Broadrup who is convalescing from a recent illness. The Alumni Association was very fortunate to have Dr. Stone serve as the President of the General Alumni Council this past year. He has distinguished himself well in this very important position. He stated that the work of the Council was to coordinate activities of the various individual Alumni Associations of the University of Maryland. Dr. Stone's report was based on his experience as the President of the Alumni Council. He mentioned a study that is now going on under a special committee to find ways and means to improve the functioning of the Council. This report will also be published. Dr. Stone's report was approved as read.

The following committee reports were received:

1. June Week—Dr. Norris
2. Constitution & By-Laws—Dr. Anderson
3. Distinguished Alumnus Award—Dr. Cappuccio
4. Budget—Dr. Lynch
5. Audit—Dr. Lazauskas
6. Life Membership—Dr. Bock
7. Alumni Awards—Dr. Pessagno
8. Memorial Awards—Dr. Dobbs
9. Necrology—Dr. Davenport
10. Nominating—Dr. Cappuccio

Dr. Anderson in presenting the Constitution and By-Laws Committee Report suggested the following amendments to the document already published in the last issue of the Journal of the B.C.D.S.

Amended: Page 18 under Section 5. Honorary Membership. He added the statement except for the office of Historian-Archivist. He explained that this would be necessary in order to make possible a specific individual for this position.

Amended: Page 21, under Article V—Election of Officers. This statement was added to the end of the Article: The Editor shall be elected for a three year term.

Amended: Page 22, Section 2-A. He added the statement: and the members of the Executive Council and The Endowment Fund Trustees. These officers were not included in the section as a duty of the Committee on Nominations.

Dr. Cappuccio suggested also that the By-Laws of the Endowment Fund Trustees be appended to the Constitution & By-Laws of the Alumni Association as soon as they are in order.

Dr. Anderson's report was received as amended. The Constitution and By-Laws as published and amended would be acted under New Business. Dr. Emmart thanked Dr. Anderson's committee for a job well done.

Dr. Cappuccio introduced the Recipient of the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1964, Dr. Conrad L. Inman. He stated that the committee had unanimously voted for Dr. Inman and that this year's recipient was unanimously approved by the Executive Council of the Alumni Association on June 1, 1964. Dr. Inman was given a big hand by the alumni present.

Following the report of the Necrology Committee, the group assembled were asked to rise for a moment of silence in honor of those respectfully departed during the past year.

The Nominating Committee report was received and tabled to be acted upon under the Election of Officers which follows under New Business.

There was no old business to come before the house. President Emmart called on the 1st Vice President, Dr. Abramson, to assume the chair. Dr. Abramson called on Dr. Emmart to present the President's Address. Dr. Emmart gave a very brief but well organized President's Address. He reviewed quickly the activities of the past year and made several recommendations to be considered by the new administration. He thanked all those individuals who had played a very important part under his stewardship. The President's Address will be published in the next issue of the Alma Mater. Dr. Abramson then called on Dr. Anderson, Chairman of the committee to review the President's Address. Dr. Anderson congratulated Dr. Emmart on a very outstanding year as President and made a few pertinent remarks in regard to his report. His committee concurred rather unanimously with the President's recommendations. The President's Address and committee report were received. Dr. Emmart assumed the chair once again. He called for action on the Constitution and By-Laws. Dr. Abramson moved that the Constitution and By-Laws be approved as written and amended. This motion was seconded by Dr. Seipp. Dr. Anderson suggested that we try to approve the document in its complete version since a great deal of time had been spent on it by the committee. Dr. Sinnreich offered this amendment: He moved that we change the word, "oldest" to "first" on Page 16, Article II—Objectives. The motion as amended was passed. The Constitution and By-Laws of the Alumni Association was approved as circulated and amended.

The next order of business was the report on the 125th Anniversary Meeting to be held on March 4, 5, 6, 1965. Dr. Preis, General Chairman for the meeting, gave a complete and detailed progress report of this very important meeting. He stated that one of the highlights of the 125th Anniversary Meeting would be the presentation of the 1st Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture. He also reported that the Proceedings of the meeting will be published. The Proceedings would include a history of the dental school.

The slate of officers as presented by the Nominating Committee was approved under the Election of Officers. The entire slate was elected unanimously. The Secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Following the election of officers, Dr. Emmart introduced the new officers for the coming year.

The slate of officers as elected will appear in the Alma Mater. The Nominating Committee slate will be appended to these minutes since it represents the duly elected officers of the Association.

Dr. Cappuccio made a few announcements in reference to parking privileges secured through the Traffic Division of the Baltimore Police Dept. He stated that the Association is indebted to Lt. John L. Neussinger of the Traffic Division for these arrangements.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:45 A.M.

Editor's Report

The publication of a journal requires the efforts of many individuals. Recognition is due for the contributions of:

1) Dr. Calvin J. Gaver and Dr. John H. Wooden for their assistance in the preparation of the last issue. Dr. Gaver has requested that he be relieved of his duties. Our appreciation goes out to him for many years of service. We are fortunate in having Dr. Joseph McKechnie join our staff as associate editor. 2) Dr. Ethelbert Lovett, the feature editor, and Dr. Edward Meredith, Jr., Art Staff, for their contributions. 3) The able guidance from the advisory board, Dr. George M. Anderson, Dr. Morton Hollander, and Dr. José Medina. 4) The productive efforts of the business manager, Dr. David Heese. 5) The guidance of the consulting editor, Dr. Kyrle W. Preis. 6) The sweetheart of the B.C.D.S., Dr. Katharine Toomey for keeping us well supplied with information. 7) All of those who have contributed or written material for this journal.

The business manager, Dr. David Heese, has submitted the last issue of the journal to at least three printers requesting that they submit a cost estimate of publication of this journal on the basis of the last issue. The estimates submitted by the various printers were found to be in line with the costs that we have received with our present printer. A change is not contemplated at this time.

Again, Dr. Heese is endeavoring to solicit new advertisers through a general mailing; this procedure was most rewarding last year as you will see from the table below. The cost of this solicitation last year was about $50.00.

At this time I should like to present a review of the journal for the years of 1962 and 1963. There were two issues of the Alma Mater in 1962 and only one in 1963. The single issue in 1963 contained more pages than either single issue and more photographs, but a lesser number of additional engravings than either issue.

There is a certain basic cost of each issue, including the color on the covers and 15 engravings. In the March '62 issue there were 28 additional engravings (over and above the 15 engravings included in the basic cost), in November '63 there were 7 additional engravings. The average cost of each additional engraving is $6.50.

Report Of The Distinguished Alumnus Award Committee

A meeting of the Distinguished Alumnus Award Committee composed of 7 men appointed by Dr. Emmart was held on Thursday, April 2, 1964 at the Governor's Club.

The purpose of the meeting was to organize the Committee with terms of service based on the mechanics of the Rules of Procedure for the Distinguished Alumnus Award, to elect a Chairman, and to consider nominations for the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1964.

Since Dr. Cappuccio was appointed by President Emmart to serve as the temporary Chairman and to call the first meeting of the Committee, the group decided to elect him as the Chairman of the Committee this year.

The next order of business was to draw lots for terms of service on the Committee as outlined in the Rules of Procedure.

Because Dr. Van Natta and Dr. Devlin were absent, the first two drawings were for their terms in the order above. The remaining lots were drawn by the individuals present at the meeting. The results of the drawings were as follows:

Dr. Irving Abramson..... (1964-65)	Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio..... (1964-68)
Dr. Howard Van Natta (1964-66)	Dr. Gerard A. Devlin..... (1964-69)
Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor..... (1964-67)	Dr. George B. Clendenin..... (1964-70)
Dr. Daniel E. Shehan..... (1964-71)

The Committee then proceeded to elect the one year man, Dr. Abramson, as the Chairman for next year. Dr. Abramson accepted the position and he will begin to organize the activities of the Committee for the coming year.

This Committee will be official as of the annual business meeting of the Association in June, when the Constitution and By-Laws and the Rules of Procedure for the Distinguished Alumnus Award will be acted on.

The Committee then considered nominations for the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1964. [The Committee unanimously elected Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Sr., as their candidate for the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1964.]

The nominations cannot be divulged since the Committee proceedings are secret and all information is to be held very confidential. Nominations were received from both Dr. Van Natta and Dr. Devlin although they were not present at the meeting.

After much consideration of all candidates, the Committee recommended unanimously Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Sr., for the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1964. The Committee is very happy to present Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Sr. as the recipient for this year's award subject to the approval by vote of the Executive Council of the Alumni Association.

The Committee is very pleased with the Rules of Procedure governing the Distinguished Alumnus Award and feels that the mechanics for the consideration of deserving men of our Association for this coveted award are excellent.

DR. JOSEPH P. CAPPUCCIO, Chairman

Report Of The Memorial Fund Committee

At the last meeting of the Committee, the members recommended that I solicit opinions from various men who are acquainted with fund-raising organizations, such as Dave Brigham, previously with our General Alumni Association, and Osmar Steinwald, of Johns Hopkins University.

The consensus of all the persons contacted for the establishment of a student loan fund was as follows:

- 1) That only interest monies be loaned, that all loans should be non-interest bearing and be repayable in a given length of time.
- 2) That this Committee should work in conjunction with the General Alumni Association of the University, and in no way conflict with it; that solicitations for funds should be at a different time of year and have a different purpose.
- 3) That all monies could be acceptable regardless of amounts, but that official acknowledgment be given for bequests of $1,000.00 or more.

A committee meeting will be called soon, and definite actions will be taken. It is hoped that the Committee will soon be prepared to make final recommendations.

If any of the alumni have ideas on this subject, please send us a letter. Your ideas are solicited.

DR. EDWARD C. DOBBS, Chairman

Report on the Activities of the Council of the General Alumni Association of the University of Maryland 1963-1964

The purposes of the Council are to coordinate the interests and objectives of the several schools of the University, by meeting regularly to discuss problems, to appoint and formulate committees to solve and implement the solution of the problems presented and to bring about a more smoothly operating organization. Each year some advance is made, and this year was no exception.

For the first time in almost twenty years a dentist headed this organization. The incumbent was handicapped by having a brand new secretary who succeeded Mr. Brigham. In some respects it proved a very trying year. Early in the fall of 1963 the Council authorized a dinner for Mr. Brigham. It was a success, over 500 having attended, and your representative was gratified that it proved so delightful.

Several situations arose that were a constant source of irritation between Alumni and the administration. They will remain as long as the Alumni are quiescent and the officials do not fully understand the problems. The president sought and had the benefit of several conferences with the president of the University. Some understanding of mutual problems was achieved and some good accrued from these meetings. It is my feeling that relations between organized Alumni and the President of the University are better than they were a year ago.

Ever since being sent to the Council, I have felt the basic structure needed re-vamping, and some organizational procedures should and could be improved. I asked for permission to direct a study of membership requirements, collection of dues, centralizing of secretarial work and some improvement in constitution and by-laws, mostly in specifying duties and clarity of interpretation. This report was a joint effort by two committees, and our own, Harry Dressel was a co-chairman. He deserves the thanks of all for an excellent report. It is now before the Executive Committee and will be acted upon by the entire council at the annual meeting in June. If it is adopted after due consideration, it will be presented individually to the 13 college Alumni groups. It is my hope that my own school will see fit to ratify the action, if and when it is presented. It is my desire that they will be the first to do so.

The attendance of the dental members on the Council as a whole has been good, even allowing for the incapacity of Dr. Broadrup. I don't think there was a single meeting that the three members or their alternates were not present.

My impression is that a great deal of good will have had at least its beginning in this past year. The president of the University acceded to my request that I be consulted and give approval to any candidate for the office of Director of Alumni Relations. This was done and so far as a person can judge by interviewing, I gave my indorsement to the selection of Col. Schutz. I hope I acted wisely. It was quite a responsibility. I thank the Council for their continued confidence in me.

Before closing I would like once more to emphasize my plea that I have made so many times. Take the trouble to familiarize yourselves with any and all operations of Alumni affairs, particularly in the general association, so that when the time comes you will function effectively. You will only achieve that concept when you realize that the dental school is only a separate entity for teaching purposes and that truly it is part and parcel of the Greater University complex and that each school's interests and well being are in a great measure interdependent on all the rest.

EDWARD D. STONE, JR., Dental School Alumni Representative

Instructor Appointed Judge

William J. O'Donnell, Jr., instructor in jurisprudence at the dental school, was appointed an associate judge of the Baltimore Supreme Bench. Since his graduation from the University of Maryland Law School in 1941, he has been in the legal service of the State, Federal and City governments except for three years military service with the Navy in World War II and a ten year law practice from 1952-1962. He has taught law at the University of Maryland and since 1948 has been a regular instructor in criminal law at the University of Baltimore. He leaves the post of State's Attorney for the city which he has held since 1962.

B.C.D.S. Cited in Court

Dr. Homer H. Hoke, Secretary of the Iowa Dental Association was kind enough to send a summary of the trial of a laboratory technician, Donald J. Clark.

Mr. Clark, in addition to his regular chores as a laboratory technician, also made dentures for the public. The Commissioner of Public Health of the State of Iowa, Dr. Edmund G. Zimmerer, brought suit against Mr. Clark. The commissioner did not question the ability of Mr. Clark as a technician, but did question his ability to make dentures for the public.

Mr. Clark did not challenge the claim that he performs these services of denture construction, but took exception to the commissioner's charge that he practiced dentistry. Mr. Clark stated that he gave his clients a tray filled with impression material. He further instructed the client on how to insert and remove the tray. He claimed that he never operated in the mouth. This was the argument used in an endeavor to show that he did not practice dentistry.

Dental prosthesis was shown to be an ancient art. Etruscan gold workers are said to have constructed bridge work. The manufacture of both partial and complete dentures dates from the seventeenth century. Spring loaded dentures, to keep them in place, were made until 1850. George Washington was said to have a set of dentures of this type. A vacuum chamber to hold dentures in place by atmospheric pressure was introduced by Dr. Garrett in 1850.

The first dental college in America was established in 1840 as the Baltimore College of Dentistry. In the "Annual Announcement" of the board of visitors for the year 1840 they state:

"Candidates for graduation who have attended two full courses of lectures in this college; or one course in some respectable Medical College, and one in the Institution, will be subjected to a critical examination by the Faculty, and be required to defend a Thesis on some subject connected with Dental Science—they will also be required to present one or more specimens of mechanical skill in preparing and setting artificial teeth, and likewise be expected to perform certain dental operations in evidence of practical qualification: and on being found competent, they shall receive the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery."

The fifth annual announcement listed among the faculty one "J. B. Savier, D.D.S., Demonstrator of Mechanical Dentistry" and practical dentistry was emphasized as one of the courses of study. In this connection it pointed out that to become a dentist one not only had prescribed theory courses, but also must become skilled in the mechanical and technical aspects of dentistry.

Judge Cullison, Judge of the District Court of the State of Iowa prohibited Mr. Clark from making dentures and from operating a dental laboratory. On appealing to a higher court, he was allowed to operate a dental laboratory, but was prohibited from practicing dentistry, i.e. making prosthetic devices for the public.

... the new WORK-MODEL FORMERS

These quick, easy steps from the impression to the finished model

1. After taking the impression, remove excess material from the outside surfaces of the tray. (A proper fitting tray should contain all essentials of the impression within its confines.)
2. Hold the impression tray with the borders facing up; insert the handle of the tray down into the slot of the model former, and press tray into place. With the proper size model former the tray fits snugly along front and sides and there is some space at the posterior border.
3. Keep the tray firmly in place by placing the thumb on the top of the tray handle, and the index and middle fingers along the bottom of the model former.
4. The impression is now ready for pouring the cast. The borders must face up, as with a boxed impression, so that the impression should not be inverted.
5. Once the cast has set, pull the posterior wall of the model former away from the cast, and slide the cast and impression tray up and out. The impression tray can now be removed from the cast.

Here is Columbia Dentoform's latest addition to its well-known line of aids to dentistry. These rubber formers eliminate boxing-in of impressions and excess pouring and waste of stone and plaster, and allow immediate pouring of models, without loss of time.

FEATURES—ADVANTAGES

- Accurate Models • Controlled dimensions • Ready for immediate use • Cleaner and neater • Preserves and protects impression borders • Mounting plates can now be used • Eliminates boxing-in, waste of materials, impression distortion, trimming, weak, thin models, lost time, assemblage of parts.

The outfit consists of 4 sets of different sizes of upper and lower rubber formers which can be used with any standard make of impression trays and with all kinds of impression materials.

President's Message

It is an honor and a privilege to serve as President of the Alumni Association for the year 1965-1966. I recognize that I am embarking upon a difficult task but feel confident that with the support and co-operation of the entire membership, the year ahead will display a pattern of progressive and positive achievement.

In March, 1965 we celebrated the 125th Anniversary of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery with an outstanding meeting under the capable leadership of Dr. Calvin Gaver, President of the Alumni Association. This meeting was the occasion for the first of a series of endowed lectures to be given in memory of the founders of our Dental School, Doctors Hayden and Harris. Today, after 125 years, the dreams of these two great dental educators are becoming realities. We are on the threshold of an era that poses a great challenge to the dental profession and to dental education.

Our new dental school has been planned to accommodate an increased student enrollment. These new and extensive facilities will allow us to include courses for the education of dental hygienists, dental assistants, and laboratory technicians, to mention but a few of the many improvements and innovations to be instituted.

The Alumni Association must take steps to meet the demands of this forward look in dentistry. The primary function of this administration will be to reevaluate its objectives and to determine what we can do to stimulate active participation of our sections; what we can do to help our Dental School. Plans are being formulated to bring a Continuing Education Program to our members at the section level. We are meeting with the administration of the Dental School to consider a project which the Association will develop for the new Dental School building. There are plans to change the activities during June week; to streamline various functions and unify relationships between new and old graduates. To achieve these goals, we shall need the help of every member. We must have the benefit of your many new ideas;

National Association of Dental Service Plans

At the 1964 session the House of Delegates of the American Dental Association authorized the American Dental Association to form a coordinating Agency for Service Corporations. It behooves each of us to read the report and be aware of its avowed purposes and its implications. As now authorized, this agency would be formed independently of the American Dental Association. Its functions are stated as follows:

1. Lend assurance that the character of private dental practice will not be adversely affected in the development of prepayment plans at the national level.
2. Make technical assistance available to existing and developing dental corporations.
3. Conduct research programs and provide a mechanism for the interchange of information in order to minimize the duplication of costly pilot programs.
4. Provide active liaison with other national agencies, such as the national agency of Blue Cross and Blue Shield.
5. Act as a coordinating agency in developing acceptable methods for fostering multi-state prepaid programs.

These are all certainly worth-while and important functions, but they could all be performed within the structure of the American Dental Association.

However, in an information bulletin from the A.D.A. dated May, 1965, it is stated:

"The A.D.A. board of trustees has pointed out that the N.A.D.S.P. may bring together various instrumentalities . . . in order to assist in developing nationwide or multi-state dental prepayment programs, but that the N.A.D.S.P. does not have nor can have under its charter any role in underwriting a dental prepayment program!"

This last statement, however, begs the question, because in fact, the clear-cut intention is the encouragement of nationwide prepayment programs. It is in this light that the issue should be considered.

While a majority of the Board of Directors of the agency will be composed of ethically and legally qualified members of the dental profession (the remainder being laymen), it does not mean that these dentists need to be members of the American Dental Association, nor does it mean they have to be practicing dentists.

If this agency is allowed to form outside of the A.D.A., it is quite likely that in the near future the control of a large segment of dental practice is going to be in the hands of a very few men, well beyond our control. These men can have the authority to set fees, establish standards and virtually have more power over the participating dentist than the A.D.A. has ever wielded. This new authority and power can be gained simply by an amendment of the original articles of incorporation, by the board of directors of the N.A.D.S.P., once the A.D.A. has granted the By-Laws and Articles of Incorporation to the N.A.D.S.P. Any board of directors may alter its articles of incorporation. Eventually they may well be able to have the final say as to whether a man participated or not, which will in effect mean whether he can stay in practice.

It is my belief, that a coordinating agency with the objectives originally stated, could and should be established under the structure of the A.D.A. with the possibility of developing an independent agency sometime in the future if a real need arises and after the problem has been thoroughly researched.

ASHUR G. CHAVOOR, D.D.S.

Some of our alumni have opposed the formation of a separate corporation by the American Dental Association as a coordinating agency for service corporations. It was deemed appropriate to allow their expression of opinion in this Journal.

J. H. S., JR.

BUILDING AN ESTATE

By CHARLES WAYNE SHAEFFER*

Why is it that some business and professional men are more successful than others in creating sizable estates during their lifetime? To put it another way, why do so few men, starting from scratch, leave a substantial legacy to their heirs?

Obviously, success in this direction depends upon earning power which comes from a successful business or professional practice, but this is not enough. Some part of this income must be set aside in the form of savings. Most families cannot endure the budgeting and sacrifice that produce savings. Even when they are successful in setting aside a part of their income this will not in itself create a sizable estate. They must make this money work for them. It must be invested so that the income and principal will grow, but within the framework of an overall investment plan which keeps the risk factor down to a minimum.

Building an estate is not an easy task under present day conditions. Income taxes, estate levies and the ever increasing cost of living discourage most people from even trying. Frustration, resulting from the strict budgets necessary to save, causes many heads of families to try to find short cuts in accumulating capital. Limited savings available for investment are subjected to great risks by buying highly speculative securities, often on no more than a hunch or a rumor. It is extremely difficult to resist this temptation when you hear of some friend who has made a killing in a stock. What you do not hear about are the times he has been unsuccessful, or others who have lost their shirts. Everyone would like to "get rich quick", but unfortunately the risks associated with this effort are poorly suited for most young professional men starting out in practice.

No Easy System For Success

Successful investing is a very precise and demanding art. One must think not only of the possible rewards but also of the risks and pitfalls. As in most endeavors, it is necessary at the outset to recognize one's limitations. Before you invest a dollar in common stocks, you should realize that no formula or system has yet been devised which will accurately and consistently predict swings either in the stock market or individual stocks. This might disillusion you but it is the first rule to learn if you are to be successful in investing your money.

*Mr. Shaeffer is President of the investment counsel firm, T. Rowe Price and Associates, Inc., One Charles Center, Baltimore, Maryland 21201. He is Lecturer on Investment Management at the Johns Hopkins University, and an Annual Lecturer on "Portfolio Management for the Individual" at the Institute of Investment Banking sponsored by the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania.

Chart I

Growth of Market Values

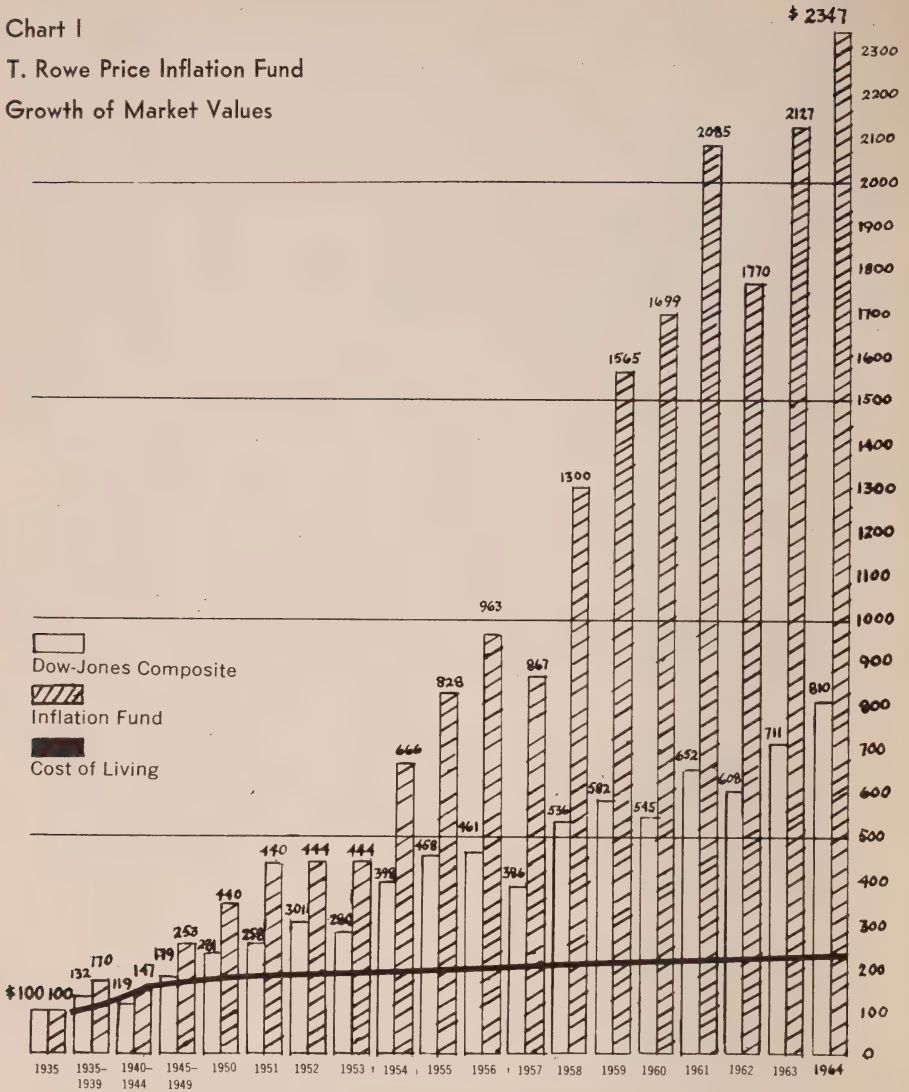

CHART I: This chart shows the increase in market value of an individual's portfolio of growth stocks compared to the Dow Jones Composite Average and the Cost of Living for the 30-year period 1934-1964.

To have a chance of making your estate grow you must not only budget your income and expenses, but you must develop an overall financial plan at an early date. As soon as any savings accumulate, you must decide what to do with them. In endeavoring to solve this problem you must go beyond pure investing and consider what is best for the general happiness of your family. Don't run the risk of unhappy marital problems because of premature ventures in the stock market. Instead, think first of using some of your income to buy life insurance to protect your wife and children against your early demise. Once this has been done, start thinking of buying your own home and getting the mortgage down to manageable levels. Remember that unpredictable illness and misfortunes can hit at any time—so build up a “rainy day” fund. Only after you have taken care of these fundamental problems are you ready to consider buying common stocks or making other investments.

Tailor-Made Investment Program

After these basic essentials have been provided for, you cannot proceed haphazardly, but, instead, you must develop a sound program, tailor-made to your own individual long term investment goals. In designing such a plan you will soon discover that three principal objectives are available to you: (1) Safety, (2) Income and (3) Capital Growth. Since there is no one security that will fulfill more than one of the above objectives, you must take another approach. Look ahead and decide what emphasis should be placed on each. For those just starting to build an estate it is generally desirable to stress capital growth. Growth stocks are best qualified for this objective, but do not make the mistake of limiting yourself to this medium. Even if you don't need income, it is important to earmark part of your funds for safety. This protects you against unpredictable problems and equally important, against unexpected declines in the market. Some funds should be maintained where they are absolutely safe and liquid, if only to take advantage of real buying opportunities in the stock market during a decline.

Investing In Securities

After taking care of essential family needs, and having developed an investment program, you are ready to buy individual securities. Not only should extreme care be used in buying common stocks, but it is also important to develop an investment philosophy. You must condition yourself against trying to speculate and trading for short term gains. If the experts devoting their full time to it are not successful, why should you try? For example, if an individual had purchased Texas Instruments at its high of $205 in 1960, by the time its low of approximately $41 was reached in 1962, a loss of 80% would have resulted. If you make some bad mistakes you may become discouraged from ever buying common stocks again. This might represent your only opportunity of ever building an estate. Instead, purchase your stocks and hold them as long as the companies they represent seem to be growing. The benefits of adhering to this policy are illustrated in the charts, which show the growth of principal and income achieved in an actual fund during the past 30 years.

The "Inflation Fund" portfolio illustrated by these charts was established to prove that better results could be obtained by holding good growth stocks through ups and downs in the stock market than by trying to profit from short term market swings. This portfolio is not publicly held, but represents the common stock portion of a family's invested principal. Chart I shows that $100 invested at the end of 1934 had increased to $2,347 by 1964. Chart II gives the same comparison for growth of income, which is equally important. It is interesting to note that the 3.3% return obtained on invested capital in 1935 had grown to a point where it exceeded 50% on the original investment in 1964. This is the way substantial estates have been created—not by "playing" the stock market.

It is necessary to have growth of income in order to have protection against future inflation or an expected rise in the cost of living. Furthermore, this growth of principal and growth of income will play a major part in helping to build a sizable estate. In selecting your common stocks, try to find shares of companies which are growing faster than the whole economy. Seek out fertile fields, growth industries and areas of future opportunity. For example, looking ahead, there seems to be good reason for expecting more growth in the computer, electronics, automatic merchandising and drug fields than in the steel, copper and paper industries. Don't overlook companies which will benefit from changes in population, labor saving and leisure time activities. After having done this, try to select the companies in these fields which appear to have the best managements. Concentrate on those which emphasize research. Don't buck the labor trends. Find companies which offer labor maximum benefits, but where the total labor bill in relation to the sales dollar is relatively low. Find companies with high profit margins. Avoid those with excessive competition. If your selected company scores highly in most of these respects you will probably end up with a real growth stock. When you do, do not sell it for a small profit but hold it as long as it is growing.

The Forgotten Investor

Many will agree with this philosophy but ask how the investor with limited means can follow this plan. His dilemma is understandable because he does not have sufficient time and money to do the job himself. For this reason he is often referred to as the "forgotten investor". He cannot secure all the information himself and cannot afford to seek out professional and unbiased advice. His funds are too small to obtain adequate diversification. What can he do? He still has sufficient time to work out his own long-term investment program which seems best suited to meet his family needs. Having done this he could seek out a competent investment broker to help him with the selection of individual securities. If he feels diversification is important not only to reduce risk but to have a better opportunity of owning the best growth companies of the future, he should select a mutual fund for that part of his portfolio earmarked for common stocks.

Diversification

Perhaps more thought has been given to the "forgotten investor" in recent years than he realizes. If he is willing to devote a little of his own time and thought to his investment problems he can work out a plan which will give him almost all the advantages of the millionaire with little, if any, added costs. All he has to do is decide what part of his total funds should be invested for safety and income, and how much should be earmarked for common stocks. With little effort he can establish savings accounts or deposit cash in insured savings and loan associations. Here in Maryland this will produce a return of 4%-4¼% and he will have the safety he is looking for. With the funds allocated for common stocks he can buy shares in mutual funds. These will not only provide diversification but he can spread his interest as far as the large investor by buying funds which feature small companies as well as the blue-chip stocks.

By following the above plan he will thus secure the advantages of a tailor-made investment program and security diversification. Furthermore, through the use of mutual funds he has professional people managing his common stocks for him. He also has the convenience of having all changes, including the handling of rights, splits, and small stock dividends, handled by the funds. If his estate grows as planned over the years he can even take advantage of plans offered by most of the funds which permit systematic withdrawals after retirement.

"No-Load" Funds

If this same smaller investor is willing to take a little more time, he can minimize the cost of administering his whole investment program by seeking out "no-load" mutual funds. There are quite a few of these available today and in buying shares directly he can avoid paying sales commissions which normally run 7 to 9% on a great many funds. Few of these "no-load" funds charge a redemption fee. Used in combination with insured savings accounts or deposits in savings and loan associations he can thus put all of his money to work without any cost or charge against principal. This can play an important part in final investment results over a period of years. Even the largest investors buying individual securities cannot claim this advantage.

Some of the better known "no-load" funds which can be utilized by the individual investor according to his objective are listed in Table I.

While most of the "no-load" funds have a slightly higher expense ratio, this is generally offset many times over by the absence of having to pay an initial commission. (No salesmen are employed by the "no-load" funds, and hence these funds do not have the expense of paying commissions.) If one wishes to get complete information or make an investment it is necessary to get in touch with the particular fund. In this connection a number of reference sources can be utilized. The best known of these are:

Purchase of Individual Stocks

When the investor following a program of buying shares in mutual funds has reached his desired objective, he can consider buying individual stocks. There is no fixed answer as to what the common stock objective should be—this depends upon the individual—but having followed a prudent program for acquiring mutual fund shares as well as adequate life insurance and savings, some investment in individual issues is justified. It should be emphasized, however, that in selecting stocks to supplement the mutual fund equity program, growth companies should be stressed and here again the greatest emphasis should be placed on long-term growth of income and principal rather than on trading in and out of the market.

OUR HERITAGE

ETHELBERT LOVETT, D.D.S.

Everyone recognizes the caduceus as the symbol of the medical profession and usually thinks nothing more about it. But to ancient people a symbol represented more than just a word; it was a graphic sign that expressed a whole philosophy. This was particularly true in the case of the caduceus, or wand of Hermes, which contained the key to the teachings of the ancient priest-physicians of Egypt.

According to tradition the caduceus was designed by Hermes Trismegistus, Hermes the Thrice Greatest. He is supposed to be the author of the Hermetic Books, sacred canon of the ancient Egyptians, an encyclopedia consisting of forty-two books.

From about the time of Khufu, who erected a temple to Osiris in 1900 B.C., classes of a very select nature were held in the private chambers of the reigning pharaoh. On October 9, 1399 B.C. Hermes Trismegistus organized the Mother Chapter of the Great White Brotherhood in Thebes, Egypt. There the Illuminati, that is those who were cosmically prepared to reveal new truths to mankind, gave instruction to carefully selected Adepts.

These Adepts came from various parts of the world, and after receiving the esoteric teachings from the Mother Chapter, returned to their native countries and established branches of the Brotherhood. In this way the doctrines of Hermes Trismegistus were carried to the Magi, a priestly order in Media and Persia; formed an important part of the Kabbala, as practiced by the Jews; was adopted by the Essenes, a monastic order in Palestine; and became highly developed by the Yogi, or Holy Men, in India.

Secret Traditions

It is from the secret traditions of these ancient people, handed down by word of mouth, that we are able to decipher the hidden teachings of the caduceus. Its symbolic form was a deliberate plan to keep the esoteric doctrines out of the hands of charlatans and at the same time to remind the initiates of the true teachings.

The central part, or staff, of the caduceus is the spinal column. There is a positive pole at the top of the skull, and a negative pole at the coccyx, or lowest vertebra. The spinal column contains a channel called the sushumna which carries a current of extremely high frequency and short wave length. Between the two poles positive and negative currents alternate rhythmically producing a flow of forces which is life. Perfect equilibrium of forces produces perfect functioning or health.

The black and white serpents entwined around the spinal column represent the struggle between good and evil, health and disease, for the ancients believed that gods and devils struggle for good and evil in our bodies and in our minds. And so, the serpents were symbols of the contest between the reciprocal forces of nature.

Every branch of the Great White Brotherhood, following the teachings of Hermes Trismegistus, had a secret ritual for controlling the serpent power. The yogis still practice this today and call this method

Kundalini, the coiled one. Their teaching is based upon the assumption that outside the sushumna, the channel inside the spinal column, there are two other channels, pingala on the right and ida on the left, coiling upward from the sacral plexus and uniting at the Ajna, or "thousand-petaled lotus", at the top of the skull.

Kundalini is described as a force lying coiled up like a serpent at the base of the spine blocking the sushumna. This fundamental power is always spoken of as a goddess and therefore as "she". In the practice of laya-yoga, Kundalini is awakened and proceeds up the channel on which six chakras, or nerve plexuses are threaded. Each chakra, on being vitalized, has its own particular "principle" enhanced.

Thousand-Petaled Lotus

After alerting the center, Kundalini withdraws the function of that center and so makes it latent as she passes on and up to the next. After she reaches the top of the head, the "thousand-petaled lotus", she enjoys enhanced life, so that on the return journey she can give back to each center its own specific powers, purified and enhanced.

Major B. D. Basu, of the Indian Medical Service, gave an explanation in his Prize Essay published in the Guy's Hospital Gazette in 1889. He associated these chakras, or nerve centers, with important plexuses in the body. This eminent doctor and scholar gave the list as follows: 1, the sacral plexus; 2, the prostatic; 3, epigastric; 4, the cardiac; 5, the pharyngeal; and 6, the cavernous. Major Basu associated the last with the medulla oblongata, where the left and the right sympathetic cords have their origin and are joined together.

In my imaginative drawing of the original caduceus you will see pingala depicted on the right. It is bright, warm, active, masculine and creative. On the left side of the caduceus is ida. It is dark, cold, receptive, feminine, and nourishing. These are opposite and complementary cosmic principles governing the Universe, including the psychology of man. In Chinese philosophy these principles are known as yang and yin.

At the head of the caduceus are the wings of the sun-god, representing divine protection, or as the Hebrew Psalmist says, "under the shadow of thy wings," showing the superiority of spiritual forces over the material factors of life.

Today the caduceus reminds us of the Biblical command: "Be ye therefor wise as serpents, and harmless as doves." This is the basis of our ethical code and excellent advice to all branches of the healing art.

June Week

The June Week activities of 1965 began with the traditional Omicron Kappa Upsilon Convocation on Wednesday evening, June 2, at the Rolling Road Golf Club.

Early Thursday morning, fourteen of the past-presidents of the alumni met for breakfast. This affair was followed by the Board of Trustees meeting. After registration of the alumni, the annual business meeting convened. All these activities were held at the Baltimore Student Union Building.

Thursday afternoon was reserved for the annual Golf Tournament, under the able guidance of Dr. Harry J. Kohlhepp, Jr. This tournament was held at the Dulaney Springs Golf Club. A total of forty-eight men played, with nineteen prizes awarded by Chairman Harry Kohlhepp.

As usual, Thursday evening was reserved for separate reunion classes which were held in various areas of the city.

The Health Science Library Auditorium was the scene for the Friday Pre-commencement exercises. The honored graduates and guests were privileged to hear an address delivered by the Attorney General of the State of Maryland, Thomas B. Finan. Following the Pre-commencement exercises, a buffet luncheon was served and enjoyed by two hundred fifty-three persons.

Dinner-Dance

The climax of any June Week is the dinner-dance, traditionally held on Friday evening. This dance was held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel and was unique in that two distinguished Alumni were honored, along with the class of 1965, and class of 1915.

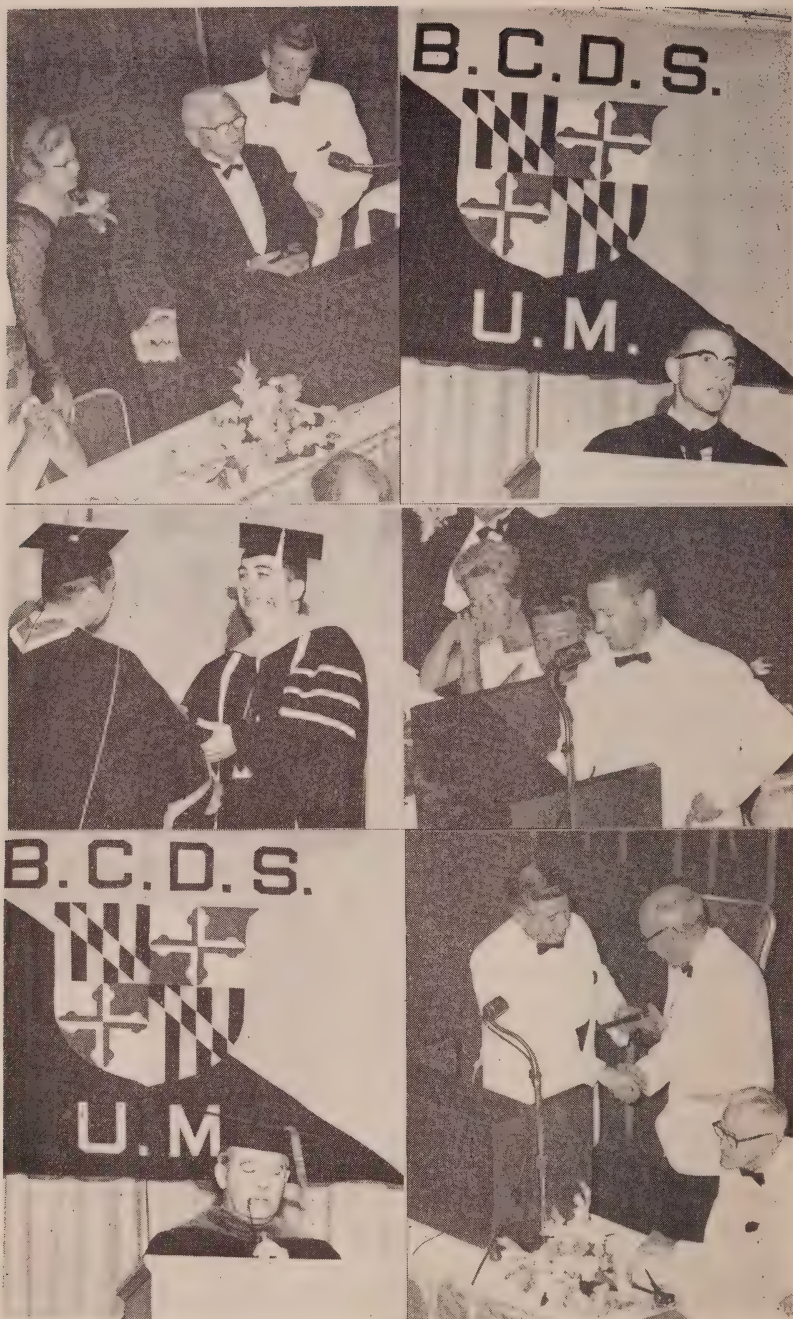

Dr. James H. Ferguson introduced fourteen of his classmates (Class of 1915) enlightening those present with the extra curricular activities of these graduates while they were students.

The distinguished Alumni were Dr. Arthur I. Bell, and Dr. Rudolph O. Schlosser. Dr. Bell was introduced by Dr. George M. Anderson and Dr. Rudolph O. Schlosser by Dr. F. Noel Smith.

Dr. Anderson Presents Dr. Bell

The selection of the recipients of the 1965 Distinguished Alumnus Award established in 1956 by this Association is in keeping with the intent and traditions which have surrounded its bestowal. They may be summarized in one word—achievement.

Achievement is not restricted to any one sort of individual or group. It is an inherent potentiality depending upon the desire to put into effect qualities with which people have been endowed. Too often it is attributed to luck. There is no doubt there is such an element in life, but it is true that many of our present day benefits have derived from so-called lucky opportunities which have been to a very real degree self-created.

Achievement is universally recognized. We might for a moment review some of the tributes paid to man by mankind. In the private sector of world affairs there is the Nobel prize in various fields, in government there is in Great Britain the aura of knighthood and in the unfortunate state of war there is the Croix de Guerre, the Victoria Cross and the Congressional Medal of Honor. In education there is Phi Beta Kappa and Universities give honorary degrees. Within our profession there is Omicron Kappa Upsilon. There is no reason to belabor the issue—those who do, who get things done, who can be counted on to further the interests of a profession, a science, a business, a political unit receive accolades for their achievements. In fact, the standing resolution creating this Distinguished Alumnus Award begins by stating "It has long been the custom for educational, scientific and cultural institutions to honor those of their numbers who have attained unusual heights of distinction" and Dr. Robinson in defining a recipient's qualifications has written that "he should be eminent, illustrious, celebrated, renowned in the sense that he has made a firm and generally recognized contribution to the advancement of dental science and art" and I would add to what has been called the "image of dentistry".

Tonight we are participants in a ceremony which has been accepted by our Alumni Association for a decade. Our Distinguished Alumnus Award is thoughtfully bestowed; those who receive it are carefully chosen as is evidenced by the recipients of 1965, Arthur I. Bell of Catonsville and R. O. Schlosser of Chicago. It is my privilege to present Arthur to you, and I do not intend to detail his many accomplishments and contributions on the national and local level, nor is it Arthur's desire that I do so. He has been an intensely active worker, possesses a high sense of responsibility and no less as to competency in whatever he undertakes. His deeds speak for him. Briefly then the following "in part" records his election as a worthy one fully justifying the committee's choice.

Achievement

He attended the University of Maryland, School of Dentistry, thereafter becoming a devoted worker for the Alumni not only of his Baltimore professional school but for College Park. In particular, his efforts in creating and establishing our Association's Endowment Fund and its related Life Membership have been outstanding. Maybe you see a little straw or hay behind Arthur's ears or a bit of corn silk on his coat and if so it rightfully belongs there for he has been a practical farmer since 1927 channelling his labors to the Ayrshire breed of cattle. It may be that this activity as well as dentistry has made it possible for Arthur to become a Board member of the Catonsville branch of a prominent Baltimore bank.

Mr. President, I present to you Arthur Irving Bell for a Distinguished Alumnus Award.

Reply by Dr. Bell

"Dr. Anderson, Dr. Gaver, Distinguished Guests, Fellow Alumni and Friends—I am overwhelmed and deeply grateful and on occasions such as this, words do not come easily. It has taken a half century for me to travel the road from dental student to this spot tonight. I know it is trite to say but I feel I must, that I do not know how or why I am the one to have been selected for this great honor when there are so many outstanding and great men among our Alumni.

I am sure many of you think I have given a lot of my time, thought and energy not only to our profession but to our Alma Mater (my Secretary has commented on this many times), but believe me I have received a great deal more than I have given, particularly in view of associations enjoyed and friends gained over the years. These are priceless rewards.

At this time I would like to ask Sally to stand with me (I mean Mrs. Sally Bell). She is almost as good an Alumnus of the University of Maryland as I am, and she is just as happy as I am. I would like to say to all of you our sincerest thanks".

Dr. Smith Presents Dr. Schlosser

The pleasure of presenting for the Distinguished Alumnus Award Dr. Rudolph O. Schlosser, who has been one of my professional idols throughout my career, who was my mentor for a brief period and, whom I am honored to call friend, will, I hope, overcome my stage-fright at having this duty to perform before such a distinguished gathering.

Dr. Schlosser's career has all the elements of a Horatio Alger novel. He was born in the province of Posen in Germany in 1882. (It is interesting to note here that both of the men we honor tonight were born outside the United States.) When he was seven he and the six other Schlosser children were brought to this country and settled in Meriden, Conn.

Here he received his early education until, at the age of fifteen, this big strong German boy left home to make his way in the world. He held various jobs—orderly in a mental hospital for instance—and had some training as and ambition to become a graduate nurse. During this period he continued his education in evening high school courses when possible.

Coming to Baltimore in the fall of 1900 he passed the entrance examinations and matriculated in the freshman class of the Dental Department of the Baltimore Medical College (later absorbed into the University of Maryland.) Here at the Baltimore Medical College he received his D.D.S. in 1903.

In 1918 he left Hartford, becoming a member of the research staff of the Dentists Supply Co. Along with Drs. Russell W. Tench and Geo. Wood Clapp, he conducted short courses in complete denture prosthesis and gave demonstrations before many dental societies in the eastern area.

In 1921 the Dentists Supply Co. transferred him to Chicago. Shortly after his arrival he was invited by Dr. Arthur Black (then Dean) to associate himself with the Northwestern University Dental School, an invitation he accepted. Here, he made his greatest contribution to his profession. He became Professor of Prosthetic Dentistry in 1924 and headed the Department of Complete Denture Prosthesis until his retirement in 1947 when he was made Professor Emeritus. During this period Northwestern was regarded throughout the world as the leading Dental School. The late, great G. V. Black had put it on the map. Montgomery Ward money built it a magnificent skyscraper building.—It had a large and active full-time faculty and attracted students and visitors from everywhere. At Northwestern he taught denture prosthesis to many hundreds of dental students—undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate from all over the world. And I assure you he left his mark on every one of them.

Contributions To The Literature

During his teaching career Dr. Schlosser made many contributions to the literature, having published 37 articles in 22 journals, in this country, Canada and Australia. In 1939 he brought out his text-book Complete Denture Prosthesis—which has gone through many editions. This was his major literary contribution.

What sort of a man is this we are about to honor? Well, in the first place STRONG. Strong physically and strong of character. One of his pupils with some artistic talent drew a sort of cartoon of him, which Dr. Schlosser adopted as his book-plate. It shows him, stern and square jawed, surrounded by reminders of technics he taught, and with both fists doubled up before him—one labeled 6 months in the hospital—the other sudden death. They say his initials R.O.S. also stand for "Rough On Students". Until his retirement I doubt if he ever had an illness.

Secondly—a kindly man, although I think he tries to hide this quality. I know it from many personal kindnesses to me when I was his student for a brief period toward the end of his teaching career at Northwestern.

Third—thorough, and I think this should include systematic. His teaching was always sound basic material. Yes—he demonstrated technics but he taught basic fundamental principles and permitted no deviation from them.

Mr. President, this is the man I am privileged to present to you for the Distinguished Alumnus Award—this great Teacher of Dentists—Dr. Rudolph O. Schlosser.

Reply by Dr. Schlosser

Mr. President, dear Fellow Members of our beloved Alumni Association:

You all have helped to make this the Very Happiest Day of My Life; by conveying upon me the great honor as a Distinguished Alumnus of the dear old Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

For this I wish hereby to express to all of you my sincere and heartfelt thanks for the honor you have conveyed upon me. I promise you that for the remaining years of my life I shall strive to do my very best to keep in close relation to our organization, and to serve it to the best of my ability.

The Dean's Message

A Message From Dean Salley

I would like to take this opportunity to express to the alumni the sincere gratitude of the faculty and students for your magnificent efforts in connection with the 125th anniversary celebration of the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. The meeting on March 4 and 5 was enthusiastically attended by a large number of alumni, students and friends and the sessions arranged by the committees of the Alumni Association were outstanding. We are looking forward with great anticipation to publication of the fine papers presented at this meeting. Undoubtedly, they will become an historic and unique part of the annals of the School and the profession.

Horace H. Hayden and Chapin A. Harris initiated a noble experiment on March 6, 1840. Their foresight and vision has provided the firm foundation and great professional heritage enjoyed by all of dentistry today. It is the hope and prayer of all in the University of Maryland to maintain this position of leadership among the healing arts. As we strive for this goal we will look forward to continued support from our distinguished graduates.

DRAFT SUPPLY OF PHYSICIANS INADEQUATE

The military services this year have drafted 1,080 physicians, and while more will be needed to handle the expanded armed forces, the exact number has not been determined.

At the same time, the Selective Service System has indicated that it will be impossible to fill any subsequent physician draft call of a significant number from among remaining members of the intern classes of 1965.

Albert H. Schwichtenberg, M.D., Albuquerque, N. M., chairman of AMA's Council on National Security, told the federal officials that AMA favors "a general policy of calling for active duty first those physicians who have not yet served in an emergency expansion of the military medical services."

In addition, Dr. Schwichtenberg said, the AMA supports a policy of encouraging voluntary service by physicians while recognizing that "additional steps for physician procurement will be essential."

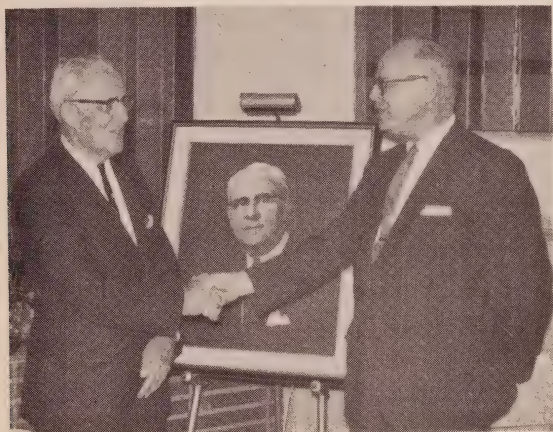

Recommended by the AMA group was the establishment of a special draft mechanism for physicians, dentists and veterinarians, since these groups are the only ones subjected to a special draft.

Dean Harry B. McCarthy Honored

A meeting of the full and part time faculty and staff of Baylor University College of Dentistry provided a pleasant surprise for Dean Harry B. McCarthy '23. The meeting was held during a dinner at the Lucas B & B Cafe, November 16, 1964.

Dean H. B. McCarthy and Dr. Walter Stout

As a present to Dean McCarthy from the entire faculty and staff for his dedicated service as Dean for more than twelve years, a handsome portrait in natural color was presented to him to be hung in the College.

Earlier in the year when Dean McCarthy was sitting for publicity pictures, the photographer used some colored film in the camera without his knowledge.

The presentation was made by Dr. Walter C. Stout who paid the following tribute:

"We are indeed fortunate that more than twelve years ago the wheel of fortune brought you to Texas.

"Under your leadership and guidance Baylor University College of Dentistry has improved in every dimension. This includes an enlarged physical plant, a larger faculty, an increase in the number of students, a school for hygienists and facilities for postgraduate and graduate training. The Century Club and the Baylor University College of Dentistry Alumni Association have become valuable functioning organizations during your administration.

"You have always been a close friend and confidant to your faculty and staff and have lived according to your favorite quotation by Sam Walter Foss, 'Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man'.

"A quotation by Emerson may be just as appropriate in describing you as a man, 'Whoever is open, loyal, true; of humane and affable demeanor; honorable himself and in his judgment of others; faithful to his word as to law, and faithful alike to God and man—such is a true gentleman'.

"As a small token of appreciation from all of us to you, we should like to present this photographic portrait of your likeness. We hope you will display this photograph permanently in the conference room so that it may be seen by more people who are interested in Baylor University College of Dentistry.

"Please accept this with our congratulations for achievements in the past and our every wish that you will have continued good health, happiness and a long tenure in your present capacity."

The portrait has been placed in the conference room of the dental college where it may be seen by alumni and friends who visit the school.

Daniel F. Lynch Honored

Dr. Daniel F. Lynch, President Elect of the American Society of Oral Surgeons, received an Outstanding Achievement Award from the University of Minnesota at the Mayo Centennial Convocation held in Rochester, Minnesota, September 17, 1964. He is one of 35 distinguished alumni of the Mayo Graduate School of Medicine (Rochester), University of Minnesota, who were selected as award recipients.

Dr. Lynch was honored as an "effective builder of better international relationships in dentistry . . . esteemed ambassador to his Latin American professional colleagues . . . and author of a superb record of service to the American Dental Association."

Dr. Lynch was the only dentist so honored by the University of Minnesota. The Society is indeed well aware of the great honor which Dr. Lynch has brought not only to the Society but to the specialty of oral surgery. This award is specifically reserved for alumni of the institution who have attained eminence and distinction.

Dr. Taylor Honored

Dr. William C. Taylor of Salisbury, North Carolina, was the guest of honor at a surprise dinner given by the Rowan County Dental Society at the Salisbury Country Club, October 21, celebrating his half century of dental practice in his native Salisbury.

He was awarded a certificate of appreciation by his fellow practitioners for his devotion to his profession for the past 50 years. Dr. Frank Kirk made the presentation and recalled that the Rowan County Dental Society was organized in Dr. Taylor's office in 1924.

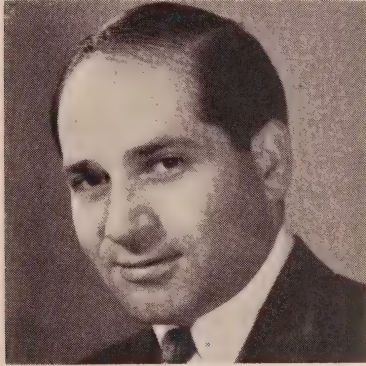

Guest speaker, Postmaster Jim McKenzie, presented a "This Is Your Life" sketch of Dr. Taylor.

During the dinner several long distance telephone calls came in from dental school classmates of Dr. Taylor, including Dr. J. Ben Robinson of Baltimore and Dr. Eva Carter Nissen of Winston-Salem, the only girl in his class at the University of Maryland. He also received a letter of "best wishes" from Dr. R. M. Olive, Sr., of Fayetteville, another classmate.

Dr. D. Clyde Young, Jr., presided at the dinner and introduced the many friends of Dr. Taylor who joined in the celebration.

He has served his profession in the following offices: Past President of the Maryland Dental Society of Anesthesiology, Executive Council of the Baltimore City Dental Society; Past Grand Master of Oriole Alumni Chapter of Psi Omega Fraternity; a member of the Senate of the University of Maryland, Senate of the Dental School; Vice-President of the Faculty Assembly, Dental School University of Maryland; Secretary of the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons; and Chairman of the Section on Oral Surgery, American Association of Dental Schools.

Presently he serves as President of the Phi Chapter, Omicron Kappa Upsilon; Vice-President of the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons; President-Elect, Baltimore City Dental Society; Deputy Councillor of Alpha Chapter, Psi Omega Fraternity; Councillor of the Maryland Section of the International College of Dentists; Secretary of the Alumni Association; Executive Council of the Baltimore Alumni Club; and Chairman of the Maryland Delegation to the American Dental Association.

He has been a delegate to the American Dental Association House of Delegates for the past ten years. During this time, he has exemplified those qualities of knowledge and ability to serve effectively on the national level.

At all times, he has brought a sincere and honest approach to all the problems and issues facing the dental profession. As you know, he will stand up and be counted on an issue and he has the power of his own conviction. Many of you know him well in the Alumni Association, 4th District of the A.D.A. and the American Dental Association, and I urge all alumni and friends to support Dr. Cappuccio for Trustee of the Fourth District of the American Dental Association.

I feel that Dr. Cappuccio's experience and accomplishments have proven his dedicated service to the profession, and he is eminently qualified for the office of Trustee of the Fourth District of the American Dental Association.

Dean McCarthy Receives Gift

A $23,000 gift to expand clinical facilities of the Caruth School of Dental Hygiene at Baylor University College of Dentistry in Dallas was presented Tuesday by the W. W. Caruth, Jr. Fund of the Dallas Community Chest Trust Fund.

Mr. Caruth, a prominent contributor to medical education, gave the check to Dr. Harry McCarthy '23, Dean of the Baylor Dental College. Also present in brief ceremonies at the college were Fred M. Lange, Executive Vice-President of the Community Chest Trust Fund; a representative of the hygiene school's first graduating class in 1957, and members of the present senior class—all of whom gave a resounding thanks to Mr. Caruth.

The Dallas philanthropist's original gift of $30,000 made possible establishment of the school, which was the first dental hygiene school in the Southwest. It was named in memory of his father, the late W. W. Caruth, Sr. The school provides training for hygienists who work in private dentistry, public health agencies and dental health programs.

The $23,000 presented Tuesday will make possible a major expansion of the school's clinic area, as well as many other major improvements in the school.

The Endowment Fund

The National Alumni Fund of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery Inc., has been established by the Dental Alumni of the University of Maryland to insure and guarantee a safe depository for your investment. Awards, endowed lectures, scholarships, research, student loans and other accepted projects by the Board will benefit as a result of this Fund.

The Endowment Fund is administered by a rotating group of Trustees who are active members of the Dental Alumni. The Dean of our School is an ex-officio member. All Funds are trusteeed at the Mercantile Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Baltimore. While the Trustees have no say in the manner in which the Funds are invested, they do have the responsibility of carrying out the wishes of the Donor as to how the returns are to be spent and used.

In short, this fund and your contribution will provide the following:

- 1. Your gift will be administered according to your wishes*
- 2. Your name will be permanently perpetuated*
- 3. Only active members of our Dental Alumni may serve on the Board of Trustees*
- 4. Your profession and the Dental School will benefit as a result of this Fund*

An enjoyable alumni breakfast meeting was held on Wednesday, November 11, 1964, at 8:00 A.M., Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco, California.

Unfortunately, the attendance was very poor due to the very bad weather that hit San Francisco, California, during the week of the A.D.A. meeting. Approximately 60 alumni and guests were in attendance.

Dr. Cappuccio, Secretary, served as the M.C. for the early morning program. Seated at the head table were the following: Dean Frank J. Houghton, Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor, Board of Trustees; Dr. Irving Abramson, President-Elect; Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Jr., Executive Council; Dr. William Ditzler, President of the Maryland State Dental Association; Dr. José Medina, Assistant Dean, Dental School, University of Maryland and Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley, Historian-Archivist.

The Secretary of the Association made a few announcements and informed the group of the elaborate plans for the 125th Anniversary Meeting of the founding of the dental school to be held on March 4, 5, 6, 1965 at the Belvedere Hotel in Baltimore, Md.

Dr. Medina was introduced to give a short talk augmented with slides about the future plans for the new dental school. The presentation was enjoyed by all in attendance.

Following the breakfast meeting in the morning, alumni and friends joined together at a cocktail party that evening. It was a wonderful reunion for many of the graduates.

The annual meeting of the New Jersey Alumni Society of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, University of Maryland Dental School, was held on Wednesday, October 28, 1964, at the Newarker Restaurant, Newark Airport, New Jersey, with seventy-seven alumni and wives in attendance. A cocktail hour preceded the dinner. The blessing was given by the Rev. Francis Houghton, son of Dr. Frank J. Houghton, the guest of honor.

A short business meeting was conducted by President, James F. Mahon. The nominating committee report was made by Dr. Saul M. Gale, and the recommendations of the committee received the unanimous vote of the membership. The officers, and trustees of the Friedberg Memorial Fund, and the executive board members were elected to serve for the coming year. The officers will be found listed on page 70. Dr. John J. Salley, Dean of the Dental School, spoke on the plans for the new dental school and showed slides of the present facilities as well as the progress being made on the entire Baltimore campus.

Dr. Calvin J. Gaver spoke on behalf of the National Alumni Association and Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio stressed the role of the alumni in maintaining the outstanding reputation of our school. Mr. Alvin E. Cormeny, director of the Greater Maryland Fund thanked those who have worked for and contributed to the Fund.

A certificate of appreciation was presented to retiring president, James F. Mahon, and his name added to the roster of living past presidents.

Class Reunions

Class of 1915

The class of 1915 of the U. of Md. attendance at the reunion was rather small; only four attended. They were Dr. Lois Taylor of Charlotte, North Carolina; Dr. Vincent Roca, of Baltimore; Dr. Dave C. Danforth of Baltimore; and Dr. Jacob W. Lewis of Baltimore. However, we joined with the 1915 B.C.D.S. class which had an excellent attendance. Our reunion dinner was held at the Baltimore Country Club on Thursday, June 3rd and everyone had a good time. I am sure everyone also enjoyed the reunion dinner at the Lord Baltimore Hotel on Friday, June 4th.

Class of 1920

To my knowledge there was no reunion of the class of 1920.

In 1955 and 1960, I tried to get the class to have a reunion but the results failed dismally. I was the only member who attended.

This year I tried with letters and telephone and the few who did answer were unable, because of health problems, to attend.

Class of 1925

On the evening of June 3rd, thirty members of the class of '25 met at the Park Plaza Hotel for their 40th class reunion. Since time has taken its toll, this was naturally the smallest gathering for a reunion. However, it was generally conceded that it was the best and most enthusiastic meeting ever held by the boys of '25.

The affair opened with cocktails from 7:00 P.M. to 8:00 P.M. followed by one of the finest dinners available. It was evident from the start that even after 40 years of practice none of the appetites had suffered. The meal was enjoyed by all.

Following the dinner each member was given time to tell about his family and noteworthy experiences or accomplishments. It was interesting to find a great many of the class who had sons who are dentists or daughters who are married to dentists. These little talks were well received and were enjoyed by everyone.

Many of the men stayed until the wee hours of the night, reminiscing and rekindling old friendships. Everyone said the reunion was a great success, but the failure of the photographer to show up and take the class picture was a disappointment to all who would liked to have had the picture to recall a very pleasant occasion.

Class of 1930

The Hotel Belvedere was the scene of a delightful reunion on June 6, 1965 in Baltimore. Johnny Wolf with the able help of his wife did a great job in planning the evening. John introduced John Maguire who acted as toastmaster. Maguire has performed a notable service in Delaware as a member of the Dental State Board.

Dean J. Ben. Robinson as our guest of honor spoke briefly of the past; and told the group that he is now engaged in work at the Archives in Washington, D.C., where he is developing a dental history project. He also asked that if anyone had objects of dental historical value it would be greatly appreciated if they were sent to J. Ben. Robinson c/o University of Maryland Dental School.

Professor Vanden Bosche told some anecdotes about the Class of 1930. Van's first year at Maryland was in 1930. This celebration was the 40th anniversary of his association with the School. I remember that year well, and often wonder whether he still brings his lunch to eat at his desk.

Jim Smith was the reader of a four page letter from Russ "Sergeant" Cook. Jim with his Southern accent, now slightly Yankee-ized by reason of his residence in the North (Maryland), read Cook's words with theatrical emphasis on all the cliches, such as, "closing our ranks", "marching on with heads high", "flags waving", "sabres shining in the sunlight", and the ever military "marching in cadence".

The accomplishments in the field of dentistry as well as other areas by all members of this particular class are much to be admired. Limitation of space prevents mention of these, but maybe at some future date we can do some thumbnail sketches.

Remarks were addressed to the group by George Slattery, Tony Harlacher, Percy Spitzen, Edwin Gerstein and Irving Schein. Jim Smith extended an invitation to all members of the Class to visit him whenever they are in College Park. I can speak for Helen's and Jim's hospitality. They were my hosts several times on my trips to football games.

Those who were not in attendance missed a nostalgic and memorable evening. We paid tribute to those who have passed on; and missed those who could not attend for various reasons. We send our sincere good wishes and hope that those who are ill will soon regain good health.

It was the general opinion of all that God willing, we will try to be together on the 40th reunion. The wives were most charming and were genuinely happy to see each other.

Class of 1935

The pearl anniversary of the class of 1935 was held at the Belvedere Hotel on Thursday, June 3, 1965.

A gala evening of cocktails, dinner, and dancing was enjoyed by the 27 members who answered the roll call for this memorable evening of nostalgic talk of the past, present, and conjectures on the future. Thirst quenching, gourmet eating and terpsichorean demonstrations were in evidence into the wee hours.

Our honored guests were Dr. Kate Toomey and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Deems. A visitation was also made by Dean Salley.

Those present were Drs. Anderson, Anzalone, Bernard, Bisese, Blake, Caldwell, Costenbader, Curcio, Eramo, Eye, Feuer, Freedman, Grossman, Ingber, Jordon, Levickas, Levinson, Morris, Pente, Phillips, Pridgeon, Robinson, Scanlon, Shoben, Snider, Stevens and Whitaker.

Class of 1940

The Class of 1940 met Saturday night, June 5th. There were thirteen of us who graduated, back in 1940, and since then, Dabrowski and Randman have passed on. That leaves eleven of us, of whom four showed up for the big 25th reunion. Percentage wise, four out of eleven isn't bad!

Bell, Chapin, Lowander and Pessagno met about 6:30 P.M. in the Downtown Holiday and had drinks and dinner there. Talk was loud, profane, inane and thoroughly successful. All of us are wealthy, healthy, and ready to retire from practice (!!). For our scientific session, the entire representation went to the Acropolis, which you will recognize as Baltimore's palace of assorted devotees of terpsichore. Unfortunately, the place was packed tight and we were unable to partake of these delights. We were told that the tables had already been reserved for some time and were now filled. And that ended the evening, which by that time had turned into morning.

We had nice letters from Kaswick, Litchman, and Diamond and a telephone call from Bonham. Bookstaver had a heart attack the week before the reunion, and we hope by now that he is fully recovered.

Class of 1945

Twenty years after graduation, twenty-three out of an original fifty-eight members of the class of 1945 met to continue that bond of friendship created in an isochronous struggle of pursuing a professional career. The date was June 3rd, and the place—One West.

Adding beauty to the occasion were the many wives who were in attendance. Arturo Benevent was accompanied by two of his children in addition to his lovely wife affectionately known as "Skippy". The affair began with a cocktail party followed by a deluxe dinner, entertainment and dancing. The entertainment was in the form of joke prizes for which those attending chose the winners. Dancing and conversation aided by an open bar continued until 2:30 A.M. Noteworthy were the efforts of a newly found class vocalist, Jimmy Trone, whose magnificent addition to the instrumental trio was evidence of the untapped manifold talents of the class of 1945.

It is fitting that due credit be given Bernie Brown, Walter Levine, Gene Flesker and Russ Gigliotti for their untiring efforts in helping produce this successful reunion.

Class of 1950

On June 3, 1965, the class of 1950 held its 15th reunion at The Tail of the Fox in Timonium, Maryland. The affair consisted of a cocktail hour followed by a dinner-dance.

We regret that Dr. & Mrs. Joseph Sheppe, Dr. & Mrs. Kenneth Kline and Dr. James Whisnant were unable to attend as originally planned.

It was very gratifying to have so many members attend who are out-of-town residents, especially Dr. & Mrs. Fossas from Puerto Rico.

During the course of the evening, Dr. & Mrs. Edmond Vanden Bosche dropped in to join in the festivities and reminisce with the class members.

We are sorry to report that no picture was taken since the class felt that they could not justifiably be reproduced on film.

All in all, the members enjoyed the relaxed environment of the private club, the excellent dinner served by the efficient help, and, most of all, the opportunity to recall many happy moments with former classmates. Our only regret is that more graduates were not in attendance.

Class of 1955

The Class of 1955 held their tenth reunion on June 4 and 5, 1965. Bill Martin invited the entire class to attend a crab feast at his house near Annapolis. Delicious, highly seasoned Chesapeake Bay crabs were served with appropriate beverages. During the evening the air was filled with the strings of a lively band. Several demonstrations of the frug, watusi, and twist were given. The story is told that one of our Jewish classmates baptised a Floridian. Bill Martin was certain that a good time was had by all because it required three men three days to clean his place.

On Saturday a hospitality room served as a gathering place from 10:00 A.M. til 4:00 P.M. Beverages were served to keep the conversation light. In the latter part of the day one of the wives demonstrated the proper way to hold a prostrate seance. The conversation showed the depth and variation of interests; dentistry, golf, bowling alleys, and general reminiscing.

The cocktail hour was interrupted for a few minutes for the taking of a class picture by Mr. Philip Taylor of the Dental School. Martin Taubenfeld received many compliments on the meal which included prime rib roast beef and baked Alaska. Mr. Ralph Reppert was the featured speaker. He told us all of Harriet's (his wife) deep dark secrets. Tom Blumenback then showed some slides taken while we were still in school. It was obvious that we were still the same, but much older and heavier. Buns and coffee were served at twelve-thirty. A good time was had by all. Many who did not attend the fifth year reunion said that they could be counted on to attend the fifteenth reunion.

Nearly three hundred dollars remained in the treasury after all expenses were paid. This money was given to a fund at the school to make loans available to needy students. A debt of gratitude is due the entire committee; Bob Heldrick, Nelson Wright, Daniel Bartel, Joe Seipp, and the chairman, Martin Taubenfeld.

Class of 1960

The Class of '60 of The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery held its first, of what we hope will be many, reunion on Thursday evening,

June 3, 1965, in the Assembly Room of the Sheraton-Belvedere in Baltimore, Maryland.

The evening began with a cocktail "hour", during which time those present reviewed their wanderings during our first five years in the profession. Many men have had military service both in this country and in the far corners of the world. Others have completed specialty training in various areas while most have begun general practice of dentistry. The hour lasted much longer than planned but all were enjoying it so much that it was allowed to continue.

Finally, we were able to get organized to the point that we could sit down and enjoy a complete feast which featured steak with the usual trimmings.

We were quite pleased to have as our guest Dean Emeritus Myron S. Aisenberg and his charming wife. Dean Aisenberg gave us greetings and told of how he is enjoying his hunting and fishing. Also with us for the evening was our honorary class president, Dr. José E. Medina, our Professor of Operative Dentistry and at present Assistant Dean at the School. Dr. Medina informed us of the progress of the School during the last five years and of future plans for the new school. Both of these men were well received and we greatly enjoyed having them with us.

We closed the evening with dancing and more conversation accompanied by the music of Rivers Chambers of Baltimore. The consensus of the class was as we wearily wandered home that the evening was a memorable one.

Book Review

ORAL HISTOLOGY

By D. Vincent Provenza. Subtitle—Inheritance and Development. With chapters by Harold M. Fulmer and Joseph H. Seipp, Jr. 548 pages with 627 illustrations. $14.00. Philadelphia, J. B. Lippincott Co., 1964.

Dr. Provenza states in his preface that he has sought to reorganize and broaden the scope of the subject matter classically included in texts on oral histology. He presents the material in the light of the latest available research data, primarily those derived from physical methods, and to indicate various areas in which agreement is not complete. To accomplish these aims he has divided the book into four sections, dealing with inheritance and development, the teeth and their adnexa, paroral and paranasal organs, and histochemistry. Within each of these divisions he has presented both general and detailed information, as up-to-date as possible and profusely illustrated. This should make the text very useful not only for students but also as a reference work. As usual, in any first edition, there are a few weaknesses. These are largely compensated for by the fact that the book was written (with the exception of two chapters) by a single author, so that there is a thread of continuity in thought, presentation and style so often lost in these current times of multiple authorship. One would look perhaps in future editions for a background chapter devoted to modern concepts of cell ultrastructure, even though these have been included in non-dental texts for nearly a decade, dealing with the fundamentals of those aspects of physical biology relatively peculiar to the study of hard tissues, such as x-ray diffraction and microradiography. Again, the subjects of bone in general, basic enamel structure, and the calcification process have been treated somewhat superficially, but no less so than in other standard texts. This approach is eminently justified, however, in view of the new ideas in the offing, which would be prematurely included at this point in their synthesis and availability, but can easily be incorporated later. As in the case of several other books, the author has found difficulty in distributing the histochemical data appropriately within the various chapters. While the last chapter is well written it would seem to this reviewer that the information would be more useful were it directly associated with the tissues and processes involved. All in all, these criticisms are minor, and the book will stand out as one of the best of its kind, certainly the most modern. It has the advantages of considerably wider coverage than similarly specialized histology texts, a wealth of fine illustrative material, and comprehensive reference lists. It also merits inclusion in the library of the practitioner as current background information with which to supplement his reading material in oral medicine and pathology.

125th Anniversary Celebration

The 125th Anniversary Celebration of the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, sponsored and financially supported by the Alumni Association, is now history.

Judged by the highest standards, it was most successful. Over five-hundred Alumni and friends registered for the two day meeting held last March 4 and 5. For one of the few times in memory we were almost too successful; the attendance at breakfast honoring past presidents of the Alumni Association on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, filled the Jubilee Room of the Belvedere Hotel to capacity, and later it became necessary to discontinue the sale of luncheon tickets because the room was filled to capacity. Likewise, the banquet on Friday evening was a complete sellout. Beside these pleasant troubles there was a happy and joyous air about the entire affair.

The scientific program was excellent and well attended; the ladies' functions, so capably managed by Kate Toomey and her efficient committee won well-earned praise.

The first Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture delivered by Dr. Harold Hillenbrand on Thursday evening, March 4, was one of the high points of the meeting. His subject, "The Past Is Prologue" was well chosen, and as he reviewed our impressive heritage each felt an inner glow of pride in our Alma Mater.

Governor J. Millard Tawes was the principal speaker at the banquet on Friday evening. He expressed his delight with the reception accorded him and his wife and spoke complimentary of dentistry's contribution to society, and pledged in no uncertain terms his support of dental plans for the future.

On that occasion I had the opportunity to publicly thank those most responsible for the success of the meeting, and to them the Alumni Association owes a debt of gratitude.

As Mr. Gardner Foley is to publish the complete "Proceedings" of this meeting in the near future, there is no need to go into detail at this time. This report is purposely brief, so as not to detract from the "Proceeds" which will be published soon.

In closing, I am certain that Dr. Calvin Gaver, President of the Alumni Association and Dean John Salley would agree that this meeting served its purpose as an interim reminder of our honored past and at the same time gave us an opportunity to jointly discuss plans for the future.

Life Membership

Why not be a member for LIFE? Recently a Life Membership application went out to our alumni. It pointed out that a Life Membership is yours for $150.00. Of this amount $50.00 goes to our Dental Alumni Association and $100.00 into Trusteed Endowment Funds which will more than pay the equivalent of your annual dues for years to come.

Additional applications, pamphlets and details are available on request. We would point out, however, that this Life Membership and Endowment Program is completely our own. It is in no way related to the Greater University of Maryland Fund or any other University campaign. This is by and for our Dental Alumni and our Dental School.

For information write the Chairman, Dr. Arthur I. Bell, 1009 Frederick Rd., Baltimore 28, Md. Plan now to be a LIFE MEMBER.

President Gaver's Address

Annual Business Meeting—June 3, 1965

First, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for attending this annual business session. Much of the business of your Association must of necessity be carried on throughout the year by the Officers and Executive Council. Then it becomes our responsibility to explain to the general membership all that has transpired. All of the committees, which have had some assignments during the year have reported to you today. By your acceptance of these many reports, you have indicated your approval of what has taken place throughout the year.

As usual our finances seem pretty healthy thanks to our very efficient and effective Treasurer, who, by the way, decided to forego all the money responsibilities and assume other duties. Our Alumni Journal is still going strong and my personal thanks go to Dr. Joe Seipp for his usual excellent job as Editor. With respect to the recent celebration of the 125th Anniversary of the founding of our school, I owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. Preis, the General Chairman, Dr. Cappuccio, Dr. Hart, Dr. Ottenritter, Miss Toomey, Dr. Bianco, Dr. Deems and I could go on and on. Our Dean, Dr. Salley, supported our efforts not only by participating in the program himself, but by closing the school to allow the students and faculty to attend any and all functions. We are grateful for this. Through all of this, as well as the rest of the year, the Officers and Executive Council continued to meet and debate on many issues. Frank Veltre, Phil Norris, Joe Cannizzaro, Irv Abramson, Gene Leatherman, Ed Stone, Pat Foley and Bud Inman, each and everyone of these individuals, helped make my tenure quite enjoyable and relatively simple. My hat goes off to these people who gave of their time to see that your Alumni Association is what you expect it to be.

I deeply appreciate the honor of having served you for the year, and though the years may remove many of the details of my service, I will always be aware of my duties toward the Alumni Association. My heartfelt thanks to each and everyone of you who helped make my year what it was.

In conclusion, I should like to offer the following recommendations for consideration by the incoming administration:

1. As soon as possible, after assuming office, the President should meet with the new officers only and discuss his plans and intentions for the coming year. All of these would be subject to the approval of the Executive Council at a subsequent meeting.
2. Constitutional changes in the area of standing committees, especially the more active ones should be considered for the purpose of more effective operation of the organization.
3. Secretarial service should be improved. Preferably one person should be made responsible for all correspondence and we should have a recording secretary.

4. A method should be considered for increasing active membership in the association, even if it requires active participation by the officers or a committee in the affairs or meetings of components or states.
5. The initiation of an emergency student loan fund.
6. The appointment of a student-alumni relations committee.
7. Consider earlier contact with the students, possibly at the freshman level and establish some rapport and better understanding of just what the Alumni Association is and does.
8. Attempt to promote more endowed lectures and consider the possibility of some memorial lectures instead of prizes.
9. An attempt should be made to disseminate all actions passed by the Executive Council through the year to the general membership through the media of a newsletter.
10. Consideration of elimination of President's letters and possibly use this mailing for dissemination of news to our Alumni Association.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Paris International Dental Week will hold its 39th meeting from the 22nd to the 28th of November 1965, at the Maison de la Chimie, 28 bis rue Saint-Sominique Paris 7ème. The council has been set up as follows: The office of President will be held by Prof. L. J. Cecconi; Dr. Ch. Sebban, the Vice-President; Dr. J. P. Cavaillon, the Secretary General; Dr. Cl. Boynton, the Treasurer. These officials will have the assistance of Dr. A. Leprette Joint, Secretary General, and of Dr. J. Brun '52, Joint Treasurer, D.D.S. Dr. Brun is the Editor of the Journal—Union Des Jeunes Chirurgiens Dentistes.

The scientific program this year will be providing more extensive participation on the part of the dental schools and their teaching staff.

Free discussions, introduced two years ago, will be held and televised. Simultaneous translation in four languages will be provided during the scientific meetings.

Various celebrations and festivities will be organized to enable those attending the congress to take advantage, in a friendly atmosphere, of those vital moments of relaxation.

Your organizing committees are anxious that your friends, both French and from abroad, should derive every satisfaction from this congress.

The Secretary announced that Dr. Stone was elected 1st Vice-President of the Baltimore Alumni Club and that Dr. Cappuccio and Dr. Gaver were elected to the Board of Directors of the Baltimore Alumni Club representing the Dental Alumni.

Approval of Minutes: The President asked the Secretary to read the minutes of the last annual meeting. They were approved as read.

Treasurer's Report: Dr. Trager gave a complete report on the financial structure of The Alumni Association. The report was approved as read. A detailed report of the Treasurer will appear in the next issue of the Alma Mater.

Editor's Report: Dr. Seipp gave a complete report of the activities of his office. He did question a budgetary item as it pertained to the Alma Mater. The Chairman of the Budget Committee explained to the Editor that he was not restricted to the exact dollar amount of the budget. The Editor was satisfied with the explanation of his total budget. The report of the Editor was approved as read.

Trustees' Report: President Gaver called on Dr. Bell, Secretary-Treasurer of the Trustees to give his annual report. Dr. Bell gave the high points of his report and stated that a short audit would appear in the Alma Mater. He suggested that the life membership fee be increased from $150.00 to $250.00 and that the total life membership fee should be used by the Trustees as invested money. He felt that the Alumni would receive a better interest rate in this manner. It was announced that a special committee of the Association has this matter under study. Dr. Bell's report was approved as read.

General Alumni Council: Dr. Stone gave a detailed report of the Alumni Council representatives. He stated that there was a study now in progress to attempt to collect all dues at one time which would include General Alumni dues and Dental Alumni dues. He felt that this would avoid a great deal of confusion. He asked for closer cooperation between the Greater University Alumni Council and the Dental Alumni. The report of the General Alumni Council was approved as read. This report will also appear in the next issue of the Alma Mater.

Historian's Report: President Gaver called on Mr. Foley to give his report. Mr. Foley stated that he was having difficulty gathering material for the Proceedings because he was not receiving the full cooperation of everyone concerned. He was especially concerned about the Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary Meeting and the History of the Dental School. After much discussion, it was agreed that Mr. Foley would serve as the Editor of the Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary Meeting and that the General Chairman of that meeting and all concerned would be asked to get all material to the Editor. Mr. Foley agreed to continue his job providing that he receive the fullest cooperation of the alumni. President Gaver suggested that this matter could be settled by the officers. Mr. Foley's report was accepted subject to his demands.

The next order of business was to receive the committee reports. The following committee reports were received:

1. June Week—Dr. Bianco and Dr. Veltre
2. Distinguished Alumni Award—Dr. Abramson
3. Budget—Dr. Cappuccio
4. Audit—Dr. Seligman
5. Life Membership—Dr. Hollander
6. Student Loan and Endowed Lectures—Dr. Pessagno
7. Solicitations—Dr. Van Natta
8. Necrology—Dr. Davenport
9. Ways and Means—Dr. Norris
10. Nominating—Dr. Toomey

Many of the reports were read by the Secretary in the absence of committee chairmen.

The President asked that all recommendations in the committee reports would be acted upon under new business.

Several of the committees had business which would be considered by the Executive Council. A recommendation of the Ways and Means Committee to appoint an Assistant Secretary as a Recording Secretary and to make this a part of the Constitution and By-Laws was referred to the Executive Council for action. The Nominating Committee report was tabled in order to be acted upon under new business.

Old Business—The President called for old business. The Secretary gave a short report on the Alumni activity in San Francisco, California, in November of 1964. He stated that Alumni breakfast meetings are not successful in far away cities such as San Francisco. It was suggested that consideration be given to possibly omitting breakfast meetings when the A.D.A. meets at a great distance from Baltimore. This matter is also under study by the Ways and Means Committee along with other meetings around the country such as Greater New York, Chicago and Philadelphia meetings.

Dr. Preis, Chairman of the 125th Anniversary Meeting was not in attendance. The Secretary read his short report. It was agreed that the 125th Anniversary Meeting was a great success. A suggestion was made that the Proceedings which were to be published on the 125th Anniversary Meeting could be dropped and that this material could be used in the Alma Mater. After much discussion, it was agreed that the official proceedings should be published and should carry all the material available. The Secretary pointed out that $10,000 was available for the printing of the Proceedings. The Alumni Association allocated $5,000 and Dr. Salley through the Dental School allocated $5,000 toward this venture. Mr. Foley is charged with the responsibility of editing the Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary Meeting along with a short history of the Dental School. It was unfortunate that the total proceedings of the meeting were not taped as originally planned. However, this was not a responsibility of the Alumni Association.

New Business—Dr. Gaver called on the Alumni present to confirm the election of the two Distinguished Alumni Recipients for 1965, Dr. Arthur I. Bell, Baltimore, Md. and Dr. Rudolph O. Schlosser, Evanston, Illinois. They were elected and confirmed unanimously. Dr. Bell was present and was introduced to the group as a Distinguished Alumnus for 1965. The recipients for 1965 were congratulated by the President.

President Gaver called on Dr. Cappuccio for a report on the Alumni's activities in Las Vegas, Nevada. The Secretary reported that the Alumni will hold a breakfast at 8:00 A.M. in the Sands Hotel on Tuesday, November 9, 1965, and a Reception-Cocktail Party that evening at 7:00 P.M. in the same hotel. Dr. Dressel cautioned the group about making reservations early for this meeting. He stated that reservations should not be made for the weekend but suggested that arrivals be planned for a week day. The reservations will be difficult to get in Las Vegas.

The next order of business was the election of officers. The slate of officers as presented by the Nominating Committee was approved under the election of officers. The entire slate was elected unanimously. It was moved that the Secretary cast a unanimous ballot for the slate. Following the election of officers, Dr. Gaver introduced the new officers for the coming year. The slate of officers as elected will appear in the Alma Mater.

Dr. Gaver asked the Secretary, in the absence of the Vice-President, to assume the chair to receive the President's Address. Dr. Cappuccio assumed the chair and called on the President to give his report. President Gaver gave a very complete report on the activities of his office and the challenges of the future administration. He charged the incoming President to study his recommendations for possible implementation. The President stated that the highlight of his administration was the 125th Anniversary Meeting. He thanked all concerned for this meeting for their cooperation and especially the officers and executive council for their contributions throughout the year.

Dr. Abramson thanked the President for his address and called on Dr. Norris, the Chairman of the Committee on the President's Address, to make his report. Dr. Norris gave a short report on the President's Address. He stated that some of the recommendations of the President and those of the Ways and Means Committee overlapped. The committee concurred with a great many of the recommendations and congratulated Dr. Gaver on a very successful administration. Dr. Abramson thanked Dr. Norris for his report and he stated that the President's Address along with the committee report on the President's Address will both appear in the Alma Mater. He also stated that many of the recommendations approved by the committee would be referred to the Executive Council. The Secretary then asked President Gaver to assume the chair once again. The meeting was adjourned at twelve o'clock noon.

Report of the Committee on the President's Address

The committee has met and deliberated and wishes to offer the following comments on the recommendations of the President:

1. As soon as possible, after assuming office, the President should meet with the new officers and discuss his plans and intentions for the coming year. All of these would be subject to the approval of the Executive Council at a subsequent meeting.

Comment: The idea has merit, and the incoming officers should give it consideration. The committee feels it is a matter of executive discretion.

2. Constitutional changes in the area of standing committees, especially the more active ones should be considered for the purpose of more effective operation of the organization.

Comment: We recognize the existing problems within the framework of Standing Committees and recommend that this matter be referred to the proper committee for further study.

3. Secretarial service should be improved. Preferably one person should be made responsible for all correspondence and we should have a recording secretary.

Comment: The Committee concurs with this suggestion.

4. A method should be considered for increasing active membership in the association, even if it requires active participation by the officers or a committee in the affairs or meetings of components or states.

Comment: We agree, feeling that any action that would increase membership is worthy of consideration.

5. Initiation of an emergency student loan fund.

Comment: We do not feel at this time that there is sufficient need for an additional Student Loan Fund. We do feel, however, that students should be appraised of the already available Loan Funds in existence, one of which is sponsored by our Association.

6. The Appointment of a student-alumni relations committee.

Comment: The Committee feels that student-alumni relations could be improved, but that such activities should be kept within the framework of existing committees.

7. Consider earlier contact with the students, possibly at the freshman level and establish better rapport and understanding of what the Alumni Association is and does.

Comment: We agree with the intent of the suggestion, but again feel that it should be handled as in the previous recommendation.

8. Attempt to promote more endowed lectures and consider the possibility of some memorial lectures instead of prizes.

Comment: The Committee agrees and feels that the Committee on Endowments and Memorial Lectures should be continued for this purpose.

9. An attempt should be made to disseminate all actions passed by the Executive Council through the year to the general membership through the media of a "newsletter".

Comment: The Committee concurs and recommends that this 'newsletter' be included in the present mailings.

10. Consideration of elimination of President's letters and possibly use this as dissemination of news to our Alumni Association.

Comment: We are of the opinion that the President's Letter should be continued, incorporating it with the 'newsletter'.

We commend the President for his able administration during a most important and active year in the history of the Alumni Association.

Editor's Report

Recognition of the efforts of many individuals is due for their part in the publication of this journal. Appreciation is due to the Staff, Dr. John H. Wooden and Dr. Joseph McKechnie; the Feature Editor, Dr. Ethelbert Lovett; the Consulting Editor, Dr. Kyrle W. Preis; the Advisory Board, Dr. George M. Anderson, Dr. Morton Hollander and Dr. José E. Medina; and the Business Manager, Dr. David W. Heese. A special vote of gratitude is due to Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley and Dr. Katharine Toomey for the keen interest they have displayed and for supplying much material.

Dr. Heese is endeavoring to solicit new advertisers through a general mailing; this procedure was most rewarding last year as you will see from the table below. The cost of this solicitation is approximately $50.00.

At this time, I should like to present a review of the journal for the years of 1962, 1963 and 1964. There were two issues of the Alma Mater in 1962 and only one issue in 1963 and 1964. The single issue in 1963 contained more pages than any previous issue and more photographs, but a lesser number of additional engravings. Likewise, the 1964 issue contained more pages but a lesser number of additional engravings than any single previous issue.

There is a certain basic cost of each issue, including the color on the covers and 15 engravings. In the March '62 issue there were 28 additional engravings (over and above the 15 engravings included in the basic cost), in November '63 there were 7 additional engravings and in November '64 there were 5 additional engravings. The average cost of each additional engraving is $6.50.

		Printed Material	Advertising	Total Pages	Cost	Income	Net Cost
		(pages)	(pages) no covers
MARCH	1962	57	7	64	$2481.21	$360.00	$2161.21
NOVEMBER	1962	53½	6½	60	$2221.48	$640.00	$1581.48
NOVEMBER	1963	68	12	80	$2832.07	$970.00	$1862.07
1962
2 Issues		110½	13½	124	$4702.69	$1000.00	$3702.69
1963
1 Issue		68	12	80	$2832.07	$970.00	$1862.07
1 Issue		72	15	88	$3097.00	$1185.00	$1814.00

When a comparison is made of some of these factors listed in the above table for the March 1962 issue with the November 1964 issue, the following facts may be noted:

- 1). The total number of pages (excluding covers) increased by 145%.
- 2). The monies received from advertisers increased over 325%.
- 3). Thus the net cost of the journal had declined by slightly more than 2%.

This trend will not continue. If the journal continues at its present rate then the net cost of publishing each issue will probably rise at the rate of $100.00 per issue.

It is to be remembered that the Alma Mater serves as a repository for the activities of this association, the components of this association, and its members.

Actively support your association and Journal. Support your association by paying your annual dues. Support your Journal by helping the business manager to obtain new advertisers.

ARTHUR I. BELL, *ChairmanReport of the Committee on Solicitations

It is a pleasure to report that the Committee on Solicitations of the Alumni Association did not meet this year since there was no business brought to the attention of the Committee.

As Chairman of this Committee, I was made to understand that the Committee would have very little to do until some definite decision could be reached as to our policy of Alumni Solicitation. As you know, there are many drives now in progress soliciting funds for the Greater University and the Dental School.

It is my opinion that very soon the Dental Alumni should put on a drive for funds and bequests in the name of the Alumni Association. These funds and bequests could be used to establish student loans, endowed lectures and the establishment of an alumni office, etc.

I am sure that this Committee can be activated next year to accomplish the contemplated objectives.

Respectfully submitted,
HOWARD VAN NATTA, Chairman

Report of the Special Committee on Endowed Lectures and Student Loans

Three meetings of this Committee were held, the last one on September 29, 1964. These were very lively meetings, and many things, relevant and irrelevant to the subject matter, were discussed at length. The Committee felt that these subjects were of utmost importance to the clarification of many misconceptions that have risen over the years.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP One of these subjects was that of Life Membership. The Committee recommends that the dues for a Life Membership be raised to $250.00, payable in a lump sum to the Endowment Fund. Dividends, or interest, accruable therefrom should be placed in a special account which can be used as a reserve of the General Treasury.

As an inducement to new Life Members, and in recognition of those who are Life Members, it was suggested that the names of all Life Members be published in the book of the Proceedings of the 125th Annual Commemorative Meeting, which is to be published in March of 1965. To carry this idea further, it was also suggested that a permanent and lasting scroll, or plaque, with the names of all Life Members, be erected in the new dental school, where space will be allotted for the business office of the Alumni Association.

CAMPAIGN FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIPS The Committee recommends that a suitable, attractive brochure be made up and sent along with the bills that are sent to the members for dues, containing information on both types of membership but especially designed to outline the attractions of Life Membership. Some of these points would be:

- (1) Deductibility from Income Taxes.
- (2) That the Life Member will be paying dues to the Alumni Association in perpetuity this way, from the accruable interest.
- (3) That the names of the Life Member will be permanently inscribed, in the ways mentioned above.
- (4) The presentation of the chance for a prize (possibly a life membership itself) if Life Membership is applied for at the 125th Meeting.
- (5) The erection of a booth at this meeting to expedite applications for Life Membership, etc.

STUDENT LOAN FUND, STUDENT-ALUMNI RELATIONS Discussion then turned to Funds for student loans, and student-alumni relations. From this the Committee recommends:

- (1) That the Students be informed of the availability of a student loan fund from our Alumni Association. Funds for this are already in our Treasury, where at least $4000.00 is available, and also from the interest accrued from Life Memberships, which, as mentioned above, is to be placed in a special bank account.

The committee further recommends:

- (2) That more effort be made by the Alumni Association to cultivate a good relationship with the students and to acquaint him with his future Alumni Association. The Freshman year is the most important time to do this.

Alumni are urged to take a more active part by attending an annual function such as a dance or bull roast, especially for the incoming Freshman. Another idea was to set up a joint committee of Alumni members and students so that student problems of various kinds could be discussed.

The committee wishes to emphasize the importance of impressing the Freshmen rather than the Seniors, and to carry out this program for the full four years rather than the Senior year only.

MEMORIAL LECTURES The Committee approves the establishment of Memorial Lectures in our Dental School. The funds for these lectures are readily available from the Association.

To encourage the establishments of these lectures, the committee recommends that an appeal be made to the members by informing them that bequests, wills, insurance policies, etc. can be turned over to the Endowment Fund of the Association for this purpose. The sum of $10,000.00, for instance, would be an ideal amount for the institution of a memorial lecture, made out properly to the Endowment Fund, which is set up to properly handle such a gift.

Again, this information could be incorporated into a brochure of some kind to send to the members.

You will see from the report, that whereas it may seem to wander a bit afield from the suggested subject matter, the topics discussed are nonetheless timely, and we hope helpful to the Association.

The Committee was most kind and thoroughly cooperative at all times, and the Chairman is very grateful to them for their loyal and unstinting help.

Report on the Activities of the Council of the General Alumni Association of the University of Maryland

Mr. President and fellow alumni—Due to the very untimely death of George Clendenin I am called upon to report the activities of our General Alumni Council. This group is composed of representatives from all different college alumni associations, regional chapters and special groups, such as the M Club. We meet several times each year. Matters for the good of the University are proposed and discussed and recommendations made. Except in the election of its own officers, it has no real authority, it is liaison and advisory only. However, it is the vehicle that makes possible campus events that include alumni participation, and the promulgating of proper interest that leads to that participation. Such events as Home Coming in the Fall and Reunion Day in the Spring are examples. This past year the Council was very active and its members gave unstintingly of their time and effort to make these two events very well attended. Visiting alumni on campus for the two events heretofore mentioned were at least several thousand. At the Spring event two very highly regarded alumni Doctors Tripplett and Goldstein, were the first recipients of the Abe Gottwall's Memorial Plaque, originated by your Council this past year for devoted and loyal service to the Alumni Association.

Perhaps the most useful innovation this year was the beginning of the publishing of a real Alumni Bulletin. I regard it as one of the most significant and successful advancements since I have been on the Council. Our Executive Secretary, Col. Schutz, is doing a yeoman's job with limited help and a picayune budget. But he has to be satisfied because he has no tenure and serves only at the pleasure of the University President, which means he has no autonomy and does the bidding of the Alumni only when it conforms to Administration dictum.

In closing I wish to make one comment about a never ending source of confusion and irritation, The Greater University of Maryland Fund. There is reason to hope that within a reasonable time, money collected for the Fund will have some Alumni supervision and be subject to Alumni disposition, and in addition access to records, principally costs of administration will be available. This could lead to a healthier air about the whole project. You, as alumni, owe a debt to several determined and interested alumni who have waged this battle.

There are several items which are very much on my mind and heart that I would like to comment on informally, and which do not belong in a report such as this. If given the permission I will give you a few of my impressions, which have been arrived at by my own thinking and in conversation with others. This closes my formal report.

EDWARD D. STONE, JR., Chairman

The Report of the Historian-Archivist

The report of the Historian-Archivist of this Association will deal especially with three phases of activity and responsibility.

1. For many years I have devoted a great deal of research time to the organization and maintenance of Alumni and School records. In the files there is a card for every graduate of all the Baltimore dental schools. Through an extensive examination of the literature and of the available School data there was derived an impressive amount of information that has been registered on the several thousand cards. From the files there have been compiled a number of special listings that present the accomplishments of our graduates in both professional and nonprofessional areas of activity and interest.

These records have consistently proved their worth in many ways, and they very probably constitute the best Alumni File in existence among the dental schools of this or any other country.

2. The responsibility for editing the Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary Meeting was placed in my reluctant hands. Since the meeting, three months have passed. As of now, not one word has been submitted to me. Regrettably the panel discussions, an important segment of the meeting's program, were not recorded, despite the fact that responsibility for that procedure had been accepted and its execution guaranteed. Because of handicaps that are obviously insurmountable, I must here and now announce my inability to continue in the capacity of editor of the Proceedings.

3. For almost a year I have been very active in accomplishing research directed to the purpose of writing a history of the Baltimore dental schools. Of course, you alumni must realize that I am carrying a full teaching load and have many important assignments to fulfill in several extra-School areas. Working only in my spare time—and that has been hard to find—I know that I have performed quantitatively beyond the point at which I could logically expect criticism for a questionable time result. When I am admonished that this task—that would take at least two years on a full-time basis—should have been done on a part-time basis in four months, then I am made to feel that I am working under a serious handicap that naturally will be reflected in a mitigation of my spirit of interest and of my will to sacrifice time and energy.

I am grateful to the members of this Association for my election to an interesting and challenging office.

There's a BIG DIFFERENCE

has become the nationally recognized pension and retirement program for Dentists.

It got that way because a number of men, dedicated to the Dental profession, gave of their time (and money) to create a vital instrument for retirement for their colleagues.

And their colleagues, in large numbers, responded to the bargain offered.

That is why MIDAS has many more participants than all of the other "Dentists' Retirement Plans" in force throughout the entire United States.

Aren't you glad you are a member of MIDAS . . . and if you aren't . . .

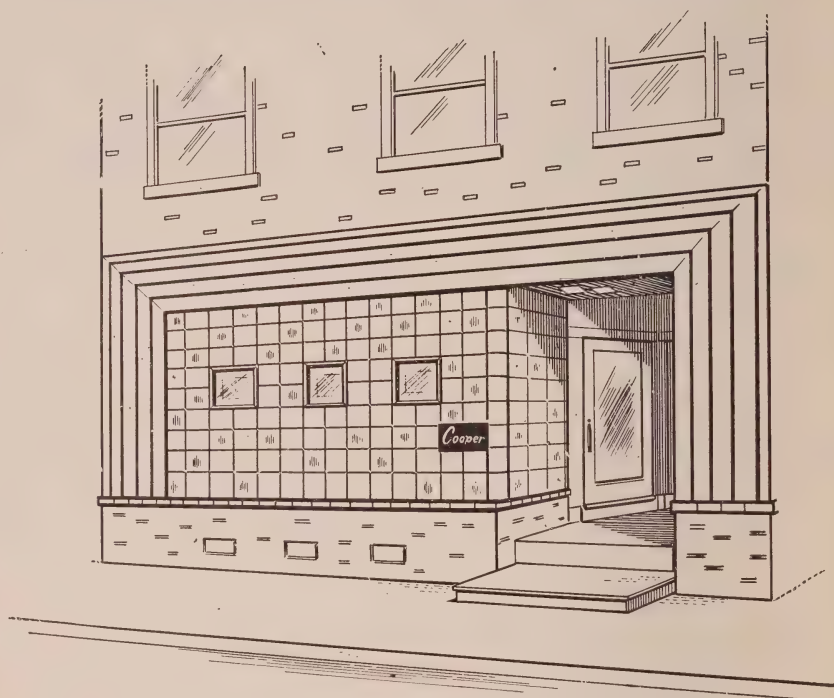

Join now . . . the bargain is better than ever.

... the new WORK-MODEL FORMERS

These quick, easy steps from the impression to the finished model

1. After taking the impression, remove excess material from the outside surfaces of the tray. (A proper fitting tray should contain all essentials of the impression within its confines.)

2. Hold the impression tray with the borders facing up; insert the handle of the tray down into the slot of the model former, and press tray into place. With the proper size model former the tray fits snugly along front and sides and there is some space at the posterior border.

3. Keep the tray firmly in place by placing the thumb on the top of the tray handle, and the index and middle fingers along the bottom of the model former.

4. The impression is now ready for pouring the cast. The borders must face up, as with a boxed impression, so that the impression should not be inverted.

5. Once the cast has set, pull the posterior wall of the model former away from the cast, and slide the cast and impression tray up and out. The impression tray can now be removed from the cast.

Here is Columbia Dentoform's latest addition to its well-known line of aids to dentistry. These rubber formers eliminate boxing-in of impressions and excess pouring and waste of stone and plaster, and allow immediate pouring of models, without loss of time.

FEATURES—ADVANTAGES

• Accurate Models • Controlled dimensions • Ready for immediate use • Cleaner and neater • Preserves and protects impression borders • Mounting plates can now be used • Eliminates boxing-in, waste of materials, impression distortion, trimming, weak, thin models, lost time, assemblage of parts.

The outfit consists of 4 sets of different sizes of upper and lower rubber formers which can be used with any standard make of impression trays and with all kinds of impression materials.

EDITORIAL

Many dental schools solicit their alumni for funds to build or equip new physical plants. The average dental school will serve its purpose for about thirty to fifty years. It is essential that such a facility be planned for future needs, so as to be adequate for a long period of service. Future considerations and possibilities escalate building costs, but save many dollars when future expansion is undertaken.

The states which operate dental schools do not have an inexhaustible supply of money to provide physical plants. The tuition fee paid by the student is not adequate to cover the cost of his education. Educational costs exceed by two to three times the amount of tuition paid by the student. Help and financial support is needed. Dr. Irving I. Abramson, the immediate past president of our association, has recognized this and has suggested that a campaign for funds from our alumni be initiated. This is just and proper. For the most part, the practicing dentist is the recipient of the greatest rewards of his profession.

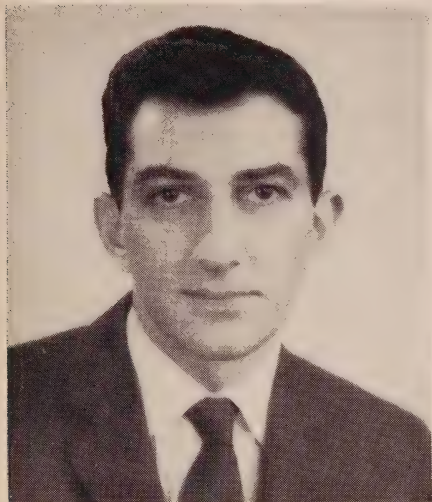

The University of Pittsburgh just last year initiated a campaign for funds from its alumni. In a recent report given by Dean Edward J. Forrest, $273,213.00 had been contributed or pledged by 25% of their alumni. They have approximately four thousand alumni. We have about the same number of alumni.

The alumni should undertake the collection of funds to assist in helping to build a dental facility of which both the alumni and the faculty may look to with pride. The school continues to do its part, by providing continuous education programs for its alumni. A drive for funds will give us the opportunity to show our appreciation to our alma mater. The alumni have benefited bountifully from the school. The alumni, blest bountifully, should give unstintingly to such a worthy cause. The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, the first dental school in the world, with your help will continue to be the best.

JOSEPH H. SEIPP, JR.

President's Message

What, one may legitimately ask, is the role of an alumni organization in today's society? Is it merely a fund raising group?

ASHUR G. CHAVOOR

May I submit that perhaps the alumni have a further role in dental education. As you know, a school does not merely consist of buildings; a good faculty and a good student body are required. The factors that attract these are many, but certainly an active alumni can play an important part. This is not to suggest that the Alumni must be active recruiters, but by their enthusiasm for their profession and for their Alma Mater, they may favorably influence qualified students to the study of dentistry. It has taken the dedication of many in the past to elevate our profession to its present high level and it behooves us to continue these endeavors in any way we can.

A Letter From the President

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE BALTIMORE COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY DENTAL SCHOOL, UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

September 16, 1966

Dear Mr. Foley:

Having just returned from Europe, I want to make this my first official act.

On behalf of our Association, I thank you for the excellent job you have done as editor of the Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary Celebration of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery.

Many members may not appreciate the fact that to gather, edit, and publish a volume of this scope is an extremely time consuming task.

The Association is in your debt for your usual first-class production of a fine book. I have asked Joe Seipp to print this letter in a prominent place in the Alma Mater.

With kindest personal regards,
ASHUR G. CHAVOOR,
President

A Brief History of the First Dental Alumni Association in the World (Organizations Associated With The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery)

JOSEPH H. SEIPP, JR., A.B., D.D.S., M.S.

The first diploma conferred by the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was received by Robert Arthur on March 9, 1841. As the first alumnus, he was to be the foundation stone upon which would be built the alumni association of the first dental college in the world. R. Covington Mackall was the other member of the first graduating class. At nine o'clock on the morning of March 1, 1849, the first meeting of the alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was called to order by H. Colburn. An organizational meeting was held prior to this general meeting. The minutes of the organizational meeting were read and adopted. The society then proceeded with the adoption of the constitution and by-laws. On the motion of Dr. C. W. Ballard, the constitution was then signed by the following gentlemen, who became the founders of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, which was officially called the Society of the Alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery: C. W. Ballard, M.D.; P. H. Austen, M.D.; Harvey Colburn, M.D.; J. U. L. Feemster; M. J. Cherry, Robert R. Sams; F. N. Seabury; R. W. Armstrong; L. S. Burrridge; T. D. Thompson; C. O. Cone, M.D.; A. Martin; G. W. Watkins; M. A. Hopkinson; J. F. Warren; J. H. A. Fehr, M.D. and C. A. Barnes.

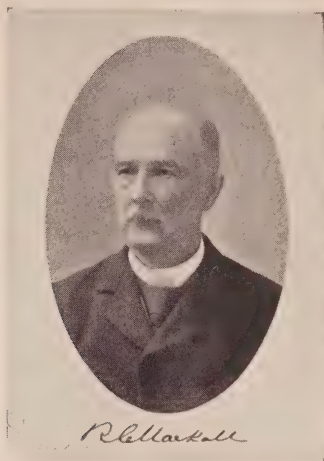

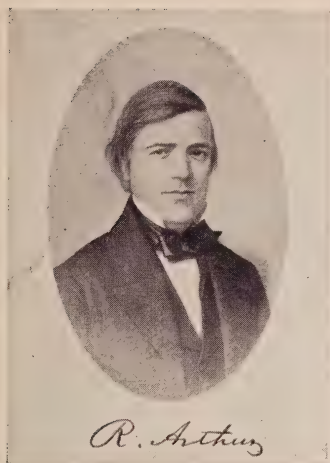

The following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

H. Colburn	President
P. H. Austen	Vice-President
C. O. Cone	Treasurer
R. W. Armstrong	Corresponding Secretary
M. J. Cherry	Recording Secretary

It is interesting to note the nominations for the following year. Two men were nominated for the offices of president and vice-president. For president, Dr. Austen and Dr. Fehr, for vice-president, Dr. Ballard and Dr. Colburn, treasurer, Dr. C. O. Cone, recording secretary, Dr. Ballard.

Two Nominees

As may be observed from the list of the past presidents on page 8, a meeting was held in 1850. There followed a period of inactivity for twenty-five years. In 1876, under the leadership of S. J. Cochesville, the alumni were called together and again formed an organization entitled the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Except for 1878, meetings were held annually until 1883.

The morning of commencement, March 6, 1879, at the annual meeting of the alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dr. W. H. Hooper offered a resolution proposing the merger of the Maryland Dental College with the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Dr. Henry Noble seconded the motion. After the awarding of prizes to students, the alumni of the Maryland Dental College were made members of the alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, by a vote of those assembled. There were no records of any prior meeting of the alumni of the Maryland Dental College (1873-1878).

In 1883, Dr. J. B. Hodgkin was elected to serve as president of this merged association from 1883-1884. However, there is no record of any meeting during his term of office. Meetings were held sporadically as may be noted in the list of past presidents in 1895 and 1905. There was an announcement of a meeting of the association in 1906, but there was no record of any such meeting.

Alumni Association of the Dental Department, University of Maryland

The first recorded meeting of the Alumni Association of the Dental Department of the University of Maryland was held in 1884. There is no record of any election of officers, but the proceedings of the meeting are recorded in the American Journal of Dental Science. In 1885, a meeting was held but Dr. Hungerford, the president, was absent due to illness. This meeting was presided over by the vice-president, Dr. R. D. Dodson. Dr. Dodson was elected president for the following year. No further meetings of this association were recorded until 1904. There was an announcement of a meeting to be held in the new building of the dental school in 1906 at the corner of Cider Alley and Greene Streets on May 7th, 8th and 9th. The proceedings of this meeting were not found to be recorded in the literature.

There were no records of any meeting of the alumni of the Dental Department of the Baltimore Medical College (1895-1913).

The Alumni of the Allied Professions

Today there is an organization called the Congress of Professions. The purpose of this organization, composed of physicians, dentists and pharmacists, accountants, lawyers and other non-related medical professions, is to promote the interests beneficial to any one group. It is interesting to note the feeling of the medical profession toward a similar idea at the turn of the century. "A motley brood of mongrels" are the alumni of the law, dental and pharmacy departments of the University of Maryland according to Dr. William H. Pearce (Baltimore News 1909). He applied the bitter remark to the unsuspecting alumni in the course of a speech at a business meeting of the executive committee of the Medical Alumni Association. Some physicians had suggested that the Alumni Association, instead of being composed of graduates of the medical school exclusively, should also take in the lawyers, dentists and pharmacists. Dr. Pearce was asked to reconsider his remarks after a good night's sleep. He was just as adamant at breakfast. The executive council decided not to admit the lawyers, dentists and pharmacists to their alumni association.

Alumni Associations Organized by the Alumni Baltimore College of Dental Surgery

In the Journal of American Dental Science it is recorded that in 1853, the first annual meeting of the alumni of American Dental Colleges met at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Dr. W. W. H. Thackston, Professor Blandy and Professor Robert Arthur, were the first, second and third presidents respectively of this association. The society was to meet in Philadelphia in 1856. No other records of this organization were found.

The alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery are scattered throughout the United States and the entire world. These men in various areas have joined together at times to form Alumni Associations. On October 16, 1857, a meeting of the alumni of the Dental Colleges was held in Raleigh. The following officers were elected: president, Dr. Bason; vice-president, Dr. Howlet; secretary, Dr. Benbow; treasurer, Dr. Bessent; Drs. Gregg, Scott and Harris were members of the examining committee. It was stated in the American Journal of Dental Science in 1867, that six of these nine officers were graduates of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. One of the purposes of the formation of the society was to have the State Legislature pass a law that an individual could not practice dentistry unless he was a graduate of a dental college.

As early as February 27, 1918, the Rhode Island Alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery held a meeting at the Narragansett Hotel. This was the first organization composed entirely of the alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery which was organized outside the confines of the State of Maryland. It is comparable to the sectional alumni associations of the National Alumni Association and our present alumni association. In the announcement, it was stated that Frank P. Duffy, who was later to become President of the National Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, was re-elected President of the Rhode Island Alumni Association (no record was found of any prior meeting). The Rhode Island Alumni Association met again on February 26, 1919, with Frank P. Duffy serving as president. It was stated that this was the third annual meeting.

An announcement appeared in Dental Facts, 1920, that there would be a meeting of the alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Those desiring more information were requested to contact Frank P. Duffy, President of the New England Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery.

National Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery

On the evening of November 30, 1921, an organizational meeting was held by Norval H. McDonald, B. Lucien Brun and James H. Ferguson, Jr. The association was called the National Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. James H. Ferguson, Jr. served as its first president. Frank P. Duffy followed Dr. Ferguson as president and held the reigns of leadership through the amalgamation of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery until 1930. As will be noted from the lists of past presidents this organization has met annually since its founding. This association continues to this day to promote outstanding scientific meetings and foster good fellowship between the alumni, the faculty and the undergraduates.

The National Alumni Association held a three day meeting on October 4th, 5th and 6th in 1929. The purpose of this meeting was to dedicate a plaque marking the site of the original Baltimore College of Dental Surgery and to dedicate the new home of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, at Lombard and Greene Streets.

The alumni of New Jersey held a meeting on November 10, 1931. This was the first recorded meeting of any section of the National Alumni Association in New Jersey. Sectional organizations of the National Alumni also have been formed in Maine, Rhode Island and Puerto Rico.

Journals

The first publication of the Alumni Association appeared in August, 1926. The Bulletin of the National Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery affiliated with the University of Maryland was the official title of the Journal. Dr. O. H. Gaver was the editor. In 1927, there were two issues of the Bulletin, one in April, Vol. 2, No. 1 and the second in December, Vol. 2, No. 2. Dr. M. S. Aisenberg became the editor for the December issue in 1927. In 1928, again there were two issues, May, Vol. 3, No. 1 and December, Vol. 3, No. 2. The December issue listed the names of all the alumni on record. There were 169 alumni of the Baltimore Medical College, 304 alumni of the University of Maryland and 659 alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. The purpose of the listing was to obtain the names of those not included so that a complete list might be compiled. No more issues were published.

In March, 1937, the first issue of The Journal of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, was published, this was a publication of the faculty, alumni and undergraduates of the dental school. Dr. Brice M. Dorsey was the editor. In this Journal there was a section devoted exclusively to alumni news. Gardner P. H. Foley, A.B., M.S. became the editor with the publication of the September 1942 issue, Vol. 7. D. Vincent Provenza, A.B., M.S., Ph.D., became the editor in 1965.

In 1959, the alumni association decided to publish its own journal. The journal, appropriately titled The Alma Mater was to be published semi-annually. Dr. Kyrle W. Preis served as its editor until June 7, 1962. Dr. Joseph H. Seipp, Jr. was elected editor at the business meeting in June of 1962. It was decided at that meeting that The Alma Mater would be published annually instead of semi-annually.

Our Heritage—Thanksgiving

ETHELBERT LOVETT, D.D.S.

Of all the holidays observed in this country there is none so distinctively American as National Thanksgiving Day. The custom originated in 1621, when Governor Bradford of the Plymouth colony appointed a day for public praise and prayer after the first harvest. This practice spread throughout the other New England colonies.

HARVEST

The first national observance was when President Washington, at the request of Congress, recommended Thursday, November 26, 1789, to the people of the United States as "a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God". This proclamation exhorted the people to "beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions, to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best". It was the first observation of the day on the date that present custom holds it.

Each year the President issues a proclamation, calling on the citizens, all Federal officials, and others subject to Federal authority to observe the day as a one of national thanksgiving for the sole purpose of giving thanks to God for the good things of life. The governors of the states concur in the President's proclamation and also recommend the citizens to observe the holiday, and all public business is suspended.

Now it is November, soon it will be Thanksgiving time, a time to pause in the series of "Our Heritage" and to ask ourselves what does dentistry, the profession of dentistry in the United States, have to be thankful for? There are many, many things.

Professional Ideals

Of all the things we can be thankful for, I am most grateful for our heritage of professional ideals. These ideals are expressed in the primary obligation of service to the patient, rather than financial reward; the necessity of continuing education throughout life and the sharing of knowledge with others in the profession; and the duty of protecting the honor, dignity, and integrity which have earned for the profession the right of self-government. These responsibilities form the basis of the "Principles of Ethics".

Standards of Character and Skill

Professional ideals would be merely visionary talk without strong organizations to establish and enforce standards of character and skill, and so, we can be thankful for the American Dental Association and for our dental schools as they set the qualifications of those admitted to practice.

Legal Safeguards

We can be thankful to the various state legislatures for giving our profession the legal right of self-government and for passing Dental Practice Acts that protect the public and us against competition from untrained and dishonest persons.

We can be thankful to the courts for upholding the honor and dignity of the profession and for increasing strictness in prohibiting practices harmful to the public good.

The Dental Health Team

Dentistry as we practice it today would be impossible without the help of trained dental assistants and hygienists. We are thankful for these women who are truly professional in character and are becoming more and more professional in training and skill.

We are thankful for the excellent dental technicians who enable us to give more patients superior dental service than was possible years ago.

Scientific Developments

We are thankful for many scientific developments:

For deliverance from the necessity of practicing the kind of blind dentistry our predecessors were compelled to practice before the discovery of the x-ray and its application to diagnosis; and for the protective measures that reduce radiation risks to both patient and operator.

For effective anesthesia that spares us the necessity of inflicting pain and enables us to give service that otherwise would be impossible.

For antibiotics that offer us protection against the hazards of infection.

For the new ultra speed air turbines that make our work much easier and faster.

For the cooperation of the United States Bureau of Standards with the American Dental Association in establishing specifications that enable the dental manufacturers to supply us with high quality products; and for the research conducted by our dental schools with grants from the National Institute of Dental Research that enable us to improve our techniques.

Public Acceptance

We can be thankful for the many evidences of public acceptance:

For the recognition of the importance of dentistry in the armed services and the rank given our dental officers.

For the outright gift of millions of dollars by the Federal government to help our schools build and equip new buildings and remodel old ones.

For the cordial relationship that exists between the dental profession and the medical profession.

For the numerous articles that appear in monthly magazines and in the daily press bringing dentistry's message to all who read.

For the respectful attitude of the general public toward our profession, and for our patients who, because they live in the prosperous United States of America, have the financial means to pay us for our services.

These are some of the things for which, as a member of the dental profession, I am truly thankful.

June Week

The Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, had its annual meeting of June Week 1966 on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 1, 2, 3 and 4, 1966.

This year your President, Dr. Irving Abramson, the June Week Committee, and the Executive Council decided to follow a new format. It was felt that more emphasis during June Week should be placed on entertaining the new graduates and their families. This should be done without taking away the spotlight from the honored 50 year class and the presentation of the Distinguished Alumnus Award. The new program started with a student cocktail party on Thursday, May 26, 1966 in the Jubilee Room of the Belvedere Hotel immediately following the senior announcements at the dental school. This cocktail party was held by the Association in honor of the new student graduates. It proved to be an outstanding success in that seventy-five students attended out of a possible seventy-seven. Ten alumni and two guests also enjoyed the party.

The June Week activities really got under way on Wednesday, June 1, 1966 at the Rolling Road Golf Club with the Convocation and Banquet in honor of the new nominees to Omicron Kappa Upsilon. This was a gala occasion with eleven graduates to be honored, and the introduction of the honorary member, Dr. Harry W. F. Dressel, and the three faculty members, Dr. Charles Barr, Dr. Jackie Weatherred and Dr. Joseph H. Seipp, Jr.

On Thursday, June 2, 1966 at the Baltimore Union Building, the Board of Trustees held their meeting; this was followed by the annual business meeting of the alumni association in the Alumni Lounge. A Past Presidents' Brunch was held in honor of all past presidents of our Association. This brunch proved to be better attended than previous breakfast meetings.

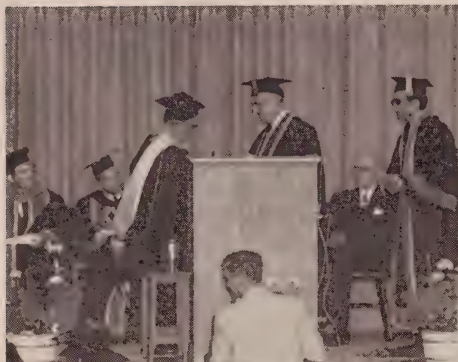

Reception

An annual cocktail party was held in the Charles Room of the Belvedere Hotel following the usual open house at the school. This party was in honor of the student graduates and the returning members of the class of 1916. Fifty-four alumni and their wives were present to honor forty of the new graduates. This party was followed by the various class reunions that were scheduled throughout the city.

Following is a list of the reunion classes, their chairmen, and the number of participants:

The Class of 1916, Chairman, Dr. Albert Z. Aldridge held no reunion, but were guests of the alumni association on Friday. Dr. Harry W. F. Dressel, Jr. presented the class.

The Class of 1921 did not have a reunion due to the lack of a chairman. An invitation was sent to each member of the class to attend the Buffet Luncheon.

The Class of 1936, Chairmen, Dr. William Kress and Dr. Elmer W. Hoffman, reunion was held at the Belvedere. Approximately twenty-five couples attended the dinner-dance.

The Class of 1941, Chairmen, Dr. Paul Dubansky and Dr. Jerome Cullen, reunion held at Holiday Inn. A Cocktail Party, and dinner-dance was held with approximately forty-two couples.

The Class of 1946, Chairman, Dr. Joseph Cappuccio, stag reunion was held at the Belvedere, with approximately twenty-six attending.

The Class of 1951, Chairman, Dr. Donald Hobbs, reunion held at Blue Crest North. Approximately fifty couples attended the dinner-dance.

The Class of 1956, Chairman, Dr. J. Philip Norris, reunion held at the Belvedere. A Hospitality Room was open all day. In the evening approximately thirty couples attended the dinner-dance.

The Class of 1961, Chairman, Dr. James Palmer, reunion held at the Holiday Inn. A dinner-dance was held with approximately thirty couples attending.

Distinguished Alumnus

The Honors Convocation on Friday morning, June 3, 1966 was held in the Health Sciences Library Auditorium of the Baltimore campus. The new graduates were presented with their alumni membership cards, and Dr. Daniel F. Lynch of the Class of 1925 was the recipient of the Distinguished Alumnus Award of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

The annual Alumni Buffet Luncheon was held at noon at the Baltimore Union Building, and the Class of 1916 and the Class of 1966 were the honored guests along with Doctor Lynch.

Honorary Member

Mrs. Margaret Whitehurst was made an honorary member of our Alumni Association in appreciation of the many years of dedicated service she has given to the University of Maryland and of her friendship with the Dental School.

As an added attraction, three generations of our graduates from the state of Connecticut along with their wives were introduced as a possible first at these exercises. Dr. Bruce T. Rogers, Class of 1966, his father, Class of 1939, and his grandfather, Class of 1906, were introduced.

The luncheon was very well attended, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the food and short program. The newly elected officers of your Association were presented as follows:

Dr. Denny Chester had a fine round of 74, 2 over par, to win low gross. Dr. Jack Phillips won low net while the defending champion, Dr. Al Lazauskas, came in for second low gross. A good number of the graduating seniors played, and Rick Behan won low gross prize with John Widlak coming in for the low net.

Old-Age Tax Criticized

The Tax Foundation, Inc., says that a 21-year-old man who starts working today and retires at age 65, can expect his Social Security pension benefits to total about $13,000 less than he will have paid in taxes, plus interest.

The foundation reported that he will have paid, over the 44 years of working, social security taxes totaling $32,500, including interest at 3½ per cent. He can expect to draw a total of $19,700 in pension benefits.

The present laws call for Social Security taxes to rise to a maximum of 5.65 per cent of the first $6,600 of annual earnings in 1987. That will include .4 per cent for Medicare, which the foundation says it excluded in its computations.

An enjoyable Alumni Breakfast meeting and reception was held on Tuesday, November 9, 1965 at the Sands Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Irving I. Abramson, President of the Alumni Association, presenting Harold Hillenbrand, Secretary of the American Dental Association, a silver tray as a token of appreciation for delivering the first Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture at the 125th Anniversary of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

Approximately 60 Alumni and guests attended the early morning breakfast meeting which was highlighted with a presentation of a silver plate to Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, Secretary of the American Dental Association on behalf of the Alumni Association. President Abramson made the presentation to the ADA Secretary as a token of appreciation from the Alumni Association for his participation in the 125th Anniversary meeting held in Baltimore, Maryland last March when he presented the first Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture.

Secretary, Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor, President-Elect, Dr. Joseph H. Seipp, Jr., Editor, Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, Secretary of the ADA, Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Jr., Executive Council of the Alumni Association, Dr. Jose E. Medina, Assistant Dean, Dental School, University of Maryland, Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley, Historian-Archivist, Dr. H. B. McCauley, Historian, Maryland State Dental Association, and Dr. Carlos J. Noya, Past President, Puerto Rico Dental Association, Delegate to ADA.

Dr. Medina, Assistant Dean, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland was introduced to give a short report augmented with slides about the future plans for the new Dental School. The presentation was enjoyed by all in attendance.

Following the breakfast meeting in the morning, Alumni and friends joined together at a cocktail party that evening. It was a wonderful reunion for all the graduates as they enjoyed visiting with each other and talking about old times. A special surprise of the evening was the wonderful trumpet solos by our own Alumnus, Dr. Fred Ehrlich. The evening closed on a very happy note with group singing led by Dr. Cappuccio and Dr. Ehrlich. Everyone left looking forward to getting together again in Dallas, Texas in 1966.

Alumni Breakfast In Washington

A breakfast meeting of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was held on Tuesday, March 8, 1966, at the Shoreham Hotel. Approximately fifty Alumni and guests were in attendance. This meeting was held in conjunction with the 34th D. C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting which was the 100th Anniversary of the D. C. Dental Society.

The members seated at the head table were as follows: Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor, President-elect, Dr. Joseph Salcetti, General Chairman, D. C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting, Dr. Morton Alper, President D. C. Dental Society, Dr. Irving Abramson, President of the Alumni Association, Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, Secretary of the Alumni Association, Dr. Katharine Toomey, Mr. David Brigham, former Director of Alumni Relations, University of Maryland.

Two alumni from Florida, Dr. Holstock, Tampa, Florida, and Dr. Samuel Johnston, Miami, Florida, were once again welcomed back to the breakfast.

The Alumni Association was honored to have both the President of the D. C. Dental Society and the General Chairman of the 34th D. C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting. Both of these gentlemen brought greetings and words of welcome from the host organization.

President Abramson outlined for the alumni the program and format for the year. He emphasized those areas of the program which were new innovations. The Alumni Association will be honored next year when Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor one of our own alumni will serve as the General Chairman of the 35th D. C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting. He will serve also as President of the Alumni Association.

The Secretary, Dr. Cappuccio presided at the breakfast meeting. He made announcements of coming events of the Alumni Association. A hospitality suite was available for all Alumni during the 34th D. C. Postgraduate Clinic meeting. The plans for next year are to hold an alumni reception and cocktail party instead of an early morning breakfast meeting.

The Association is indebted once again to Drs. Williamowsky, Straton and Chavoor for local arrangements. As usual, these gentlemen did a very fine job, and we congratulate them.

Let us plan to meet once again at the 35th D. C. Postgraduate Clinic meeting and give our full support to Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor, General Chairman.

Dr. Cormier Receives Honorary Membership

The Canadian Dental Association at its annual meeting in Halifax this week paid a fitting and merited tribute to a well known Moncton dental surgeon, Dr. Antoine J. Cormier, one of the most venerable members of the profession in New Brunswick and of the association.

The conferring upon Dr. Cormier of an honorary membership in CDA is a gratifying recognition not only of his more than half-century of notable practice in his chosen profession, but of the high place which he has so long enjoyed as an active member of the national dental organization and one who over the years has made valuable contributions to the advancement of dental surgery.

A particularly pleasing feature of the presentation ceremony was that the CDA had chosen for the pleasant task another venerable member long prominent in the profession, and who in years past has served both the New Brunswick and Canadian dental associations as their president, Dr. Harry S. Thomson of Moncton.

Dr. Lynch Receives Distinguished Alumnus Award

Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor introduced Dr. Daniel Lynch for the Distinguished Alumnus Award with the following words:

"There are some men whose services are so extensive that merely to cover the highlights would take too much time. Indeed, since the day he entered the profession, Dr. Lynch's career as a clinician, teacher and statesman appears to consist only of highlights.

"Dr. Lynch graduated from our great school in 1925. Almost immediately he began his teaching career at Georgetown University where he served from 1928 to 1936. Since that time he has been a teacher at various schools and hospitals and as recently as last year he taught at George Washington University School of Medicine.

DANIEL F. LYNCH

"He is a member of numerous organizations and has been president of many of them. We are naturally proud that he has been president of the District of Columbia Dental Society and has been a trustee of the American Dental Association. In 1954 he was elected president of the American Dental Association and just last year he was president of the American Society of Oral Surgeons. He is also a member of many foreign dental societies and has been a president of the Pan American Medical Society.

"He is a consultant to Army, Navy, Air Force, Veterans Administration and U. S. Public Health hospitals in the Washington Area. Most recently he has been appointed as the only dental consultant to the Medicare program.

"Dr. Lynch has been honored by membership in several organizations. Notably he is a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons as well as the American College and the International College of Dentists. One of his most recent honors came in 1964 when he received the Achievement Award Medal from the University of Minnesota.

"In his spare time he has had many scientific papers published in various journals and has presented clinics and lectures throughout the United States, South America and Europe.

"We are all familiar with the expression that we are able to see farther because we stand on the shoulders of giants. Certainly it would not be an exaggeration to say that Dr. Lynch is one of those giants.

"It is indeed an honor and a pleasure to have the privilege of giving this tribute to my fellow Washingtonian, Dr. Daniel F. Lynch."

Class of 1916

The 50th Anniversary Reunion of the Class of 1916 is now history. Of the eighteen known to be living, ten returned—Doctors A. Z. Aldridge, Max K. Baklor, W. E. Bean, D. C. Blevins, H. W. Burns, E. B. Denton, J. R. Funderburk, Sr., Bennie R. Jones, Al Nathanson and Everett L. Smith.

We were augmented by "Bill" O'Hearn, B.C.D.S. 1916, who was the only one of his Class to return. He was welcomed and is now a member of our group. Of the ten U. of M. men, only two have retired from practice. Bean, emulates Marco Polo and travels the globe. Health and politics have caused Funderburk to retire years ago.

Our good friend and advisor (sort of big brother) Dr. J. Ben Robinson, was on hand and greeted the boys. He spent the morning of June 2nd with us and showed us a letter of thanks for his efforts in our class indoctrination in Dental School. It was dated 1914 and signed by every member of the Class. Only a few remembered this, but the signatures refreshed their memories.

Reminiscence was the chief order of the day. Changes in the neighborhood and the new buildings were the main topics. The out-of-town men noticed the Rotating Bottle on the Bromo-Seltzer Tower at Eutaw and Lombard Streets, was missing.

Baklor, Blevins and Smith brought their wives to the Luncheon on June 3rd. Denton was accompanied by his niece. Burns missed the Luncheon and the picture as he had to leave at noon to make a plane to return to his home in Illinois.

Certificates of Distinction for having served the Profession for Fifty Years were presented to each member of the class.

It was announced that we were the originators and first members of the Gorgas Odontological Society. The members who did not attend will be sent their Certificates.

The thought of a Fifty-Year Reunion and who would attend, never entered our minds in 1916.

With a smile, a cheery word and a sincere handclasp, we adjourned until 1971.

Class of 1941 (June)

The pre-war B.C.D.S. Class of 1941 returned to its training area by way of its twenty-fifth reunion held on June 5, 1966 at the Holiday Inn Motel in downtown Baltimore. This is just three short blocks from its former maneuver area on South Greene Street. A small, but representative group, enjoyed a delicious dinner, and each member of the class recounted his experiences from that eventful day twenty-five years ago until the present day. Many wonderful experiences were revealed from the story of Fred Rudo delivering his own first child en route to the hospital—to the earth-shattering news that Andy Griffith, "our own Bobby Baker," had a fair maid whom he has been courting since graduation awaiting him "down by the pond."

Caricatures of the individuals present, and dancing completed a most enjoyable evening.

Carl Schultheis, Fred Rudo, George Reusch, Danny Berman, Pinky Farrell, Phil Chmar, Jerry Cullen, Govane McClees, Joe Burch, Harry Sloan, Paul Castelle, Snuffy Smith, Ray Ruskin, Paul Dubansky, Sterrett Beaven, Al Ollman, Joe Smith, Mickey Fulton, Murray Storch, Ed Bressman, Russ Spina and Bob Baker, who attended, will vouch for a most rewarding evening and are all looking forward to our thirtieth reunion in '71.

All those who missed the 25th are invited!

Class of 1946

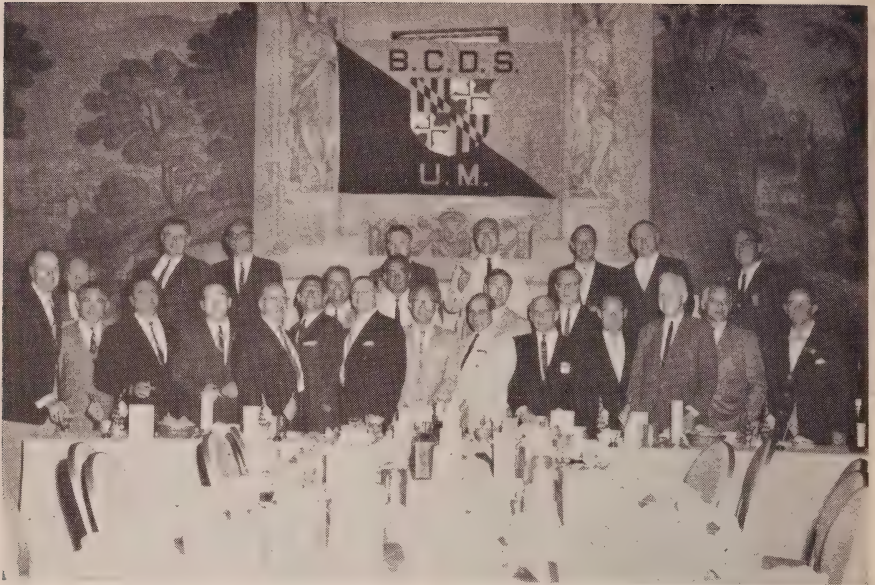

An enjoyable and successful 20th year reunion of the Class of 1946 was held in the Jubilee Room, Belvedere Hotel on June 2, 1966.

The first order of the day was a good fellowship cocktail party from 6:30-7:30 P.M.

This activity was enjoyed by all. Approximately 50% of the Class of 1946 were in attendance. Dr. Irving Abramson, President of the Alumni Association and Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley, Professor of Dental Literature were guests. The class enjoyed a full course steak dinner with sparkling burgundy wine.

Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, Chairman of the reunion, served as the toastmaster for the evening's activities. Dr. Abramson explained the program of the Alumni Association to the members of the Class of 1946. Mr. Foley, as usual, passed out many words of wisdom. The class enjoyed his timely remarks.

Dr. Cappuccio introduced each member of the class and asked each to give about a 30 second dissertation on his favorite subject—himself. This was a very hilarious session. Each member of the class in attendance received an official program along with a beautiful University of Maryland inscribed beer mug. A photograph of the affair was mailed to each member in attendance. The class voted to hold an interim reunion in December of 1967 in conjunction with the Greater New York Dental Meeting.

The final activity of the evening was some high class entertainment which was enjoyed by all. The final curtain came down on the Class of 1946 about 1:00 A.M. on the most successful reunion ever held. Each member in attendance left with a new found feeling of vim and vitality, and they are looking forward to their next get-together in Dec. of 1967.

Class of 1951

The Class of 1951 held its fifteen year reunion on Thursday, June 2, 1966. The Reunion was planned by a group of local members of the class under the leadership of Dr. Donald Hobbs. The festivities began with a social meeting at the Holiday Inn at which the out of town guests were quartered. Later in the evening a gala banquet was enjoyed at the Warren Room of the Blue Crest North. The committee was gratified to have the meeting attended by seventy-three people, including sixty classmates and wives from out of State. The program included a cocktail hour, dinner, and dancing to the music of Stan Bridges. A good time was had by all and plans are already being formulated for the twentieth reunion in 1971.

The Class of 1956

The Class of 1956 held an all-day Tenth Reunion at the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel on Thursday, June 2, 1966. From 11:00 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. A hospitality suite was the scene of reminiscing and updating old friendships. After a break from 4:30 P.M. to 6:30 P.M. to allow attendance at the Alumni Reception, the group gathered for cocktails and dinner in the Assembly Room. Stu LaKind served as Toastmaster, The Turfmen provided music afterward for dancing or just talking. Class of 1961

The first reunion of the Class of 1961 was truly the gala evening we had all hoped it would be. A total of sixty-two arrived at the Holiday Inn (downtown) at 6:00 P.M. to begin this memorable night. During the 90 minute cocktail "hour" the pianist said that he never had witnessed a group of people so genuinely delighted to see each other. Classmates arrived from as far north as Massachusetts and as far east as Puerto Rico. After the class photograph was taken, the feast began. An International Buffet Dinner made more visiting and talking possible, as all moved about and circulated while returning again and again to the buffet tables.

In lieu of speeches, notes and letters of regret were read by the reunion chairman regarding the whereabouts of those absent classmates as were all notes and letters of regret. The names of a small group whose present location is unknown, were also read. Each class member that attended was presented with a walnut bottle opener to signify his fifth (wood) anniversary as a dentist.

The orchestra played on through the remainder of the evening, but the most popular dance was the "table hop". As coffee and buns were served at midnight, we began our good-byes—a little saddened that it would be another five years before most of us would meet again.

The professional career of Dr. Cormier, until his retirement a few years ago, had been spent in Moncton ever since he graduated from Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1910. And besides the prominent place he attained in his profession, he has always evidenced a deep and active interest in all matters pertaining to the advancement of this central city of Atlantic Canada and its environs, as well as of the broader realm of his native province. His membership in public bodies have included, among others, the Moncton board of school trustees and the Moncton board of trade.

Dr. Cormier is a past president of the New Brunswick Dental Society and a past chairman of the Provincial Examining Board. Three of his sons are practicing dentists in New Brunswick.

In 1964, he was honored by being made a Fellow of the American College of Dentists at the conclave in San Francisco.

He was an active member of our Alumni Association, and was a past president of the National Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. GRIEF

*I tell you, hopeless grief is passionless;
 That only men incredulous of despair,
 Half-taught in anguish, through the midnight air
 Beat upward to God's throne in loud access
 Of shrieking and reproach. Full desertness,
 In souls as countries, lieth silent-bare
 Under the blanching, vertical eye-glare
 Of the absolute Heavens. Deep-hearted man, express
 Grief for thy Dead in silence like to death—
 Most like a monumental statue set
 In everlasting watch and moveless woe
 Till itself crumble to the dust beneath.
 Touch it; the marble eyelids are not wet;
 If it could weep, it could arise and go.*

—Elizabeth Barrett Browning

Editor's Note

Recently the Secretary, Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio answered an inquiry from Dr. John Eric Barker '17. Dr. Barker asked if he was not eligible for life membership in our association after having paid dues for forty-nine years. Dr. Cappuccio replied that under our present constitution he was not eligible for life membership. [Life membership is granted those who pay two hundred dollars in 1 year (Annual dues are fifteen dollars)]. Dr. Cappuccio said in his letter that he felt that the association should establish such a membership category.

The American Dental Association grants life membership to members who have attained a certain age providing they have been members of organized dentistry for a specified period of time. Our association should establish this category of life membership based on the above provisions at the next annual business meeting in June, 1967.

President Abramson's Report

Annual Business Meeting—June 2, 1966

I want to express my appreciation for the honor you have bestowed upon me in allowing me to serve as your president.

It is customary for the president of this association to submit his report to this body at its annual meeting. I would like to outline for you some of the accomplishments of the out-going administration and note some of the problems that the in-coming administration will face.

During the past year we have made several successful innovations. In July, 1965 the officers of the association met to discuss the many problems which faced us, to review the past president's address and to review the report of the Ways and Means Committee. This was done in order to properly organize the important business to be placed before the executive committee, and in so doing, to reduce to a minimum the time necessary for the executive committee meetings. The officers met on several occasions during the year to help facilitate and expedite the business to be considered at the Executive Board meetings. I suggest that these officers' meetings be held in the future.

A reception for the Freshman Class was held on September 14, 1965. It was well attended by the student body as well as the faculty and members of the association. This was an opportunity for our freshmen to fraternize with their fellow students as well as with the members of the faculty and of the alumni association. This reception was a huge success and was enjoyed by everyone. I received numerous letters of thanks from students and their elected officers. On Thursday, May 26, 1966, following the announcements of graduation for our Senior Class, the association was host at a cocktail party in the graduates' honor. This affair was a gala party, and in my opinion, left a lasting and favorable impression on all who attended. I believe these welcoming and farewell parties are a must for the future.

The Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary Celebration of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery have been published, and by this time, I am sure, have been read and placed in your libraries as a memento of a milestone in the history of our great dental school and our alumni association. My thanks go to Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley for a job superbly done. I would also like to thank Dean Salley for his generous contributions in making many copies of the proceedings available to the faculty, student body, and many dignitaries.

The proceedings of the 125th Anniversary have been published, and by this time, I am sure, have been read and placed in your libraries as a memento of a milestone in the history of our great dental school and our alumni association. My thanks go to Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley for a job superbly done. I would also like to thank Dean Salley for his generous contributions in making many copies of the proceedings available to the faculty, student body, and many dignitaries.

The annual reception and breakfast meeting held in connection with the American Dental Association meeting in Las Vegas proved to be a huge success. At that meeting your Association had the honor of presenting a gift to Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, Secretary of the American Dental Association, for participating in the program of the 125th Anniversary. He was the first lecturer for the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture. The rules of procedure for the perpetuation of the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture will be presented for your approval at this meeting.

Another project, the continuing education program for the sections of our alumni association is well under way. We need your cooperation and support in order to make this a meaningful and successful function of the association. Dr. Charles Pridgeon, as Chairman, has done a highly successful job in this program's inaugural year.

The life membership program continues to grow, but less rapidly than we had hoped. Sign your checks and make this project move towards its anticipated goal.

The Editor of Alma Mater, Dr. Joseph H. Seipp, Jr., and his fine staff are to be commended for the excellent quality of our journal which continues to keep us informed, stimulated and enlightened.

Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Jr., and his committee are to be congratulated for their successful efforts in effectively handling the change of format of our June week activities. These changes include: the class reunion receptions; the welcoming and farewell receptions for Freshman and Senior Classes; the elimination of the Senior banquet in favor of a luncheon honoring the graduation class and the 50 year class. The Distinguished Alumnus Award will be presented at the Honors Convocation.

I would be remiss if I did not take the opportunity to express my appreciation to the Officers, Executive Council, Board of Trustees, committee chairmen and committee members for their cooperation and enthusiastic support throughout my administration.

I have reserved my last thanks for Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, the Secretary of our Association, for his untiring efforts and devotion to this alumni association. His services were invaluable to me throughout the past year. I am indebted to him for all his help in making my task an easy and pleasurable one.

In conclusion, I wish to offer the following recommendations for consideration by the in-coming administration:

2—That an effort be made to continue our hospitality headquarters at all major meetings, and that cocktail parties or luncheons be held in geographical area where there is active alumni participation such as New York, New England, Puerto Rico, North Carolina, etc.

3—That we discontinue our breakfast meetings at all major meetings.

4—That a fund raising drive be instituted to finance and underwrite an Alumni Lounge in the new dental school, the approximate cost of which will be $250,000.

5—That the continuing education program be broadened, and that the various sections be notified of the availability of essayists and clinicians for these programs.

6—That this Association support the efforts of the Secretary and Editor to publish an Alumni Newsletter.

7—That every effort be made to establish an alumni office within the dental school. That the support of the dean's office be enlisted to rehabilitate the files of the alumni association and bring them up to date. That additional secretarial help be employed to promote greater efficiency in handling the affairs of this office.

Again, I want to say thank you for a privilege I shall treasure and I want to make known my desire and readiness to assist the in-coming administration in any manner which they designate.

Respectfully submitted,
IRVING ABRAMSON, President

Annual Business Meeting—The Alumni Association

Student Union Building—Baltimore Campus

Thursday, June 2, 1966 at 10:30 A.M.

Call to Order: Dr. Irving Abramson, President, called the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association to order at 10:30 A.M. He welcomed the Alumni present at such an early hour and thanked them for their interest and attendance.

Orders of the Day: President Abramson called on the Secretary for orders of the day. The Secretary announced that Dr. Stone was re-elected as the 1st Vice-President of the Baltimore Alumni Club and that both Dr. Cappuccio and Dr. Gaver were re-elected to serve on the Board of Directors of the Baltimore Alumni Club representing the Dental Alumni. The Secretary also announced that special parking permits were available at the registration desk for the alumni.

Approval of Minutes: Dr. Cappuccio read the minutes of the Annual Business Meeting held on June 3, 1965. The minutes were approved as read.

Treasurer's Report: Dr. Bianco gave the Treasurer's report as audited for the past year. The report was accepted as read. The Treasurer took a few moments to explain the raise in dues from $10.00 to $15.00 for the coming year. A detailed report of the Treasurer will appear in the next issue of the Alma Mater.

Editor's Report: Dr. Seipp gave the report on the Alma Mater for 1965. He expressed thanks to all of those who gave assistance in the publication of the journal. Once again he solicited help in securing more advertising for the next issue of the Alma Mater. The report was accepted as read.

Trustees' Report—Dr. Bell gave a report on the financial status of the funds administered by the trustees. To date there is $57,162.31 controlled by the Board of Trustees. He stated that a special committee of the trustees will further study the feasibility of establishing a possible student loan fund for graduate education or Specialty Training. Dr. Bell also reported that a drive for funds from the Dental Alumni is contemplated in the very near future. The report was accepted as read. A detailed report of the finances of the Trusteed Funds as audited will appear in the next issue of the Alma Mater.

Dr. Chavoor further elaborated how trustee funds could be used as initial money in the assistance of initiating research projects by those who are without grants or other forms of assistance. It was also stated that there still may exist the need for making funds available on an emergency basis to the undergraduate student.

General Alumni Council—Dr. Stone did not read a formal report since it is to be published in the Alma Mater. He did ask for more participation by the Dental Alumni in General Alumni activities of the Greater University of Maryland. The point was made that there was possibly too much provincialism among Dental Alumni.

Historian's Report—Mr. Foley reported on the official publication of the Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary Celebration of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. It was stated that all dues paying members for 1965 and 1966 will receive a complimentary copy of the Proceedings. This copy will be a soft-bound copy. He also reported that hard bound copies had been mailed to all those individuals who had officially participated in the program, to all the officers and to all committee chairmen. Dean Salley sent copies of the proceedings to the Faculty and Student body. Mr. Foley was congratulated for an excellent job for a difficult assignment. The Association and Faculty owe Mr. Foley a debt of gratitude for a job well done. The report of the Historian was received as read.

The next order of business was to receive the committee reports. The following reports were received:

1. Continuing Education Committee—Dr. Pridgeon
An ad hoc committee has been formed to produce continuing education programs for official sections of our Alumni Association. These programs will be sponsored and financed in the main, by the parent Alumni Association. This committee has been allocated $1,000.00 to initiate this program. The work of the committee is already underway, and we can expect results from this program shortly. The report was received as informational.
2. June Week Committee—Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Jr.
This report reviewed the activities planned for June Week 1966. Announcements of the official schedule of events were made. Dr. Inman offered his apologies for some of the June Week brochures being a little late this year. Dr. Inman had to take over the chairmanship of the Council on Arrangements late in the year, and he did an excellent job under difficult circumstances. This year's program presented a rather different format for June Week. It was suggested that some consideration be given to changing the Council on Arrangements to a committee in order to have a better working arrangement between the President and the chairman that he has appointed. The report was received as informational.
3. Distinguished Alumni Award—Dr. Van Natta
Dr. Van Natta reported that the committee had met and that they unanimously placed in nomination Dr. Daniel F. Lynch, Washington, D. C. as the recipient for the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1966. The Executive Council of the Alumni Association approved the action of the committee at its final meeting of the year on May 31, 1966. Dr. Van Natta asked that Dr. Daniel F. Lynch receive confirmation as the distinguished alumnus for 1966 at the Annual Business meeting. Dr. Daniel F. Lynch was unanimously elected for the award. The committee reported that a plan is underway to develop an official nominating form for this award. The report of the committee was accepted as read along with official action on Dr. Lynch's election.

4. Budget Committee—Dr. Cannizzaro
The Budget was approved as read. The Budget for 1966-67 will be presented in the next issue of the Alma Mater.
5. Audit Committee—Dr. Seligman
The report was accepted as read. An official audit report will appear in the next issue of the Alma Mater.
6. Life Membership Committee—Dr. Gaver
The report was received as informational. It was brought out during the discussions that the Life Membership fee has been raised to $200.00.
7. Necrology Committee—Dr. Culler
Dr. Cappuccio made this report for Dr. Culler. The report was amended with additions of departed alumni. The report was received by the President who expressed his sympathy for the departed alumni. Dr. Cappuccio moved that the assembled alumni rise for a moment of silence in memory of those departed alumni. The President called for a moment of silence. It was suggested to the Alumni that they keep the Secretary informed as to deaths of our alumni.
8. Nominating Committee—Dr. Emmart
The report of the nominating committee was made by the presentation of a slate of officers for 1966-67. The report was received and tabled for action under the election of officers under New Business. The report of the nominating committee along with the elected slate of officers will be printed in the next issue of the Alma Mater.
9. Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture Committee—Dr. Gaver
The report presented the Rules of Procedure of the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture. This report was received as read and tabled for action under New Business. In order for this lecture to become a permanent part of our policy, it must be officially approved and administered by rules of procedure. These Rules of Procedure will be attached to the Constitution and By-Laws of the Association similar to those for the Distinguished Alumnus Award.
The President emphasized again that all recommendations in the committee reports would be acted upon under new business.

Old Business:

1. A.D.A. Alumni Activity, Las Vegas, Nevada.
The Secretary gave a short report on the activities of the Association at the A.D.A. meeting held in Las Vegas, Nevada on November 9, 1965. He stated that both the breakfast and reception held at the Sands Hotel were rather well attended. Dr. Cappuccio did report that the Association is planning not to hold early morning breakfast meetings in far away A.D.A. meetings such as in Texas, California, etc. The Alumni Association will not hold a breakfast meeting next year in Dallas, Texas.
2. Alumni Sections—Dr. Cappuccio
The Secretary reported on the Alumni Sections and their activities during the past year and the coming year. The New Jersey Alumni Section will hold its annual meeting at the Holiday Inn, Newark, N. J., Wednesday, October 26, 1966.
The Rhode Island Section will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, January 17, 1967, Biltmore Hotel, Providence, Rhode Island.
The Alumni Association will not hold a breakfast meeting during the D. C. Post Graduate Clinic meeting in March, 1967, but instead will plan to hold a Reception and Cocktail Party at the Shoreham Hotel. Dr. Chavoor is making arrangements for this affair. The Secretary also reported that plans are underway to hold Alumni Meetings in conjunction with the Greater New York Meeting, Massachusetts State Dental Association, and the West Virginia and North Carolina meetings.

New Business:

1. President's Address

Dr. Abramson called on the 1st Vice President, Dr. Norris to assume the chair to receive the President's Address. Dr. Norris assumed the Chair and called on the President to give his report. Dr. Abramson gave a very complete report on his stewardship during the past year. He reviewed the activities of the year under his administration. Dr. Abramson thanked those members of the Association and especially the officers and the members of the Executive Council for their help and support during the year. He especially offered his thanks and appreciation to the Secretary of the Association for his diligent work on behalf of the Association. He offered his appreciation to Miss Lee Cemino who had contributed so much time performing secretarial service. He thanked all of those including the Committees, their chairmen and those who helped to make his administration a success.

Dr. Norris thanked Dr. Abramson for his report and called Dr. Seipp, Chairman of the Committee on the President's Address to make his report. The Committee congratulated Dr. Abramson for a very successful year and reviewed his report and recommendations. The Committee concurred with most of the President's recommendations.

Dr. Norris thanked Dr. Seipp for his report and asked the President to assume the chair once again.

2. The next order of business was to consider a change in the administrative year to a calendar year. Dr. Bianco moved that the administrative year be changed from a fiscal year to a calendar year. It was seconded by Dr. Cappuccio. Motion was passed.
3. A.D.A. Meeting—Dallas, Texas
The Secretary gave a brief report on the proposed activities to be sponsored by the Association at the Annual A.D.A. Meeting in Dallas, Texas in 1966. He reported that a Reception and Cocktail Party will be held at the Statler Hilton Hotel on Tuesday, November 15, 1966 at 7:00 P.M. The Association will maintain a Headquarters and Hospitality suite along with the Md. State Dental Association at the Statler Hilton Hotel. There will be no A.D.A. breakfast meeting.
4. Election of Officers
Dr. Abramson called for the election of officers. He asked for further nominations other than those in the Nominating Committee's report. No further nominations were made. The Secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for the entire slate of officers as proposed by the nominating committee. A unanimous ballot was cast. The entire slate of officers was elected. Slate of officers will appear attached to these minutes.
5. The President introduced the newly elected officers who would be installed on Friday, June 3, 1966, at the official luncheon of the Association.
6. The President asked for action on Dr. Gaver's report on the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture. The recommendation as proposed by the committee to establish Rules of Procedure for the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture was approved unanimously. It was also moved that these Rules of Procedure be attached to the Constitution and By-Laws of the Association. This action was approved. The Constitution and By-Laws Committee with the help of the Secretary, shall work out the mechanics of this action. This establishes officially, the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture as an activity of the Association governed by the Rules of Procedure and the Executive Council of the Association.
7. A short discussion was held in reference to the formation of a group entitled "Friends of the Museum". It was felt by many members of the Association that this group could be possibly included in the activities of the Association. A final decision on the matter was based on the fact that it is perfectly in order to have an organization if they so desire.

Since there was no further business to come before the Annual Business Meeting, the meeting was adjourned at twelve o'clock noon.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSEPH P. CAPPUCCIO, Secretary

Committee Report on the Distinguished Alumnus Award Committee Meeting

The meeting of the Distinguished Alumnus Award Committee of the Alumni Association was held on Tuesday, April 5 at the Belvedere Hotel.

The Committee considered various nominees for the award. After much deliberation the unanimous choice of the Committee was Dr. Daniel F. Lynch of Washington, D. C.

The career of Dr. Lynch in the opinion of the Committee was a most outstanding one and he is very deserving of this honor. It is a pleasure for the Committee to present Dr. Lynch as its choice for the consideration of the Executive Council. The Committee would appreciate favorable action on their nominee for the Distinguished Alumnus Award of 1966.

The deliberation of the Committee according to the Rules of Procedure of the Distinguished Alumnus Award are to be held confidential and are a part of the minutes of the Committee proceedings.

The Committee also discussed a better method for the consideration of a greater number of deserving nominees for the award. A decision was reached to develop a nominating form along the lines of the American College of Dentists and Omicron Kappa Upsilon. This form would be mailed each year to our graduates for the purpose of giving them an opportunity to bring to the attention of the Committee worthy candidates for consideration for the Distinguished Alumnus Award.

Members present at the meeting: Drs. Devlin, Shehan, Bianco, Cappuccio, and VanNatta. Dr. Chavoor and Dr. Dressel were unable to attend.

Editor's Report

The diligence and hard work of many people are responsible for the excellent quality of Journal that is published by this Association. Appreciation and gratitude is extended to the following:

Associate Editors—John H. Wooden, Jr. and Joseph McKechnie, Jr.

Feature Editor—Ethelbert Lovett

Assistant Editor—Anthony Bravos

Consulting Editor—Kyrle W. Preis

Advisory Board—George M. Anderson, Morton H. Hollander, and José E. Medina

Advertising Manager—Edwin R. Rapp

Business Manager—David H. Heese, Jr.

A debt of gratitude is due to Dr. Katharine Toomey and Professor Gardner P. H. Foley, who constantly supply the Editor with material for publication.

After discussion and consultation it was decided to raise the price of a page of advertising in keeping with the quality and stature of the Journal and to offset increased printing costs. The new rates are as follows:

Full page—\$60.00 $\frac{1}{2}$ page—\$35.00 $\frac{1}{4}$ page—\$20.00

The American Association of Dental Editors discourages the placement of too many pages of advertising in a professional Journal. The Alma Mater is far below the recommended ceiling. The J.A.D.A. is the standard and generally one third of the Journal's pages are devoted to advertising. The Alma Mater could carry up to thirty-five pages of advertising; the last issue had eighteen. If any one of you can help obtain advertisers please contact the Editor or the Business Manager immediately.

Below is a four year comparison of the Journal:

	Printed Material	Advertising	Total Pages	Cost	Income	Net Cost
	(pages)	(pages) no covers
MARCH 1962	57	7	64	$2481.21	$360.00	$2161.21
NOVEMBER 1962	53½	6½	60	$2221.48	$640.00	$1581.48
NOVEMBER 1963	68	12	80	$2832.07	$970.00	$1862.07
1964
1 Issue	72	15	88	$3097.00	$1185.00	$1814.00
1965

Note the following comparisons:

- 1.) The number of pages of advertising has increased by 20%, the income from advertising has increased by almost 30%.
- 2.) The net cost of the Journal, although containing more pages than the last issue, has declined.

Actively support your association and Journal. Your dues will support your association. Support your Journal by obtaining new advertisers.

Annual Report of the Committee on Continuing Education

By way of background information this committee was appointed December 14, 1965. The first meeting was held on February 16, 1966 hence this report does not entail a full year's operation. The officers and executive council at its December meeting voted this committee to be a standing committee.

At the February meeting the purpose, function and policy for the committee were discussed and acted upon.

During the early part of May, 1966, a detailed descriptive letter of information concerning this committee was sent to all members. A copy of this letter is attached.

A self addressed card for all alumni wishing to participate as clinicians was enclosed in above letter. To date thirty-nine cards have been returned. The subjects or topics that members of the alumni have volunteered for clinics include:

Fixed Prosthesis (6)	Practice Management (2)
Removable Prosthesis (5)	Endodontics (2)
Partials (2)	Periodontics (5)
Full Dentures (3)	Orthodontics (3)
Oral Surgery (8)	Operative (4)
Surgical Anatomy (1)	Treatment Planning (1)
General Anesthesia (3)	Restorative Dentistry (1)
Office Emergencies (2)	Health Laws (1)
	Miscellaneous (3)

The committee feels the response thus far is encouraging and represents a nucleus around which a program could be organized, if, and when requested by an alumni group or section.

No requests to this date have been received from any group or section for clinicians.

It is recommended that the officers and council authorize a letter be sent to the various alumni sections informing them of the progress to date and of the speakers and topics already available for a program.

Report of the General Alumni Association Council

This past year has seen steady progress in the aims and objectives of the Alumni Council of the General Association. It is the opinion of this delegate that the most important need of this council is to have its work and actions familiarized by the different alumni groups representing the several schools. I am still at a loss how this can be accomplished, but I think I have at least one clue—better communications. Thinking in that vein, we here in the dental school might start the ball rolling by having the editor of our journal emphasize more items of interest that concern the University as a whole. Others might follow suit. This is the same theme I have been advocating ever since I became a member of the Council; that is, a realization that we are part and parcel of a huge university and that what effects one entity effects all, either constructively or adversely. This is doubly important to the schools on the Baltimore campus. However, it must be said that in the last few years our delegates from the Baltimore campus have had an increasing amount of influence on the workings of our Alumni Council. This was evident this past year by the active, aggressive influence of Judge Joseph Carter of the Baltimore Supreme Bench. Several important decisions affecting the Alumni Association as a whole had to be made. He was equal to the assignment in each instance.

Several awards for Alumni effort have been initiated in these last two years. One was suggested by this delegate. They were bestowed this past year and the first two recipients were two loyal Baltimore physicians, Drs. Tripplett and Goldstein—loyal, faithful and dedicated alumni.

The real worth of alumni effort in the Council is hard to delineate in a report such as this. It is a nebulous thing. It consists of contacts and conversations with people in the other schools. The interchange of thoughts and opinions, not always in open meetings, but over a meal or in the hall before the official meeting. These have a most beneficial effect in bringing about understanding and appreciation of our mutual problems.

The only other concrete fact I can report is the phenomenal growth of our Association this past year. As of April 1st we were 1,040 ahead of last year's membership. This is truly a real advance and is most encouraging.

I wish to close this report with a recommendation. I do wish that more care and scrutiny would be given to the nominees to go on the Council. It should be ascertained if a potential delegate is interested, sincerely interested, and will serve faithfully. This past year on several occasions this delegate was the only one representing the dental school. One delegate did not attend a single meeting. To me it was embarrassing and it caused some comment. This delegate did not miss a single meeting.

Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees Baltimore College of Dental Surgery University of Maryland June 2, 1966

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees was held on June 2, 1966. The meeting was called to order at 9:30 A.M. by the Chairman, Dr. Ernest Williams. Present were: Drs. Abramson, Bell, Williams, Bianco, Van Natta, Chavoor, Cappuccio and Dean Salley.

The report of the Secretary, Dr. Bell, was read and approved. Some discussion followed regarding loans to graduate students. This was deferred to new business.

Dr. Bell then made the Treasurer's report which was based on the Auditor's report. This was approved by appropriate action.

The Secretary then reviewed other activities including the one special meeting of the Trustees held on November 15, 1965 regarding, the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture and policy on dues and life memberships.

Dr. Williams covered the Constitution and By-Laws and indicated changes as follows:

Article III, Section I to read "Officers of Corporation shall consist of a Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer".

Section II. "Chairman shall be elected from elected Trustees from Maryland at the annual meeting of the Corporation".

Section III. "Secretary-Treasurer shall be elected from the Trustees from Maryland or from the membership at large for a term of three years. He shall represent the Board of Trustees on the Alumni Council and have a vote on the Alumni Council".

Delete Section IV and Section V, Article III.

A motion was offered by Dr. Cappuccio and seconded by Dr. Van Natta to approve action of the Secretary-Treasurer in issuing a check from the General Checking Account in the amount of $2250.00 to the University of Maryland. This was to establish the Dr. Grayson W. Gaver Memorial Lecture so that it might be permanently perpetuated and included in the 1966-67 Dental Catalogue of the University. The motion was passed unanimously.

Under new business there was extensive discussion concerning the Student Loan Fund. It was indicated a $5000 Fund had been considered to establish a Student Loan Fund. There was some question as to the need for such a fund at this time. Dean Salley was of the opinion the sum of $500 would serve this purpose. The Committee on loans was requested to reconsider the whole area of loans with a special look at the graduate and postgraduate levels.

Dr. Cappuccio offered a motion and Dr. Chavoor seconded that the Secretary-Treasurer be given authority to close out the Grayson W. Gaver Trusteed Account. The money is to be deposited in the general checking account and the control of the Gaver Fund will be in the hands of the University. The motion was passed unanimously.

Dr. Chavoor suggested that the Loan Committee study the possibility of contributing money to help in the research program at the school. Dr. Salley felt the Research Committee or a similar committee might well be assigned the task of screening the project. This was left at this point.

Dr. Cappuccio discussed the possibility of setting up a Century Club where Alumni would contribute $100 in a special type of fund raising effort.

Motion was made by Dr. Bell to appoint Dr. Williams as Chairman of the Trustees and that Dr. Dressel be appointed Secretary-Treasurer. Dr. Salley seconded the motion. It was so ordered.

Dean Salley moved and Dr. Cappuccio seconded that a resolution be drawn commending Dr. Bell for his service to the Trustees.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:40 A.M.

The committee extends congratulations to the President, Dr. Irving I. Abramson for an outstanding and successful administration of the past year. We wish to especially point out that the new format of the June week program was initiated and planned by him.

The committee recommends the following disposition of the President's recommendations:

1. That the social functions for the Freshman and Senior classes be continued. We concur with this recommendation.
2. That an effort be made to continue our hospitality headquarters at all major meetings, and that cocktail parties or luncheons be held in geographical areas where there is active alumni participation such as New York, New England, Puerto Rico, North Carolina etc. We concur with this recommendation.
3. That we discontinue our breakfast meetings at all major meetings. We recommend that the executive council study this matter.
4. That a fund raising drive be instituted to finance and underwrite an Alumni Lounge in the Dental School, the approximate cost of which will be $250,000. We concur with the thought and sentiment of this recommendation. A special committee should be appointed by the next administration to begin immediately to study the purpose, amount and method of solicitation.

Dr. S. Arthur Reed Honored

More than 100 relatives and friends gathered last Monday at the Port Henry Methodist Church to honor Dr. S. Arthur Reed on the eve of his 90th birthday. Following a supper and introduction of guests, a male quartet composed of Harry Shaw, Richard James, Dr. Charles Spaulding, and Donald Currier sang several selections a cappella.

In a biographical sketch, Rev. Paul W. Ives drew attention to the three phases in Dr. Reed's professional life, beginning as a teacher trained in the Shermton Collegiate Institute in Moriah, then as a Doctor of Medicine following the awarding of this degree at the University of Vermont, and finally as a Doctor of Dentistry, having been trained at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1917. At 90 years of age Dr. Reed is still active as a dentist.

The guest of honor has followed three avocations, having been band-master of the village band, and having mastered several instruments. Last year he took up the cello, finding it somewhat difficult to keep up with the clarinet. Several of the guests present had played under Dr. Reed's baton. His cellar is equipped with a woodworking shop and some part of each day finds him at work fashioning children's furniture or repairing chairs. In addition to his other hobbies, Dr. Reed has a collection of annual and perennial flowers which receive his care. A few years ago he gave up his large vegetable garden to concentrate on flowers.

All of Dr. Reed's children were present including Dr. and Mrs. Paul Reed '39.

As a special concession to his 90th birthday, Doctor Reed elected to remain home from his office for the day.

Dr. Dorsey E. Gaines Retires

After 45 years in the active practice of dentistry in Clarksburg, Dr. Dorsey E. Gaines, Sr., has turned off his drill and is dismantling his office in the Prunty Building, which he has occupied for all those years.

One of the chief activities to which Dr. Gaines points with pride is the establishment of the West Virginia University Medical Center in Morgantown, which includes the education of dentists and dental hygienists as well as physicians and nurses. He was one of the early supporters and backers of the proposal to establish the school, and as early as 1949 when he was president of the Harrison County Dental Society, the county group went on record in its official minutes in favor of the establishment of such an institution.

Another of his major accomplishments includes the establishment of Sardis High School, the first rural high school in Harrison County. This high school with a beginning enrollment of twelve students continued to operate until the county system was initiated in 1932.

Dr. Gaines was born Nov. 2, 1891, a son of the late Jackson and Sovilla Gaines at Katylick in Sardis District. In 1917 he married the late Lois Blanche Husted, of Sardis.

Gaines has three children Mrs. Ray (Lois) Parsons, of Bellville, Ohio, Mrs. Harvey D. (Marjorie) Bieler, II, of Charles Town, and Dr. Dorsey E. Gaines, Jr., of Bridgeport, who has been associated with his father for 12 years. Four grandchildren include Rebecca Lee and Harvey D. Bieler, III, of Charles Town, and Sandra Lee and Tracy Edmund Gaines, of Bridgeport.

In 1916 he entered dental school at the University of Maryland and in 1919 was awarded a degree as a Doctor of Dental Surgery. While attending school, he was a member of the Medical Enlisted Reserve Corps at the University of Maryland.

On March 10, 1920, he established a dental practice in Clarksburg after a six-month experience in a Romney office while he waited for his own equipment to arrive.

Very active in community and professional affairs, Dr. Gaines has served as president of the W. Va. Dental Society, the Monongahela Valley Dental Society, the Harrison County Dental Society, the Harrison County 50-year Club, the Harrison County Historical Society, and the Clarksburg Lion's Club. He is also a member of the First Methodist Church, the American Dental Association, Hermon Lodge 6 AF and AM, the Scottish Rite Masons, the W. Va. Alumni Association of the University of Maryland.

Under the leadership of Gaines, the State Dental Society strongly supported the tax on soft drinks in 1951 as a means of financing the state medical center to be built at West Virginia University.

In announcing the appointment, Dr. Stewart said, "Dr. Diefenbach's knowledge and stewardship of the programs of the Division over the past four years will provide unique stimulus for future rapid progress toward the goal of better oral health for all our citizens."

A graduate of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, University of Maryland, Dr. Diefenbach was the recipient of the University's Gold Medal for Scholarship and received his dental degree magna cum laude. He also holds the degree of Master of Public Health from the University of Pittsburgh and has been awarded fellowships in the American Public Health Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American College of Dentists. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Dental Public Health.

Dr. Diefenbach is a member of the American Dental Association, the American Public Health Association, the American Association of Public Health Dentists, and the American College of Dentists.

The author of numerous publications in the field of dental public health, Dr. Diefenbach has spoken and written extensively on the effectiveness of water fluoridation in the prevention of dental decay and has stressed the benefits which American communities have derived from this public health measure. With his guidance, the Division of Dental Health has moved steadily to expand the use of community water fluoridation and this method of decay prevention is now in use by about a third of the American population.

Dr. Diefenbach succeeds as chief of the Division of Dental Health Dr. Donald J. Galagan, who recently retired to become dean of the College of Dentistry at the State University of Iowa.

DENTURE PROBLEMS OF RETENTION, OCCLUSION, AND SORENESS... CAN BE OVERCOME

WITH

DYNA-CENTRIC

Perhaps no other phase in dentistry is more complex and confusing than full denture prosthetics. However, the plaguing problems of retention, occlusion, soreness and rapid ridge resorption can be overcome. Dyna-Centric embraces nothing radically new but is based upon proven principles and a logical approach to full denture construction.

Our laboratory has been trained in the laboratory phase of DYNA-CENTRIC and can offer complete service in this excellent denture procedure.

President's Message

I am very proud to have the opportunity to serve as president of our Alumni Association during the next year and hope that my administration will be able to continue the growth that has been witnessed in past years. The year 1968 is a triennial year and there will be special activities during the observance. The second Hayden-Harris lecture will certainly be one of the features that will result in heightened interest among our alumni.

J. PHILIP NORRIS

In these years of increased governmental involvement in education with the resultant easing of financial problems for schools and students, there still is no room for apathy among our alumni. Although the need for specific financial assistance may be less, this very fact may place a greater burden on those interested in dental education, the burden of channeling the right individuals into our profession. If we are to be a vital group, we must adapt to the needs of our time, and an interest in recruitment of capable students is one of the greatest needs. The promulgation of continuing education among our group has been another of our activities and rightly deserves a strong place in our program. Our efforts to contact the undergraduate at times other than during the hectic days of June Week have been notably successful and warrant further effort. All of these activities were practically unknown a few years ago and their existence demonstrates that the Association is successfully adapting to change. We must continue to do so, and to do it properly, we need a strong, interested Alumni Association.

Join your Association this year and participate actively in its efforts.

J. PHILIP NORRIS

The Journal of the American Dental Association says,

Education in Orthodontics for the General Practitioner*

The American Association of Orthodontists is taking steps to improve the general practitioner's knowledge and skills in orthodontics. For many years general practitioners have complained, rightly or wrongly, that undergraduate and continuing education courses in orthodontics were inadequate to meet their needs. In some instances, dentists have been denied admittance to postgraduate and continuing education programs in orthodontics simply because they did not have the prerequisite training that would qualify them for admittance. Where courses have been devoted to advanced concepts, this denial has undoubtedly been justified, but it is also true that the opportunities for orthodontic training for the general practitioner have been too few.

In recognition of the educational needs of general practitioners, the American Association of Orthodontists and its individual members are increasing their efforts to strengthen the lines of communication between orthodontists and general practitioners and to further orthodontic training at all levels of education. The American Association of Orthodontists, at its annual meeting in April, 1967, adopted a resolution encouraging additional undergraduate, graduate, postgraduate, and continuing education programs in orthodontics, and the extension of educational opportunities in orthodontics to general practitioners.

In addition, the AAO has called the attention of general practitioners to the availability from its audiovisual library, on a rental basis, of continuing education slide-tape sequences and movies on various aspects of orthodontics and to the AAO Council on Orthodontic Education's willingness to assist in whatever way possible the efforts of the general practitioner to improve himself in the area of orthodontics. The American Association of Orthodontists deserves commendation for its recognition of a problem which affects both the profession and the public, and for its forthright application of 1967 thinking to solve it.

Expansion of the Duties of Dental Auxiliaries

Whenever dentists congregate for any length of time, it seems that one of the topics of discussion is the expansion of the duties of the dental auxiliaries. A casual survey indicates that nearly 70% would favor the expansion of their services. At times, there are implications by some practitioners that their auxiliaries are working in the mouth. This is illegal.

The medical profession is much more liberal. Medical auxiliaries are permitted to give injections; this would certainly carry far more responsibility than the taking of an impression, giving a topical fluoride treatment or the polishing of a restoration.

Dr. Harold Hillenbrand made some pertinent remarks in his keynote address to the Fourth Workshop of Dental Examiners and Dental Educators:¹

"When is the profession going to face up to the fact that if it permits a manpower shortage, government will move in, as it has in other countries, such as Canada and England, to repair the shortage in its own short sighted way? Dental mechanics are already licensed and serving the public directly in two provinces in Canada."

"When are we, as professionals, going to stop kidding ourselves that the taking of a snap impression requires the anointed hands of the dentist and that the delegation of this simple duty by an auxiliary represents no real responsibilities by delegating to others the tasks which do not require any measure of professional competence thus enabling us to serve our patients better and give them the time and understanding which will motivate the patient to pursue a life time of good dental health?"

The management of a practice might be so changed so as to require a change in the curriculum for the dental student and certainly for the dental auxiliary. The necessity for the involvement of the faculty of the dental school in this project is vital. Ray T. Durocher, confirms this fact when he stated: "the setting of the training programs (for dental auxiliaries) should be the dental school."²

The faculty of the dental schools in a state should join forces with organized dentistry and present to the state legislature the proposed changes in the law to expand the duties of dental auxiliaries. A united front would be presented to the legislature, the teaching profession, represented by the faculty of the dental school and the practitioner, represented by organized dentistry. These two groups, so joined in a common goal, would be able to present their legislature with strong and forceful reasons for such a change. This corporal alliance transfused with a common purpose, would provide the adrenalin necessary to activate the legislative body.

The future of dentistry is bright: the way must be paved to allow the expansion of the duties of the dental auxiliary personnel. Laws must be changed. The door is about to be opened that may change your method of practice.

Obviously your guidance, council and help are vital ingredients to accomplish the change. Action is needed to grease the wheels of the legislative process.

JOSEPH H. SEIPP, JR.

"Thanks"

The individual who receives most of the credit for the publication of a journal is the editor but the time and talent of many hard working individuals are required and vitally necessary. Acknowledgement of these efforts is long overdue.

Galleys are long sheets of paper which contain the material the printer has set in type. These galleys are read carefully at least three different times to eliminate the errors. This reading will include the various reports of the sections, committees and financial reports such as the budget and treasurer's report. Such reading material is arduous and conducive to sleep after a busy day at the office. In addition, material must first be collected from busy dental practitioners. Three or four phone calls, and at times two to three letters must be written to several to obtain committee reports, or class reunion reports. These are the tasks that the associate editors, Dr. Joseph McKechnie, Jr. and Dr. John H. Wooden, Jr. have efficiently performed. Dr. Calvin J. Gaver previously served for two years in this capacity. My sincere appreciation to each for your untiring efforts. I assume the privilege of expressing the gratitude of our association.

It is the responsibility of the business manager to renew advertiser's contracts and to obtain new advertising. This requires mailing about 75 to 100 letters, and many times waiting—and waiting for a response that may need additional prodding with another letter or phone call. Advertising income has grown from about $400.00 in 1962 to about $1500.00 for the present issue. It is my duty then to throw many bouquets to the business manager, Dr. David H. Heese, Jr. Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio had previously served this Journal in that capacity. In addition, Joe is usually the author of at least three to five reports in each issue. Our association is indebted for the prolific efforts of our secretary.

Much research is expended to produce an original article. In addition to his article, Dr. Ethelbert Lovett does all of his own art work. The owl in the present issue is one of his best. His articles are always presented before deadline and never need editing. An editor's dream. My sincerest appreciation on behalf of this association.

I bequeath to your next editor, a Dr. Anthony Bravos, a three year's supply of "Excedrin" (The editor is now elected for a three year term). He has assumed many of my duties for this issue.

OUR HERITAGE

The Prudent Man Rule

In addition to ethical obligations, the dentist has a legal duty to his patients. This duty has been established by common law and is part of our heritage from the English judicial system. It is based upon the "prudent man rule." The rule requires only that the dentist possess and exercise that standard of skill and care which the reasonably prudent dentist in the locality would possess and exercise under the same circumstances. There are two parts to this duty: first, to possess knowledge and skill; and second, to apply this knowledge and skill. The reasonably prudent man has to do both.

Our word prudence comes from the Latin prudentia, contracted from providentia, seeing ahead, being practically wise or sagacious in adapting means to an end. Prudence is so important in daily living that the ancient Greeks and Romans considered it one of the four cardinal virtues. These virtues were prudence, justice, temperance and fortitude.

They were called cardinal from the Latin word cardinalis, the hinge of a door, that on which a thing turns or depends, something of fundamental importance.

Prudence

Ancient teachers regarded prudence as the greatest of the virtues for it exercises a directive influence over all the others. Its aim is to perfect not the will but the intellect in its practical decisions. Its function is to point out which course of action is to be taken in any round of concrete circumstances. Prudence, therefore, has a guiding capacity over the other virtues. Without prudence, bravery or fortitude becomes foolhardiness; justice or mercy sinks into weakness; and temperance or moderation grows into fanaticism.

According to St. Thomas Aquinas the function of prudence is to do three things: first, to take command, that is to choose the means suited to reach the desired end; second, to judge soundly of the fitness of the means suggested; and, finally, to command their employment.

Wise Old Owl

Father Rickaby agrees with St. Thomas, and in his Ethics and Natural Law, London 1908, aptly defines prudence as "right reason applied to practice."

Epicurus of Greece, somewhere around 300 B.C., is remembered as an exponent of egoistic hedonism, the philosophy that one's own individual pleasure is the only goal a rational man can possibly seek. He was thoroughly convinced of the virtue of prudence. He instructed his followers: "All other virtues spring from it, teaching us that it is not possible to live pleasantly unless one also lives prudently and honorably, and justly; and that one cannot live prudently, and honorably and justly without living pleasantly, for the virtues are connate with living agreeably, and living agreeably is inseparable from the virtues."

The prudent dentist today accepts the definition of Father Rickaby that "prudence is right reason applied to practice." He then follows the three rules of St. Thomas: first, make a thorough diagnosis; second, plan the treatment; and third, go to work. If he does this the prudent dentist reaps the reward promised by Epicurus, he lives pleasantly and agreeably.

Let us all make plans early to attend this meeting. We shall look forward to seeing you at that time.

June Week, 1967

The Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland had its annual meeting of June Week, 1967 on Thursday, May 25, Wednesday, May 31, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 1, 2 and 3, 1967.

Thursday, May 25, immediately following Senior Announcements, June Week activities began with a student cocktail party held in the Jubilee Room of the Belvedere Hotel. The graduating seniors were the guests of the association which provided food and drink for sixty-three students, ten alumni and two guests, making an enjoyable party for all.

Omicron Kappa Upsilon held their annual Convocation and Banquet Wednesday, May 31, at the Rolling Road Golf Club. As usual this was a fine affair honoring 11 graduates and the introduction of Dr. Howard E. Schunick, as an honorary member.

The Board of Trustees and Annual Business Meetings of the Alumni Association were held Thursday morning, June 1, 1967, at the Baltimore Union Building. These meetings were followed by the Past Presidents Brunch held on the patio of Union Building. There were 12 past presidents, 32 alumni and 3 guests who enjoyed the fine hospitality, food and weather.

Following the Past Presidents' Brunch, an alumni Scientific Assembly was held in the Dental School. Dean Salley very graciously welcomed the alumni and gave an informative progress report of the New Dental School. Dean Salley then introduced Drs. Olson and Jerbi who presented projected clinics which were enthusiastically received.

Following the Scientific Assembly and prior to the various class reunions, the Annual Cocktail Party was held in the Jubilee Room of the Belvedere Hotel. This party was in honor of the student graduates, reunion classes and the 50 Year Class. This event was considered by all to be a most enjoyable affair and a fine prelude to the individual class reunions.

Reunions

All reunions were held on Thursday, June 1, 1967, with the exception of the Class of 1952, which held theirs on Saturday during the afternoon and evening. All reunions were very well attended. Friday, June 2, 1967, the Dental School sponsored a Buffet Luncheon at the Baltimore Union Building in honor of the Class of 1967. This was open to all.

Golf

The weather was sunny and warm, the course was in good shape, and the greens were very slick and tricky. A total of twenty-nine men, twenty-three alumni and six graduating seniors, participated.

Dr. Henry Lasch from New England and here for his twenty-fifth reunion, shot 38-34=72, even par, on his first visit to Dulaney and easily won the low gross prize. Second were Dr. Al Lazauskas and Dr. Bob Charlton at 81. The low gross student prize went to Stuart Abrams with an 80.

The low net award figured on the Calloway System, was won by Dr. Jack Phillips 86-15=71. Second net was Dr. Denny Chester 82-10=72; third net was Dr. Harry Kohlhepp 82-9=73. The close-to-pin award went to Dr. Bob Lee; and student net went to Bill Houck.

These prizes were all silver ranging from Martini Mixers to trays. Many other merchandise prizes were also awarded by Chairman Harry Kohlhepp.

President's Reception

The highlight and climax of June Week festivities was the President's Reception and Dinner Dance, honoring the Fifty Year Class. The order of events for the evening were cocktails preceding dinner, followed by the formal program and dancing.

The formal program was presided over by the president Dr. Chavoor, who was most ably assisted by Dr. Cappuccio. Following the invocation by Rev. Manual R. Roman, greetings were given by Mr. B. Herbert Brown, Secretary, Board of Regents, University of Maryland, Dr. Albin O. Kuhn, Vice President for the Baltimore Campuses, University of Maryland, and Dean John J. Salley, Faculty, Dental School, University of Maryland. Dean Salley was presented a certificate of Honorary membership in the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery.

Financial Assistance Available to Dental Students

JOHN J. SALLEY, D.D.S., Ph.D.

The Dental School of the University of Maryland has a number of methods available to assist students who demonstrate financial need in order to study dentistry.

Financial assistance programs may be divided into loans and scholarships. In the former category, the Health Professions Student Loan Program, financed by a Federal grant, allows a student to borrow up to $2,500 per year provided the number of applications and amounts requested do not exceed the funds which are granted each year to the School. These loans are repayable for a ten-year period beginning three years after graduation. They bear an interest rate established by the Federal government at the time the loan is made. The Dr. Edward S. Gaylord Loan Fund represents an endowment given to the University by the late Dr. Edward S. Gaylord of New Haven, Connecticut. The income from the Gaylord Fund is used to aid worthy young men in securing dental education. During World War II the W. K. Kellogg Foundation established a loan fund in each dental school. In this instance, the principal is used as a revolving fund to provide assistance to needy students. In 1955 the American Fund for Dental Education established a loan fund, the recipients of which are limited to members of the freshman and sophomore classes. The maximum loan which can be made from this fund is $200. The International College of Dentists has also established a loan fund which is restricted to deserving senior students in need of financial aid.

Scholarships Available

The Dental School has two scholarship programs available. Under the 1965 Amendments to the Health Professions Educational Assistance Act, provisions were made for scholarships to deserving students beginning with the entering class, September, 1966. The primary criteria for selection of this type of scholarship is financial need. The other scholarship fund is derived from contributions by the Alumni of the University of Maryland to the Greater University of Maryland Fund. These are known as Greater University of Maryland Fund scholarships and are awarded to the sophomore, junior and senior student who achieves the highest level of academic performance in his class.

In addition to the loans and scholarships described above, dental students are eligible to receive financial assistance from other agencies. The states of Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, Delaware, Florida and others operate loan programs for residents who attend the University of Maryland. In recent years through the generosity of the late Mrs. E. Benton Taylor, a Maryland resident has been given a full scholarship for the complete four year dental curriculum. Certain civic organizations and religious groups also have extended financial aid to individual dental students.

New Jersey Alumni Society

The New Jersey Alumni Section of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, University of Maryland Dental School held its annual meeting on Wednesday, October 26, 1966, at the Holiday Inn, 430 Broad Street, Newark, New Jersey, with fifty alumni and guests in attendance. A cocktail hour preceded the dinner. The invocation was given by the President, Dr. Richard E. Cabana.

Dr. Cabana conducted the business meeting. Dr. Samuel H. Byer, our Treasurer reported that there are 96 paid up members for 1966.

The Nominating Committee report was made by its chairman, Dr. Saul M. Gale, and the recommendations of the committee received the unanimous vote of the membership. The officers, executive board members, and trustees of the Friedberg Memorial Fund were elected to serve for the year 1966-1967, and are as follows:

President, John J. Daub, Jr.

President-elect, Thomas H. Paterniti

Vice-President, Saul M. Gale

Treasurer, Samuel H. Byer

Dr. J. Philip Norris, President-elect of our National Alumni Association, representing Dr. Ashur Chavoor, our National President, brought his best wishes and gave a resume of past and future events.

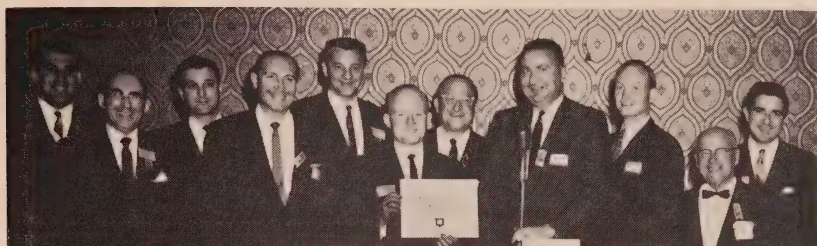

Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, our National Alumni Secretary, discussed the Continuing Education Program sponsored by the National Alumni Association. He discussed plans for a national alumni reception at the Greater New York meeting in the future. He also requested a nominee for a distinguished alumni award from New Jersey.

New School

Dean John J. Salley gave a detailed report of the progress made in the plans for the new dental school and fascinated us with a discussion of changes in the curriculum. He elaborated on the new courses being taught. Our group found it interesting and stimulating to hear of the evolutionary revisions in dental education.

Dr. Richard Cabana presented the guest of honor, Dean Salley with a scroll from the New Jersey Alumni Society "in recognition for outstanding efforts made for the University of Maryland Dental School". It was dated October 26, 1966.

The meeting was then turned over to the newly elected President, Dr. John Daub, Jr. He announced the free course for its members on

He also mentioned that there will be a free Hospitality Room for paid-up members and their wives on Wednesday during the Annual Session of the New Jersey State Dental Association. It was a great success last year and he hopes for an even bigger turnout this year in Atlantic City at the Shelburne Hotel on May 24th at 12:00 Noon.

Dr. John Daub, Jr. presented a certificate to Dr. Cabana on behalf of the Society and so added his name to the roster of living past presidents. Dr. Cabana thanked all the men who participated in the work of the Society during the year and helped bring it to its present high level of achievement.

The meeting was then adjourned by the new President, Dr. John J. Daub, Jr.

Alumni Reception

Statler Hilton Hotel, Dallas, Texas

Tuesday, November 15, 1966

An enjoyable Alumni Reception was held on Tuesday, November 15, 1966, at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Dallas, Texas

Approximately 75 to 100 alumni and guests attended a cocktail party which was enjoyed by all in attendance.

The alumni of various states were happy to see Dean Harry B. McCarthy and his very lovely wife. Also in attendance were Dean John J. Salley, Dean Kenneth V. Randolph and Dean Frank J. Houghton.

This affair marked the first time in many years that the Alumni Association did not sponsor a breakfast meeting along with a reception.

Many graduates enjoyed visiting with each other and talking about old times.

Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor, President and Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, Secretary, served as hosts for the affair. Everyone left looking forward to getting together again in Washington, D. C. in 1967.

Rhode Island Alumni Section Meeting

Biltmore Hotel, Providence, Rhode Island

Tuesday, January 24, 1967

An outstanding meeting of the Rhode Island section was held on Tuesday, January 24, 1967, at the Biltmore Hotel, Providence, Rhode Island. This meeting was held in conjunction with the annual convention of the Rhode Island Dental Society.

Approximately 50 alumni joined together to enjoy an evening of good fellowship. Dr. Bill Casey, President of the section, presided during the meeting.

A short cocktail party preceded the dinner. Following dinner, the annual meeting of the section was held. Plans were discussed for the future of the section.

Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, Secretary of the Alumni Association presented a memorial resolution in honor of Congressman John E. Fogarty. The resolution was adopted by the section and a copy was sent to Mrs. Fogarty.

A highlight of the meeting was the establishment of a John E. Fogarty Memorial Lecture which will be offered to Dean John J. Salley for consideration. The section made plans to collect the necessary funds to create the lecture in honor of a distinguished Rhode Island Congressman, who was known throughout this country and abroad, as a "Champion of Health."

The lecture will bring prestige to our Alma Mater and justly honors a man that has done so much for the dental profession. In offering the suggestion of a memorial lecture, Dr. Cappuccio stated that this will give the Rhode Island alumni section an objective in 1967. The section appointed a committee to carry out this proposal. It was a very fruitful meeting for all in attendance. This meeting was planned under the chairmanship of Dr. Anthony J. Regine. He deserves a vote of thanks by the alumni of Rhode Island for a job well done.

During the business meeting of the section, Dr. James A. Kershaw was installed as the new president along with the other officers. The section should do well under the very able leadership of the amiable Jimmy Kershaw.

The Rhode Island Section was also honored during the meeting of the Rhode Island Dental Society when Dr. James A. Kershaw was also installed as the President-elect of the Rhode Island Dental Society.

The evening closed on a happy note realizing that 1967 should be a big year for the Rhode Island Alumni Section.

Alumni Reception—D. C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D. C.

Tuesday, March 13, 1967

An enjoyable reception of our alumni was held on Tuesday, March 13, 1967, at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D. C. This was the first time that such a reception was held in conjunction with D. C. Postgraduate Clinic instead of a breakfast meeting. The results of this new venture was a success. Many alumni from all over the eastern seaboard gathered together for an evening of fun and good fellowship.

This year, the Alumni Association was honored by having our President, Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor serve as the general chairman of the D. C. Postgraduate Clinic meeting. The Association was further honored by having Drs. Abramson, Cappuccio and Nuttall as participants in the scientific sessions of the meeting.

Dean John J. Salley, Dr. Chavoor and Dr. Cappuccio served as hosts at the reception. It was very nice to see the President of the Rhode Island Alumni Section, Dr. Jimmy Kershaw in attendance.

It appears that based on this reception that future affairs in Washington, D. C. will take this format. The breakfast which was held each year early in the morning became very difficult for our alumni to attend because of a serious parking problem.

The Association is indebted once again to Dr. Ben Williamowsky for local arrangements. As usual Ben did a very fine job, and we congratulate him.

Let us plan to meet once again at the 36th D. C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting in March, 1968.

Florida Alumni To Meet In October

It was announced by the secretary, Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, that the Florida alumni are planning to meet during the month of October in Miami Beach, Florida. Dr. Myer Eggnatz of Miami Beach is planning, along with other interested alumni in the Miami Beach area, to organize an alumni section. Dr. Eggnatz announced that this meeting will be held at the time that the American Association of Dental Deans hold their meeting in Miami Beach. Invited guests will be Dr. John J. Salley, Dr. Kenneth V. Randolph, Dr. Harry B. McCarthy, officers of the Miami Beach dental societies, and officers of the National Alumni Association. It is important that all alumni in the Florida area make every effort to attend this initial meeting. The alumni in the area will receive invitations to this affair through Dr. Eggnatz. The parent Alumni Association wishes the Florida Group much success in this formative venture.

Alumni Luncheon—Greater New York Dental Meeting Statler Hilton Hotel, New York City Thursday, December 7, 1967

We are happy to announce that the Alumni Association will hold its first official function in conjunction with the Greater New York Dental meeting on Thursday, December 7, 1967 in the Penn Top North of the Statler Hilton Hotel at 12:30 P.M. This affair will be a luncheon with a speaker on a very timely subject.

It is important that all alumni, especially in the New Jersey, New York, and New England area make arrangements to attend this affair. An Alumni Association with our heritage and background should make every effort to make this affair the most successful ever.

The Alumni Association will maintain a headquarters suite in the hotel from December 5 through 7, 1967.

If you plan to attend, please contact Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, Secretary.

Dr. Brice Dorsey Retires

After thirty-nine years, Dr. Brice M. Dorsey has retired as Professor and Head of the Department of Oral Surgery at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

DR. BRICE DORSEY

In 1923 Dr. Dorsey graduated from Baltimore City College and then attended The Johns Hopkins University for one year. A Doctor of Dental Surgery was conferred on him in 1927. Following his graduation he took a three month postgraduate course in Ceramics at his alma mater, the University of Maryland.

In 1928 he joined his alma mater's staff as an instructor in the Department of Oral Surgery and Anesthesiology. His title was elevated to Assistant Professor in 1930 and in 1935 to Professor.

He received his specialty training at Bellevue Hospital in New York, and in Maryland at Maryland General Hospital, University of Maryland Hospital and Crownsville State Hospital. From 1946 to 1960 he practiced his specialty part-time.

From 1928 to 1942 he was Chief of Dental Staff at Crownsville State Hospital. After 1942 he was a consultant at Crownsville, and he was also a consultant at Maryland General Hospital, U.S. Public Health Hospital and Veterans Administration Hospital. His title at the University Hospital was Chief of Oral Surgery Division.

Gorgas Odontological Society conferred membership upon him while he was a dental student. He is also a member of the American Horticultural Society and a charter member of the Omicron Kappa Upsilon, (Phi Chapter), the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons and also a member of the American College of Dentists.

The American Journal of Oral Surgery and Queenland Dental have published articles authored by him. Dr. Dorsey has lectured extensively in this country and also in Australia and the Philippines.

Dr. Dorsey says that General Douglas MacArthur was an excellent patient, but that he was never on time for his appointments. The General either arrived several hours early or late. This was a security measure so that the General's movements could not be pinpointed.

Dr. Dorsey lives on a property that was a land grant to his family, and he proudly claims that the land "has belonged only to the Indians and Dorseys." Our best wishes to you in your future endeavors.

Book Review

ATLAS OF ENDODONTIC TECHNIQUE— A CLINICAL GUIDE

Irving I. Abramson, J. Philip Norris
C. V. Mosby Co., St. Louis, 1966

In order to appreciate the value and the purpose of this text the reader should take the time to carefully read the preface to this book. It is clearly stated by the authors in their preface that it is not their intent to incorporate into this text the various disciplines and sciences necessary to establish a sound foundation with which the practitioner can approach the problem of clinical Endodontics. The authors recognize that the practice of Endodontics is a precise scientific bio-mechanical procedure requiring a knowledge of Pulpal Histology, Pathology, and Microbiology as well as other related dental sciences. This background knowledge can be obtained in many texts that are available today and should be studied before the practitioner attempts any Endodontic procedures.

With a proper background by the practitioner this book now becomes a most valuable aid to him in learning how to carry out the technique of performing clinical Endodontics. The book follows the accepted Atlas procedure with each two pages consisting of written material on one page and illustrations of the material covered, on the other page.

Techniques Discussed

The authors have clearly and concisely covered the entire subject of the technique of doing clinical Endodontics from the very beginning, the presentation of the patient to the end; the final recall. Chapter 1 deals with the taking of a proper medical history, which is too often overlooked by the dental practitioner. It continues on to describe all the instruments and means available to make a thorough examination, which is so necessary in order to reach a proper diagnosis. The chapter also describes the proper plan of treatment and offers the author's recommendations for keeping simple, and complete records of each case. An exciting inclusion in this chapter is table 1 and table 11. Table 1 offers the reader a means to review at a glance all the diseases of the pulp and periapical tissues, the syptomotology, diagnosis and treatment. Table 11 is a treatment planning chart which encompasses practically any treatment that the reader may be called upon to perform.

Chapter 2 describes in detail each step necessary for the successful Endodontic treatment of any tooth in the dental arch, it also offers a review and the solution of many of the unusual problems encountered in the practice of Endodontics.

Chapter 3 deals with the clinical management of the various pathological conditions of the pulp requiring Endodontic therapy. It covers most clearly the entire scope of treatment management from simple pulp capping and pulpotomies to the treatment of those teeth that are candidates for surgical procedures.

Chapter 4 describes the various surgical techniques that the Endodontist may be called upon to perform. These may vary from simple periapical curettage to apical amalgam seal, to hemisection and root amputation. All are thoroughly discussed and clearly illustrated.

Chapter 5, this last chapter very nicely concludes the text by describing those procedures that supplement the previously described Endodontic techniques. The inclusion of bleaching and retreatment of Endodontic failures is of particular value to everyone that practices Endodontic therapy.

The text is a most welcome addition to the library of Endodontic literature. Its unique style, and its concentration on the subject of clinical Endodontic techniques make it a must for anyone who practices any amount of Endodontic therapy.

The Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary of the Founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery

By GARDNER P. H. FOLEY

"Events happen; but to become history." The event of March 1840 has become the greatest single happening in the history of modern dentistry; the event of March 1965 only attests to the grandeur and distinguished contribution to our professional lives. The modest beginning 125 years ago initiated the development of dentistry as a compelling force in the field of health services.

How proud should we be that it was our lot to be a part of this great institution. To be of the first includes the responsibility to be of the dedicated also. In the words of the editor, we should all be a part of "the thousands of alumni who have gone forth from the classrooms, laboratories and clinics of the dental schools of Baltimore to ensure the continual progress and the essential strength of the profession of dentistry."

Professor Foley is to be congratulated upon presenting, in such an admirable manner, the record of the Proceedings of the 125th Anniversary Celebration of our School. Within the limited space of 248 pages he has managed not only to include the formal presentations, but a record of a host of graduates who have contributed not only to dentistry, but to the public which they have served and continue to serve.

J. Ben Robinson has stated that "Dentistry is ever changing under the constant pressure of the unrelenting forces of progress, and the effective experiences of those who have influenced its past should be used to guide its course in a manner that will ensure for the future the highest degree of progress". Foley has now made this a matter of record.

Annual Business Meeting, June 1, 1967 President Chavoor's Report

As president of your Alumni Association it is a pleasure to have this opportunity to present this report. Your Alumni Association has been busy throughout the year attempting to improve liaison with the current student body and the alumni. A reception for the incoming class and other such gatherings have helped establish contact with the students. Receptions, breakfasts, and other socials at American Dental Association and various state meetings have given the alumni the opportunity to get together.

The most ambitious undertaking has been the formation of a group of qualified alumni who have volunteered to appear before alumni groups to present lectures and short courses.

I strongly wish I had some highly inspiring words to say that would induce the greater part of our alumni to support the hard working officers of your Alumni Association. It is difficult to understand why the world's first dental school does not have one of the strongest alumni associations. An Alumni Association has an important role to play, in that it makes us a part of dental education which, of course, makes us a part of the future of dentistry. Whether or not you are a member we would appreciate it if you have any constructive suggestions as to how we can serve you. Please let us hear from you.

I look forward to seeing you at the 1967 Meeting of the ADA in Washington, D. C.

ASHUR G. CHAVOOR, President

Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees National Alumni Fund of the B.C.D.S., Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc.

Present—Drs. Bell, Cappuccio, Gaver for Bianco, Dressel, Norris, Salley, Van Natta, Williams.

Secretary's Report—Approved as per correction by Dr. Cappuccio.

Treasurer's Report—Based on fiscal year Auditor's Report. Approved as read.

1. Report of Committee on Loans—Dr. Williams.

A set of rules for graduate and under graduate loans was presented to the Board for review and approval. The need for under graduate loans is practically nil at present. Dr. Salley revealed that many sources of money are available to degree candidates, but that very little is available to dentally oriented trainees and specialty students.

Motion by Dr. Cappuccio to reword the rules and regulations presented in this report to express the feeling of the Board regarding eligibility for loans. Seconded by Dr. Van Natta. Passed.

Dr. Williams briefly summarized a reprint discussing the need for research loans and suggested further pursuit of the mechanism of establishing a Research Loan Fund. The committee on Loans was given encouragement to proceed with a plan for such a fund.

2. Dr. Bell reported on the transfer of the Gaver Memorial Fund to the University Endowment Fund. Dean Salley told of the success of the first lecture endowed by this fund, and revealed that he supplemented the interest available from the fund with other monies available to the Dean to support the lecture. Both men were lauded for efforts with regard to the fund.

3. Dr. Dressel reported a deficiency in the book account of the Gaver Memorial Fund due to a drop in market value of the investments at the time of transfer of the Fund to the amount of $156.39 and asked for a motion from the Board to rectify the account balance.

Motion by Dr. Gaver, seconded by Dr. Cappuccio that $156.39 be transferred from the General Fund to the Gaver Fund to balance the account and complete the book transfer. Passed.

New Business—

1. Motion by Dr. Bell, seconded by Dr. Gaver that after payment of current bills any excess funds in the checking account over $2000 be deposited in the savings account temporarily (due to stock market conditions) rather than be transferred to the investment fund. Passed.
2. Dr. Cappuccio recommended that the Board of Trustees begin to operate under the same calendar and fiscal year as the Alumni Association. Accepted.
3. Dr. Cappuccio moved that present officers be reelected for 1968. Seconded by Dr. Gaver. Passed.

Dean Salley's Report

Special Report—

Dean Salley gave a very enlightening informed report on the various funds available to the Dental School and its students. The Board listened to the report with intense interest and expressed appreciation for its informational value.

Below are some excerpts from the report:

A. Support Funds for students—

1. H.P.E.A. Student Loans—Administered by a board of representatives from all professional schools of the University. Up to $2500 per student per year available to students qualified by financial need. Loan repayable with moderate interest after graduation. Certain adjustments on repayment possible.
2. Gaylord Fund—One of the funds under the University guardianship for use in financial aid to students.
3. A.F.D.E.—Educational support funds for scholarships to worthy students of dentistry and dental hygiene.
4. Kellogg Fund—Funds to aid worthy students.
5. International College of Dentistry Loan Fund—Loans to worthy students to assist in completion of dental education.

Records are kept in the Dean's office of all loans granted to students through the school and other sources.

Dean Salley explained the program of the Southern Regional Education Group under which the Dental School agrees to accept 12 students annually from Florida.

B. University Endowment Fund—

The total fund had a market value of $9,927,087.17 as of June 1966 with the Dental School share equaling 6.247% or $272,624.47.

The Memorials listed and their values of June 1966 were:

Culver Fund	1,058.00
Gaylord Fund	66,371.00
Grieves Fund	89,551.00
Jakes Fund	17,209.00
Parks Fund	96,120.00
Schwartz Fund	2,015.00
Gaver Fund	2,250.00

These funds are invested in a trust of the 1st National Bank and controlled by the Board of Regents of the University.

They are basically two types:

- 1) Restricted—established in donors name and managed in manner specified by donor; 2) Unrestricted—funds which may be used at the discretion of the school.

The Dean has endeavored to conserve these funds by use of only that accumulated interest necessary.

Approximately $269,240.00 was loaned from all sources to students during the 1966-1967 session.

Motion made by Dr. Dressel, seconded by Dr. Bell that the next Trustee meeting be set for a date in late November. Passed.

Motion to adjourn by Dr. Van Natta, seconded by Dean Salley. Passed. Adjourned 10:30 A.M.

HARRY W. F. DRESSSEL, JR., Secretary

Secretary's Report

Call to Order: Dr. Leatherman, President-elect called the annual business meeting to order at 10:00 A.M. He introduced himself and explained that Dr. Chavoor, the president, would not be in attendance because of circumstances beyond his control. He welcomed the alumni present at such an early hour and thanked them for their interest and attendance.

Orders of the Day: Dr. Leatherman called on the secretary for orders of the day. The Secretary announced that special parking permits were available at the Registration Desk for the alumni. He also announced that immediately following the business meeting there would be a Past Presidents brunch on the Patio.

Approval of Minutes: Dr. Cappuccio moved that the minutes of the annual business meeting on Thursday, June 2, 1966, be approved as published in the last issue of the Alma Mater. Motion seconded. Minutes were approved as published.

Treasurer's Report—Dr. Gaver reported for Dr. Bianco who is the outgoing treasurer. It was announced that Dr. Bianco has resigned his position in order to accept a teaching position at the University of West Virginia School of Dentistry. 3. Alumni Activity at the Greater New York Dental Meeting, December 7, 1967: The Secretary stated that he was in the process of making arrangements for the alumni affair at the Greater New York Dental meeting. Miss Purdy, Executive Secretary of the Greater New York Dental meeting is working on these arrangements at the present time. It appears that a luncheon meeting would be in order, possibly on Thursday, Dec. 7, 1967. There has been no confirmation at this time. When final arrangements are completed, the New Jersey Alumni Section could help us with local arrangements. The Secretary will keep the New Jersey group informed.
4. General Discussion on Alumni Activities: It was stated by the Secretary that there is a creeping lethargy taking hold in our Association. It seems that the Alumni are living on their past laurels and are not concerning themselves with the present and the future. Dr. Cappuccio emphasized that there must be a rebirth of enthusiasm and participation in the total activities of the Association.
5. Election of Officers: Dr. Leatherman asked for further nomination from the floor. No nominations were made. The slate of officers as presented by the Nominating Committee was unanimously adopted. The secretary was asked to cast a unanimous ballot for the entire slate. The elected officers will start their term on January 1, 1968.
6. Presentation of New Officers: Dr. Leatherman introduced the newly elected officers and asked them to come forward. The officers were installed officially on Friday, June 2, 1967, at the Alumni Banquet. Dr. J. Philip Norris, the incoming president closed the meeting.

Report of the Audit Committee

It is a pleasure to report that the books of Treasurer of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland were examined on May 10, 1967 and by the firm of Martin E. Staehlin, Jr. certified public accountants and were found to be accurate and correct according to the financial statements released by the above firm.

Henry J. Bianco, Jr., Chairman

Report of the Historian-Archivist

It is important to call to the attention of the alumni the fact that several of the most valuable items formerly in the School's Museum are now on permanent loan to the Smithsonian Institution. The Washington dentures are the principal item of this relocated segment of the Maryland historical collection. The chief reason for the faculty's acquiescence to the request from the Smithsonian was that the borrowed items would be made available to the observation of millions of visitors as contrasted to the scattered few who would see them at the School.

Surely the alumni of the B.C.D.S. will be interested in ascertaining the provision made for Museum space in the plans for the new building. Undoubtedly there will be a marked change in the kind of environment assigned to that visually historical aspect of our heritage. I urge that you—as individuals and as an Association—demonstrate an active interest in the future of the Museum.

Report of the Alumni Council of the General Alumni Association

Your representatives to the Alumni Council of the General Association attended all meetings of the council, with only one member absent at one session. The senior member was in attendance at all meetings and chaired one important committee.

During the year the council initiated two series of awards, and also continued one other which had been in operation for the past three years. This last is to the outstanding alumnus for work in furthering Alumni activities.

The two new ones are citizenship awards, the other going to the outstanding alumni in both Baltimore and College Park campus. There is in process now a plan to have an award for each individual college on each campus.

The council was the agency that made home-coming and spring re-union such worthwhile events. They also organized and directed successfully several events during the year, cooperating with local chapters and clubs. The council was also instrumental in organizing or reorganizing several new clubs, the most outstanding being New York and Pittsburgh.

The past year the senior delegate entertained, at the Baltimore Country Club, the Director of Alumni Relations for the University; ten other dental alumni were present. It was a developmental meeting and the hope was that some mutual problems were solved or at least mitigated. The motive in these alumni activities should always be, to communicate problems.

Finally, the worth in participating in alumni council activities is hard to reduce to words and phrases. The real value lies in establishing communication between members forming the dental group and other representatives of the other colleges. This leads to mutual understanding and mutual appreciation of the problems that each face. Consultation each with the other many times has led to solution.

Edward D. Stone, Jr. Chairman

Class of 1927

The reunion of the Class of 1927, celebrating the fortieth anniversary of their graduation from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland was held in The Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland on June 1, 1967.

Thirty members of the class gathered during the afternoon in the hospitality room for a delightful period of reminiscence, congeniality and cocktails. The old year book was reinspected with many comments as were the photographs of previous reunion groups which were exhibited on the bulletin board.

Mrs. Sidney Graffam and Mrs. Charles McMullen, widows of former classmates and both now employed in the Dental School, served as hostesses, adding charm and graciousness to the happy occasion. A few wives were present with their sparkle and gaiety which helped make the reunion an overwhelming success.

A delicious dinner of lobster and steak with sparkling wine was served in the evening amid songs, banter and words of wisdom. The highlight of the after dinner activities was the presentation of a Testimonial Scroll, signed by all of the classmates present, to Dr. Lewis Fox. Dr. Samuel H. Byer made the presentation and reviewed, from the Congressional Record, the accomplishments of Dr. Fox, including his appointment as Dean of The University of Connecticut, School of Dental Medicine. The Class of 1927 is a proud class and was pleased to honor an outstanding member.

The usual photograph was made following the dinner and little groups began their fond farewells, drifting off for further chatter with the loud cry of "See You in 1972".

Class of 1932

The Centre Club in Baltimore's new Charles Center was the scene of a successful 35th reunion.

Twenty happy, healthy, affluent looking members of the class of 1932, most of them accompanied by lovely, gracious, younger-than-springtime wives, imbibed, dined, reminisced and vowed to return for a stupendous 40th reunion.

Dr. Grosshans shared the master of ceremonies role with Dr. Englander. The "stories" were piquant—the laughter long and loud. Dr. and Mrs. Conrad L. Inman, Sr. were the honored guests.

Class of 1937

The Class of 1937 is pleased to report that its thirtieth reunion was held at Baltimore on June 1st. While many other five-year classes also reunited that evening, most gathered at meeting places downtown; our group (individualists all) assembled elsewhere.

A number of our members had a pleasant time becoming acquainted once more at the fine cocktail party given by the alumni association at the Sheraton-Belvedere. Following this, everyone gathered at the Club Venus, near Towson. Here, we had much conviviality, a good dinner (with no speeches) and were entertained by a floor show which featured the singing of Al Martino. In all, our group counted 53, of which 28 were class members—a very good showing when all the other demands upon those wishing to come, such as the graduations of our children, are considered.

We were saddened by the absence of our deceased members:

Albert Clewlow, Herbert Friedberg, Charles Kupers, Harold Lavine, Chris Nacrelli, Bernard Reilly and Jotham Reynolds.

While the general turnout was most gratifying, we were disappointed in the lack of participation of our New Jersey members, only a few from Connecticut and none from Rhode Island. Since most of the absentees mentioned promised to be here five years hence, we'll count on that. Incidentally, anyone who may desire additional photographs may obtain them by contacting the chairman.

We had a great time. See you at the thirty-fifth, if not sooner!

Class of 1942

On the evening of June 1st, twenty-eight members of the Class of 1942 of the University of Maryland Dental School gathered at the "Tail of the Fox". One member came all the way from Puerto Rico, another from Los Angeles. The guest of the evening was Miss Toomey, our class girl friend.

Although no program was planned, and an orchestra was available for dancing, the members of the class were called on individually to give a summation of their last twenty-five years. These informal dissertations filled the evening to such a degree that even the dancing was neglected. Perhaps the fact that some of our members had attended a cocktail party at the Belvedere prior to arriving at the "Tail of the Fox" added to the hilarity and enjoyment of the whole affair. Our ladies received a silver Revere bowl as a memento of the occasion, and needless to say, we all, after twenty-five years, had trouble dragging out of bed on June 2nd.

4th Row: A. Kronthal, S. Londeree, D. Cray, F. Asciolla, W. Roth, S. Kotula, M. Stamp, C. Beck, W. D'Abbraccio.

The Class of 1947 held its 20th reunion at the Holiday Inn on Thursday and Friday, June 1st and 2nd, 1967.

Thirty-four men and twenty-eight of their ladies were in attendance—this, out of a class of 73 graduates. Dr. Ernest Nuttall, honorary class president, and Dr. Joseph Biddix to whom the 1947 yearbook was dedicated, were also present with their wives.

Many of those in attendance came from great distances—California, Indiana, Alabama, Massachusetts, etc.

One of the highlights of the reunion was the banquet Thursday night during which each attending member brought himself “up to date” for the benefit of the rest of the class. This affair was characterized by great conviviality and emotion. A moment’s silence was observed for the three deceased members of the class: Thorburn R. Clark, Clarence E. Isaacson, and Howard C. Yerger III.

Friday morning, after breakfast, several then found their way to the golf links while the ladies had a day of their own which proved to be a smashing success. The ladies toured the harbor on a launch, lunched at the One Charles Center, and then were “bussed” on a tour of the Morris Mechanic Theater, Maryland Institute of Art, Hampton House, Cross Keys Village, and “The Block”. Audrey Londeree, Jeanne Rapoport, and Ruth Kronthal made all the arrangements. An open hospitality room from Wednesday night to Friday night provided a permanent refueling station for reminiscing alumni and wives; “spirits” never waned.

The two day reunion ended tearfully and nostalgically with all of the wives just as devoted friends as the men in the class, and with plans already germinating for our 25th re-union.

Class of 1952

The Class of '52 held its reunion at the Belvedere Hotel. Almost fifty per cent of the class attended the festivities.

Along with lunch, the afternoon festivities included a get-together for the ladies at the Governor's Club, while the men occupied the Belvedere Redwood Room; Vivian Kraivitz and Pauline Chapin ably directed the ladies.

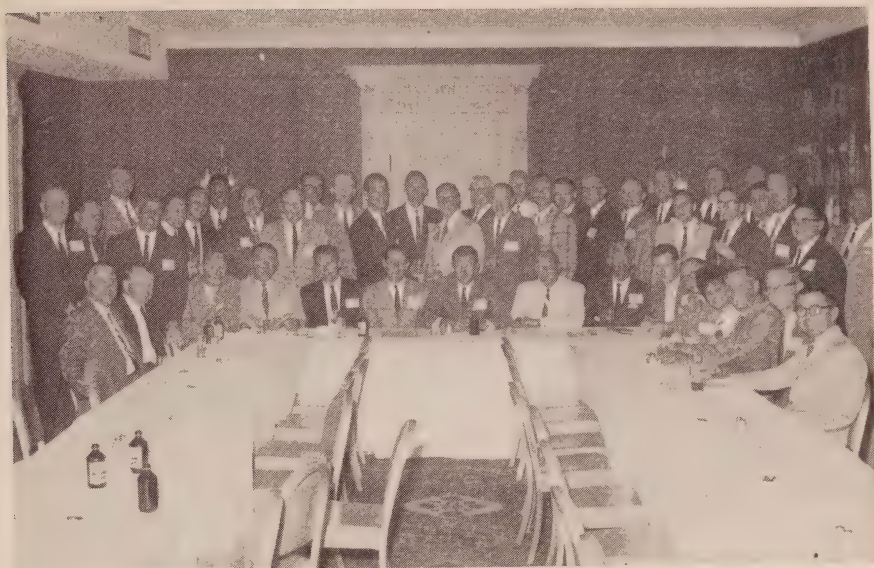

Our cocktail party began at 6:30 P.M. in the Jubilee Room with a fine turnout of alumni. Dr. José Medina was our guest of honor. Pilar Reguero and Lino Rodrigues attended from Puerto Rico. ‘Timmy’ Brun came all the way from Paris, France.

Other speakers included Tom Payne, Zeno Edwards, Jack Martin, Bob Jozefiat and Dr. Medina.

A great time was enjoyed by everyone, and we hope to see our classmates in 1972.

Class of 1962

The Class of 1962, University of Maryland Dental School held their first five year reunion on June 1, 1967, at 3900 N. Charles St. The evening was planned for cocktails and dinner beginning at 6:30 P.M. The reunion was very well attended; 37 couples were in attendance. Classmates came from as far as Florida and Connecticut. It was a social evening, during which a class meeting was held. It was decided that a newsletter for the class would be published twice a year. At the major conventions the class decided to have a hospitality room (and to hold another reunion) prior to our five year reunion on a formal basis. Tentative plans are being made for a reunion at the ADA convention this coming year.

Officer In 'The Dirty Dozen' Is Haddonfield Orthodontist

When Dr. Milton B. Asbell of Haddonfield views the motion picture, "The Dirty Dozen," now appearing at local theatres, he will be watching that film with a critical eye.

And well he should.

Dr. Asbell, a local dentist, has been personally involved with the creation of the novel of the same name, for over seven years, and found himself not only a technical advisor to the author, E. M. Nathanson, but a character in the opening pages of the book.

"It all began on a wintry night back in 1960," recalls Dr. Asbell. "It was one of the worst storms we'd ever had and I was thoroughly surprised to receive a phone call from a total stranger, asking if he could come visit me to discuss a book he was writing."

The caller explained he was a Hollywood script writer, researching a novel about the army prison at which Dr. Asbell served as dental officer during World War II. The author was at 30th Street Station in Philadelphia and wanted to drop over.

"I couldn't imagine who he was, but when he named certain officers I'd served with, I realized he must be telling the truth. I told him if he could get to my house in this storm, he was welcome to come."

"Imagine my surprise when, in the middle of that blizzard, he arrived at my house a half hour later."

"The Dirty Dozen"

The author asked Dr. Asbell if he had heard about a group known as "The Dirty Dozen." The author had heard rumors about the existence of such a band of men and was tracking down facts for his novel.

Dr. Asbell told Nathanson he had never heard about such activities, and since in the wartime prison, everyone was responsible for several jobs (he had been everything from dentist to turnkey). The stories were probably untrue. On the other hand, he explained, such OSS activities have been well hidden from other officers. Therefore, the possibility of such a group might exist.

Dr. Asbell was asked by Nathanson for technical advice on procedures of the hangings, since the onetime dental officers had found himself drafted into writing the reports as a witness to such hangings.

The report of a court martial and hanging at "Marston-Tyne", in the opening pages of the novel, is identical to one written by Dr. Asbell at the Septon-Mallet prison in England.

After Nathanson created the character of Lt. LeRoy W. Strom, DC (Dental Corps), as the signature for the report, he continued with the characterization into the novel.

"It's an odd feeling," says Dr. Asbell, "finding oneself a character in a novel."

Although not a professional writer, Dr. Asbell had always been interested in the field. The fact that Nathanson used the doctor's reports verbatim is an indication of the clarity. These same reports were cited by General Eisenhower's staff for their quality.

Dr. Asbell Is An Editor

Dr. Asbell has kept active his interest in writing. He was editor of "A History of Dentistry in South Jersey", and, as historian of the Southern New Jersey Dental Society and secretary of the American Academy of the History of Dentistry, he is responsible for correlating and publishing historical data.

A letter Dr. Asbell received from Nathanson last March details his first and only visit to the scene of the novel, Shepton-Mallet, after publication of the book.

In his long letter to Asbell, the novelist laughingly relates the tour of the gaol (prison) given him and his family by the governor (warden).

Not only had the governor never heard of Nathanson, he was unaware that such a novel about the prison had even been written.

Nathanson was particularly amused by the governor's surprise to learn that, at the very moment of Nathanson's visit, the filming of the novel was taking place in England.

But there was good reason for the ignorance of the governor. It was because Hollywood, in its infinite wisdom, had not chosen to use the actual site of the prison, but instead was filming "The Dirty Dozen" outside London . . . at a girls' school.

MIDAS

has become the nationally recognized pension and retirement program for Dentists.

It got that way because a number of men, dedicated to the Dental profession, gave of their time (and money) to create a vital instrument for retirement for their colleagues.

And their colleagues, in large numbers, responded to the bargain offered.

That is why MIDAS has many more participants than all of the other "Dentists' Retirement Plans" in force throughout the entire United States.

Aren't you glad you are a member of MIDAS . . . and if you aren't . . .

President's Message

It is indeed an honor and privilege for me to serve as your president during the coming year. I humbly accept this position with its inherent challenge, pledging my capabilities toward furthering the growth of our association.

EUGENE A. LEATHERMAN

The coming year should witness the opening of the new dental school. I am certain you have followed with great enthusiasm the progress which has been reported to you from many sources. The school has been planned to project our past great heritage into the future while introducing new concepts to meet the challenge of the changing face of dentistry. Thus it will be up to us as loyal alumni to support the new school by making financial contributions as well as recruiting dental students.

Certainly, each and every one of us owes some part of our existence to the dental school. Therefore, it behooves us to attempt to repay that which has been passed on to us, and this can be accomplished by being active members of the Alumni Association. I urge you to send in your dues at your earliest convenience.

The officers and members of the Executive Council look forward to meeting each alumnus at the many planned alumni social gatherings to be held at national and regional meetings. You will receive more information on these meetings in the near future. I especially want to request your attendance at the June Week activities scheduled for June 4-7, 1969. The class reunion chairmen have been appointed and are well ahead of schedule in planning each individual class reunion.

I look forward to personally meeting with you at future alumni activities and solicit your active participation in all the affairs of your Alumni Association.

EUGENE A. LEATHERMAN

The Legacy of a School*

Many years ago I began the herculean task of organizing an Alumni File for the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. With each graduate's name, home state and year of graduation registered on 5 x 8 cards, I proceeded to follow a research plan encompassing a thorough search of the School's archives, combing of the runs of almost every dental journal, starting with the American Journal of Dental Science of 1839, the enlistment of the national archives for war records, and the use of any other seemingly potential source. As the biographical data were gathered, they were registered on the appropriate cards. The File now contains over 8,000 cards.

How may the legacy of a dental school be determined? How does a dental school go about measuring its direct and indirect contributions to dentistry and to the public? Recently I was beset by these questions as I approached the task of writing 125 pages on "The Legacy of the B.C.D.S.: A Century and a Quarter of Distinguished Contributions by Its Graduates." I decided to present brief notations of the contributions—many of them non-professional—of 720 graduates. The alphabetical listing was introduced by a prefatory note: "The achievements of these representative alumni reflect the protean impact made upon the practice of dentistry, dental education, dental organization, and dental literature by the dental schools of Baltimore."

The B.C.D.S. has always had a unique responsibility—to fulfill its singularly honorable status as the first dental college in the world. One excellent way of judging the legacy of a dental school is to measure it partly by determining the relative number of its graduates who have served their profession as presidents of state associations. The B.C.D.S. roster of state presidents is undoubtedly exceptional and perhaps incomparable in the number (393) and in the wide geographical distribution (33 states and D.C.): Maryland (80), Virginia (35), North Carolina (34), South Carolina (25), Georgia (20), Delaware (18), Rhode Island (16), Maine (15), Connecticut (14), New Jersey (14), Texas (13), Vermont (13), West Virginia (11), Alabama (9), Florida (7), District of Columbia (6), Louisiana (5), Massachusetts (4), New Hampshire (4), Tennessee (4), Mississippi (3), New York (3), Arkansas (2), Colorado (2), Iowa (2), Kentucky (2), Minnesota (2), Nevada (2), Pennsylvania (2), Montana (1), Nebraska (1), Ohio (1), Oklahoma (1), South Dakota (1), Washington (1).

What dental school merits the designation of "Mother of Deans"? Certainly that facet of activity is a most important element in weighing a school's contribution. Perhaps I shall be inciting several schools to compare their own prideful lists with that of Maryland's 31 deans of 37 dental schools: Aisenberg, 1922—U. of Maryland; Arnold, 1900—Texas Dental College; Arthur, 1841—Philadelphia College of Dental Surgery and the Pennsylvania College of Dental Surgery; Austen, 1849—B.C.D.S.; Biddington, 1948—West Virginia University; Cheaney, 1894—Northwestern College of Dental Surgery; Cowardin, 1874—University College of Medicine (Richmond); Crenshaw, 1844—Southern Medical College and the Atlanta Dental College; DeFord, 1882—Drake University; Dufour, 1867—Howard University; Foster, 1881—B.C.D.S.; Fox, 1927—University of Connecticut; Frew, 1905—Baylor University; Gorgas, 1855—B.C.D.S. and the University of Maryland; Heatwole, 1895—University of Maryland; Houghton, 1917—Loyola University (New Orleans); Jones, 1871—Medical College of Virginia; Lewis, 1879—Columbian University (D.C.); McCarthy, 1923—Baylor University; Montell, 1884—Baltimore Medical College; Morgan, 1848—Vanderbilt University; Orrison, 1866—Baltimore Medical College; Randolph, 1939—West Virginia University and Baylor University; Robinson, 1914—University of Maryland and West Virginia University; Sarrazin, 1887—New Orleans College of Dentistry; Simpson, 1896—University College of Medicine and the Medical College of Virginia; Smith, 1888—Baltimore Medical College; Stuart, 1892—Milwaukee Medical College; Walker, 1889—New Orleans College of Dentistry; Walton, 1888—George Washington University; Weiser, 1868—Denver School of Dentistry; Winder, 1869—Maryland Dental College and the B.C.D.S. Report of June Week Committee 1968

A very successful June Week, 1968 was held this past year in Baltimore, Maryland.

This meeting had a major change in the format and seemed to help strengthen our June Week activities.

The major change was that the Class Reunions were held on a Saturday evening instead of the usual Thursday evening schedule. This change proved to be very beneficial.

On Thursday evening, June 6, 1968—the Second Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture was delivered by Dr. Hubert A. McGuirl, President-Elect of the American Dental Association. Dr. McGuirl did an outstanding job on the same high level as the first Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture given by Dr. Harold Hillenbrand, Secretary, American Dental Association.

The Alumni Banquet was held on Friday evening, June 7, 1968 at the Belvedere Hotel. It was well attended and the guests of honor were the Graduates of the Class of 1918. It was the largest turnout of 50 year graduates. Another highlight of the meeting was the presentation of the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1968 to Dr. Saul Gale of Newark, New Jersey.

The graduates that returned for their reunions and the activities of June Week enjoyed themselves beyond words. Once again, another June Week had come to a close with the realization that our Alma Mater will soon enjoy new quarters in a new Dental School.

JOSEPH P. CAPPUCCIO, Chairman

The Second Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture

HUBERT A. MCGUIRL, D.D.S.

President-Elect, American Dental Association

It is a pleasure to present a distinguished Rhode Island dentist who delivered the Second Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture.

Dr. Hubert A. McGuirl is the first dentist from his state to serve as President-Elect of the American Dental Association.

He was elected to this position in 1967 after previously serving two terms as Rhode Island's initial ADA trustee for the First District.

A native of Providence, Dr. McGuirl received his undergraduate education at Boston College and graduated in 1933 from the Georgetown University School of Dentistry. He interned at Rhode Island Hospital in Providence, where he is still on the staff. He has been a general practitioner in Providence since his internship.

DR. HUBERT A. MCGUIRL

Long active in organized dentistry, Dr. McGuirl has served as president of his constituent and component societies. He is presently executive secretary of the Rhode Island State Dental Society and secretary of the Rhode Island State Dental Service Corporation. He is also a member of the American College of Dentists, International College of Dentists, Pierre Fauchard Academy, Federation Dentaire Internationale and the American Academy of the History of Dentistry, and is a past president of the Dental Alumni of Boston College. He is an honorary member of the Rhode Island Medical Society, the Maine Dental Association, and the North Carolina Dental Society.

Earlier this year, he received the Medal of Award of the Rhode Island State Dental Society and he was also chosen to receive Georgetown University's Annual Award to an outstanding alumnus. He is an honorary member of the Rhode Island Alumni Section of our association.

Within the ADA, Dr. McGuirl has also served on the Council on Insurance and as a delegate to the House of Delegates. As a member of the Committee on Association Headquarters since its inception, he had a most important role in the planning, financing, construction and furnishing of the new ADA building. Dr. McGuirl was also one of the original incorporators of the National Association of Dental Service Plans and he is currently serving a five-year term as the official ADA representative to the NADSP as a member of its Board of Directors.

Greetings From The School of Dentistry

JOHN J. SALLEY, D.D.S., Ph.D.

I am privileged to bring you greetings from the faculty and students of the School of Dentistry. Through the untiring and dedicated efforts of your faculty our program of dental education continues to improve both qualitatively and quantitatively. Curriculum revisions for the undergraduate dental student program which have been adopted are now being phased in. Under the leadership of Dr. Wilbur O. Ramsey, Professor and Head of the new Department of Restorative Dentistry, the general practice approach in clinical dentistry is being strengthened. Our new Assistant Dean for Curriculum Affairs, Dr. Martin Lunin, is active with all department heads in the promotion of closer integration and correlation of all learning experiences. In the area of advanced education, recent affiliations with the Baltimore City Hospitals, Crownsville State Hospital and Provident Hospital will provide much needed breadth to our residency program in Oral Surgery.

Another activity bears special comment because it relates directly to you, our graduates. The program of continuing education has shown tremendous growth in recent years. From a small beginning of four CE courses presented during the 1963-64 session we will expand in the next session to a total of 29 separate course offerings. The content of these courses will range from a practical approach in preventive dentistry to an advanced course in periodontics. Almost every major field of dental practice will be covered. This growing excellence in continuing education has not happened spontaneously. Dr. Charles T. Pridgeon, Director of the Division of Continuing Education, spends many hours planning and administering these courses. He and his staff, as well as Dr. Donald E. Shay, his predecessor, are to be commended for the broad advances the University of Maryland has made in this important area of dental education. I hope that as many of you as possible will take advantage of these opportunities for continuing professional development.

My warm and personal regards to each of you.

The New Jersey Section of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, University of Maryland Dental School met on the evening of October 18, 1967 to hold its annual meeting. The dinner and meeting was held at the Holiday Inn, Newark, N. J.

Dr. John Daub, president, read a telegram from Dean Salley expressing his regrets for his absence. Dr. Daub expressed his thanks for the members and wives attending our annual affair and also thanked the many people whose efforts helped make this a very successful year.

Our secretary, Dr. Angelo Lombardi, announced that there are 258 N. J. Alumni with 125 members paid making an increase from last year of over 29 members. Dr. Lombardi praised Mrs. John Daub for her efforts on behalf of our organization. The teamwork of Dr. and Mrs. John Daub gave us one of our best years.

Dr. Saul M. Gale gave the nominating committee report which was as follows:

President, Thomas H. Paterniti	Treasurer, Samuel H. Byer
President-elect, Matthew Rocco	Secretary, Rudolph A. Novello
Vice-President, Saul M. Gale	Ex-officio, John J. Daub, Jr.

Executive Board: Jack M. Eskow, Bernard DeHosson, Arthur Aria, Robert Josefiak, Robert H. Jernick, Elwood Snyder, Jr., Robert G. Kovach.

Trustees: Friedberg Memorial Fund: James Mahon, Gerard Devlin, Alan A. Gale, Paul Torre, John Cirillo, Anthony Policastro, Elwood Snyder, Sr.

The above slate was elected by unanimous vote.

Dr. Joseph Cappuccio, our National Secretary, extended the greetings of our National organization and President. Slides of ground breaking showed the "cavity" made by the workers with high speed equipment which will be "restored" by the new 11 million dollar Dental School building. The new building is expected to be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1969.

It was announced that the National Society will participate in the Greater N. Y. Dental Meeting for the first time.

Dr. Myron S. Aisenberg gave us one of his outstanding talks of the differential diagnosis of the oral cancer lesion. The obligation of the dentist to give a thorough examination of the soft tissues as well as the teeth was clearly demonstrated.

A presentation to Dr. Samuel Byer for his outstanding contribution to our society and the dental profession was made by Dr. Eskow. It was noted that Dr. Byer has served for 17 years as treasurer of the N. J. Alumni Society.

Dr. John Daub handed over the gavel to the incoming president, Dr. Thomas Paterniti. Our president stressed the importance of continued co-operation during the coming year in order to keep our society vital.

Dr. Paterniti announced the following events for this year: clinic to be given by members of the Dental School faculty on November 8; hospitality room at the Greater N. Y. Dental Meeting; hospitality room at the Shelburne Hotel, Atlantic City on Wednesday during the annual session of the N. J. State Dental Society; inauguration of officers and the annual meeting of the N. J. Alumni Society to be held next October.

Our outgoing president, Dr. Daub, was presented with a certificate for his leadership during an outstanding year.

The Second Alumni Luncheon of our Association held in conjunction with the Greater New York Dental Meeting on Thursday, December 5, 1968 in the Penn Top North of the Statler Hilton Hotel at 12:30 p.m. proved to be as great a success as our first venture last year.

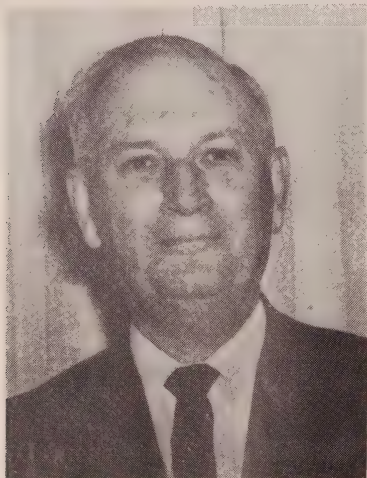

A large gathering of alumni especially in the New York, New Jersey, and New England area attended.

The alumni were addressed by Dr. Eugene A. Leatherman, President-Elect, Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, Secretary, Dr. A. James Kershaw, Jr., President of the Rhode Island Dental Society.

Paul A. Deems

"Any good that I may do or any kindness that I may show let me do it now for I shall not pass this way again."* Paul Deems was a true believer in all that this quotation implies. He was present when you wanted him, he did what needed to be done, there was never a reflection on others in case something went awry which for that matter seldom happened when Paul assumed a responsibility. The profession and many of its individual members recognized his worth and appreciated him. The wheels, of course, will continue to turn for no one is indispensable but the fact that any organization serves fully its intended purpose is a result of those who for a time are behind the wheel and do their required job with no thought of glory but for the good of all. Paul Deems epitomized that.

He was a teacher (oral pathology and orthodontics) recognized by his students as capable, fair and kind. As a private practitioner he had the public confidence as evidenced by a large and appreciative practice. When asked to collaborate in the ninth revision of the text "Practical Orthodontics" he accepted without restrictions and spent long hours researching and reviewing the literature. Such a person naturally would be a member of many organizations both active and honorary. Among the many officerships he held, the Presidency of the National Alumni Association (1947-1948) was particularly prized. He was a loyal and devoted Alumnus working diligently in recent years during the Annual Alumni meeting with the historical exhibit of our venerable but progressive institution. The Middle Atlantic Society of Orthodontists, a constituent of the American Association of Orthodontists, fortunately was able to obtain his services as Executive Secretary and though he suddenly died a few days before its 1968 annual meeting, everything was found in readiness and complete order.

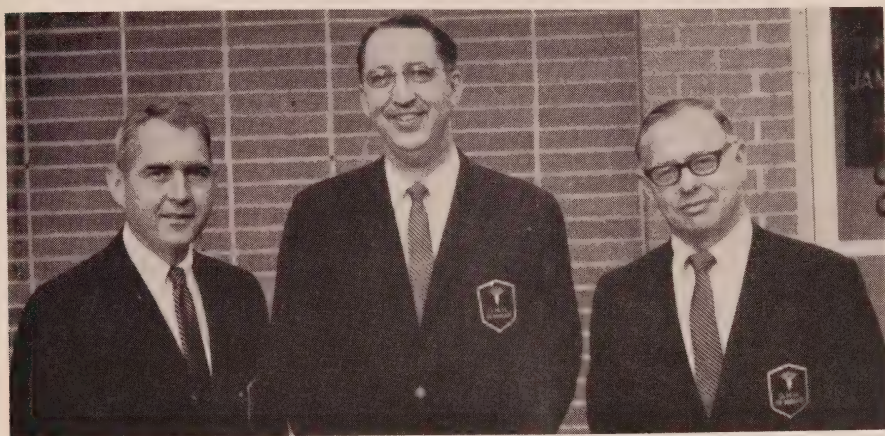

Paul Deems was ideally married for Violet shared his interests and gave him frequently much needed assistance. In fact, for so able a man, he called her "Teacher"—quite a compliment.

Paul was good and he was kind and may the rest of us be as fortunate to be able to have that said about us.

GEORGE M. ANDERSON.

An outstanding meeting of the Rhode Island section was held on Monday, January 15, 1968 at the Biltmore Hotel, Providence, Rhode Island. This meeting was held in conjunction with the annual convention of the Rhode Island Dental Society.

Approximately 75 alumni joined together to enjoy an evening of good fellowship. Dr. A. James Kershaw, Jr., President of the section, presided during the meeting.

Annual Business Meeting, June 6, 1968

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Members of the Alumni Association, it has been an honor to serve as your president in 1968. I hope that this address will be one of the shortest president's messages on record. I have purposely planned it this way, for reasons of emphasis. In the past, I have seen lists of worthy suggestions lie with no action, even though action on these points might have benefited our Association. It is my firm opinion that the basic on-going program of our Association is good and sound. I am pleased by the receptions for the students, by largely self-supporting receptions for alumni at regional dental meetings, by the change of Saturday for reunions during June Week. Since I am satisfied by these items, I intend to make only two recommendations.

1. I strongly urge the return to an administrative year beginning in June, with the June Week Installation being an actual installation. Our Association is and should be a school oriented organization. If this premise is accepted, the logical sequela is operation on a school year basis. The greatest amount of activity centers around June Week and a president should have a full year for planning these activities. He should not be in the role of president-elect until January, a scant five months prior to the focus of his presidential duties. He should have the authority to call meetings, appoint committees, and should have the right to function as a president during the school year of his term. Again, I recommend immediate action in this regard.

2. My second recommendation has to do with advance notice of those activities centering around graduation. I feel that we have been hampered by the perennial late mailings and since the dates of the June events can be determined a year in advance, it would seem that it would not be necessary to wait until late May to solicit the attendance of our members. Reunion chairmen should be appointed at least eleven months in advance and they should be instructed at the time of their appointment as to the schedule for June Week of the year in which they are to meet. The mailing of the final program should be at least a month in advance.

These are my recommendations. They are only two in number and I feel that they are critical areas of Alumni activity. I urge their adoption and subsequent action. It has been a privilege to serve and I thank those men who have served with me on the Council and as officers, trustees and committeemen.

J. PHILIP NORRIS, President

Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees
National Alumni Fund of the B.C.D.S., Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc.
June 6, 1968—9:30 A.M.

Present—Drs. Williams, Salley, Bell, Gaver, Leatherman, Cappuccio, Norris, Van Natta, Dressel.

Secretary's Report—Approved as read.

Treasurer's Report—Based on fiscal year Auditor's Report. Approved as read.

Old Business—

1. Dr. Williams, the Chairman, requested information regarding seed money for research and graduate work. Dr. Salley suggested that approximately $40,000 could be used at present for this research at the Dental School. He estimated the present support for such projects is less than one-third that amount. Dr. Salley stated that around $600 would support a student. He revealed that faculty programs limited to $5000 averaged around $2000 expenditure this year. Dr. Williams recommended further study regarding a project of this type as an Alumni activity.
2. Dr. Dressel gave a report on how the Endowment Fund works and of the disposition of income. He explained the mechanism of the Common Fund of Mercantile-Safe Deposit Trust Co. in which the Endowment Funds are invested. Dr. Dressel then read the resolution which he had made in June 1959, and which was passed, directing the Treasurer to transfer all interest accruing to the General Fund to a bank account which would be available for support of such activities or projects as would benefit the Dental School or its Students and Faculty. This transfer had never been done. Dr. Dressel, with the advice of the Accountant proposed an over-all redistribution of cash funds which would comply with the 1959 resolution for the past three years, build each award fund by amounts equivalent to their earned interest, retain $2000.00 in the checking account, retain $2000.00 in the reserve savings account, and invest the remainder in Treasury Notes or Savings Certificates.

New Business—

1. Motion by Cappuccio that the expenses of the Harris-Hayden Memorial Lecture be underwritten from the interest accrued from the equivalent of $5,000 of General Fund and that a special accounting of the transactions be kept. Seconded by Gaver. Passed.
2. Motion by Williams, seconded by Leatherman that the following cash fund redistribution proposal by Dressel be instituted. Passed.

Savings Account	2000.00
Checking Account	2000.00
General Funds Interest Account	1600.00
Reinvest in Trust Fund
General Funds	4000.00
Friedberg Fund	170.00

Editor's Report

No journal should continue with the same style and format. A dentist receives many journals which unless they are attractive and inviting get filed in "the circular file". Many are discarded without so much as a finger print except on its cover.

Many compliments were received on the last issue. This was the first time that our cover was colored (blue). Your new editor, Dr. Anthony Bravos, is young, energetic, and talented. The changes that he initiates will reflect the changing times and escalate the status of the Alma Mater. You can be sure he will receive my full support.

Too much appreciation cannot be bestowed upon those who labored rather anonymously to help your journal achieve its high status. The success of the journal is the result of the contributions of many individuals: Associate Editors—John H. Wooden, Jr. and Joseph McKechnie, Jr.; Former Associate Editor—Calvin J. Gaver; Feature Editor—Ethelbert Lovett; Assistant Editor—Anthony Bravos; Consulting Editor—Kyrle W. Preis; Advisory Board—George M. Anderson, Morton H. Hollander and José E. Medina; Advertising Manager—Edwin R. Rapp; Business Manager—David H. Heese, Jr.; Former Business Manager—Joseph P. Cappuccio. A debt of gratitude is due to Dr. Katharine Toomey and Professor Gardner P. H. Foley, who constantly supplied material for publication.

It has been my pleasure to serve this alumni association as its editor.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH H. SEIPP, JR.

Report of the Audit Committee

It is a pleasure to report that the books of the Treasurer of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland were examined on May 20, 1968 and by the firm of Martin E. Staehlin, Jr. certified public accountants and were found to be accurate and correct according to the financial statements released by the above firm.

Calvin J. Gaver, Chairman

Report of the Historian-Archivist

For many years I have endeavored to maintain the Alumni Date File in a manner that would make easily accessible information about the graduates of the School. In recent years, however, heretofore available sources have been almost completely negative in regard to the supplying of data. I have also been handicapped in this area of important historical interest by an indefinite supply of secretarial help.

I have organized also a file that contains much valuable information concerning the many facets of the history of the Baltimore dental schools. The last two numbers of the Journal of the Maryland State Dental Association have contained several footnotes on Maryland dental history that I have written. Many of these should be of special interest to the Alumni. In the next issue of the Alma Mater I shall begin a series of historical notes directly concerned with the Baltimore dental schools.

Apparently there will be no museum as a separate entity in the new School building. The various items in the present museum area will be placed in a room that is designated to be used primarily for other purposes.

Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley

Report of the Distinguished Alumnus Award Committee For 1968

The Committee is very happy to report that Dr. Saul M. Gale of Newark, New Jersey was selected as the Distinguished Alumnus for 1968.

On March 1, 1968 at the meeting of the officers and executive council Dr. Gale was officially confirmed as the recipient for this year. As Chairman of the Committee, I wish to comment that there has been very little interest shown nationally for the award. Every year the Committee has very few candidates to consider for the award.

We wish to recommend that the Committee in the future should develop a suitable form to be made out to the membership about the first of January to stimulate the nomination of worthy candidates.

Mr. President, I would suggest that the membership confirm the selection of Dr. Saul M. Gale for the 1968 Distinguished Alumnus Award.

During the early days of October 1915 a group of men from the various Eastern States of the U.S.A. together with representatives from Canada, Cuba, Puerto Rico and Hawaii gathered at the B.C.D.S. to form the Freshmen Class or the Graduating Class of 1918. There were 76 in number. It was not long before friendliness and honor prevailed among this group and our Freshmen pledged themselves to fraternities and to their future profession. In this era at the B.C.D.S. it was a three year course. In the Junior year there were 79 students and in the Senior Class 88 of which 75 were graduated. This was the Seventy-Eighth Annual Commencement Exercise of the B.C.D.S. held at Albaugh's Theatre, Tuesday, May 28th, 1918 at 8 P.M.

Of the 75 graduates in 1918 our present 1968 Roster shows 46 deceased and 29 living. Out of the 29 living, tonight we present 8 at this 50th year reunion.

Class of 1918

On Friday evening, June 7, 1968 nineteen alumni and their ladies were honored guests of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland at a reception and dinner dance at the Belvedere Hotel. At the same time Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, secretary of the Alumni Association presented fifty year certificates to those attending.

On June 4th, 1918 eighty-two graduates of the University of Maryland, Dental School were handed their diplomas at the Lyric on Mt. Royal Ave. Fifty years later almost to the day forty classmates remain. Some were unable to make the trip back to Baltimore and still a few with addresses unknown.

Two alumni and their wives came from Puerto Rico to attend the event also an alumnus and his wife came from New Brunswick, Canada. It was the first time they had seen their classmates since 1918.

It was remarkable then that nineteen were present at their fiftieth reunion.

Class of 1923

It was a happy little group that met for the 45th anniversary of its graduation from the first dental school of America. Yet, in retrospect there was an aura of sadness present.

The dinner was held atop The Roof Restaurant of the Holiday Motel and the scene was breathtaking. The sky arena rotates and makes a complete revolution every hour. The skyline of Baltimore was more interesting than ever. Even though after a little snifter, one could get a little dizzy.

The dinner was superb. We had the choice of an excellent menu. A cocktail, followed by an appetizer of choice. The Rascals "all chose shrimp cocktail." Then the main course, followed by a delicious dessert. As the Israeli would say "Kee-od, Ha-melich",—"fit for a king."

We heard from "Bones" Beerman, who is retired in California. By the way, all classmates who read this are invited to visit him in California.

With these mixed emotions, we parted, hoping that the "Great Teacher," will be good to us, and bring us together for our 50th year.

Just look at the smiles of the men and the look of happiness on the faces of their wives and you do not need words to tell that everyone had a wonderful time at the 40th reunion. The thirty-seven men who returned and the twenty-one wives enjoyed every minute of it. We met at the Holiday Inn, Friday, June 7th for cocktails, dinner, and fellowship. Class of 1933

The 35th reunion of the Class of 1933 was held on Saturday, June 8th, 1968 at the downtown Holiday Motel in Baltimore. There were 24 class members in attendance—with, of course, our beautiful, gracious and very necessary wives. There was a full day of activity—with a swim party in the early afternoon; cocktails and chit-chat at 6:30; and an outstanding program and dinner beginning at 7:30 P.M. with genial, smiling, Tony Schwarzkopf M'ing the procedures.

There were prizes galore, delightful silver mementos, dancing, short speeches and a poignant memorial service for our deceased classmates. And, of course, the pleasant occasion of again meeting with old classmates, rehashing old experiences and travails; showing of grandchildren's pictures and a modicum of justifiable exaggeration and bragging were the order of the day.

A delightful time was experienced by all and there were tearful pledges of—God willing—a return for our 40th reunion in 1973. Those in attendance were:

Class of 1938

The Class of '38 held its 30th class reunion at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. The affair was a joint affair with the wives. We had a cocktail party starting at 6:30 and a buffet dinner at 7:30. There was continuous music the entire evening.

It was a most delightful evening and I might add was sparked by the fact that we actually had more men return for their 30th reunion than we had for our 25th reunion.

Old acquaintances were renewed and many a nostalgic episode of school days was retold amid many a chuckle. We are, with the good Lord's help, looking forward to our next reunion in 1973.

Class Reunion of 1953 B.C.D.S.

Time waits for no one. It seems only yesterday, we were being awarded our D.D.S. degrees, and yet, almost overnight, 15 years got away from us. In celebration, or mourning, whichever applies, for having lived and worked away 15 years, the class of 1953 experienced two wonderful evenings of renewing old acquaintances and reminiscing of the days at B.C.D.S. The class reunion committee had numerous activities scheduled, highlighted by a cocktail party on Wednesday evening, June 5 and capped off by a Dinner-Dance on Thursday, June 6. Seventy-one attended the cocktail party and eighty-eight were present for the Dinner-Dance. These figures included the charming wives. Numerous states and Puerto Rico were represented by those present.

A large number took part in the Alumni Golf Outing at Dulaney Springs on Thursday and an even larger number visited the school, during the course of their four days in Baltimore. Many also visited in the homes of old friends, living in the Baltimore area.

Except for a few more gray hairs, or less hair, more pounds, everyone seemed pretty much the same as they did 15 years ago, as students. Needless to say everyone seemed a little more prosperous now, than then.

The Dinner-Dance had many amusing moments, not the least of which was the spectacular dancing of Bill Kidd and Bernadette Carroll. Bill has, however, graduated from dancing on the table tops and is now using the dance floor provided. Most of us, however, are not dancing as rapidly as we once did. Ha! Favors were given to all classmates present, in the form of a pair of Brandy Sniffers.

While the men played golf on Thursday, a bus tour of downtown and a tour of McCormick's Spice Co. was provided for the ladies. Many ladies also got in some time for shopping.

The Hilltop Motor Inn of Baltimore and the Meushaw's Restaurant on the premises, provided two fine evenings of pleasure for all of us.

For those who couldn't attend, we can say only one thing—we missed you and sincerely hope you can make it for our 20th.

Class of 1963

From as far away as Levittown, Puerto Rico and as near as Baltimore, forty-five members of the class of 1963 with their lovely wives, reunited to celebrate the five year reunion.

The setting for the renewal of "old" acquaintances was the Baltimore Country Club. After a few cocktails, intermingling and reminiscing, dinner was served.

After dinner, each class member told of his present location and occupation . . . "I'm Earl Klioze, I'm practicing Oral Surgery and I have two patients . . . one of them is my mother!"

It was very gratifying to know that many of the class are doing well and all are eating regularly.

Although we had hoped to have Dr. Myron Aisenberg as our special guest, a previous commitment prevented him from attending; Stu Landsman's presence, however, eased our disappointment.

We were particularly happy to see both of our former Class Presidents—Don Yent from California and Paul Ladd from Florida—in attendance.

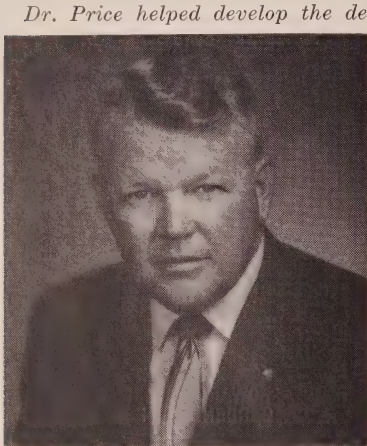

Special thanks are due to Dave Bimestefer who was such a great help in arranging the affair.

After spending a pleasant evening in the company of dear friends, we departed to the refrain of "See you in five years!"

Editorial Comments

Each year our association has shown growth, new ideas and a bigger step forward. This past year was no exception. The Alumni Association, for the first time since I can remember, has elected as its president someone from a great distance from the Maryland area. The election of Meyer Eggatz is one such example of a bigger step forward, because his representation from another part of the country helped to strengthen our operational base on the national level. This past year we had the largest number of dues paying members. More importantly we had active participation from an even greater representation. Recent graduates are being involved in many of the organizational areas. It is hoped by this Editor that such participation of younger graduates will continue to be encouraged.

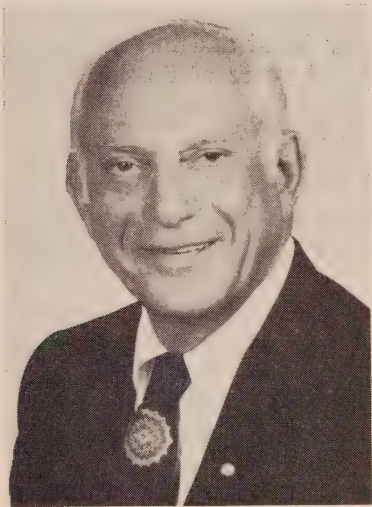

Several changes have taken place in the June Week activities. One such change in the reunion format is worth noting. For several years many of our members have suggested that the individual reunion parties be consolidated into one large banquet party with each class to have its own pre-banquet activities. This suggestion of a consolidated banquet has stirred some unrest particularly among some of the older class reunions. The more recent graduates are not as involved in this controversy since their reunion format has not been established as that much of a precedent. This year's President has specifically requested that the new reunion format be tried under his administration. It is felt that this new change will be met with a great deal of approval. If, however, the majority of membership is opposed to the new format we can always go back to the precedented method.

I also want to take this opportunity to acknowledge my appreciation to those members who have contributed to this issue—Malcolm Renbaum, Gardner Foley, Joe Cappuccio, Joe Seipp, and Bob Swinehart. Much hard work goes into the production of the Alma Mater and the effort of these men is greatly appreciated. This is an appropriate opportunity to invite any member who would like to serve his association to join the staff of the Alma Mater. Your help and suggestions will also be appreciated.

Anthony Bravos

President's Message

It is my happy privilege, as your President, to extend cordial greetings to the membership of the National Alumni Association. The honor and opportunity to serve in this high office carries with it also the responsibility of service to the Alumni Association and the University which it represents.

We are on the threshold of dedicating the new Dental School facility to be known as Harris-Hayden Hall and the Alumni Association can be justly proud of the names of these two illustrious members of the Dental Profession who shall be ever remembered for their influence on Dental Education.

A joint Alumni Association and Faculty Committee has been appointed and are hard at work on the arrangements for this dedication which will be held in March 1971 as a joint meeting with our Tri-Annual meeting of the Alumni Association. This meeting will rank with the many outstanding meetings held in the City of Baltimore, the City of Birth of the Dental Profession of the world. I trust that all Alumni will begin to make plans to attend this occasion.

Our Alumni Association will be called upon to participate in all phases of this meeting and will want to share in every way including financial matters attendant upon this occasion. I urge each member to join with your Committee, Executive Board and Officers in helping in every way to make this dedication a credit to the Dental School and the Alumni Association.

I trust that I will be having the opportunity to meet with many of you during the course of this coming year. Many sectional meetings are being planned and wherever possible I hope to be in attendance.

MEYER EGGNATZ

B.C.D.S. NOTES

GARDNER P. H. FOLEY

Responding to the invitation of the editor of the Alma Mater to write a series of Notes concerning the past and present of the dental schools of Baltimore, I shall attempt to include in the framework of the project items that will be not only informative but also interesting to the Alumni readers. Most of the Notes will be based on materials from the files that I have accumulated during my long association with the B.C.D.S., as your alma mater was originally titled and has continued to be familiarly named during the almost 130 years of its nobly contributive existence.

For many logical reasons the majority of the clinical members of the faculty were, over a period of 125 years, graduates of the School to which they were linked directly, or indirectly by amalgamation. There were many explanations given for this strong tendency towards inbreeding in recruiting faculty members. The most obvious was the fact that the generally unattractive salaries offered placed a premium on loyalty and dedication to the interests of the alma mater. Supplementary to the basic appeal were residential and practice proximity, an altruistic interest in teaching the art and science of dentistry, and the incremental advantage to one's professional status.

The critics of the inbreeding propensity of the B.C.D.S. have usually failed to analyze accurately the causes that have been responsible for nurturing the situation.

Looking back over 41 years and especially taking a good look at the last 5 years, I have concluded that inbreeding does have its faults and that graduates of other dental schools should constitute a sizeable segment of the faculty. However, it is a very serious error in judgment to overlook the advantages accruing from employing alumni as members of the faculty of their own school. The alumni teachers are naturally more interested in maintaining good standards of instruction and in preparing the students for success in the various state board examinations. The alumni faculty members have demonstrated also that they are likely to be more generous with their time and are far less likely to be concerned with offers from other schools. Statistics have shown that there is a favorable relation between the percentage of faculty inbreeding and the percentage of a school's scoring on state board examinations.

Certainly let us have recruiting of faculty members from other schools, but let us not be blind to the superior dividends to be derived from the careful selection and culturing of a strong phalanx of alumni members.

That the B.C.D.S. was once a source of strongly motivated opposition to the use of amalgam is evidenced by the 1881 recollection of Dr. J. Washington Clowes (1821-1900). The last surviving member of the first entering class, Clowes did not return for his second year. Because of his reputation as a skillful practitioner in New London, Conn., he was awarded an honorary degree in 1846.

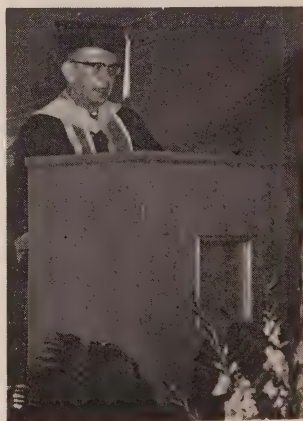

Forty-one years ago, Amalgam, as a filling for teeth, was brought to my notice. It was spoken of by Doctor [Chapin A.] Harris, of Baltimore, in most uncomplimentary language. By him the initial class of the first Dental College in the world was taught that it was poisonous; they were admonished to abjure and refrain from it in their various fields of labor, denouncing its users and condemning its use. In my office, during the first year of professional practice, poison, salivation, galvanic action, charlatan, quack, humbug, impostor, were words of frequent utterance, and the mere sight of an amalgam plug in a patient's mouth would excite my indignation, and arouse within me the spirit of antagonism and warning.

From this testimony it is evident that the B.C.D.S. students were among the early enlistees in the Amalgam War that eventually led to the demise of the American Society of Dental Surgeons in 1856. The experience of Dr. Clowes was representative of the early aggressive inhospitality given to amalgam, but his eventual advocacy of the material reflected the profession's change from its loosely conceived intolerance to its firmly based appreciation of a material that has proved itself to be a great benefaction to the profession.

NOTE

The Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1970 will be conferred upon Dr. A. James Kershaw on Saturday, June 6, 1970 at the Reunion Banquet to be held at the Belvedere Hotel.

Pre-commencement Exercises

June Week, 1969

The June Week Program was a great success except for the cancelling of the stage show at the new Morris Mechanic Theater on Thursday night.

The program began on Thursday morning with the annual business meeting, followed by an afternoon of registered clinics. The evening was started with a cocktail party at the new Statler Hilton Hotel. However, the cancellation of the show "Yum-Yum Tree" dampened our spirits somewhat, but it did give the returning alumni an opportunity to explore the "New Baltimore".

Honors Convocation

The Honors Convocation on Friday was overflowing with friends, relatives and well-wishers. Good weather prevailed and the program concluded just as the temperature inside the huge tent was reaching the "melting point".

President's Reception

The President's Reception was well attended Friday evening. Attendance kept rising during the evening as many golfers continued to appear after an exciting day at Dulaney Springs Golf Course. The evening was climaxed with the installation of officers and the presentation of the Distinguished Alumnus, Dr. F. Noel Smith.

Golf

This is the report of our golf tournament held by the Alumni Association of the Dental School on Friday of June Week at the Dulaney Springs Golf Club. We had a total of fifty-two players this year. Forty-nine were Alumni, two were students and one guest. It was a warm, sunny day, good for golf because a breeze kept it from being too hot. We had more players in water hazards than expected because of that errant breeze.

The major awards were dominated by two men who were here for their ten year reunion. Dr. Larry Frick, Class of '59, won the Low Gross prize with a fine score of seventy-four. Second Low Gross was awarded to W. R. Owen with a score of seventy-seven and the third Low Gross prize went to Al Lazauskas whose score was seventy-eight. The Low Net prize was taken by Chester Richmond, Class of '59, with a score of seventy. Second Low Net was won by Harry Kohlhepp, who had a score of seventy-one. Len McGill was awarded third Low Net with his score of seventy-two. There were several ties which were broken by play offs on the score card.

In the undergraduate division, P. Maroshek, was the low student with a gross score of seventy-two, which was actually the best tally of the tournament. The Student Net Award was given to W. Hill. Both these awards were equal to the major Alumni prizes. Frank Dolle was given a special prize of six golf balls for having the highest score of the day.

A total of thirty-six prizes were awarded, thirty-three to various Alumni, two to students and one to a guest. Net prizes were figured on a standard Calloway system. This means more than $\frac{1}{2}$ of the field won prizes, suggesting more Alumni and seniors should participate in this fine program of June Week.

To help time pass more enjoyably for those players who finished early, there was a beer party held from 3 to 5:30 at which time prizes were awarded by co-chairmen, Harry Kohlhepp and Jack Phillips.

Those of our Alumni who attended the Hinman Meeting in 1970 at the Atlanta Marriott Motel and others who were in our area were cordially invited and attended the luncheon on Tuesday, March 24, 1970.

Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D. C.

Monday, April 14, 1969

A very enjoyable reception of alumni and friends was held on Monday, April 14, 1969 on the Veranda of the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D. C. Approximately 100 alumni and friends attended the reception. Included in the guests that attended the affair were: Dr. and Mrs. Louis A. Saporito, Trustee 4th District of the American Dental Association, Rear Admiral Alfred W. Chandler, Retired, Dr. James J. Connors, President, District of Columbia Dental Society, Dr. Joseph R. Salcetti, Secretary, District of Columbia Dental Society. There were many officers and members of the Board of the parent organization in attendance. It would be impossible to mention them all. Dr. Meyer Eggnatz, President-elect of the Association came up from Miami Beach, Florida to attend.

The alumni and guests were welcomed by Dr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Leatherman, President. The Association is very fortunate to have one of its illustrious alumni serving as President of the D. C. Dental Society this coming year, Dr. Ashur G. Chavoor. As you know Dr. Chavoor recently served as president of our Association.

Our alumni are already looking forward to next year's reception to be held in conjunction with the very popular Spring meeting, D. C. Postgraduate Clinic meeting at the Shoreham Hotel.

The Association owes a debt of gratitude to Dr. Chavoor for local arrangements.

ALUMNI RECEPTION

Florida State Dental Society Convention

Diplomat Hotel, Hollywood-By-The-Sea

Hollywood, Florida

A most successful Alumni Reception was held on Monday, May 19, 1969 at the very beautiful Diplomat Hotel, Hollywood-By-The-Sea, Hollywood, Florida. This affair was held in conjunction with the Florida State Dental Society Convention just prior to the Annual Dinner Dance of the Convention.

Approximately 75 loyal alumni and their friends attended this first reception of our alumni.

This affair marks the second venture of our alumni during the Florida State Dental Society Convention. A great deal of the credit and accolades for the success of this affair is through the very untiring efforts of Dr. Paul V. Ladd of Miami Beach, Florida. In the past two years, he has worked diligently toward the realization of an official Florida Dental Alumni Section. Dr. Ladd received moral support from our President-elect, Dr. Meyer Eggnatz of Miami Beach, Florida.

This affair was also honored with the presence of two national officers, Dr. Eugene A. Leatherman, President and Dr. Leon Seligman, member of the Executive Council. Both Drs. Leatherman and Seligman were very much impressed with the Alumni Reception, and they both predict that this affair will grow with each year. The Alumni Association is looking forward to much activity from the Florida area because of the interest of Dr. Meyer Eggnatz, President-elect. The Alumni Association congratulates Dr. Ladd, Dr. Eggnatz and our Florida Alumni for their wonderful effort.

Cape Cod, Massachusetts

June 15-19, 1969

Dr. A. James Kershaw, a fellow alumnus, served as program chairman for the meeting. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Northeastern Dental Society.

ALUMNI RECEPTION

A.D.A. Convention

Waldorf Astoria

Tuesday, October 14, 1969

A rather successful Alumni Reception of our graduates was held in the Waldorf Astoria on Tuesday, October 14, 1969. Unfortunately, the attendance was not what we expected for such a national meeting. It appears that costs in New York City had some effect on the attendance.

The Alumni were greeted by the President, Dr. Meyer Eggatz and Mrs. Eggatz. A good time was had by all and we are looking forward to a large turnout in Las Vegas in 1970.

I must report that the affair was a success, and it is our plan to repeat this type of function in December, 1970. It is our hope that this affair held during the Greater New York Dental Meeting will grow over the years.

Dr. Preis Retires As Professor of Orthodontics

It has been announced that Dr. Kyrle W. Preis has retired from the post of Professor of Orthodontics and that, with the approval of the Board of Regents, he has been designated as Professor Emeritus by Dr. Wilson A. Elkins, President of the University of Maryland.

Dr. Preis is a graduate of Calvert Hall College and the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, graduating in 1929. Thereupon he began a five year association with Dr. Harry E. Kelsey, a pioneer Baltimore orthodontist. He was appointed Instructor of Orthodontics in the Dental School in 1930, and also was made a member of the Dental Staff of Johns Hopkins Hospital. During World War II, he was not a Faculty member, but he returned in 1949 to accept the Professorship of the Department of Orthodontics and has remained in this position until the present time.

He was appointed to the Maryland State Board of Dental Examiners in 1944, acting as its President in 1948.

He has served as President of the Baltimore City Dental Society, of Omicron Kappa Upsilon Honorary Society, the Maryland State Dental Association, and the Middle Atlantic Society of Orthodontists.

In 1957, he became Editor of the Alumni Association's journal and published the first "Alma Mater". In 1967, he was elected Editor of the Baltimore City Dental Society's "Newsletter".

He is a Fellow of the American College of Dentists, the International College of Dentists, a member of the International Academy of Medicine and Dentistry, and the Federation Dentaire Internationale. He was also elected to membership in the New York Academy of Dentistry. In addition, he was the 1959 recipient of the Distinguished Alumnus Award in Rhode Island.

He has published numerous scientific papers and has been a frequent lecturer and clinician before national, state and local dental and medical societies, hospital staffs, and in elementary and secondary school and collegiate health programs. He has been especially interested in the investigation of persistent abnormal oral pressure habits, and has presented a motion picture study, "Habits in Action" before the American Dental Society of Europe in Paris and also in London, as well as before various dental organizations in this country.

He is continuing his active professional life in private practice and in acting as consultant to the U. S. Public Health Hospital and the Baltimore City hospitals.

He and his wife (Nee. Bessie Reid) are proud of their brood of thirteen, one of whom is now a practicing orthodontist. The grandchild count has been conjectured, but verification is presently a non-military secret, subject to the 1970 Census.

A TESTIMONIAL TO GARDNER P. H. FOLEY

by J. BEN ROBINSON

Prof. Foley was born in Gloucester, Massachusetts. He studied at Clark University, Worcester, Massachusetts, where he earned the bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees.

He began his teaching career in 1925 at the University of Tennessee. He then went into the state of Mississippi where he taught at its University for two years, 1926-28. He came in 1928 to Maryland.

The belief has long been held by educators that the qualitative results achieved by a teacher may be judged only by the success later attained by his students in their effective use of the knowledge they acquired under his guidance. If this is a reliable criterion, the beneficial results of Prof. Foley's years of teaching as these results have been reflected in the eventual performance of his students indicate clearly that he has proved himself to be an excellent teacher.

It is estimated that during his 41 years at the College he gave instruction to approximately 3,000 students who later entered the dental profession.

One of the more spectacular improvements made in upgrading the educational program at the College was the planning and development of an excellent dental library which began in 1926. Prof. Foley's work began at the College soon after the dental library movement was started. He took a keen interest in its development and cooperated with those in charge of it whenever and wherever his experience could be helpful. It was common knowledge that students from his classes made greater use of the library than those from other departments or divisions in the College. His primary purpose was to influence them to develop reading and study habits that would serve them best in their need for continuing education.

In 1941, Prof. Foley was made Assistant Professor of Dental History; in 1949, he was promoted to the rank of Associate Professor; in 1951 he was made a full professor; and in 1953, at my retirement, he assumed full responsibility for the course. The respect that teachers of dental history have for him, the high esteem in which he is held by dental historians, and the splendid achievements of his students over the 16 years he directed the course in dental history, testify to the worth of his accomplishments.

Prof. Foley's extra-curricular activities during his career at the College were many and varied. Among them was his early assignment to take charge of dental school publications.

The Journal of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was founded in 1938. Prof. Foley was its associate editor from 1938 to 1941, and its editor from 1941 to 1964.

He was the faculty adviser for 30 years to the editorial staff of the Mirror, the College annual, and was the faculty adviser for 14 years to an earlier student organization—the student senate.

Prof. Foley has always taken a keen and active interest in the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery and has enthusiastically supported its many activities, particularly its special events. In so doing, he made certain contributions of extraordinary importance to the Association and to the history of the College.

One of his contributions was the completion of a file of all the graduates of all the dental schools that have at various times been active in Baltimore, namely, The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery; The Maryland Dental College; The Dental Department, University of Maryland; and the Dental Department, Baltimore Medical College. The completed list includes the records of over 8,000 alumni.

Another important service he rendered the association was in connection with the celebration of the 125th anniversary of the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery which is still fresh in your memory. Prof. Foley actively assisted in preparing plans for the celebration, and when it was concluded, he assumed the responsibility for publishing the proceedings, having edited the first part and having written the second part.

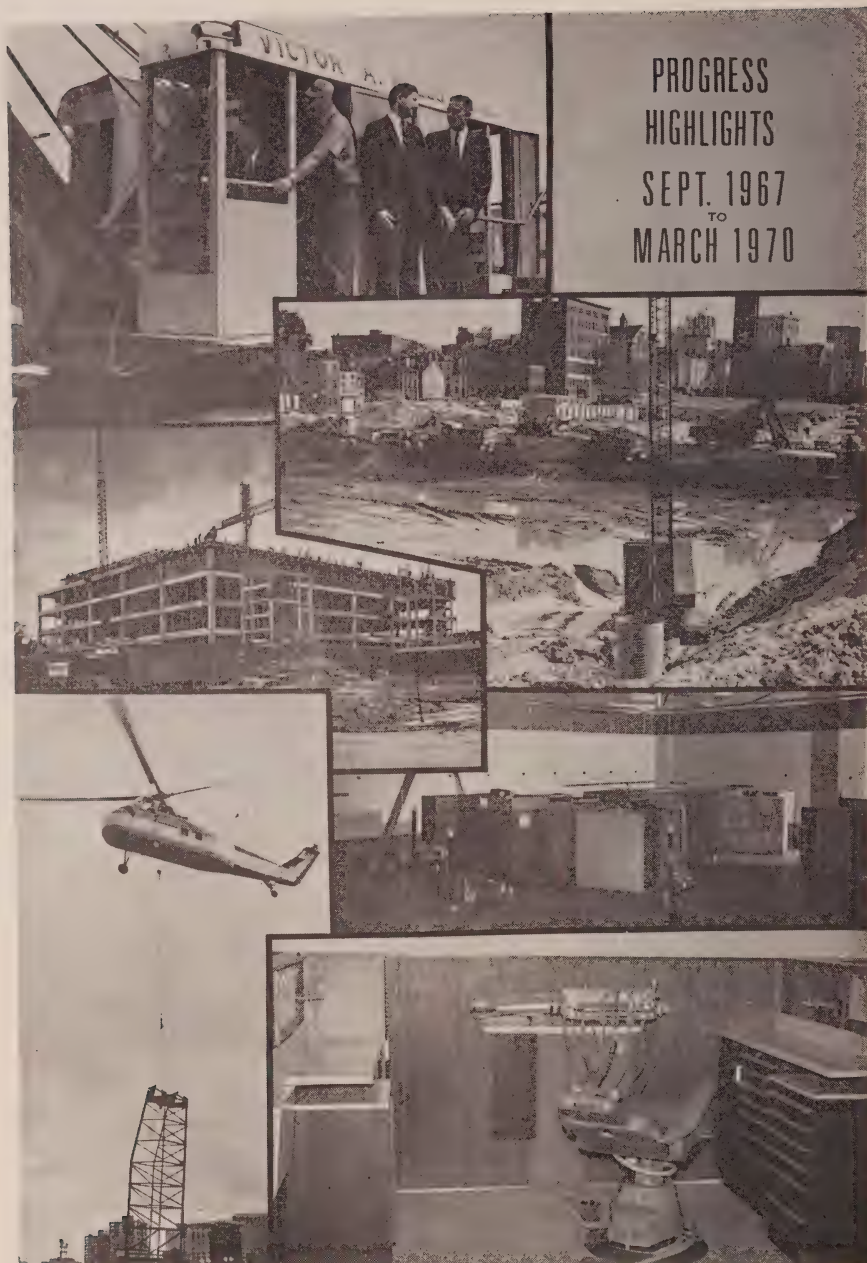

Prof. Foley was one of the founders of the American Academy of the History of Dentistry in which he is now a highly esteemed leader. Prof. Foley bears the distinction of having prepared a first draft of a constitution for the Academy.

Our guest of honor is a non-dentist. But he is a dedicated dentist at heart who has done everything within his power to advance dentistry's cause, to brighten its image, and to improve its services to society. For these things, we as alumni owe him much. And for these things he has been recognized by dental leaders and by dental organizations and has been honored numerous times by a grateful profession.

Among the national honors that have come to him was his election as a Fellow of the American College of Dentists—an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-dentist, and an honor seldom conferred upon one more worthy.

There were those in 1923 who rescued the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery from a sea of despair, who resuscitated it, who nourished it, and who sent it firmly along the road toward the present day so that this generation could happily do for the old College what it has so long and so richly deserved. The teachers of that day and the teachers during the years which lie between have, through their unceasing toil and devotion, placed bricks in the present, fine new home for the College.

And as you visit the present scene, and as you look with pride and joy upon this fine new building, you will see, at least in your mind's eye, bricks that were placed there by the patient hand of Prof. Gardner P. H. Foley.

A COOPERATIVE EFFORT IN DENTAL AUXILIARY TRAINING

The problem of solving the dental manpower shortage has created greater emphasis on the recruitment and training of auxiliary personnel.

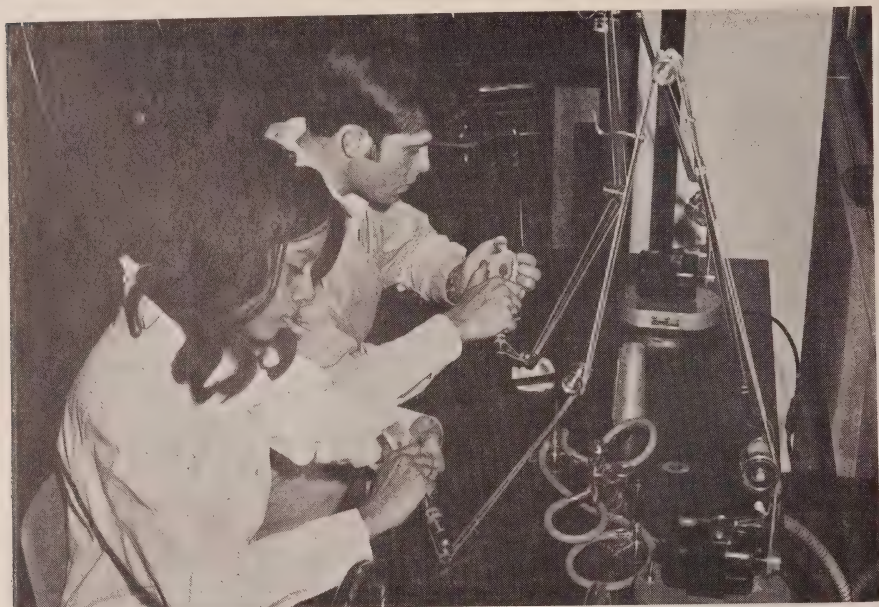

In May 1968, representatives of the Dental School, University of Maryland, Baltimore City Dental Society, Maryland State Dental Association and Community College of Baltimore met to finalize curricula in dental assisting and dental technology with the hope that these programs would eventually help alleviate the manpower shortage in the Metropolitan Baltimore area.

In June 1968 Dr. Harry W. F. Dressel, graduate of the class of 1945 of the Dental School, was named Head of the Department of Dental Auxiliaries and given the task of planning the facilities, selecting the equipment, securing the faculty, and writing the course syllabi. With the appointment of Mr. Ralph Steele C.D.T. as Assistant Professor of Dental Technology and Mrs. Barbara Eburg C.D.A. as Dental Assisting Instructor, the courses were developed to their very complete and informational sources of instructional material.

Complete commitment of all resources of the Community College of Baltimore by its President, Dr. Harry Bard, and the excellent support of the programs by Dr. John Salley, Dean of the Dental School, University of Maryland, have contributed to the successful progress of these programs. Many of the faculty members of the Dental School participate in the lectures to the assisting and technology students. The greater part of the training practicum in both the dental assisting and dental technology programs is conducted at the Dental School through the cooperative efforts of the faculty of both schools via a format established by Dr. Charles Bard, Dr. Wilbur Ramsey and Dr. Harry Dressel. Limited experience in private office and hospital dental assisting is also offered.

The dental assisting curriculum allows a student to take a 35 week Certificate Program or continue for a total of 2 years and receive an Associate in Arts Degree. Evening courses toward certification were begun in September 1969 to accommodate employed assistants.

The Community College of Baltimore will start a 2-year dental hygiene program in September 1970 to complement the 4-year program being offered at the Dental School.

Although there were only 27 alumnists from a class of 103, 22 having died, who returned for the fortieth reunion of the Class of 1929, at the Belvedere Hotel, what they lacked in numbers was compensated for by the vim, vigor and vitality that belied their advancing years.

Following cocktails and dinner, and a tribute to those who have passed away, recalling old memories and basking in the reflected glory of their children, we were joined by ten of the wives for an evening of music, song and congeniality that made the time seem all too short; so much so that a suggestion that we convene before another five years passes by while we could still swing a little, was approved.

The Class of 1934 held its 35th Reunion at the Belvedere Hotel under the capable leadership of our Chairman, Dr. Jesse Trager.

Twenty-four classmates and their wives travelled from far and wide to attend this celebration. States represented were Maryland, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, North Carolina, California and Puerto Rico.

Although small in number the Class of '34 raised a thousand dollars ($1,000.00) to furnish a room in the New Dental School in memory of our Honorary Class President, Dr. Paul A. Deems.

Dean John Salley accepted the check on behalf of the Dental School and presented a miniature Bronze Plaque to Mrs. Paul Deems who graciously accepted and thanked her husband's former students for their thoughtfulness and kindness. The original plaque will be installed and unveiled at the opening of the New Dental School.

Mr. Gardner Foley and his wife were honored guests. He was the only remaining faculty member who taught us.

It is with a heavy heart that we, the Class of '34, learned of the demise of our perpetual and beloved Chairman, Dr. Jesse Trager. He will always be remembered for his humor, friendliness, his willingness to help others, his great oratorical ability and excellent delivery of the art of Master of Ceremoning. The Class of '34 salutes you, Jesse. Our loss is great.

Class of 1939

On Saturday, June 7, 1969, the Class of '39, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, University of Maryland held its 30th reunion at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. Twenty-three of us, with our ladies, enjoyed the cocktail party which preceded our dinner in the Embassy Room. Ed Stinebert acted as Master of Ceremonies and read letters and telegrams from some of our classmates who could not attend, but were with us in spirit.

The musicians soon discovered that we were more enthusiastic singers than swingers and so encouraged our sing-along efforts. Engraved silver silent butlers were distributed as practical remembrances of this excellent 30th reunion. The party adjourned to our hospitality rooms for more refreshments and reminiscence. Reluctantly, as our age began to belie our endurance, the class bade adieu and au revoir.

The Class of 1954 held its reunion the first week in June 1969 at the Holiday Inn Downtown in Baltimore. We had made arrangements for fifty classmates and wives but thirty-five attended.

A golf outing was held at The Green Spring Valley Country Club with Fred White, Lennie McGill and Frank Barnard winning the trophies.

A dinner-dance was held Saturday night at the Holiday Inn and was enjoyed by all.

We discovered certain mistakes that your committee had made in arranging this affair which we hope to rectify for the next reunion. Your committee apologizes for these mistakes and would like to assure you that the 20th reunion should be the best ever.

Class of 1959

On Saturday, June 7, 1969 at the Holiday Inn Downtown, thirty-three stalwart members of the Class of 1959 met for a tenth Anniversary reunion. Cocktails helped "melt the ice" and once everyone got used to 1) longer hair, 2) shorter hair or 3) less hair there was much table visiting and general conversation. Dinner served buffet style followed by dancing brought the affair to a close. For the interest of those who couldn't attend, the conversation centered mainly in three areas . . . kids, golf and, what else? . . . dentistry. Times have changed.

The fifth reunion of the Class of 1964 was enjoyed by all present at the dinner party and dance held at the Holiday Inn-Downtown in Baltimore. Classmates from as far as Michigan, Florida, and New England joined with area graduates to celebrate the rapid passing of five years.

After two hours of cocktails and associated chit-chat, the group was served a delightful full-course dinner followed by a short informal program. The mainstay of the program was a re-run of the film depicting life at the dental school which was produced for the original Student-Faculty Skit Night. Following these hilarious remembrances, we joined the 10th reunion via a sliding wall and turned the entire ballroom into a spacious dance floor to cap off a most memorable evening.

The reunion committee wishes good luck and good health to all our class members and looks forward to future friendships and associations.

JOHN F. PATTERSON, D.D.S.

Class of 1923, University of Maryland

Ten of the 22 remaining members of the Class of 1923 together with their wives gathered at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel on Saturday, June 8. Cocktails were served from 6-7 P.M., followed by dinner.

Guests present were Dr. J. Ben Robinson, Dr. Katharine Toomey and Miss Susan Hoffman, sister-in-law of Perry. Ashby's wife was unable to attend.

After dinner a long distance call was made to Dallas, Texas to Dean and Mrs. H. B. McCarthy who were unable to attend. All present took a turn at the talk fest.

Those faithful members present were Adair, Ashby, Brown, Cook, Coward, Karn, Kiser, Nimocks, Perry and Silberman.

W. V. ADAIR, Chairman.

Editor's correction: This reunion was to have been in last year's issue of the Alma Mater.

IMPORTANT

As an innovation, approved by the Executive Board, Five Year Reunions will be held in conjunction with the General Reunion. Reunions as planned in the past will not be held this year under that format. Instead the reunions will all be held as a part of the Alumni Banquet on Saturday, June 6, 1970. Individual classes will be seated under their own standard (year of graduation) at the alumni banquet. It is our hope that this change will meet with your approval and that we will receive your fullest cooperation. Please contact your chairman for details.

President's Report to Annual Business Meeting June 5, 1969

My fellow alumnus; it has indeed been an honor and privilege to have served as your President this past year. My close association with your organization over the past ten years and more particularly this past one, enables me to say that our alumni association is firmly entrenched. Probably the most financially and numerically supported alumni association within the university complex is our dental alumni. You can be proud of the strong heritage which your association now enjoys.

During my term I have had the opportunity to travel to some of the sectional meetings as well as to some new alumni gatherings. This has been in keeping with our policy of having representatives from our parent organization meet with the constituent sectional groups. I have enjoyed this opportunity of renewing many old friendships as well as meeting many new loyal alumni. I do feel that representation is most effective when a perennial officer of widespread prominence such as the Secretary, is also included in the attendance of these meetings.

I am happy to report that the financial structure of our association is on firm ground. It became necessary to increase the dues at last year's annual business meeting in order that your association could meet the ever increasing costs of inflation such as printing, secretarial assistance, etc. This dues increase has not hampered our total membership and has been most successful in raising the necessary funds to meet our fiscal requirements. I do feel that annual fiscal studies should be made to meet the fluctuating status of our association and I shall make a recommendation on this matter later in my report.

An area of great concern to our association this past year was the National Alumni Association Senior Thesis Medal. It was brought to our attention through several students and faculty members, including Professor Foley, that major changes were instituted in the senior thesis program, which was an integral part of the dental school curriculum for many years. The major changes were of such a nature that the thesis program did not measure up to the past high level of standards for which your award was originally created. The officers and executive council after consideration of the facts decided to discontinue the awarding of the National Alumni Association Senior Thesis Medal. However, the executive council is most anxious to see this program restored to its original status so that this award which your association so highly regards, may once again be presented.

At the direction of the executive council I have appointed a special Liaison Committee to the Dental School to discuss many matters of importance to the future of our association and the school. At present I can report to you that the size of the alumni office in the new dental school will be approximately 11 feet by 11 feet in dimension. Surely this is a wholly inadequate space to house the office of our association. Furthermore, we are in hope that the museum in the present dental school, which is one of the most complete in any school, will be adequately provided for in the new dental school. It is the hope of your executive council and many concerned alumni that the memorabilia which Dr. J. Ben Robinson, as a great dental educator and dental historian, has contributed and is now on display in the dental school, will be suitably placed in the new dental school. As of the moment I cannot positively report to you that the past great heritage of your Alma Mater will be adequately preserved both in space and location in the new dental school.

It is with all the foregoing remarks that I would like to make the following recommendations:

- 1) At least one representative of the parent organization be sent to constituent meetings with strong consideration being given to including the Secretary in the visitation team.
- 2) A finance committee of five men shall be appointed by the President each year consisting of the Secretary, Treasurer, and Editor; none of whom shall serve as Chairman, and two other members. Their function shall be to survey the financial aspect of the association and make recommendations to the executive council for final implementation by the Budget Committee.
- 3) The National Alumni Association Senior Thesis Medal should not be presented in the future until such time as the officers and executive council have evidence of the restoration of the thesis program to the high level of standards for which the award was originally intended.
- 4) The incoming President should allow the special Liaison Committee to the Dental School, which I have just appointed, to continue to function. This committee has been directed to look into matters of an Alumni Office in the new dental school, the museum and the housing of the memorabilia of Dr. J. Ben Robinson along with other matters of concern to the Alumni Association.

These recommendations are vital to our association and I urge the incoming administration to give serious consideration toward effecting their implementation.

It is my hope that whatever contribution I may have made to the Alumni Association in the past year will make for a stronger and more successful association in the future. As I finish my tenure as President, I will have the pleasure of serving on the council for one more year and I shall continue to work for the welfare of our association in whatever capacity I am called upon to serve. I wish to express my sincere thanks and pay high tribute to the officers, executive council members, trustees, committee chairmen, and their respective committee members who have so diligently and loyally served with me in leading your association during the past year. Again may I express my humble gratitude to you for allowing me to serve as President.

EUGENE A. LEATHERMAN, President

Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees National Alumni Fund of the B.C.D.S., Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc.

JUNE 5, 1969

Call to order: 9:30 A.M.

Present—Drs. Williams, Salley, Bell, Gaver, Norris, Leatherman, Cappuccio, Dressel

Secretary's Report—Approved as read.

Treasurer's Report—Based on Fiscal year Auditor's Report. Approved as read.

Old Business—

1. Dr. Williams reported on the project to offer scholarships or research funds to the Dental School. Investigation during the year showed that research funds and scholarships as such were already abundant and perhaps even too costly. It was suggested by Dr. Salley that seed money for research would be very helpful to the school and that $600.00 would be adequate for each project. Dr. Williams suggested that perhaps the support money could come from the cash flow of the Endowment Fund treasury. Dr. Dressel confirmed that this was possible. Dr. Cappuccio moved, Dr. Bell seconded that $600 would be granted to the Dental School for research seed money for one fellowship student for 1969-70. Passed.

New Business—

1. Nominations were made to replace Dr. Williams as Chairman and Dr. Dressel as Secretary-Treasurer of the Trustees. The following were nominated and elected unanimously:
 Dr. Harry Dressel: Chairman
 Dr. Donald Hobbs: Secretary-Treasurer
2. Dr. Cappuccio made the recommendation that the books be audited as of June 30, 1969 to effect the change of Treasurer and to correspond with the Association year.
 Seconded by Dr. Leatherman. Passed.
3. Motion to adjourn Leatherman, seconded Hobbs. Passed.

Editor's Report

Since the change of the publication date of the Alma Mater from Fall to Spring we have had encouraging comments that this new scheduling fits better into the activities calendar of the Alumni Association.

As editor of the Alma Mater I am willing to go along with the Committee's suggestion that the Alma Mater be mailed only to dues paying members. However, I feel that if the effect of communicating with all our alumni is lost, we should give some serious thought to reconsidering the restoration of circulation to all new alumni. The restriction of circulation was done to help balance the budget. Only time will show the wisdom of this restriction.

We can not express too much appreciation to those who have helped to make your journal achieve its high status. The success of the journal is the result of many individuals' efforts: Associate Editor—Ethelbert Lovett; Feature Editor—Gardner H. Foley; Consulting Editor—Joseph H. Seipp, Jr.; Advisory Board—George M. Anderson, Morton H. Hollander, Kyrle W. Preis; Business Manager—Malcolm S. Renbaum. A debt of gratitude is due to Dr. J. Ben Robinson and Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio who constantly supplied material for publication.

ANTHONY BRAVOS, Editor

Report of the Meeting of the Finance Committee of the Alumni Association of the B.C.D.S. Dental School, U. of Md. April 9, 1969

This special committee was charged with submitting recommendations regarding:

- a) dues of post-graduate students
 - b) dues of married alumni, i.e., both husband and wife members of the association
 - c) any other recommendations which would favorably affect the finances of the association
1. The committee recommends that bonafide graduate student, listed in the A.D.A. directory, be charged $5.00 annual dues.
 2. Married couples, both of whom are dentists should pay dues equivalent to that of one member. Care should be taken that the mailings in such instances, not be duplicated.
 3. A discussion followed considering the feasibility of sending the Journal to dues paying members only. The editor, Dr. Bravos, estimates savings of $1000-$1200. The committee therefore concluded that the association be so advised, but that any newsletters be sent to all members.
 4. An estimate of the elimination of the Preliminary June Week Program was several hundred dollars. The committee earnestly suggests that this preliminary program be discontinued.
 5. Anticipating a newsletter in the near future, which publication would present current news. The committee recommends the establishment of the office of 3rd Vice President whose major function be that of correspondent.
 6. Since most organizations have a deadline date for dues, the committee feels that the association should do the same, incorporating said ruling into the by-laws.
 7. The committee suggests that the budget committee consider instituting the establishment of a Sectional Contingency Fund of $500.00. The general contingency fund could be reduced substantially if this new category is made.
 8. The committee recommends that in lieu of increased costs, the President's and Secretary's Contingency Funds be increased from $250.00 to $500.00. All expenditures charged against any contingency fund be itemized and sent to the treasurer immediately after the expenses are incurred.

Report of the Historian-Archivist

The academic year of 1969-1970 will be an exceptionally important year as regards the interests and the affairs of the Alumni Association. During that period the School will vacate the presently occupied building, which it has tenanted for over forty years, and move into its new building. Several important Alumni concerns related to the new building will be presented for information and discussion during this annual meeting of the Association. Of especially pressing importance are the future of the Museum and the provision of office space for the administration of the Alumni Association's affairs.

It is regrettable that two traditional subjects of the School's curriculum have been or are about to be eliminated: the Thesis and Dental History. The Thesis, which has been a senior requirement for over 125 years, has been deceptively replaced by a grossly inferior assignment which masquerades under the misnomer of Thesis. The traditional course in Dental History is in the process of being dropped from the curriculum. So, as the result of the whim of the Head of the Department of Community Dentistry the oldest dental school in the world will no longer teach a subject that it, as an example to all other dental schools, should adamantly retain and preserve with paternal pride and responsibility.

PERSONALS

Alumni Secretary, Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, endorsed for Fourth District Trustee of the American Dental Association.

It is a pleasure to announce that our Secretary, Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, has been endorsed for trustee of the Fourth District of the American Dental Association.

He has received the endorsement of his own association, the Maryland State Dental Association, on May 7, 1969. Since that time, our illustrious alumnus, Dr. Cappuccio, has received the unanimous endorsements of the New Jersey State Dental Society, District of Columbia Dental Society, and the Colegio De Dentistas of Puerto Rico. The Fourth District of the American Dental Association includes the following constituent areas and Federal dental services: Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Army, Navy, Air Force, Veterans Administration and the Public Health Service.

Joe needs no introduction to the members of our association, since we know of his abilities and background over many years.

I would like to quote from an editorial which appeared in the Journal of the Maryland State Association, Volume 12, No. 3, December 1969 issue:

"No candidate for high office is more knowledgeable, more articulate, more sincere and has more ability to fulfill the position of 4th District Trustee of the American Dental Association than Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, M.S.D.A.'s nominee in 1971. Few candidates have had such widely diversified experience or have accomplished so much in less than a quarter of a century. Few candidates have dedicated themselves so unselfishly to all segments of organized dentistry. Dynamic, honest, impartial, he has repeatedly, on the floor of the House of Delegates of the A.D.A., as Maryland's chairman, exemplified those qualities of knowledge, enthusiasm, ability and leadership so essential at the national level. He is second to none in his love of fair play and justice for all. Bias and prejudice have no place in Joe's life."

His election to this office in 1971 would be a great honor for our Association.

Frank Pavel, '48, was elected president of the San Diego County, California, Dental Society.

Everett N. Roush, '59, is one of six Marshall graduates selected for inclusion in the 1969 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America. Dr. Roush, who has served in many professional and civic groups was the recipient of the Alumni Service Award of 1968 from the Marshall University Alumni Association.

* * * * *

Joseph Cannizzaro, '53, was conferred a Fellowship in the International College of Dentists.

* * * * *

J. Norman Grabner, '46, has announced the relocation of his office to 406 East Joppa Road, Towson, Maryland, 21204.

* * * * *

Ronald S. Branoff, '66, has opened his office in the Savings Bank of Baltimore Building, 8507 Liberty Road, Randallstown, Maryland 21133. His practice is limited to Orthodontics.

Some suppliers don't. They want only your orders for the high-volume, big-ticket, more profitable supplies.

But we want the bothersome "little" items, too. The obscure . . . the inexpensive. And we also want your equipment and parts business.

We want to supply you with serv-

We want all your business because each of the services and supplies we furnish you helps make all the other things work just a little bit better.

"Just what the doctor ordered"

The H-A attachment was developed to eliminate the unesthetic, unhygienic clasp at a reasonable cost. Clinica procedures are accomplished with little difficulty, as the H-A attachment involves a minimum of preparatory work. The H-A attachment stimulates the oral mucosa to maintain healthy tissue and promotes an attractive smile.

"Be it resolved that the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, and the staff of this journal, although publishing reports of the various officers, standing committees, essays and other material submitted to the staff of this journal, accept no responsibility for the opinions, theories, and criticisms therein contained".

Editorial Comments

Several changes have taken place in the June Week activities. One such change in the reunion format is worth noting. The consolidation of the individual reunion parties into one large banquet proved to be a welcomed success. Most members who were originally critical of this suggestion found this newer format most satisfactory. The only suggestions made were to allow each class in the future to have their own individual cocktail party before the main banquet. This idea has particularly good merit.

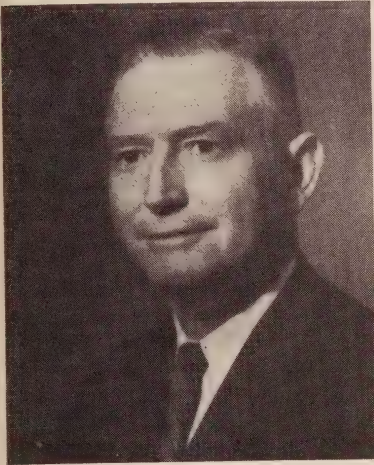

The year 1971 is a special year for our Alma Mater since it marks the first year that the new building will be occupied. Our alumni are all invited to the Dedication Ceremonies to be held March 4-5-6. With the completion of the new school our Alumni Association will have a long awaited business office of its own. The Dean has already allocated our space to us. Renovations for this office are to be started soon. Only your financial help is needed to furnish our new office.

I also want to take this opportunity to acknowledge my appreciation to those members who have contributed to this issue—Malcolm Renbaum, Gardner Foley, Joe Cappuccio, Joe Seipp, Frank Dolle, Kyrle Preis and Grant Hill. Much hard work goes into the production of the Alma Mater and the effort of these men is greatly appreciated. This is an appropriate opportunity to invite any member who would like to serve his association to join the staff of the Alma Mater. Your help and your suggestions will be welcomed.

ANTHONY BRAVOS

President's Message

It is my pleasure to share with you a few remarks on several related subjects, each of which is an integral part of the activities of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

The Association is committed to programs that will involve the greatest possible number of our alumni, who are quite naturally interested in their Alma Mater. Among these activities which arouse concern and promote loyal support by our graduates are: regional dental meetings, section alumni societies, triennial meetings and the June Week programs.

The Seventh Triennial Meeting will be held on March 4, 5, and 6, 1971. The historic significance of this year's meeting is two-fold. First it serves to commemorate and celebrate the signing into law of the bill incorporating The BALTIMORE COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY, the first school of formal dental education in the world, on March 6, 1840. Second, our new dental school building, Hayden-Harris Hall, will be dedicated during this meeting.

This fine facility is designed to meet the demands of dental education on the way through the 1980's. The curriculum has been concerned with problems both social and academic and a tremendous effort is being made to cope with changes vital to this decade. It is felt that only the most advanced teaching methods and inspired teachers can equip the graduate to produce the dentistry in the 1970's which will satisfy the concepts presently expounded by those members of the professional community sensitive to government sponsorship of health care.

The joint Faculty-Alumni Committee has developed a program of unusual character to make your visit to Baltimore very worthwhile. The scientific, commemorative and social aspects of this meeting are designed to provide professional enrichment, stimulate pride in your school and to satisfy all inclinations to enjoy good fellowship.

Our activities for the year terminate with June Week. The highlight of this program is the Annual Alumni Reunion Banquet which generated considerable enthusiasm and was deemed highly successful last year. An innovation for 1971 will be individual reunion class receptions to precede the banquet. The chairmen for the reunion classes have been appointed and your support by active participation is earnestly solicited.

ERNEST B. NUTTALL

B.C.D.S. NOTES

GARDNER P. H. FOLEY

As plans are now being made for the dedication of the School's new building on West Baltimore St., the alumni will undoubtedly be interested in a review of the program of a previous memorable dedication, that of the School's building at Lombard and Greene Sts., where the majority of living alumni received their professional education.

On Friday, October 4, 1929, the alumni met in the new building and were addressed by Dean J. Ben Robinson (U. of M. 1914). Separate class reunions were held "in accordance with program arranged by the class chairmen".

At noon on Saturday the tablet marking the site of the birthplace of dental education was unveiled. It was placed on the front outer wall of the then Hopkins Place Savings Bank, on Hopkins Place near Baltimore St. Since the demolition of the bank building as part of the Charles Center Project, the tablet has been stored at the School. In association with the 1971 building dedication, it will be placed again on the original site, but on the new building of another bank. The unveiling ceremony was presided over by Dr. Wiley W. Smith (B.C.D.S. 1900). The address was given by Dr. C. N. Johnson, editor of the J.A.D.A. and former president of the A.D.A. Luncheon was served in the ballroom of the Southern Hotel.

The program of the dedication of the new School building began at three. Dr. B. Lucien Brun (B.C.D.S. 1905) presided. Addresses were given by Governor Albert C. Ritchie; Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, president of the University of Maryland; and Dr. Harvey J. Burkhardt (B.C.D.S. 1890), Director of the Rochester (N. Y.) Dental Dispensary and former president of the National Dental Association.

The banquet held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel concluded the two-day celebration. Dr. Frank P. Duffy (B.C.D.S. 1906), president of the Alumni Association, presided. The speakers were Governor Ritchie, Mayor William F. Broening; Dr. Paul R. Stillman (B.C.D.S. 1899); and Dr. Richard L. Simpson (U. of M. 1896), former dean of the School of Dentistry, Medical College of Virginia.

As published reminiscences of practice experienced by B.C.D.S. graduates are rare, I feel that a statement from Dr. R. H. McLaughlin will be of interest to later graduates of his alma mater. After his graduation in 1904, Dr. McLaughlin began practice in Charlotte, N. C. The epistolary recollection was written in 1909. Its particular interest lies in the mention of the problems related to office hours and vacations.

"I started here $2,500.00 in debt, borrowed the money to pay the freight on my chair, and bought it as usual at $10.00 per month, and ran my face for one year's office rent. I had 14 men for competition in a town of 40,000 inhabitants. I have worked every work day except twelve. My office hours are from 8:30 A.M. to 5 P.M., strictly kept. I would have taken more vacations, but financial circumstances prevented. I've been paying cash for everything I bought except my home, which is two-thirds paid for now, and I don't owe a cent in town. I have a tidy little sum in the bank. Some of my competitors, with whom I am very friendly, haven't done quite so well, in my estimation, working 10 to 15 hours a day, charging almost everything they did, and according to their statements falling from $250.00 to $700.00 short of my gross receipts."

Rarer even than practice recollections by alumni are those describing their experiences as students. In 1931 Dr. William H. DeFord (B.C.D.S. 1882) wrote a series of articles about his half century of dental practice. Dr. DeFord, a past president of the Iowa State Dental Society (1899) and former first dean of the College of Dentistry, Drake University, devoted two paragraphs to an historically important reminiscence of his student clinical practice in the early 1880's.

"The dental foot engine was attracting the attention of the profession, and many dental offices had not installed one. I recall that the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery allowed members of the senior class to use the engine, but it was considered entirely too dangerous a venture for a junior. We relied on the excavator, chisel and hand-bur for cavity preparation.

"The burs were the same length as chisels and excavators, and those who were not strong enough to twist them with the fingers used an instrument for this purpose, which consisted of a ring of metal placed on the second finger. A tongue of metal extended to the palm of the hand, terminating in a miniature metal cup, which resembled a bowl in shape. One end of the handle of the bur rested in this little bowl and was twirled with the fingers. The palm of the hand was entirely too tender to support the end of the bur, as considerable pressure was necessary to effect cutting. Cavity preparation had not been systematized, and all that was attempted was just a shape that would prevent fillings from falling out. It was indeed a slow procedure for the dentist and a tiresome nerve-racking experience for the patient."

June Week, 1970 proved to be the biggest and best reunion in the past few years.

The program actually began on May 14, 1970 with your alumni association sponsoring a reception in honor of the class of 1970 at the Holiday Inn. Announcement Day is always a time to remember and the new graduates joy and excitement is always highlighted by the cocktails.

Thursday morning of June Week the Board of Trustees met followed by the annual business meeting. At noon the General Alumni Luncheon was held in honor of the past presidents of the Association. This was followed by a scientific lecture on "Forensic Dentistry." The evening found a small but lively crowd enjoying dinner followed by the show "Baby Want A Kiss" at the new Bolton Hill Dinner Theatre.

Honors Convocation

The Honors Convocation on Friday was attended by the usual large number of friends, relatives and wives. During the proceedings each graduate was presented his alumni membership card for the first year. This was followed by a very fine buffet luncheon at the Baltimore Union.

President's Reception and Reunion Dinner Dance

This year a new format was tried for the President's Reception. To stimulate more interest in the Association and provide a more lavish yet reasonable dinner dance for the five year reunion classes the groups were encouraged to hold the cocktail party and dinner in conjunction with the President's Reception. The affair was a tremendous success thanks to the hard work of Dr. Frank Kihn, General Chairman of June Week. Over 300 alumni attended the short program during which Dr. A. James Kershaw, Jr. was presented the Distinguished Alumnus Award. Dr. Ernest Nuttall was installed as the new President of the Association and other officers were introduced. Following dinner the individual classes could be seen huddled around various tables comparing and boasting.

Golf

The Alumni Golf Tourney was held on Friday, June 5, 1970 at Dulaney Springs Golf Club. A total of 33 golfers participated on a sunny, warm afternoon. This number was held to a lower total than usual because of graduation being on the same afternoon.

The low gross score of the day was carded by Al Lazauskas, a 79. Second, went to Rick Behan with 80 and third was a tie between Kyrle Preis and Joe Cannizzaro with Kyrle winning the silver award and Joe an appropriate merchandise prize. The tie was broken by retrogression.

In the net division a tie existed between Denny Chester and Frank Bragg who both carded $81 - 10 = 71$. In a draw the first award went to Denny and second to Frank. There was also a tie for third at net 73 among Mike Ventura, Norm Grabner, Jack Phillips and Sam Bryant. In another draw of names Mike won the third trophy award with merchandise being given the other three.

The closest to the pin prize went to Harry Kohlhepp and longest drive to Bob Charlton. A total of 22 prizes was given out.

A crab feast followed the golf and was attended by 74 people on the club house lawn at Dulaney Springs. Those who were in attendance for the day and evening festivities were rewarded with a most enjoyable occasion.

ACD Presents Top Award To J. Ben Robinson

Dr. J. Ben Robinson of Baltimore received the Award for Excellence of the American College of Dentists on Sunday. The award—only one awarded in the College's 50 year history—was presented to Dr. Robinson for his outstanding service to the dental profession and public.

Dr. Robinson has served as president of the American College of Dentists, president of the American Dental Association, president of the American Association of Dental Schools, president of the American Association of the History of Dentistry, president of the Maryland State Dental Association, and as Supreme Grand Master of the Psi Omega Fraternity.

The following resolutions were introduced by Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, Chairman of the Maryland Delegation to the House of Delegates of the American Dental Association.

The resolution in tribute to Dr. J. Ben Robinson was to acknowledge the first presentation of the Award of Excellence by the American College of Dentists. Alumni everywhere should feel a great sense of pride and honor that Dean Emeritus Robinson was so honored.

The second resolution was to recognize the dedication of Hayden-Harris Hall, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland on March 4, 5, 6, 1971 in Baltimore, Maryland.

Testimonial Dinner To Honor Dr. Dobbs, Dr. Nuttall and Dr. Preis

Friends, professional colleagues and former students of Dr. Edward C. Dobbs, Dr. Ernest B. Nuttall and Dr. Kyrle W. Preis are planning a festive occasion in honor of these three distinguished Maryland dentists on February 6, 1971 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. The affair will start with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner.

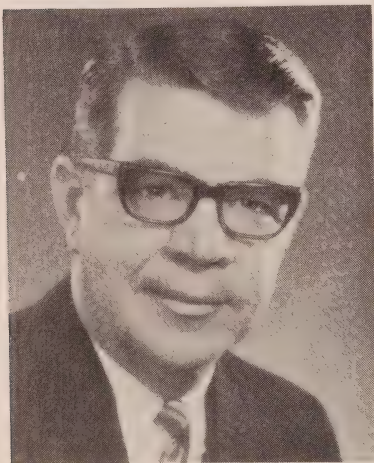

This formal dinner party is presented in honor of three contemporary leaders of dentistry who have recently retired from dental education after many years of distinguished service to their alma mater and profession.

Since this dinner is not being sponsored by any formal dental organization, we strongly urge your financial support. This affair is sponsored by everyone who has had the pleasure of coming in contact with these fine men. Let us all plan to be in attendance.

Biographical Sketch

Dr. Neil Brahe graduated from Loyola University in Chicago, Illinois, in 1953—Doctor of Dental Surgery.

In 1961 he was appointed to the faculty of Marquette University (practice administration) and was advanced to the rank of Assistant Professor in 1965. He resigned from this position in 1966 because of mounting travel and speaking pressures. He has been a circuit lecturer since 1960 in the field of motivation and has spoken in every major city in the country.

Dr. Brahe is the author of four books for the dental profession—The Dental Assistants' Training Manual Workbook, The Dental Assistants' Self-Training Program, Executive Dynamics in Dental Practice and We Like These Ideas.

He has produced four records for the profession: The Solid Gold Dental Assistant, Personal Power—The Golden Thread of Effective Dental Practice, The Magic Power of Enthusiasm in Dental Practice and The Twelve Bright Lights of Dental Practice.

Dr. Brahe is a resident of Appleton, Wisconsin, and is married and has a daughter and two sons.

10:00 A.M. SCIENTIFIC SESSION—"The Year of the Trigger" by Dr. Neil Brahe.

In this presentation Dr. Brahe points up the fact that any forward-thinking philosophy is effective if a man will give it a chance. Although the presentation principally will revolve around "vitality" in a dental practice, Dr. Brahe will also be discussing in length "inertia" and its relationship to the inability to control a practice. The philosophy of motivation shown from the viewpoint of the dentist and the viewpoint of the dentist motivating the patient with proper communication will be touched upon. To some degree Dr. Brahe will talk about his own background and problems and discuss the destruction of the "inertia barrier." The subject of fear and its position as the arch-enemy of the dental profession, the factors which build outstanding case presentations, and the role of action as the greatest asset of all in rebuilding, rejuvenating or resurrecting a dental practice which has been mired in mediocrity will be thoroughly explored.

DR. FRANK J. SINNREICH

It is with deep sorrow that we announce the passing of Dr. Frank Sinnreich who was an Associate Professor in Anatomy, Gross and Neuroanatomy. His titles have included, Graduate Assistant, Instructor, and Assistant Professor of Anatomy. He was a member of the Class of 1961 at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. Frank also practiced general dentistry in the Linthicum Heights area of Maryland.

A summa cum laude member of his dental school graduating class he was also listed in "American Men of Science" for 1967 and in "Who's Who in the East" for 1968. In 1944 Frank enlisted in the U.S. Air Force where he served in combat for six months as an Armor Gunner in the European Theatre. He was awarded the Air Medal, European Ribbon with three Battle Stars. His excellence professionally and in military service continued by his being presented with the Xi Psi Phi Award for scholastic excellence and by being elected into Omicron Kappa Upsilon through scholastic standing in 1961. DR. ERNEST B. NUTTALL RETIRES

After almost forty years of devoted teaching at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Dr. Nuttall, "Ernie" to his contemporaries and legions of friends, has retired.

Of all the illustrious grads of the "first" dental school in the world, "Ernie" ranks among the top. He was the "gold medal" man of his class and as a student his dedication and superior abilities in the academic field and even more particularly in the clinical sciences convinced his teachers that this was a man who by temperament, knowledge and skill was particularly suited to fulfill an outstanding career in his chosen profession of dentistry. (His brother is a retired colonel in the U. S. Medical Corps.) All the bright hopes for this young man as he graduated in 1931 have been fulfilled. Ernie was born in Schley,

Gloucester County, Va.—attended Western Maryland College—the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. In 1942, after Ernie had both taught and maintained a private practice in Baltimore—he was elevated by the executive council of the dental school to "professorial rank and that he assumed full administrative responsibility for the crown and bridge instruction in the dental school."

This dedicated man created a department so outstanding that students exposed to the exquisite requirements in an admittedly difficult dental field, upon graduation were recognized for their exceptional clinical abilities.

Ernie's clinical achievements became legendary and students at first awed by the master, came to realize that this was not showmanship nor just vocal dentistry, but underlying any determined dental procedure was a carefully completed diagnosis, based not upon theory but sound clinical judgment born of experience. His contribution to descriptive phraseology should not be over-looked. Consider for example a student reaction, upon being told that his cast gold crown painstakingly produced, fits like "boots on a rooster". It is doubtful that even the more lenient views on obscenity would permit some of his more complimentary remarks. This is not the place to give a more detailed account of Dr. Nuttall's activities but a few should be mentioned. He is a past president of the Baltimore City Dental Society, Maryland State Dental Association and currently president of the Alumni Association. Since 1940 thru 1966 he has given more than 175 separate presentations on various aspects of dental occlusion and Fixed Partial Dental Prosthesis. How many since then has not yet been compiled.

If there ever was a dentist's "dentist" it is Ernie. This is not a mere cliché for I'm sure he has cared for more dentists and their families than anyone of recall. Our respect and pride follows you in retirement Ernie.

Principles and Objectives of DAU Instruction to Dental Students

CHARLES E. BARR, A.B., D.D.S., M.S.

Baltimore, Maryland

The author presents a pattern for the proper instruction in dental assistant utilization for dental students. Stress is given to behavioral objectives that should be formulated and measured to determine the success of the program. The original paper was given at the 1967 Conference of Dental School Deans. Dr. Barr is Assistant Dean for Clinical Science and Program Director for Dental Auxiliary Utilization, School of Dentistry, University of Maryland.

Insufficient time has elapsed to make it possible to evaluate the full impact of the Dental Assistant Utilization (DAU) programs, as only 25,000 dentists have had DAU instruction in school. However, the Public Health Service has estimated that by 1975 about 45 per cent of the dentists will have received DAU experience as part of their education and that DAU oriented dentists will have the potential to treat 75 per cent more patients than non-DAU educated practitioners without lengthening the normal workday.¹ Some information is available which relates increased efficiency with use of one or more assistants in combination with other auxiliaries and with one, two, or more operatories. These figures are of academic interest. There are no findings to tell what graduates of DAU programs do, but it is logical to assume that comparison between DAU and non-DAU oriented dentists would show that younger men use auxiliaries more frequently, and many in accordance with DAU instruction learned in school.

When a DAU program is developed at a college of dentistry, a number of ingredients must be compounded and they must "gel" in order for the student to want to participate in the program. If an objective of the curriculum were to include an excellent DAU program, then administrators and faculties must do more than provide mere lip service to foster the development of that program. The program must do something not only for the student, but also to the student. It must motivate him, as motivation probably represents one of the most important aspects of the student's education. Students develop felt needs before entering dental school, for they are motivated to do well in colleges of liberal arts in order to gain admission to dental school. These students, after enrolling acquire different felt needs to sustain them. If a dental school were to capitalize on the greatest felt need at the appropriate time, motivational attitudes could be developed that would be beneficial to the student, profession, and community. Presently, about all the student must do is to participate bodily in the DAU clinic when he is scheduled. Since quality of participation does not bear on graduation, motivation must be directed toward needs that will be meaningful after graduation.

Before a student participates in the clinical application of assistant utilization principles, he must have a thorough introduction to the development of the DAU program, in which it is made clear that the purpose is to learn to operate clinically with a qualified chairside dental assistant. He must understand the past, present, and future needs of the population in relation to the demand for dental care, including the concept of the dental health team and the capabilities and responsibilities of each member. Only when this understanding has materialized can certain objectives of a DAU program be realized.

The first quality to be encouraged is altruism. In the concept of DAU, this goal means to develop student desires to provide more dental care to more people; i.e., concern for the welfare of others.

Another objective is to acquire new knowledge. The utilization program holds promise of new knowledge in an area where the student has received little or no instruction. Thus, the school has a responsibility to present a program that will have substance and will motivate the student to work hard to master. It is important for the student to know that the program has intrinsic value which he can envision as an important part of practice.

A third objective for a successful program concerns integration of the program into the mainstream of educational activities at the clinical level, for often the program appears to be a separate operation not equal in importance to other clinical activities of the "regular" curriculum. The DAU program must not be an entity unto itself; it must function in concert with the general clinical program. The advantage of a program not identified with a specific clinical discipline is that it tends to engender acceptance by all departments and faculty members, even those not assigned to DAU. The more DAU is separated from the regular program, the more difficult it is for the student to utilize DAU principles elsewhere in school, and later in practice when he realizes the importance of efficient dental assistant utilization. Though it is true that some clinical subjects are better vehicles for DAU instruction than others, students who are restricted to utilizing assistants only in one area do not reap the benefits that can be accrued by "across-the-board practice."

The objective of integrating DAU into the curriculum by performing clinically in multiple disciplines has great effect, and the impact is probably more lasting than instruction in just one clinical area. In addition, when DAU instruction is on a general practice approach, clinical faculty members recognize better the role of the assistant in all areas of practice. If for no reason other than curiosity faculty members begin to exhibit interest in assistant utilization. As the DAU program becomes identified more closely with numerous departments, it no longer is visualized as a "pilot program"; it becomes an accepted way of practice for students and faculty members.

Current trends in dental education indicate that traditional course presentation has changed markedly. So too with DAU—it is time for a change. The ideas, objectives, and principles of the program must be introduced in the first year, and clinical participation must be continued throughout four years of school. The student should not be introduced to clinical dentistry without the advantage of information and knowledge of the role of dental auxiliaries, especially the chairside assistant. Nor should a student be expected to practice in a standing position for two to three years, and then be told about the advantages of auxiliaries after having been placed in a DAU clinic where good performance is anticipated in a few weeks. The freshman and sophomore students do not need much clinical experience using assistants, though one could present sound arguments for the practice of having considerable early clinical experience with dental assistants. At the least, first- and second-year students should have lectures and seminars, laboratory and TV demonstrations, and assignments to DAU clinics.

Some persons may say that there is insufficient time for these activities, and, added to the already crowded curriculum, they are impractical. It is time to stop talking about "adding to" or "not adding to" and to concentrate on changing, modifying, and even "subtracting from." If a school requests DAU grant funds, it should make certain that the program is given enough status and importance for the maximum amount of time necessary to fulfill the program objectives. The DAU program must not be jammed between existing areas merely because there is some available time. Instead, the total efforts must be examined to determine the most efficient way to organize the program for a "payoff" that will prepare the graduate for efficient chairside assistant utilization. The introduction of freshmen and sophomores to DAU objectives and clinical practice does not necessarily involve changes in the physical makeup of a clinic area or laboratory. Rather, the freshman and sophomore programs in basic dental sciences can be modified easily to include strong clinical overtones and clinical practice. These changes should derive benefits when the desire for self-evaluation and improvement of the general program is the catalytic agent.

Thus far, this presentation has centered around objectives that are broad and hard to identify. There are, however, others that must prevail and these frequently are not well understood. In order to delineate these behavioral objectives, it is necessary to answer questions proposed by Mager.

1. What is it that we must teach?
2. How will we know when we have taught it?
3. What materials and procedures will work best to teach that which we wish to teach?²

I

What is it that we must teach? In order to answer this question properly, dental school administrators, faculties, and especially DAU program directors must identify terminal behavioral patterns the student is expected to exhibit. It is not sufficient to say that the student will provide all professional care and that the assistant will do jobs to aid him. Instead, the following is more in keeping with behavioral objectives related to the student operator after he has participated in a DAU program:

When the student completes his assignment in the DAU clinic, he must demonstrate the preparation of a Class II cavity for the reception of an amalgam restoration in a patient, efficiently utilizing a full-time chairside dental assistant.

Another example might be:

The student must be able to demonstrate clinically the correct positions according to DAU concepts for the operator, assistant, and patient.

The important characteristic of a behavioral objective is to identify the kind of performance that is acceptable as evidence of the student's having learned that which is expected of him. The requirement that he "understand the concept of dental assistant utilization" is a desirable objective, but it does not state in performance terms the behavior necessary to indicate that he understands what is expected of him. As one considers behavioral objectives, one finds that the list gets longer as proficiency is gained in stating accurately what the student is to be able to do.

II

How will we know when we have taught it? Performance criteria have to be developed against which the student's activities are judged. Clearly, the criteria must be valid in order for one to make the judgment accurately. It may be that the student must be able to perform a number of identified procedures in a given period of time. It is easier to know when a procedure has been learned if the DAU program is tightly

Fifteen strong and true members of the Class of 1945 returned to celebrate their 25th year of graduation from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. The class members and their wives or companions enjoyed the conviviality of cocktail time together and then joined other reunion classes for a superb awards banquet. Dancing and conversation continued into the early hours of the morning as an epilogue to another wonderful reunion.

Class of 1955—Fifteen Year Reunion

The best time in five years! Our class continues to break all attendance records—forty-five members at a fifteen year reunion—unheard of!

Those fortunates who attend, always eagerly await the next one. No one boasted of gross or net, just endurance. Nary a classmate and wife/girlfriend was going to admit his capacity for food, dancing, and spirits had diminished. Members journeyed from Maine to Puerto Rico to be together.

Jean and Bill Martin's house was again demolished at our crab feast. They would like to identify the artist who created the pop-art fabricated out of beer caps on their front lawn.

We were extremely pleased with the tour through the new school arranged by Dean Salley.

We were especially proud to have as our guest of honor Dr. Kenneth Randolph, dean of Baylor University Dental School. When we were senior dental students, Dr. Randolph was elected our honorary class president. His fine talk caused a great deal of celebration and also much laughter. We all are deeply in his debt for imparting and exemplifying high standards of performance and high ethical conduct.

Our hospitality room, cocktail party, and very fine dinner dance at Joe Seipp's Flaming Pit Restaurant were sensational.

No one person complained of any of the accommodations.

Bob Weiner worked his third molars off for many months planning this affair. One of his great innovations was name tags with pictures taken from the year book. The class of '55 had a truly magnificent time and Bob Weiner gets three cheers.

Reunion Class of 1960

On Saturday night, June 6, 1970, the hard-core party boys and girls of the Class of '60 joined with the general alumni of the school and had their 10th reunion. The returnees mixed well during the pre-dinner "social" hour, and I noted that during this period, out of returning wives' purses, quite a few pictures of children were in evidence. The reunion was of wives, as well as members of the class of '60, for most of the attending group had been married during the dental school years and had shared in the trials and tribulations of those years as well as the pleasures.

The dinner and burdensome formal part of the program are reported elsewhere in this Journal and the returnees from '60 tolerated these festivities reasonably well. Following dinner, the class stayed on for dancing and more reminiscing. Reminiscing, which included discussions of parrots, broken radio antennas, extraction of teeth following provisional placement of crowns, etc. The hours fled by and the group adjourned at 1:00 a.m.

It was the consensus of this group of 29 returnees that participation in the general alumni affair was certainly desirable but that in future years, provisions should be made in the alumni program to allow for an individual class reunion because we felt that our attendance would have been far greater had we utilized this format in addition to the large party. A committee was formed during the course of the evening to pursue plans for the future and we promised those who attended and those who will be attending in the future to have bigger and better reunions of the class of '60. Those in attendance were:

IMPORTANT

As an innovation, approved by the Executive Board, Five Year Reunions will be held in conjunction with the General Reunion. Reunions as planned in the past will not be held this year under that format. Instead the reunions will all be held as a part of the Alumni Banquet on Saturday, June 5, 1971. Individual classes will be seated under their own standard (year of graduation) at the alumni banquet. It is our hope that this change will meet with your approval and that we will receive your fullest cooperation. Please contact your chairman for details.

President's Report to Annual Business Meeting

Gentlemen—The past year of service to the Alumni Association, as your President, has been an honor and privilege. As I look back on this past year that has sped by at break neck speed, a moment of reflection and pleasant recollection is in order.

Our program of sectional meetings has continued in grand style and with the enthusiasm displayed by the Alumni attending, and the ever present interest of key Alumni in these various areas, these meetings bid fair to advance the purposes of our Alumni Association.

Early in the year, Dean Salley asked your President to appoint a group of Alumni members to act with a group from the Dental School Faculty to comprise a General Arrangements Committee to plan for the dedication ceremonies of the new Dental School to be known as Harris-Hayden Hall. This committee has held a number of meetings and this dedication promises to be an outstanding occasion in the history of our Dental School. I hope that we will all avail ourselves of the opportunity to attend these auspicious Dedication ceremonies. We can all feel proud of the part that Alumni members, past and present, have played in the growth and development of our University.

A number of conferences with Dean Salley, our hard working Secretary Joe Cappuccio and your President have borne fruit in the matter of office space and secretarial assistance in the new Dental School and to this end, I invite all of you to participate in the effort to provide the means to furnish our new quarters in a manner befitting our needs in these quarters.

The wonderful cooperation of our Officers, Executive Council, Committee Chairmen and members have made this a memorable year for your President. I must mention the indefatigable services of our genial Secretary Joe Cappuccio, the wonderful spirit of Philip Norris in taking over the duties of Treasurer when Calvin Gaver took ill, the excellent efforts of Tony Bravos as Editor and the very fine program that has been arranged for this reunion week by Frank J. Kihn and his Committee. This year's Reunion Week bids fair to be one of the most outstanding of our Alumni history and I hope that in future years we will continue the format established by Dr. Kihn and his hard working Committee.

I will shortly take leave of this office but my interest and efforts will continue with those that have preceded me in this office for truly I have reaped more than I have sown. My deep thanks to all of you.

Editor's Report

As editor of the Alma Mater I wish to report that all Alumni will receive a copy of the Alma Mater this year. We had decided earlier to mail copies only to dues paying members. This procedure was impossible because the cost involved to separate those members from the total list of alumni. As a result of this situation, the Executive Committee has voted to reverse their original decision.

We can not express too much appreciation to those who have helped to make your journal achieve its high status. The success of the journal is the result of many individuals' efforts: Associate Editor—Grant Hill; Feature Editor—Gardner P. H. Foley; Consulting Editor—Joseph H. Seipp, Jr.; Advisory Board—George M. Anderson, Ethelbert Lovett, Kyrle W. Preis; Business Manager—Malcolm S. Renbaum. A debt of gratitude is due to all those who have constantly supplied material for publication.

Report of the Historian-Archivist

The historian-archivist was appointed to represent the Alumni Association at the banquet of the Hartford Dental Society held at the Hartford Club on November 10, 1969. The banquet honored the bicentennial of the birth of Dr. Horace H. Hayden in Windsor, Connecticut, on October 13, 1769. As Horace Hayden, a great and versatile contributor to the progress of American dentistry, was one of the two chief founders of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, it was significantly appropriate that the dental school that he envisioned and helped giantly to establish as the first dental college in the world should be represented on this memorial occasion by an officer of our Association. Besides presenting greetings from the Alumni Association, and the Maryland State Dental Association, your Historian-Archivist was invited to propose the toast to the memory of Hayden. The attendance of many Maryland graduates was an impressive feature of this occasion.

On November 22, 1969 the Alumni Association gave a Testimonial Dinner in honor of the retirement of Professor Gardner P. H. Foley, who had served on the faculty of the School from 1928 to 1969. Dr. Meyer Eggnatz, president of the Association, presided. Greetings were given by Dr. John J. Salley, dean; Dr. Joe N. Price, president of the Maryland State Dental Association; and Dr. Harry W. F. Dressel, president of the Baltimore City Dental Society. Special presentations were made by Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio and Dr. Kyrle W. Preis. Dean Emeritus J. Ben Robinson presented a resumé of Professor Foley's contributions to the School and the dental profession. Dr. J. Philip Norris was chairman of the Arrangements Committee. A portrait of Mr. Foley was presented by the Association and accepted by Dean Salley for the School.

The move from the building at Lombard and Greene to the new home of the School is nearly completed. The Hayden-Harris Hall will be dedicated during a three-day program, March 4-6, 1971. Presently certifiable information includes these facts of special interest to the alumni. The museum displays will be concentrated in a single area. The J. Ben Robinson Room will duplicate the character and contents of the original Room. For the first time in the 130 years' history of the School the alumni organization will have available for its use an area designated as the Alumni Office. There will be ample room for the working equipment, the files and the storage facilities. The area is handily located on the ground floor. The present nature of the assigned area necessitates that several changes be made in the space arrangements for the proper accommodation of the Office's facilities and activities. The work of the Association will be wonderfully strengthened by this boon that culminates many years of dedicated projection of a vitally important need.

June Week 1970 Report

Without the "behind the scene" work of the committee the "new format" for June Week would have had a difficult time moving from the ground. Many thanks are due to Drs. Hill, Seipp, Kohlhepp, Williams, Cappuccio, Pridgeon, and Ventura who gave generously of their time and were as idea suggestive and eager to serve as any committee chairman could ever hope to have.

The new format resulted in the largest June Week in recent years. Attached is the budget which reflects by its size the increase in activity.

Following is a personal critique of June Week which may help in formulating future programs. It is not the view of the committee as a whole.

The Graduating Senior Cocktail Party should be revamped, location and time should be reviewed. Alumni by and large do not attend. Cost has risen appreciably, satisfaction has decreased.

Golf as usual was a success. The idea of a tournament with almost everyone receiving a prize appeals to the members. The Graduation Ceremonies which now take place in Baltimore in the afternoon must be taken into consideration in planning so that seniors may have an opportunity to golf.

The Crab Feast held in conjunction with the Golf Tournament can only be deemed a success. It was a sell-out. It is a unique Maryland tradition. It was not confined simply to golfers but brought many alumni out from town along with their wives. Something of this nature certainly should be kept in the format for coming seasons.

We have always had a problem with the scientific session. Usually not more than forty or fifty members are present. Rather than spread these members thinly one lecture would be in order. We did this. It was a fair turn-out and the organization appeared to be well represented. It was suggested that we try to obtain one well known clinician in an effort to increase our turnout.

A parking permit has been sent to all members in the past. The cost $100.00. Don't send it to all members in the future only to those members who sign or reserve for June Week.

A word on the combined Alumni Reunion Banquet. It was almost too large for the Belvedere. Another fifty persons and we could not have held it in the Main Ballroom alone. Future chairmen must consider this, if this format is kept. It is suggested that an alcove be reserved so that each class if they desire may have a private cocktail party before dinner.

The chairman suggests a different approach. The five reunions of earliest date have the most difficulty from a numbers viewpoint in holding their own reunions some classes having actually only one or two attend. These five reunions should be made a permanent addition to the combined reunion.

The most recent five year classes should be given the option to hold their own reunions or to join the combined reunion banquet. Their Class Chairman should be notified well in advance that they do have a choice. Having spoken to many alumni I feel they would be happier under such an arrangement.

It has been a pleasure to serve on the committee these past years, to meet dentists who give so unselfishly of themselves when time is at such a premium, and to form so many new friendships.

Sincerely,
FRANK J. KIHN, Program Chairman '70

DAU Instruction

structured rather than "permissive." A manual that defines clearly the what, how, when, and why of the program should be used to develop performance criteria, for the student must know what is expected of him and the teacher must know what is expected of the student.

III

What materials and procedures will work best to teach that which we wish to teach? This question is probably the easiest to answer, for the past 10 years of DAU have provided much information concerning equipment, technics, necessary personnel, and the like to give a good idea of what is necessary. In fact, more efforts have been dovoted toward answering this question than the others. However, many good audiovisual aids, programmed learning patterns, and other new teaching technics have not been applied as much as they could be in DAU programs.

Certain other objectives, though not stated in behavioral terms, should be integral parts of every DAU program.

1. A full-time faculty member should be the program director.
2. A strong appeal should be made in DAU orientation and in clinical participation for the dentist to use his highly specialized knowledge most productively. It should be made clear that the DAU program and subsequent practice according to DAU principles will allow him to maximize his scientific knowledge and clinical skills, while delegating lesser roles to auxiliaries.
3. The student should be taught the procedure for instrument passage between assistant and operator.
4. The DAU program must involve a full-time chairside assistant for each student while he participates in the program.
5. The DAU assistants must not be used to fill manpower shortages in other areas of the school. They must be utilized for full-time chairside duties, for they are employed to teach the dental student to use an assistant effectively. In fact, they should be regarded by students and faculty members as "instructors in assistant utilization."
6. The general rules for full-time chairside assistant utilization should stress efficiency and comfort, without undue concern for time and motion. The exactitude of the operation is not the sine qua non of the program; of more importance is the comfort of the operator, assistant, and patient. When this goal is accomplished, increased efficiency will ensue; thus increased production.

Professor Emeritus

Dr. Edward C. Dobbs retired as Professor and Head of the Department of Pharmacology and Therapeutics in June, 1968. This short statement does not begin to describe his contributions to Dentistry, professionally, academically and personally.

DR. EDWARD C. DOBBS

A graduate of the Dental School, University of Maryland, Class of 1929, Dr. Dobbs interned at the Church Home and Infirmary Hospital in Baltimore. He received further training as Rockefeller Fellow in Biochemistry and Pharmacology at the School of Medicine and Dentistry, Rochester, New York from 1930 to 1932. At this time he joined the faculty of his Alma Mater and combined teaching with private practice, giving up the latter to teach full-time in 1936.

Accomplishments include election as a Fellow in the American College of Dentists in 1941; Member, Council on Dental Therapeutics, A.D.A., 1941-48; Visiting Lecturer, Ivory Cross Expedition to the Netherlands, 1946; Member, Nutrition Committee, American Red Cross, 1947; Chairman, Council on Hospital Dental Service, A.D.A., 1948-50; Consultant and Lecturer, Army Dental School, Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, D. C., 1952-56; Member, Advisory Screening Committee in Medical Sciences, Associated Research Councils, 1960-65.

His publications include a textbook on Pharmacology and Dental Therapeutics, contributions in other texts such as, "Handbook of Dental Practice," "A Comprehensive Review of Dentistry," "Reviews of Dentistry," "Medicinal Chemistry" and more. In his spare time he has authored over 40 research publications, many of which are highly original and innovative.

Memberships in professional organizations include: Gorgas Odontological Society, Sigma Xi, American College of Dentists, American Dental Association, Xi Psi Phi, International Association for Dental Research, American Academy of Dental Medicine, New York Academy of Sciences, Omicron Kappa Upsilon, American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Academy of Dental Medicine and the American Dental Society of Anesthesiology.

As a man, Dr. Dobbs was a teacher who could always be approached with a problem, scholastic or personal, and no little credit should be given that his students later became his friends. As a friend, "Eddie" is pure gold, ready with advice, a sympathetic ear or the latest joke. His interests are numerous ranging from antiques to hunting. Women find him charming and irresistible and he has a few male friends too. Since "retirement" he has been so active that the rocking chair on the front porch has crumbled from disuse and termites.

He once gave someone the advice to "Contribute and then run." Eddie Dobbs has contributed tremendously . . . and he is still running strong.

FRANK A. DOLLE

7. The student should use equipment designed for efficient dental practice. It is difficult to reconcile the use of standard fixed units, fixed cabinets, and conventional chairs where one wishes to teach the team approach and to create an attitude that promotes acceptance of changes in dental practice. It is more in keeping with DAU philosophy to have limited personnel than to have large programs in which obsolete equipment is used.

8. The person responsible for the DAU program must measure the effectiveness of the program, in terms of behavioral objectives, general objectives, and student attitudes.

we want all of your business, doctor.

Some suppliers don't. They want only your orders for the high-volume, big-ticket, more profitable supplies.

But we want the bothersome "little" items, too. The obscure . . . the inexpensive. And we also want your equipment and parts business.

We want to supply you with serv-

We want all your business because each of the services and supplies we furnish you helps make all the other things work just a little bit better.

President's Message

Fellow Alumni:

I extend you warmest greetings from the officers council and entire staff of your Alumni Association. In the "Alma Mater Newsletter" which you recently received, I gave my Presidential Message so there is no need to repeat it here. However, I heartily concur with the sentiments expressed by Dr. Harry E. Kelsey, President of the National Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland in the following "Message to the Alumni" in 1940.

JOSEPH H. SEIPP, JR.

The year 1940 should be an important date in the professional life of every dental graduate in the world. To every alumnus of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery it should be the most important date in his professional life. The reason for this is, of course, that 1940 marks the centennial of dentistry as an organized profession. The Centenary is to be celebrated in Baltimore March 18, 19, and 20.

It was the founding of our alma mater that ushered in this—to our profession, at least—vital era. The dean and faculty of the College and the officers of the Alumni Association look forward with confidence to the largest gathering in the history of the Alumni of the old school. If each member not living in Maryland feels the significance of this notable year and its approaching celebration as we do in Baltimore, our hope will be realized. You can be assured of a warm welcome at the University and by the officers and committees of the Association. Do not forget that you, as an alumnus of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, will occupy a unique position in the Centenary Celebration, since the founding of our School marked the beginning of this century of achievement. In a sense we shall be hosts to the thousands of alumni of other colleges who will be here to celebrate dentistry's first hundred years of accomplishment. We cannot, therefore, devote as much time to our own affairs as we would like; but the Class Reunion Committee, of which Dr. B. Sargent Wells is chairman, the Alumni Centennial Committee, of which Dr. Arthur I. Bell is chairman, and the various other Alumni Committees are providing for as many specific activities as the very full program will permit. You hear from them well in advance of the meeting. Notwithstanding the efforts that will be put forth here on every hand, especially by the Alumni Association, to have a memorable reunion during the Dental Centenary Celebration, the faculty of the School and the officers of the Association will make the usual preparations for the annual gathering of the Alumni and the special activities which belong to the Commencement period in June and sincerely hope that a large number of members will return here at that time also.

As published in the Centenary Number "The Journal of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland" in March 1940.

Our Heritage

Excerpts from

INTRODUCTORY LECTURE

Delivered before the Class of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, at the opening of its first session, November 5, 1840, by Chapin A. Harris, M.D., Professor of Practical Dentistry.

"In entering upon the duties of the chair, to which I have been called, in the 'Baltimore College of Dental Surgery,' allow me to observe, that howsoever much of interest or curiosity the establishment of this institution—the first of the kind that has ever existed, either in this or any other country—may have awakened, it constitutes an era in the history of a most useful and valuable department of medicine; and if it be properly conducted, cannot be otherwise than productive of great good . . .

In regard to the plan of instruction which it is proposed to pursue, it is only necessary to observe, that, while it will be such as will enable the pupil to become thoroughly grounded in theory, the surgical and mechanical portions of the art will be exhibited in all their minutiae, and opportunity given to each, of repeating them sufficiently often to become familiarized with, and skilled in the various manipulations pertaining thereto, so that on leaving the school he may not only be a good theorist, but a good practitioner . . .

If you would command respect, and enjoy the confidence of those among whom it may be your lot hereafter respectively to reside, let it be your persevering endeavour to deserve them. Resolve that you will not be satisfied with mere mediocral abilities in the calling for which you are qualifying. Resolve to put forth all your energies for its acquisition, that you may be able to take rank among the most scientific and skillful. If you do not do this, the fault will be your own, and I am sure that your teachers will labour to little purpose in endeavouring to impart instruction to you, unless you strive to profit therefrom. Let one then, who will feel a deep and anxious solicitude for your success, urge you to diligence in the pursuit of the knowledge you are now seeking. Its possession can alone enable you to discharge in a correct and proper manner, the intricate and complicated duties you are preparing to assume. Let then, a pure and high ambition stimulate you to zealous and unwearied exertion, and be assured that you will never be reproached by the future, for time misspent, or for failing to realize to those who shall seek professional aid at your hands, the benefits which the art is capable of bestowing."

From "The Journal of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland" in March 1940.

June Week—1971

June Week activities started on May 27, 1971, with a reception at the Holiday Inn Downtown. The Class of 1971 were the guests of the association. President Ernest B. Nuttall called a meeting of the Executive Committee immediately following this reception. Many committeemen attended. The faculty of the Dental School was represented by Dean John J. Salley and Dr. John Grewe. Dr. George H. Williams III had complete responsibility for the affair and deserves our thanks for his usual superlative job.

On Wednesday, June 2, 1971, Omicron Kappa Upsilon held their convocation and dinner at the new and beautiful facilities of the Hunt Valley Inn. On June 3, the Board of Trustees met at 9:00 a.m. at the Student Union Building.

There were approximately eighty dentists, dental assistants and wives who attended a lecture by Dr. Neil Brahe. Dr. Brahe, a man of international reputation, spoke on practice administration with the provocative title "The Year of the Trigger." Never before have we had such a large turnout for a scientific session. Fifty-three dentists were in attendance (fee: $10.00). Dr. Brahe maintained the interest of his audience from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

On Friday, June 4, at 10:00 a.m., the Honors Convocation was held at the Tent of the Psychiatric Institute. The new graduates also received their first Alumni membership cards, followed by a Buffet Luncheon at the Student Union Building.

The Golf Tournament was held at the Dulaney Springs Golf Club on Friday, June 4. Thirty-one dentists preregistered for this event. Eighty-three dentists, their wives and families attended the old fashioned crab feast at 4:30 p.m. at the golf course. Bus service was provided to and from the Belvedere Hotel to the golf course.

Dr. Jack Phillips distributed the golf prizes as follows: 1) Low Gross—Dr. R. Charlton, Dr. R. Sadd, and Dr. F. Stegman; 2) Longest Drive—Dr. F. Mastrola; 3) Closest to the Pin—Dr. J. Phillips; 4) Low Net—Dr. T. Cavanaugh, Dr. K. W. Preis, Dr. J. Cannizzaro, Dr. L. Snyder, Dr. D. Chester, Dr. R. Behan, Dr. A. Bock, Dr. P. Patterson, Dr. L. McGill, Dr. N. Grabner, Dr. G. Youngblood, Dr. W. Steven, Dr. N. Russo, Dr. J. Gibson, Dr. A. Lazarusso, Dr. R. Palmer, and Dr. J. Penzter. Dr. Jackson Phillips is to be highly commended for his superb handling of this entire affair.

Special arrangements were made with the hotel for each class to hold its individual, no-host cocktail party from 4:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. The individual classes then joined the alumni in the assembly room at 6:30 p.m. for the general reception party. At 7:30 p.m. the party moved down the hall to the main ballroom for dinner and dancing. There were three hundred and seven people in attendance. The guests at the head table included Dr. Alvin Kuhn, Chancellor of the Baltimore Campuses of the University of Maryland; Dean Emeritus J. Ben Robinson; Dean John J. Salley; and Dr. C. Adam Bock, the distinguished alumnus.

A special thanks go to Dr. Michael Ventura who was in charge of the arrangements for the 50th Year Reunion and directed the other class reunions. A note of thanks goes to all the reunion chairmen—Dr. Allen M. Dworkin, '66; Dr. Donald M. Tilghman, '61; Dr. J. Philip Norris, '56; Dr. Donald H. Hobbs, '51; Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, '46; Dr. Donald T. Frey, '41; Dr. I. Norton Brotman, '36; Dr. Ernest B. Nuttall, '31 and Dr. Harry Levin, '26.

The hard working June Week Committee deserves my praise, admiration and mention here: Dr. F. Grant Hill—Reservations; Dr. G. Jackson Phillips—Golf Chairman (also Crab Feast); Dr. George H. Williams III—Student Reservations; Dr. Charles E. Barr—Faculty Chairman; Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio—Entertainment; and Dr. Michael Ventura—Class Reunion Chairman.

The Patron Saint of Dentistry

The annual St. Appollonia Mass was held on Sunday, February 13 at the Newman Center of the University of Maryland Baltimore Campus on Lombard Street. It was followed by a breakfast in the Rectory. Approximately 78 dentists, their wives and children, attended the services which were conducted by Father Roman. In spite of most inclement weather, it was a very successful affair.

Father Roman said that the future Newman Center would be located in the new complex building which has been planned at the location of Fremont, Lombard and Baltimore Streets. It will provide, among other things, living quarters for faculty and students.

Dr. C. Adam Bock

Distinguished Alumnus for 1971

"It is a privilege to be permitted to present for the Distinguished Alumnus Award the nominee whom you have selected to receive this very high honor, Dr. C. Adam Bock.

The first qualification of a teacher or a speaker is that he know his subject. In this respect, at least, I am reasonably well prepared to perform the task assigned me.

I knew Dr. Bock as a dental student; I knew him as a dental teacher; I knew him as a dental practitioner; and I have known him for 53 years as a close personal friend. In all instances he has measured up to the highest expectations.

Dr. Bock is a native Baltimorean. He attended grade school in South Baltimore from which he entered high school at Baltimore City College where he graduated in 1917. The records show he was a good student. However, he was better known for his extracurricular activities. He made the varsity basketball and football teams, and was elected by his fellow-students to the office of president of the Student Council.

His Alma Mater remembered him as a high school student, observed his success in his chosen profession, and in 1963 its Alumni Association elected him to the Baltimore City College Hall of Fame where he took a place among many of Baltimore's leading citizens, a list of whose names reads like Who's Who in Baltimore.

Dr. Bock enrolled at the Dental Department, University of Maryland, in 1918 and graduated in 1922. As his teacher I recall Dr. Bock as a diligent, punctual student who had a conscious purpose in being in dental school and meant to achieve that purpose. Though fully adequate in his performances in all subjects in the dental course, his preference was clinical oral surgery in which he excelled. Upon graduation he was appointed as a graduate assistant in the department of oral surgery at the dental school where he taught for four years. He resigned his position in 1926 to accept an appointment to the Visiting Dental Staff, Department of Oral Surgery, Johns Hopkins Hospital, where he continued to serve until the outbreak of World War II.

For twenty years Dr. Bock engaged primarily in general dental practice, all the while devoting such time as was required of him to his special surgical duties at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

In 1942 he was commissioned Lt. Colonel in the United States Army Dental Corps to serve in World War II. He was assigned to military duty as Chief of Dental Services with the 18th General Hospital known as the Johns Hopkins Hospital Unit. His tour of duty, which extended for three years, took him to New Zealand, to the Fiji Islands, and to India.

The broad experience he gained during these three years in treating a wide variety and a very great number of complicated surgical cases contributed much to his later success as a specialist in the field.

President Ernest Nuttall presents award to Dr. Bock.

Upon his return to private life Dr. Bock limited his practice to oral surgery. Along with his private office practice, he served on the visiting staffs of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, the Union Memorial Hospital, and the Greater Baltimore Medical Center, and as a consultant to the Veteran's Administration Hospital. He continued in active specialty practice from 1945 to 1970 when he retired.

Dr. Bock has responded at all times to the call of his profession wherever and whenever he could be of service.

He has given addresses before numerous dental meetings, has taken part in symposiums, both as moderator and panel participant, and has presented clinics before dental groups on many occasions. In 1957, during a tour of countries of Asia and Europe, he was invited to speak at the Japanese-American Goodwill Dental Meeting in Tokyo, at the University of Medical Sciences in Bangkok, at the All-Asia Dental Association in New Delhi, and at the American Dental Club of Paris in Paris.

Dr. Bock holds membership in many dental and other organizations.

He is a life member of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, and was its president in 1947.

He is a life member of the American Dental Association, a life member of the Maryland State Dental Association, and was its president at the time of the historic Dental Centenary Celebration held in 1940, and a life member of the Baltimore City Dental Society and its president in 1935.

He is a life member of the American Society of Oral Surgeons, and a charter member of the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons and its president in 1966.

He is a fellow of the American College of Dentists, elected in 1941; an honorary member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon Society, elected in 1952; a member of Psi Omega Fraternity and the grand master of Phi Chapter during his student days, and a member of F. J. S. Gorgas Odontological Society.

Dr. Bock was nominated by the Maryland State Dental Association and appointed by the governor of Maryland to serve two terms of six years each on the State Board of Dental Examiners, serving as its president for one year in each of his two terms.

He is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Baltimore City and was its president in 1951.

In all these important positions of trust and responsibility Dr. Bock demonstrated aggressive and wise leadership, contributing substantially, in all instances, to the improved usefulness of the organizations he served.

But the all-time important event in his life occurred in 1922 when Adam married his high school sweetheart, Doris Dickinson, who after 49 years is with us this evening—still as Mrs. Bock. Adam and "Dot" have three children, a daughter and two sons all of whom are present; and seven grandchildren, two granddaughters and five grandsons.

President Nuttall: I am happy and honored to present to you our guest of honor and to request you to present to him the Distinguished Alumnus Award, and to add his name to the list of other worthy alumni who have received the award in previous years, among whom none is more deserving than Dr. C. Adam Bock."

The Class of 1926 began to prepare for its 45th Reunion with the committee made up of Jack Bates, Wes Byron, Main Little, Joe Fusco, Mike Kozubski and Harry Levin, Chairman. After deliberating for a while we accepted an invitation from Jack Bates to hold our function at his club, The Tail of the Fox, in Timonium. We also decided that we would have a gourmet dinner on the type one might find in Vienna. We thought that we were fortunate in being able to round up twenty of our classmates out of the possible sixty still living. In addition, we invited the wives for the first time and eleven of the men brought their spouses. Our Guest of Honor was the Dean Emeritus of our Dental School, Dr. J. Ben Robinson. J. Ben, as he is affectionately known, was with us, in spite of his 89 years, and I would like to report that he is still virile and active and still speaks with authority.

Cavallaro and Newell from Florida, Winchester and Plaster from North Carolina, Watts from Pennsylvania, Kaplon, McGonigle, Lipman and Jacobs from New Jersey, Pressman from Rhode Island. Loar from Cumberland, Smith from Cambridge, Bridger from Rockville, Fusco from Towson, Byron from Lutherville. Little from Belair, Mehring from Silver Spring, and Bates, Kozubski and Levin from Baltimore.

The arrival of the men and their wives was greeted with hors d'oeuvres and drinks. Pleasantries and renewed friendships were indulged in by everyone, particularly because some of the men had not seen each other for at least five years. Then the group sat down to a true Viennese dinner consisting of Goulash soup with dark rye bread, then filet of sole Veronique, white wine sauce and asparagus, augmented with Sherry wine. In order to take care of the fishy taste from the sole the next serving was a lemon sherbet. The main dish was Cornish Game Hen, Boned, with fluffy rice, baby peas and pearl onions in butter sauce and Belgium carrots. This was prolonged with Taylor's champagne. An aspic of lettuce covered with jello and lemon sauce followed. A special dessert of Sacher Torte, made famous by the culinary artists of the great Sacher Hotel in Vienna was served with coffee and schlag (whipped cream).

After this repast the crowd was entertained by bits of memorabilia from the classmates who recited many incidents of their dental school days. This was followed by a wonderful talk by Dr. Robinson, whose memory has not waned one iota. He told us of some of the activities of our classmates, long since forgotten by them. Music from the Vienna era of the Waltzes was played during the entire evening.

Those of our classmates who could not attend, for one reason or another, missed an opportunity to enjoy long standing friendships blossom again. The toasts during the evening all had the same refrain, "Here's to our fiftieth anniversary and Reunion. May we all be present to celebrate a half century in good health."

The fortieth year reunion gathering of the Class of 1931 was graced by the presence of our wives and close friends of the group. This eighth five year assembly conformed to and supported the Alumni format for individual class reunion receptions. The affair provided ample time for good fellowship and served to create a favorable mood for the Alumni cocktail party, reunion banquet and dance later in the evening.

Five classmates were unable to attend because of health problems, urgent personal business and conflicts with previous commitments. Communications expressing regrets were received from: Luther W. Fetter, Alex E. Gilfoyle, Harry K. Markley, Mac Nirenberg and J. Jasper Tew.

The Class of 1936 held its reunion at the Belvedere Hotel June 5, 1971. The following members and most of their ladies were in attendance.

I. Norton Brotman, H. Milton Cooper, James Leopold Corthouts, John W. Cronin, Terrence David Donohue, William August Fischer, Samuel Hanik, Lawrence Harris, Byron Wallace Inman, Vernon D. Kaufman, Louis Kreshtool, William Kress, Henry Arthur Lacher, Henry Berton McCauley, Joseph Francis Metz, Jr., Louis Milobsky, Frank M. Muller, Ray Sidna Paskell.

An individual get-together and Cocktail Party was held at 4:30 in the afternoon. The occasion was saddened by the loss of Dr. Herbert Orman on the previous Thursday. Following its own party, the Class of '36 then joined the festivities for the rest of the evening in conjunction with the National Alumni Association.

Five members of '41 met at the Belvedere Hotel on June 5th, 1971 at the 4:30 cocktail hour. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Govane McClees, Dr. and Mrs. Al Ollman, Dr. and Mrs. Max Singer, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Sloan, and Dr. and Mrs. Donald Frey, Chairman of the 30th reunion.

Due to organizational difficulties within the Alumni Association, arrangements for all the class reunions at the hotel in a grand massive style resulted in a communication gap and few classmates found it possible to attend. However, those present had a delightful evening, renewing old friendships and socially introducing their wives. The Alumni Reunion Banquet honoring Dr. C. Adam Bock was an outstanding affair. Ageless Ben Robinson gave a resume of Dr. Bock's achievements. Others present known to us in particular were Ernie Nuttall, Myron Aisenberg and Gardner Foley.

Our next reunion will be 5 years hence and I sincerely hope more sophisticated plans with more notice will enable a large representative group to attend."

A very enjoyable 25th Year Reunion of the Class of 1946 was held on Saturday, June 5, 1971 at the Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland.

Approximately twenty five classmates and wives were present for this wonderful occasion. A cocktail hour was held from 5:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and a good time was had by all. During the course of the evening, a short business meeting was held to determine in which way the Class of 1946 could pay proper tribute and respect to the members of the class that had passed away during the past twenty five years.

It was decided that a check for $500.00 would be presented to Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, a member of the class and chairman of the 25th reunion for presentation to the Alumni Association.

This gift was to help purchase furniture, files, carpeting, etc. for the alumni office in memory of the departed members of the Class. Dr. Cappuccio, Alumni Secretary, accepted the check, and he was directed to present the check to the Alumni Association and that a proper plaque or plate be inscribed on behalf of the Class of 1946.

The members in attendance and their wives then joined the combined alumni group at the reception and banquet in the Main Ballroom of the Belvedere Hotel. It was the consensus of this group that participation in the general alumni affair was desirable but that in the future more time be set aside for the individual class reunion prior to the general alumni affair. The Class of 1946 is looking forward to their 30th year reunion in 1976.

Those in attendance were:

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Weinstein
Dr. Francis P. Naples
Dr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Liftig
Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Kania
Dr. and Mrs. George B. LaMotte, Jr.

The 20th reunion of the Class of 1951 was a success. Thirty-five Dentists and twenty-six wives attended, after a delayed, somewhat confusing, slow start.

The chairman arranged for rooms and a get-together party at the Park Towson Quality Motel in Towson, Maryland. There was little change in the appearance of classmates—most were recognizable—some had changed wives, some still without. The drinkers still drank, the complainers still complained which made the total atmosphere delightfully like our school days.

One idea seemed paramount—they want to be together, but not necessarily with the total school Alumni, and after 5 couples were not served dinner at the Saturday affair, the bolt was sheared from Alumni machinery. They intend to travel out of the country on their 25th anniversary to a certain location and enjoy the companionship that can be generated at such a gathering. What will actually happen in 5 years is only a guess.

We learned 2 of our class passed away, Domenic Cimini, 4/11/69 and John Knapp, 5/12/68, including Bill Wilson, in 1954, makes three.

Since the men attending generously kicked in more than the party cost, our Treasurer (and off key barber shopper) Norm Grabner, now has some money to use to communicate and arrange whatever is desired for the next massive, traumatic and conjoint affair.

Class Info:

Reese Funderburk is Mayor of Lancaster, S. C. (2nd time)

The Class of 1956 held a reception at the Belvedere Hotel on Friday, June 5, 1971 from 9:00 to 12:00 and then retired to a hospitality room for late evening activities. The hospitality room remained open on Saturday until evening when the Class joined the combined alumni group in the main ballroom for the annual banquet and dance. A group of the classmates played golf on Saturday morning, another group toured the dental school facilities. The accompanying photograph was taken at the Friday night reception. J. The Class of 1961, met on Saturday, June 5, 1971 at 5:00 p.m. at the Belvedere Hotel, for cocktails and stories of yesteryear. Twenty-seven classmates, with wives or girlfriends, returned for the reunion, coming from as far away as Puerto Rico and Massachusetts. Don Tilghman had previously acquired, from Dr. Ernest Nuttall, some copies of the original individual photos of the class that had been used on the applications for dental school back in 1957. The group enjoyed reminiscing over the photos, each member wondering why he was the only one who had not changed over these past fourteen years.

The social hour was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and the time went fleeting by. The group tried to reconvene at the general alumni cocktail party, and again at the general alumni banquet to further reminisce, but met with little success. In despair, they retired early to the Owl Room for more cocktails and a continuation of the tales of yesteryear.

I do not wish to be cruel to those who worked so tirelessly on bringing to fruition this gala event, but I feel I must be candid in reflecting the thoughts of my fellow classmates, who took the time and expense to return for their 10th year reunion.

Many felt that while the program was a magnificent one, and that obviously much energy had been expended to bring about such an event, it was not entirely suitable for a class reunion. They wanted more than an hour and a half with their close friends, who they had not seen for 5-10 years. Many did not see the rationale for spending so much time with other classes, who they had not known, since the other classes were at least either 5 years ahead or 5 years behind them. The honored guest, for the evening, was an individual, who most had never met and of whom many had never heard. While they were sure he was deserving of honors bestowed, it was more dialogue with classmates that they really desired. Thus, the reason for the early retirement to the lounge downstairs.

Many expressed a desire to see the new dental school, since they were not able to attend the dedication ceremonies last March. Some unofficial tours were given during the early part of the reunion, but the general feeling prevailed that there could have been an official tour, perhaps on Saturday, June the 5th, since many members of the class could not attend the entire reunion, but wanted to see the new school and also be present for the class get together.

I offer these reflections of the class of 1961 in a constructive manner, so that future reunions may be improved upon, and more to the liking of the people who return for the event. Perhaps more interaction with the individual class representatives, earlier in the planning stages, would help to overcome these problems. I wish to make it clear that I think everyone enjoyed the evening, and probably will attend again in five years. However, they would like to see some changes instituted.

The Class of 1966 joined the many other celebrants to enjoy the first five-year reunion. Unfortunately due to timing, many of our ranks were still enjoying the military and a multitude were still involved with graduate school programs and study. Fortunately, those of us in attendance were still able to enjoy each others company and look forward to planning and participating in our ten-year reunion—if not sooner.

A LETTER FROM NOEL H. MERRIHEW '19

January 17, 1972

Dear Doctor Seipp:

I am grateful to you and Doctor Kyrle Preis for your excellent Alma Mater Newsletter of December 1971 issue.

It came to me on my seventy-fourth birthday, January 17, 1972, and it prompted me to send you a few of my recollections of the years 1916-1919. I graduated from Plattsburg, New York High School in 1916, and entered B.C.D.S. on Howard Street in September, 1916, and graduated in May, 1919. I was not twenty-one years of age at that time, and for this reason I was unable to take the New York State Dental Boards.

I worked in the office of Dr. James Kendal Burgess in New York City from June until the fall of 1919. Dr. Burgess had commuted from New York to Baltimore, during the College season, and was chief of the crown, inlay and bridge department at B.C.D.S.

It has been my good fortune to have received on June 6, 1969, the Certificate of Distinction from the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. I am a life member of the New York State and the American Dental Society; a life member of the Essex County Dental Society; a recipient of the Community Service Award of the Savings and Loan Association League of New York; recipient of the Liberty Bell award from the Essex County Bar Association, and a life member of Sisco Lodge No. 259 AF & AM of Westport, New York, and Oriental Temple Shrine AAONMS.

I know of but three members of my class who are still alive. They are: Dr. George Anderson of Baltimore, Dr. William Mills of Danielson, Conn., and Dr. Donald Page of Hartford, Conn. When I attended the 50th reunion in 1969, there were but eight of my class in attendance.

My past innumerable exploits have resulted in three enviable rewards. I'm vastly in love with my country and the world, wicked and wonderful as they are; my job, difficult and devine as it is; and my first wife of 52 years, loyal and lovely as she is. That's a great enough record for any one man, don't you agree?

Sincerely yours,
Noel H. Merrihew

For the first time in Maryland State's History, a dentist has been appointed to the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland. This honor and distinction has come to Dr. Samuel H. Hoover a 1925 graduate of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery-Dental School-University of Maryland. A former teacher at the Dental School, Dr. Hoover has maintained a private practice for forty-five years in Dundalk, where he owns and maintains the Dundalk Medical Arts Building.

For twenty-eight years, Dr. Hoover was an active member of the B.C.D.S. and served on its council. He then became one of the organizers, charter member and president of the newly formed Baltimore County Dental Society. He is a life member of the A.D.A., a past president of the State Dental Association and past president of the Maryland State Board of Dental Examiners.

Other interests of Dr. Hoover include life member of the National Hereford Cattle Association, Past President and director of the National Hereford Swine Record Association. Dr. Hoover, a life long democrat, has been active in politics and served as chairman of the Baltimore County Zoning Appeal Board for four years.

Dr. Hoover is married to Elsie Wright Hoover and resides in Wakefield—Lutherville—Timonium area.

The dental profession is proud that one of its members has achieved this distinction and wishes continued success in his newest endeavor.

Dr. Fox Appointed Dental Director of The John F. Kennedy Institute

Dr. Lawrence A. Fox '64 was appointed Dental Director of The John F. Kennedy Institute for Rehabilitation of the Mentally and Physically Handicapped Child, in Baltimore, Maryland. He was a member of the Class of 1964 of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

LAWRENCE A. FOX '64

After graduation, he spent two years in the U. S. Air Force, in San Antonio, Texas. From 1966-1968, he was given a two year fellowship in Pedodontics at the Eastman Dental Center, Rochester, New York.

The Kennedy Institute is a development of the Children's Rehabilitation Institute, Incorporated in affiliation with the Johns Hopkins University, through the School of Medicine, and the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The Department of Pediatric Dentistry was initiated at The Kennedy Institute as a training program in pedodontics. The basic program is focused in three directions: training, treatment, and research.

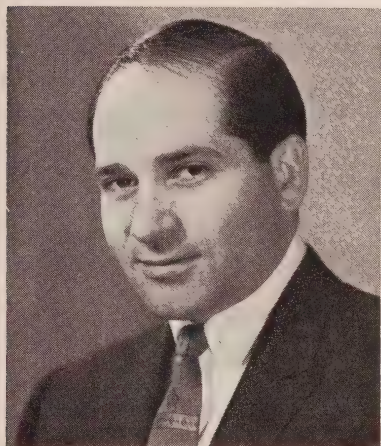

While training at present involves only pedodontic trainees, the future department will include dental specialists in other areas, along with the possibility of training auxiliaries to work with the handicapped.

The treatment area serves the dental needs of the entire in-patient population of the Institute, along with the other handicapped children who are referred for services from other facilities or the general public.

Finally, research will be implemented to develop new methodology for treatment, along with development of preventive and genetic areas.

Alumni Secretary, Joseph P. Cappuccio '46 Elected Trustee of the Fourth District of the American Dental Association

It is a pleasure to announce that our Secretary, Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, was elected Trustee of The Fourth District of The American Dental Association, at the 112th Annual Session of The American Dental Association, October 13, 1971, in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

JOSEPH P. CAPPUCCIO

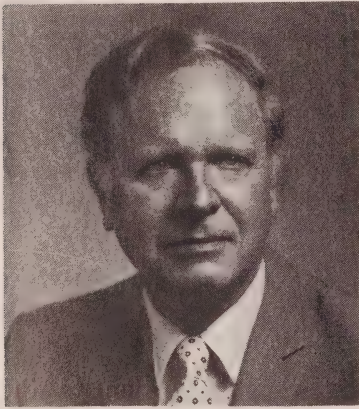

The Fourth District of The American Dental Association includes the following constituent areas and Federal Dental Services: Delaware; District of Columbia; Maryland; New Jersey, Panama Canal Zone; Puerto Rico; Virgin Islands; Army; Navy; Air Force; Public Health Service, and Veterans' Administration.

The Fourth District is the largest geographical area in The American Dental Association.

Joe needs no introduction to the members of our Association, since we know of his abilities and background over many years. No one in the Alumni Association has worked more diligently than Joe. Almost singlehandedly he has carried the alumni spirit across this country. He has helped organize and keep in function alumni sections in Rhode Island, New Jersey, Puerto Rico. He has organized groups of alumni teachers to put on scientific programs in numerous states. As secretary, he literally carried banners, pennants, pins, and registration cards to these functions, and was never at a loss for words bringing news and greetings from everywhere to everybody. All this he did with high good humor and a spontaneous gaiety we now all take for granted. So congratulations to a man who loves his Alumni Association and does something about it.

Lewis Toomey '42 President of Maryland State Dental Association

Lewis Toomey '42, a nephew of Dr. Katharine Toomey, is President of the Maryland State Dental Association. Lew completed his pre dental program at the University of Maryland in 1938 and four years later

"Some Kind of Conformity"

I believe that the United States is nearer to savagery than to civilization. Half the people of the country force the other half into some kind of conformity. The United States, I believe, consists largely of slaves. Very few Americans have moral courage. They don't say what they believe, freely and frankly; they find out first what will be well received . . .

Now I know of no other man who believes in liberty more than I do. But liberals always make me laugh. They are hot for their ever-changing pets, but they're unaware that their opponents have rights.

Henry J. Van Hassel '63 Honored

At the 78th Annual Meeting of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States 5-8 December 1971, Senior Dental Surgeon Henry J. Van Hassel, U. S. Public Health Service, received the Carl A. Schlack Award for his pioneer work in developing and conducting clinical studies in pulpal physiology, particularly in vivo studies of the microcirculation of the pulp. The Award honors the memory of the late Capt. Carl A. Schlack, DC, USN (Ret.), whose accomplishments initiated the firmly established dental research in the U. S.-Navy.

Our thanks to Paul V. Ladd '63, 7101 Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, Florida 33138, for bringing this news to our attention.

Frank Gilley '45 Wins Tree Award in Maine

Dr. Frank P. Gilley and Service Forester Kenneth Hendren

At the annual Maine State Grange meeting held at the Augusta Armory on October 28, 1971, "the outstanding tree farm award" was presented to Frank P. Gilley of Tip Top Farm in Holden.

Dr. Gilley first became interested in forest conservation in 1955 and since that time has devoted much of his time to improving forests. He became a member of the American Tree Farm System, sponsored by the American Forest Institute, in 1961, and his present tree farm encompasses 384 acres. It is in four separate parcels of land located in the towns of Holden in Penobscot County and Surry in Hancock County.

Winning the annual highest award in Maine tree farming is a much sought after prize and Dr. Gilley and his wife, Mary Ellen, were obviously pleased that they were chosen for the 1971 award. Dr. Gilley said, "Tree farming is a challenge and it has given me a great sense of satisfaction to know that I am improving my woodland. My desire is to leave it in a better condition than when I acquired it. I've met a wonderful group of people and I've had a lot of assistance and much of the credit for this award goes to those people."

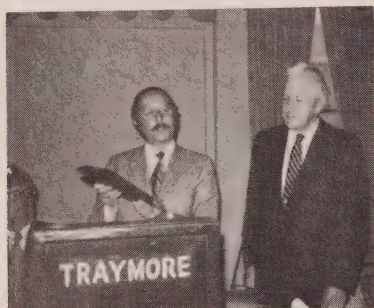

Dr. Gilley, a University of Maine graduate, attended the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, finishing in 1945. His post-graduate education in orthodontics at Northwestern University was completed in 1947. He saw service in the Navy during World War II and the Korean War and rose to the rank of Commander before retiring in 1966.

We are proud of Frank's achievement in his profession and in the field of forest preservation. Good luck and continued success.

GARDNER P. H. FOLEY HONORED

At the twentieth annual meeting of the American Academy of the History of Dentistry, held at Atlantic City on October 8, Gardner P. H. Foley was the 1971 recipient of the Hayden-Harris Award "in recognition of distinguished contribution to the history of dentistry."

Atlantic City, October 8, 1971

Mr. Foley, who retired from the B.C.D.S. faculty in 1969 as Professor of Dental History and Dental Literature, is a founding member and a past president of the Academy. Since his retirement he has been a regular contributor of articles and reviews to the J.A.D.A. His book, Foley's Footnotes: A Treasury of Dentistry will have an early spring publication.

The presentation of the Award was made by Dr. H. Martin Deranian, a graduate of Mr. Foley's alma mater, Clark University. Three B.C.D.S. alumni attended the ceremony: Milton B. Asbell, of Camden, N. J., secretary-treasurer of the Academy; Frank W. Evans, Jr., of Sarasota, Fla., the 1971-72 president; and H. Berton McCauley, of Baltimore. Dr. J. Ben Robinson was the first recipient of the Hayden-Harris Award, in 1967.

The Alumni Association is particularly happy that this honor has come to Gardner Foley. He is our Historian Archivist and for many years was editor of the Journal the official publication of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

Pat not only knew the history of dentistry, but delighted in exploring the personalities of those who made history. In his forty some years as teacher at the school, he showed the same sincere interest in each of his students—their aspirations and problems. The students in turn showed their respect by dedicating their yearbook to him on several occasions and electing him honorary class president. They held this scholarly man in high esteem, so do we.

THE WORK OF ADALBERT JOHANN VOLCK

Our "oldest," in fact, the first dental college in the world has had many Alumni who have distinguished themselves in the arts, science, literature, education, theatre, politics and other disparate fields. Even western lore has the legendary "Doc" Holliday on the list.

Nulla Dies Sine Linea

The Latin title (Not a day without a line) was provided by Dr. Volck for this self portrait done as a copper plate. The likeness is excellent; the thought most appropriate.

The illustration is included in Baltimore Yearbook, by Meredith Janine.

Adalbert Johann Volck, 1828-1912 who came to America from his native Bavaria following the abortive political and military disturbance culminating in 1848 in the March on Berlin received his dental training from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1852. By the time of the Civil War, 1861, he had become well established as a practitioner with a clientele largely from the South as well as Baltimore. For this reason as well as his inclination to support the ideas of self government and freedom evidenced by his Bavarian experience his Southern sympathies were early evident. He began a series of etchings (called by some cartoons and caricatures) under the anagram V. Blada

(Baltimore at the time was under Union military dominance and it was essential that his identity be kept under cover) to bolster Southern morale with his inherent artistic abilities. His sketches are compared favorably to those of Thomas Nast who had started to do the same thing for the North. Volck's early years had been spent in Nuremberg (the home of the great Durer) so that there was a natural stimulant in those early years for an appreciation of art.

In the early 1930's I became interested in Volck having seen a porcelain plate on which he had painted a self portrait which belonged to the Baltimore Association of Dental Surgeons of which Volck was a founding member in 1888. In addition it was my good fortune to be shown a series of his Civil War etchings and within a year I was able to obtain a set. Shortly after that I heard of his silver smithing, saw a few pieces and was able to obtain a ladle made in form of an oyster shell with a handle encrusted with small terrapin. I found he had expressed himself in other fields, notably local theatricals. As time progressed I gathered considerable data concerning Volck and realized that photographically a fairly complete record of his varied output ought to be made so I solicited the aid of Edgar Schaefer who thru continuing years was most helpful. I thought of publishing the material but as so often happens never got around to it. Finally after many years it was done (1970), and Volck is recorded for the artist he was.

His biographical listing appears in the 20th Volume of the Dictionary of American Biography but even greater detail written sixty years ago by Dr. George Keidel is to be found in the Catonsville, Maryland newspaper copies of which are in the Library of Congress and the Peabody (Pratt) Library of Baltimore.

Prevention

Though to walk near its crest was so pleasant,
But over its terrible edge there had slipped
A Duke and full many a peasant;
So the people said something would have to be done,
But their projects did not at all tally.
Some said: "Put a fence round the edge of the cliff."
Some: "An ambulance down in the valley."*

Donald W. Bailey '70 at Clinic in Guam

"The new Seventh Day Adventist medical facility in Inarajan recently held an open house to acquaint Guam residents with its medical, dental and pharmacy services.

Though general preventive care is given at the public health facility, there has been no acute medical or dental care available at the southern end of the island.

With the opening last month of the Seventh Day Adventist Hospital Haya, however, these services along with a complete pharmacy are available to the public, making it easier for southern residents to obtain care.

The dental facility is an especially important addition to the area, since the long drive to Agana keeps many people from seeing a dentist until they have a toothache. By then it is often too late to save the tooth.

The better course of action is prevention, to keep teeth healthy and catch problems before they can cause irreparable damage. This is the most important emphasis in dentistry today, according to Dr. Donald Bailey, dentist at the Inarajan facility.

Dr. Donald W. Bailey, '70, is an alumnus of Columbia Union College, a Seventh Day Adventist College, in Takoma Park, Md. and a Summa Cum Laud graduate of Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

Dr. Bailey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bailey of Rileyville, Virginia."

Omicron Kappa Upsilon

The Annual Convocation and Banquet of the Phi Chapter, Omicron Kappa Upsilon, will be held at the Hunt Valley Inn (located on Interstate 83, North at Shawan Road, Cockeysville, Maryland) on Wednesday, May 31, 1972. There will be a no-host bar starting at 6:00 p.m. and dinner will be served promptly at 7:00 p.m.

Again this year, the local chapter will select an honorary member. Any member of the Chapter is eligible to nominate a candidate for honorary membership, and a good response will provide a more democratic and effective selection of this individual. Curriculum vitae forms will be sent to you upon receipt of your nomination.

Historian's Report

The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, the cornerstone of institutional dental education was founded to provide adequate facilities for instructing the dental student in the art and science of practice. The Act chartering the College was passed by the Maryland Legislature on February 1, 1840 and was signed by Governor William Grason on March 6.

The original faculty consisted of two dental and two medical practitioners: Horace H. Hayden, Professor of Dental Physiology; H. Willis Baxley, Professor of Anatomy and Physiology; Chapin A. Harris, Professor of Practical Dentistry; Thomas E. Bond, Jr., Professor of Special Pathology and Therapeutics. The College opened on November 3, 1840 with five students in the first class. At the first commencement on March 9, 1841 Robert Arthur and R. Covington Mackall received their diplomas. (Five years' practice in dentistry, inclusive of pupilage, was regarded as equivalent to one course of lectures.)

As the first dental college the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery had to create a degree to confer on its graduates. It chose the Latin degree Chirurgiae Dentium Doctor, represented in abbreviation not by the initials (C.D.D.) of the Latin words but by the initials (D.D.S.) of the words in the English translation.

The Baltimore College established a pattern for the development of formal dental education. By providing a two-year curriculum for teaching both the biological and the mechanical phases of practice, it contributed greatly to the elevation of dentistry to a more useful and more highly esteemed profession. The impact of this new departure in dental education was felt not only in this country but in all other countries of the civilized world.

Chapin A. Harris (1806-1860) and Horace H. Hayden (1769-1844), the principal founders of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, were men of exceptional abilities in the practice of their profession. Their high ideals and solid ambitions became vital forces in their pioneering efforts in dental education, literature and organization. The intelligent and inspirational leadership of these great contributors gained for the burgeoning profession the earnest interest of dental practitioners and the supportive recognition of members of the medical profession. The names of Harris and Hayden have been cherished and honored internationally as the symbols of the design and promotion of the triad of fundamental institutions that have been universally regarded as establishing dentistry upon an enduring professional basis and providing strong impetus and reliable directives for the richly productive stages of its progress.

Horace Henry Hayden was born in Windsor, Conn., on October 13, 1769. After brief affiliations with the professions of teaching, in Connecticut, and architecture, in New York City, Hayden very providentially was encouraged by John Greenwood, in 1792, to become a student of dentistry. Following his preceptorial period with Greenwood, he practiced in New York and as an itinerant in many other cities of the northern states. In 1800 he began his long period of practice in Baltimore, with periodic visits to the larger towns of Maryland.

A dedicated student of dentistry and also of medicine, with an extensive knowledge of the works of the leading European authorities he contributed many articles to the medical journals. He also wrote articles for the scientific journals, and published a volume of highly regarded Geological Essays (1820). As a geologist he discovered a mineral that was named Haydenite in his honor. The breadth of his cultural interests is reflected by his being a founder of the American Academy of Science and Literature and a member of the Maryland Academy of Science, of which he was president in 1825. He received the honorary M.D. degree from the Jefferson Medical College in 1837 and from the University of Maryland in 1840.

Over a long period Hayden was diligent in his efforts to promote the concept of a national dental society, a design that was fulfilled in the founding of the American Society of Dental Surgeons in New York, August 18-19, 1840. Hayden served as the Society's first president till his death in 1844. He also gave the strength of his reputation and the wisdom of his guidance to the creation, in 1839, of the American Journal of Dental Science. Hayden achieved a magnificent and long cherished purpose by the primary role he played in the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. He died in Baltimore on January 26, 1844, with a firmly established place in the annals of dentistry as a vitally important contributor to its essential elements of education, literature and organization.

Chapin Aaron Harris, the other notable subject of this tribute, was born in Pompey, New York, on May 6, 1806. He began the study of medicine in 1823 under the preceptorship of his brother John, then located in Madison, Ohio. Following his required three-year period of training and his certification by the state board of medical examiners he opened an office in Greenfield, Ohio, in 1827. Soon afterwards he moved to Bloomfield, Ohio, where he continued to practice until 1830.

Influenced by the enthusiastic interest of John Harris and a friend, James Taylor, who had begun to combine dentistry with their former limited practice of medicine, Chapin began to study textbooks of dentistry and gradually to include dental operations in his practice.

In 1830, Harris abandoned medicine and limited his practice to dentistry. For the next two years he developed his knowledge and skills by traveling through the southern states as an itinerant practitioner. In 1832 he came to Baltimore to polish his dental competence under the tutelage of Horace Hayden, then the country's leading dentist. Using Baltimore as a base Harris continued for several years to make professional visits to several southern cities.

During the course of his Baltimore years, Harris made several tremendously important contributions to the improvement and enlargement of dentistry's essential activities and interests. In 1839 he published The Dental Art, A Practical Treatise on Oral Surgery (the second and subsequent editions (1844-1885) titled Principles and Practice of Dentistry), for half a century the most popular American dental textbook. He was a powerful force in the planning and establishing of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery and a paternal member of its faculty during its first twenty years. The chief progenitor of the American Journal of Dental Science, the world's first dental journal, Harris exercised a major influence during its first decade. In 1850, when the American Society of Dental Surgeons transferred all responsibility for its publication to him, Harris began a new series as both publisher and editor. He made the Journal an immeasurably valuable medium of education for the members of the rising dental profession. Harris also played an important part as a leading motivator in the founding of the American Society of Dental Surgeons and served as its first Corresponding Secretary.

Chapin Harris died in Baltimore on September 29, 1860, after having witnessed dentistry's achievement and its progressively qualitative and quantitative expansion of the goals he had so importantly helped to set for it in education, literature and organization.

Probably More True Today

A comparative study in 1953 showed that among dentists, "the anxiety state prevails over all other diseases (in 42.1 per cent of the cases, while with other patients the percentage is only 12.3)." There is the opinion that stress and fatigue are of great importance, some investigators maintaining that "stress is the key to the dentist's health."

It was stated in the last "Newsletter" that we would publish a full list of names and addresses of both life and active members. Unfortunately, the list is not as up to date as it should be, and as soon as we obtain the correct list, it will be published.

Dean John J. Salley

I am grateful to Dr. Kyrle Preis, Editor of the Alma Mater, for this opportunity to convey greetings and warm wishes to each of our Alumni. The 1971-72 academic year is drawing to a close and will be capped off as usual with our June Week activities. I do hope that as many of you as possible will be with us beginning on June 1, 1972. Our very first class in Dental Hygiene will be graduated this year. I am sure that you will want to be present to witness the first dental school in the world reach yet another milestone of service to the dental profession and the public.

Of course, when you are here in June, you will want to see some of our new developments as well as visit with old faculty friends and classmates. We continue to enjoy Hayden-Harris Hall and the many opportunities it provides to improve and expand our capabilities. We are proud of the many accomplishments we have made in dental education and look forward to sharing them with you in June Week, 1972. Welcome back!

Editorial

The response to the first alumni "Newsletter" was most favorable. The alumni liked the tone of informality. Some suggested it could replace the official "Alma Mater." But this should not be. Both publications serve different purposes—the "Newsletter" is a more current up-to-date communication; the "Alma Mater" a permanent repository of significant events concerning alumni. Our present plans are to publish two or three "Newsletters" each year along with the annual "Alma Mater."

In earlier editions we published news of the "School"—faculty—students and the administration in general. Our alumni appreciated such information and looked forward to being kept up to date on such matters. Accordingly, it is our intention in future issues to include more extensive news coverage of the school.

The changes in the school are truly amazing, not only the physical structure itself but more important, the newer concepts and attitudes of both faculty and students. The alumni should be more than just spectators of the current scene—they have a right to know "what's going on."

The school has its own "Newsletter" which is mailed to the alumni. But for a real insight of "what's going on at the school" the student body publishes the voluminous mimeographed "Reflector," a hard hitting, brutally frank critique of themselves, faculty, administration, school policies and bluntly—asks "Is anyone listening."

As stated in the first "Alma Mater" 1959—we invite comment, seek news, and welcome your participation in our endeavors.

Exhibit A—Balance Sheet, June 30, 1971

Exhibit B—Statement of Cash Receipts and Disbursements for Period July 1, 1970 to June 30, 1971

We have examined the cash receipts and disbursements for the period July 1, 1970 to June 30, 1971. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. For control purposes the Union Trust of Maryland Stock is valued at Fair Market Value, June 30, 1971, due to the fact that the cost could not be established.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and the statement of cash receipts and disbursements present fairly the financial position of the Alumni Association, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery for the period July 1, 1970 to June 30, 1971.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVIS AND DAVIS

Will to Win

Some people may have greatness thrust upon them. Very few have excellence thrust upon them. They achieve it. They do not achieve it unwittingly, by "doin' what comes naturally;" and they don't stumble into it in the course of amusing themselves.

we want all of your business, doctor.

Some suppliers don't. They want only your orders for the high-volume, big-ticket, more profitable supplies.

But we want the bothersome "little" items, too. The obscure . . . the inexpensive. And we also want your equipment and parts business.

We want to supply you with service, qualified consultation, and new product information, too.

We want all your business because each of the services and supplies we furnish you helps make all the other things work just a little bit better.

Confidence is a big Responsibility

Your patients come to you because they expect the best. A successful practice is built on a patient's confidence in your knowledge, techniques, and other skills. But they come to you for other reasons as well.

Your patients can depend on you. They depend on you to keep up with the latest procedures, and the latest findings in Dentistry. They depend on you to take preventive action and to give advice.

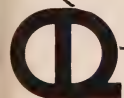

Your facilities are up to date with all the necessary equipment capable of handling your patients' problems when they arise.

You are accessible to your patients, and your suppliers are accessible to you. Patients know that when there is an emergency, you will be able to take care of them — in most cases without delay.

You are convenient to your patients. Though most practices consist of the people in the surrounding community, there are those who come from greater distances. To them you are more than just a dentist, you are a friend.

More dentists come to Aronovitch Dental Laboratory for these same reasons. Aronovitch Dental Laboratory is the Baltimore area's largest lab specializing in fabricating porcelain fused to gold, porcelain jackets, and aluminous porcelain jackets. We are the largest because our practice too is built on confidence.

Yes Doctor, we at Aronovitch Dental Laboratory have a big responsibility.

Why Men Survive

I do not believe the greatest threat to our future is from bombs or guided missiles. I don't think our civilization will die that way. I think it will die when we no longer care — when the spiritual forces that make us wish to be right and noble die in the hearts of men. Arnold Toynbee has pointed out that 19 of 21 notable civilizations have died from within and not by conquest without. There were no bands playing and no flags waving when these civilizations decayed; it happened slowly, in the quiet and the dark when no one was aware.

If America is to grow great, we must stop gagging at the word "spiritual". Our task is to rediscover and reassert our faith in the spiritual, nonutilitarian values on which American life has really rested from its beginning.

The President's Message

I am pleased to report to the Alumni that your Association has progressed to a point in its development that merits your continuing interest. Certainly it is generally due to the financial support of contributing members that the officers of the Association have been able to achieve and solidify many facets of activity. The publication of the Alma Mater makes a most valuable and essential presentation of news items of special Alumni interest, and the recently issued Newsletter promises to be a worthy adjunct to the major medium of Alumni communications. Kyrle Preis, the editor of these publications, deserves your thanks for his dedicated services, which is a vital phase of our organization.

The most important element of this report to my fellow alumni is concerned with the creation and furnishing of the Alumni Office in the School building. The generous donations of many Alumni have made possible the equipping of the office for the improved administration of Alumni affairs. Soon a part time secretary will be appointed to assume the task of carrying out effectively the directives of the Alumni officers, especially in the areas of correspondence and recording.

I assure you that your officers are maintaining a proper monitoring of the many factors of the School's present programs that are naturally of interest and concern to the graduates of the first dental college. Every alumnus would derive an exciting experience from a visit to the new building with its greatly enlarged clinical and preclinical facilities.

Our Alma Mater is now 133 years old; our famous dean, J. Ben Robinson, will be 90 years old on April 16 — to them both, a warm appreciation for their contributions to our welfare and happiness.

Our Heritage

JAMES HOWELL HARRIS — DDS, MD., 1834-1910

James H. Harris was born October 18, 1834, in Albemarle County, Virginia, and received his early education in private Virginia schools. He graduated from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1861, the first of four brothers to do so.

During the Civil War he was assigned to the Hospital Corps of the Confederate Army. Among his patients during this period were Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, Mrs. Jefferson Davis and Gen. Robert E. Lee. Dr. Harris began his practice in Harrisonburg, Virginia, and in 1871 returned to Baltimore to continue practicing.

In 1872 he received a Doctor of Medicine degree from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Baltimore and joined the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery faculty as Professor of Clinical Dentistry. About this time he devised and published a test for detecting impurities in mercury, which had been a major factor in the failure of amalgam restoration up to that time. He was also especially skillful in making gold fillings.

In 1882 he resigned from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery and worked with Dr. Gorgas in organizing the Dental Department of the University of Maryland. Dr. Harris held the chair of Operative and Clinical Dentistry from 1882 until his death in 1910. During all this time he maintained his private practice. An inspiring teacher and skillful practitioner he earned the devoted loyalty of his students. In talking with one, (Dr. Arthur L. Davenport, class of 1910), I learned that Dr. Harris especially enjoyed inviting the students to his home from time to time for food and conversation. He apparently thought a great deal of his horse, Dexter, and often the students would inquire first thing for Dexter when arriving for a lecture and Dr. Harris would moderate at length on his attributes. All the students came to know Dexter very well.

Dr. Harris was seventy six years old when he died in Baltimore of pneumonia on December 12, 1910. Out of respect to him the medical, pharmaceutical and dental departments suspended all lectures the day of his funeral. Also the senior class assembled opposite his residence and marched in a body to pay their last respects to him. Burial was in Harrisonburg, Virginia.

Inscription reads:

Presented to James H. Harris, M.D., D.D.S. by the graduating class of 1879-1880, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, as a token of esteem and gratitude for valuable instruction generously imparted.

(Prepared by Ann Louise Peace and read by her December 13, 1971, when her son, James Harris Peace, great-great-grandson of James H. Harris, presented a gold medal to the Museum of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery—Dental School—University of Maryland. The medal was received by Dr. Joseph C. Biddix, Assistant Dean.)

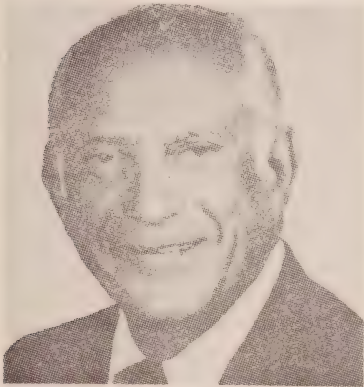

Who Cares?

The purpose of the Alma Mater is twofold; to maintain a strong line of communication with our alumni located all over this world. Secondly, it shall serve as a permanent repository of significant events which affect the lives of our alumni, our association, and our profession. Much occurs in these areas of interest which goes unreported, hence unrecorded and that's unfortunate. The various activities of the Alumni Association such as sectional meetings in Rhode Island, New Jersey and Florida, as well as gatherings in New York and Washington along with the June week program are all designed to strengthen that inherited bond which should unite us and these efforts could be made immeasurably more effective by your personal involvement. As stated in our first editorial, we invite comment, seek news, and wish to serve — we still do.

Dr. Meyer Eggnatz Distinguished Alumnus for 1972

We have the privilege tonight to participate in what has become for this Alumni Association an event of considerable importance. The Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1972 is being given to Meyer Eggnatz formerly of Baltimore, now practicing orthodontics and residing in Hollywood, Florida.

MEYER EGGNATZ '28

An outstanding characteristic of human existence is the recognition of achievement. For instance, there are the Nobel Prizes, the Pulitzer Prize, The Congressional Medal of Honor, the Rhodes Scholarships, Phi Beta Kappa and the various Halls of Fame. Monuments are erected, towns, boulevards and streets named for persons who have in varied ways distinguished themselves. Our new school building on West Baltimore Street is named the Hayden-

Harris Hall in honor of the founders of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. The Hartford, Conn. Dental Society and the Connecticut State Dental Association have paid tribute with memorials to Horace Hayden who was born in Windsor, Conn., one with a beautifully carved pew end in the Chapel at Trinity College and the other with a bronze plaque on a large granite boulder. For some years following its founding our school and other schools saw fit to award honorary DDS degrees to practitioners whose demonstrated abilities warranted the recognition or who, having obtained the MD degree, practiced dentistry by choice as a major part of their professional service. The students of the Class of 1879-80, nearly one hundred years ago, paid tribute to one of their teachers, Dr. James H. Harris, awarding him a gold medallion suitably inscribed as a "token of esteem and gratitude for valuable instruction generously imparted."

In later years our schools have had an honorary society, Omicron Kappa Upsilon, for those who graduate in the top brackets of their class and our commencement programs contain a lengthy list of honors, awards and prizes. The profession created the American College of Dentists and the International College on the principle that professional achievement or service to the profession is worthy of recognition and today these organizations honor those who have contributed to our strengths in education, science, research, literature and organization.

In 1956 the Alumni Association initiated the Distinguished Alumnus Award to be given "In recognition of constant devotion and outstanding contributions to the Art and Science of Dentistry." The Nominating Committee for 1972 had a sincere desire to select a recipient worthy of the Award. We feel that those to whom the responsibility was delegated have made a choice amply fulfilling our high standards and justifying their efforts. Meyer Eggnatz has not failed to apply his talents for the betterment of our profession as a practitioner, teacher and organizational worker. That this was recognized beyond the confines of our profession was proven by the large farewell dinner given by his friends when he left Baltimore. Many in attendance were not of the profession.

We are attaching for the record an extensive curriculum vitae. For brevity this evening we give you but a few details. Meyer is a member of 18 professional societies and a Diplomat of the American Board of Orthodontics. He has been Secretary and President of several societies both here and in Florida. I recall his energetic and outstanding service as Secretary of the Dental Centenary Committee which functioned for several years prior to and including 1940 and he contributed by his accuracy and care in the recording of that great event to the success of the 1100 page printed "Proceedings".

His extra-professional activities have included serving on the Board of Governors of his Temple in Miami Beach and as President of the Young Men and Young Women's Hebrew Association of Baltimore. He has been President of the Rotary Club in Miami Beach and served on the United Fund of that City.

He was a Founding Member of the School of Dental Medicine, Hebrew University, Jerusalem, an assistant professor of orthodontics at our school, and has been International President of the Alpha Omega Fraternity.

No story of a man would be complete without reference to his family for it is a truism that their devotion and support are a source of great strength and encouragement. We convey to Rena, his wife, to his son Lee, a pedodontist of Hollywood and his wife Marian and their six children; to Joan his daughter and her husband, Mr. Michael Simpko-witz, Professor of Economics, Indiana University and their two children, to Meyer's sisters Mrs. Julius Yuden and her husband and Mrs. Herman Levin and her husband our felicitations and pleasure at being able to honor Dr. Eggnatz. I recall Meyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Eggnatz as residents of Park Ave., for we lived in the same block. They were proud of their son and so are we.

Mr. President, we present to you on behalf of the Alumni Association Meyer Eggnatz on whom we request that you confer the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1972.

Class of 1922 (Con't)

On June 3, 1972, members of the Class of 1922 were awarded Fifty Year Certificates at the annual alumni banquet at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore. The graduating classes of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery and the Dental School of the University of Maryland met jointly as we have for many years. You are reminded that, in 1923, the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was consolidated into the University of Maryland and actually became the dental school of the University, hence the name of the dental school is, and should properly be referred to, as the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

Ours was only the second class to take the four year course; prior to that the dental course required but three years.

At the time of our matriculation World War I was still in progress and the entire class was immediately inducted into the military service. The upper classes were also a part of our "dental army." Actually, some of the upper classmen had already enlisted in the Naval Reserve but remained in school. As a result we became a conglomerate force — part army and part navy. It was planned to house us in the old Richmond Market Armory but before the facilities had been completed the war ended with the Armistice on November 11th, 1918. Soon thereafter we received Honorable Discharges, were separated from the military service and returned to civilian status. It was a short but memorable experience. The organization was known as the Student Army Training Corps (S.A.T.C.), usually referred to as the Saturday Afternoon Tea Club. We were supposed to receive uniforms but nobody had a complete outfit. Some had fatigue hats, some had shoes, some had breeches with wrap leggings and some had overcoats but nobody had it all. Even though our cots did not arrive on time and we had to find our own sleeping quarters we were required to answer reveille at the armory at 7 a.m. I quite well remember that one of our number (L. Lynn Emmart — since deceased) lived in Woodlawn and came into town with the milkman. We were paid $30.00 a month as army privates and received a $60.00 bonus upon discharge.

The graduating class from the University was exceedingly small, numbering only twenty-nine men. Your reporter has made every effort to determine the size of the B.C.D.S. graduating class and has been told that it numbered "about" seventy-five.

C. Adam Bock, Chairman

* To the best of my knowledge, C. Adam Bock is the only member of the Class to receive Honorable Discharges from World War I (as a private) and from World War II (as a Lieutenant Colonel).

The forty-fifth reunion of the Class of 1927 was held on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, June First, 1972, in the Ceasar's Forum Room of the Holiday Inn, Downtown, Baltimore, Maryland.

Twenty-two members of the class gathered during the afternoon for cocktails and a delightful period of reminiscence and congeniality. The year book was reinspected with many comments, as were the photographs of previous reunion groups. The original graduation program, a ticket to the commencement, which was held at The Lyric on Saturday afternoon, June Fourth, and a program of the Music Club were also among the class exhibits, which brought back many memories.

Mrs. May Stokes Graffam and Mrs. Desma McMullen, widows of former classmates, both now employed in the Dental School, served as hostesses, adding charm and graciousness to the happy occasion. A few wives were present with their sparkle and gaiety which helped make the reunion an overwhelming success.

A delicious dinner of lobster and steak with sparkling wines was served in the evening amid songs, banter, and words of wisdom. The roll was called by the class secretary, Dr. Samuel H. Byer, followed by a moment of silence for the forty-four deceased members whose names were announced.

Each class member present was asked to give a brief resume of his life as to present activities, number of children, grandchildren and hobbies, which was most interesting.

It was announced that our next reunion would be the Fiftieth, at which time our class would be the guests of The Alumni Association at the general annual banquet in 1977.

A group photograph was made following the dinner and small groups began their fond farewells, drifting off for further chatter with the loud cry of "See You in 1977."

The Learning Process

It is time we had uncommon schools, that we did not leave off our education when we begin to be men and women. It is time that villages were universities and their elder inhabitants the fellows of universities.

Class of 1932

The fortieth reunion of the Class of 1932 was held at the home of Irving Abramson. The success of the occasion was enhanced by the presence of our wives, Dean and Mrs. John J. Salley and dear friend of the Class of '32, Dr. Conrad Inman, Sr.

The affair provided ample time for good fellowship and renewed friendships. There was good cheer, good food, good music and lots of talk. The evening passed so quickly that the decision was made to continue our festivities at the reception and banquet of the combined alumni group the following evening.

The members and wives attending were:

The 35th alumni reunion of the Class of 1937 began on Friday, June 2, 1972, with a private dinner party at Sabatino's Restaurant in "Little Italy." Those attending were Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Poster, Balto., Md.; Dr. and Mrs. David A. Levin, Balto., Md.; Dr. Gilbert Yoffe, Balto., Md.; Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Roh, Balto., Md.; Dr. and Mrs. Jack Shobin, Balto., Md.; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Byer, Pennington, N. J.; Dr. D. R. Swinehart, Balto., Md.; and Dr. and Mrs. Alonzo L. Seidler, Balto., Md.

On Saturday, June 3, we attended the alumni banquet at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, where we were joined by Dr. and Mrs. I. Harvard Rosen, Alexandria, Va.; and Dr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Sydney, Balto., Md.

Both nights were very enjoyable although our attendance was small. I received communications from Bernard Lewis of Duryea, Pa.; James A. Fulmer of Fountain Inn, S. C.; Sol Barsky of Washington, D. C.; and G. G. Gregoire of Moosyn, Conn., expressing their regrets at not being able to attend and hoping to meet on our 40th reunion. At the present time to the best of my knowledge there are 56 out of 69 graduates still living and I hope in the best of health.

David Levin, Chairman

Left to right: Dr. and Mrs. Henry R. Lasch, Dr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Toomey, Dr. and Mrs. Riley S. Williamson, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Algert P. Lazauskas, Dr. and Mrs. Chester B. Ralph, Dr. and Mrs. Roger E. Williams, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Waltman, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Steele, Dr. and Mrs. John J. Salley (not a member of our class).

The Class of 1942 held its thirtieth reunion in conjunction with the Annual Alumni Association Banquet and Class Reunions during June Week activities in 1972. Twelve members and their wives attended: Alexander N. Berman, Irving G. Katz, Henry R. Lasch, Algert P. Lazauskas, Murray Nussbaum, Chester B. Ralph, Glenn D. Steele, Joseph M. Tighe, Lewis C. Toomey, Edwin B. Waltman, Roger E. Williams, and Riley S. Williamson.

We all enjoyed being with each other for the evening as well as the opportunity to visit many of our friends from the other classes who attended the banquet.

It is with deep regret that we report at this time the recent death of one of the most beloved of our group, Dr. Joseph M. Tighe. He was very active in all of our class activities and was, in fact, co-chairman of this thirtieth reunion.

Riley S. Williamson, Jr.,
Chairman

Co-chairmen for the affair were Dr. Leonard Rapoport and Dr. Stuart Londeree.

Twenty-five members of the class attended and they came from as far north as Massachusetts, and as far west as California.

Speakers of the evening for the class banquet were: Dr. J. Ben Robinson, and Gardner P. H. Foley. Both of them charmed the class members as well as their ladies, with reminiscences of the past quarter century.

At the banquet when the members of the class entered the banquet hall they were amazed to find posted on the walls all around the room 2 feet by 4 feet enlargements of their yearbook pictures. It goes without saying that the tears flowed copiously and the embraces between classmates were genuine and unashamed.

On the day preceding the banquet Jeanne Rapoport and Audrey Londeree had arranged a tour of Columbia with the ladies and luncheon at the Cross Keys Inn. It was a delightful afternoon and the ladies were enthralled and some beautiful friendships were formed.

At the same time the men were taken on a complete tour of the new dental school and were amazed at the facility. Following this, they were taken to the Oyster Bay restaurant for lunch and stuffed themselves on Maryland's incomparable seafood.

The 3 day reunion ended with the general meeting and seafood dinner at the Hunt Valley Inn. All of the men and their ladies departed tearfully, happily, and in anticipation of the next reunion.

Leonard Rapoport, Chairman

Our 20th class reunion was held at the Hunt Valley Inn, Saturday, June 6th, 1972. It was a truly outstanding affair. Colleagues came from as far as Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Florida, Mississippi, North Carolina, Massachusetts, California, etc., to see one another.

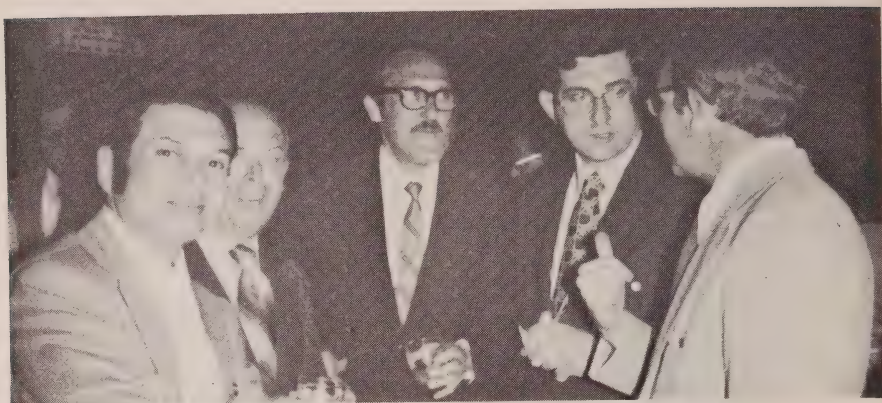

Luncheon for the fellows was served Saturday afternoon with 44 members attending. That evening the ladies attended with the husbands and a really great time was had by all. We feel that all those who attended left a bit happier and richer for this 20 year get together. In all, 92 husbands and wives attended dinner and dancing, and this figure attests to the camaraderie and the great guys that make up the class of '52.

We wish to thank our classmates for attending this memorable occasion, and making it an outstanding success.

The Class of 1957 Did Not Hold a Reunion

A smashing tenth year reunion was held by the Class of 1962 at the Eager House in Baltimore City, Maryland. The turn out was successful with 33 doctors in attendance along with their wives, girlfriends, and several female liberationists. From as far North as Massachusetts to the Southern tip of Florida, the B.C.D.S. boys turned out for an evening of cheer and the renewing of past memories. There were some from Section "A" and some from Section "B", there were the short ones and the tall ones, thin ones and the fat ones; some with beards and some with moustaches and quite a few with hair down to their shoulders. The one purpose and thought in mind was to renew acquaintances, talk about the past and the present as well as the future. With it being ten years since any of us had been gathered, the party lasted to the wee hours in the morning only to be continued by a lot of the men the following night at the June Week alumni banquet.

To all those that volunteered who helped and who joined in with us, we have listed their names below. To those who could not come we send our regrets and hope that in 1977 the year of our 15th reunion they will be with us.

The five year reunion of the class of 1967 was held June 3, 1972 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

Fifty-seven people, including wives and friends, attended the 1967 class reunion, held June 3, 1972 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. It was great to see old friends again and catch up on what they are doing now. Everyone had changed a little, but longer hair and side-burns, wider ties and moustaches made it difficult to remember old faces. Those present were: Tom McInnes, Dave Kaiser, Bob Gold, John Vandenberg, Bruce Winter, Sylvan Mintz, Stu Schwartz, Gary Schoppert, Howard Clausen, Fred Mordan, Ed Gillis, Bruce Belvin, Greg Hutton, Paul Chyzus, Jay Nickel, Mitch Bukzin, Marshall Brownstein, Larry Giordano, Jack Vandermer, Ric Behan, Pete Archambault, Andy Vendelis, Denny Kephart, Mark Rabin, Spike Dashiell, Doug Lawson, Mike Starling, Fred Teschner, and George Hurley.

Foley's Footnotes: A Treasury of Dentistry

For those graduates since 1969, let me introduce the author, the Historian-Archivist of our Alumni Association. Gardner Patrick Henry Foley, M.A., F.A.C.D., a native New Englander found himself at the

GARDNER PATRICK HENRY FOLEY

University of Tennessee in 1925. He spent a year there and moved to the University of Mississippi for two years when he received a call to the University of Maryland in 1928 as an instructor of English in the College of Liberal Arts assigned to the preidental program at the Dental School. Invited by (now Dean Emeritus) J. Ben Robinson, he became a member of the dental school faculty teaching courses in dental literature and dental history. He soon was promoted to the rank of Professor and thus continued until his retirement in 1969.

Thus FOLEY'S FOOTNOTES written by one of the ablest and respected teachers at B.C.D.S. catches a unique facet in the history of dentistry with much charm and delight. It is a volume of folklore, anecdotes of the famous and near-famous people of all ages and in all walks of life, glimpses into dentalana of fictional characters and historical reminiscences of the nineteenth century.

Knowing what an omnivorous reader of the world's literature Professor Foley is, he must have felt the same frustrations as did Lewis Browne (the noted anthologist): "What troubled me most when I began compiling this work was the glut of material at hand. I saw that before I could possibly determine what to include and what to leave out, I would have to decide exactly what I meant by "treasury". Thus he made his selection upon the basis "that this 'treasury' reflects the story of the profession from its beginning as an adjunct of medicine and through its long struggle to achieve recognition as a distinctive health science".

It may be of interest to know that the reader may be familiar with some of its contents since this work stems from a series of selections originally published under the title "The Quarterly Post in the Journal of Dental Education from 1961 to 1969. Soon after their appearance, the Journal of the American Dental Association started to republish many of them and were given the title "Foley's Footnotes" and, in fact, continues to be published to this day.

In reading and re-reading this anthology, it was my delight to discover in the course of this work that a portrait was shaping itself in an almost sculptural sense out of all this material. This was a portrait of dentistry shaped and moulded by the public which it has served and continues to serve; a bas-relief of professional characteristics, cultural, racial and ethnic traits, all fashioned with humor and homespun wisdom.

It is must reading for every alumnus!

Newsletter of the Academy of the History of Dentistry

"FOLEY'S FOOTNOTES," the delightful feature which graces the pages of the Journal of the A.D.A. has been cumulated into one of the most interesting books concerning dentists and dentistry, teeth and patients and dental lore of all kinds that has ever been issued. The author, our own past-president Prof. Gardner P. H. Foley has made the collecting of dental lore one of his life's main interests and the book is obviously a labor of love. It has been very favorably received (see the review in this month's Bulletin of the History of Dentistry) and Prof. Foley was the subject of a long article in the section "Books and Authors" of the Baltimore Sun for September 17, 1972. The book, a bargain at $10.00, published by Washington Square East of Wallingford, Pa. will make an excellent Christmas gift for that favorite colleague or patient.

*Never ask of money spent
Where the spender thinks it went.
Nobody was ever meant
To remember or invent
What he did with every cent.*

Greetings to Dr. J. Ben Robinson for His Ninetieth Birthday

J. Ben Robinson receiving the A.D.A. Distinguished Service Award from Joe Cappuccio at the December 1972 Installation Dinner of the Baltimore City Dental Society.

The thousands of alumni, now scattered over all the states of this country and in many other countries of the wide world, publish this message of congratulation and affectionate regard so that you may know how well we remember you as our Dean and how well we cherish the values of your remarkable contributions to our alma mater and to the dental profession.

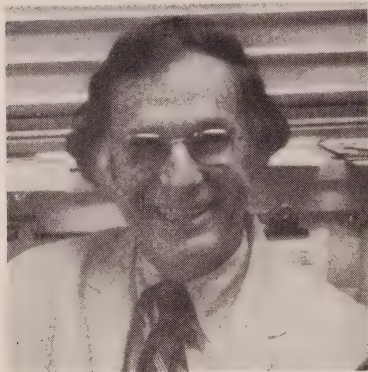

We acknowledge most heartily your long and fruitful career devoted zealously to the advancement of the dental profession on all its levels and in all its areas of activity. We especially recognize the remarkable record you accomplished during your Deanship from 1924 to your retirement in 1953. During that period of highly competent administration and richly productive leadership, you proved your immeasurable worth to our alma mater. You were a benign and abounding influence in the development of scores of teachers and in the training of several thousand students who were graduated with an excellent preparation for the successful fulfillment of their obligations as members of a great profession.

We are happy to know that you continue to maintain a lively interest in dental affairs and that you continue to receive honors that your contributions have merited. We assure you of our appreciation for the reflected glory that your career has given to your School and to its graduates. We extend to you our heartfelt wishes that you may enjoy many more years of the happy fulfillment of that charge you accepted in 1914: the D.D.S. degree; and the challenge that has governed your professional life: to devote your best efforts and thinking to the perpetuation of dentistry's best interests.

Dear Joe: (Cappuccio)

In 1969 (I went back to school in 1967) I received my B.S. from St. Peter's College, Jersey City, in Biology. This past month I was appointed to the staff of Fairleigh-Dickinson University School of Dentistry as Assistant Clinical Professor in Community Dentistry, particularly in Gerontology and nursing homes and hospitals. Strayer in 1937 I was assistant in Preventive Dentistry.

I have also been appointed by our mayor to the Mayor's Advisory Committee — Subcommittee the Senior Citizens.

This is nothing new to me. I have always believed that we, all professional men, should involve themselves in community affairs.

HARRY A. SILBERMAN

I was active in the American Legion—held the post of Commander. I organized an ambulance corps, became its first president and we now have a wonderful outfit with two ambulances and our own home. I was chairman one year on the Boy Scout drive. During World War II I was chairman of the Relief and Disaster Committee. I was president of our Service Club (Exchange Club) and then became State President of that service organization (still a member and active), was president of the J. C. Zionist Organization, active in the United Jewish Appeal and Israel Bonds Organization besides holding membership in The Jewish Hospital and Rehabilitation Center, The Jewish Community Center, The Salvation Army, The Newark Museum, The Temple Beth-El, The Agudath-Sholem Synagogue, Knights of Pythias, American Dental Association, New Jersey State Dental Association, Hudson Co. Dental Society, American Society for Geriatric

Dentistry, American Society of General Practice, ZBT General Fraternity, Alpha Omega Dental Fraternity, Gorgas Odontological Honorary Society, Life Member, Baltimore College of Dentistry Alumni, Life Member, Zionist Organization of America.

You can see Joe, that I am quite busy and happy that I am able to be part of the community. Oh yes, I am on the staff of one nursing home (168 beds) and have been in charge of another (84 beds). These are non-paying jobs. If I do have a repair or produce some replacement I do charge up to Medicaid—it's few and far between.

American College of Dentists Day

On October 16, 1972 the Maryland section of the American College of Dentists sponsored the first American College of Dentists' day at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland.

We were extremely fortunate in securing as our speakers two of the outstanding dental personalities in the country, Dr. Carl Adam Laughlin, President of the American Dental Association, whose subject was "What Dental Organization Has Meant to the Development of Dentistry in the United States", and Dr. William K. Collins, Secretary of the Northeast Board of Dental Examiners, whose subject was "What Dental Licensure Has Meant to the Development of American Dentistry". Both men are excellent speakers and both men handled their subjects splendidly.

The Senior Dental Class and the Fellows of the Maryland Section of the College were invited as guests. The students were in very good attendance and the College was well represented by our membership.

The affair opened with a buffet luncheon hosted by the American College. Following the luncheon all retired to the senior lecture hall for the formal portion of the program with Dr. Charles Pridgeon presiding. Dean Salley was presented and offered an address of welcome.

The scheduled speakers were then introduced by the committee chairman. Following the previously described splendid speeches, Mr. Herman J. Schutze, President of the Class of 1973, was introduced. He expressed favorable comments and then called upon several of his classmates for their reaction, which was also most complimentary.

Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, our Fourth District Trustee to the A.D.A. and Secretary-Treasurer of the Maryland Section of the American College, closed the meeting with a resume of all that had transpired.

It was the opinion of those in attendance that the entire affair was successful in explaining to the students what the college was, its objectives, and its influence on our professional lives.

Maryland dentists paid tribute to St. Apollonia, patron saint of Dentistry, at their Communion Mass on Sunday, February 11, 1973, at the Newman Center, 712 W. Lombard Street. The Reverend Manuel R. Roman, Director of the Center, was celebrant of the Mass. There was an informal breakfast afterward.

This was the 12th annual Mass and breakfast sponsored by the St. Apollonia Society of Baltimore. Members of the Arrangements Committee were Drs. Renato P. DeSantis, Joseph J. Giardina, Francis A. Veltre. Also serving on the Committee were Mrs. Desma McMullen, Miss Kay McMullen and Miss Dorothy Dixon. Miss Lee Cimino, secretary-treasurer of the Society, stated that this year over 100 persons were in attendance. "The largest turnout that I can remember. It is a great deal of work involved but it is worth it when everyone seems to enjoy your efforts."

Dr. Wimbrough, Dentist, at Same Office for 60 Years

Private funeral services were held for Dr. William H. Wimbrough, a dentist who practiced for 60 years at his home, at 2464 Greenmount Avenue, Baltimore, Md.

Dr. Wimbrough, who was 96, died Sunday at his home after a long illness.

Born in Leonardtown, Md., he attended McDonogh School until he was 16 and then worked in dentists' offices until he had earned enough money to go to dental school.

He graduated from the old Dental Department of the Baltimore Medical College, now part of the University of Maryland, in 1903 and taught there after his graduation.

He retired from practice in 1963 when he was 86.

A pigeon fancier, he had belonged to a number of pigeon racing clubs, the last of them being the Stoney Run Racing Club, in Hampden.

Retirement of Joseph Killian

On January 30 a retirement party was given at the School in honor of Joseph F. Killian, laboratory technician in the Department of Oral Pathology. Hosted by the Department and sponsored by the School, the party was attended by a large number of the present staff and faculty members. Also attending were the three deans under whom Mr. Killian served: Drs. J. Ben Robinson, Myron A. Aisenberg, and John S. Salley. Three former professors—Dr. Brice Dorsey, Dr. Ernest Nuttall and Mr. Gardner Foley—and several former staff members returned to the School to honor their old friend and associate.

Joseph Killian began his long career at the School in 1923 at the age of 15. Retiring after 49 years of affiliation Mr. Killian could reflect with true pride on his valuable and personally rewarding contribution to the dental education of several thousand students and his association with several hundred members of the faculty, the majority of whom he had also known as students. Under the supervision of Dr. Aisenberg, Joe developed over his many years of dedicated participation a gathering of knowledge and skills that made him an exceptionally valuable worker. He was of that rare type of faculty assistant: devoted to improving his techniques and expanding his theoretical knowledge to the point of being measured and recognized by the departmental faculty as worthy of their full confidence and continually expanding appreciation. He was indeed, for almost half a century a man for students and faculty to remember and recognize as an outstanding figure in the academic structure of the School.

To an old and good friend the alumni extend their warmly felt wishes for many years of pleasant retirement and assure him of the continuance of our interest during his years away from the School scene.

Historian's Report

June 3, 1972

During my long career as a member of the B.C.D.S. faculty I was often made aware of the many and variant values to be derived from the archives of the School. As the world's first dental college the B.C.D.S. has had a unique responsibility to preserve and constantly add to the collection of materials associated with the history of the School. To correct the haphazard system of preservation that has prevailed for many years, I recommend to the Alumni Association that it urge the administration to formulate a Department (or Section) of Archives to be charged with the duties and responsibilities that are customarily assigned to such an important area of a School's purpose and worthiness.

Two other items that challenge the valid interest of the alumni in the welfare of their alma mater are these: (1) the use of the correct name of the School and not a variety of whimsical and inaccurate nomenclature; and (2) the incorrect details presented on the plaques erected at the time of the new building's dedication. The gratuitous citing of misinformation is a dangerous and most reprehensible procedure.

The present condition of the traditional Museum properties is so glaring a problem that it surely invites an investigation by a properly motivated alumni committee acting with an equal number of faculty members.

One of the finest traditions of our alumni is the pride exercised by them in the reputation of their old School. There has been recently a plethora of commentaries concerning the standards of clinical training offered to the students. Such commentaries expressed by members of the student body and of the faculty deserve the very careful attention and the unprejudiced analysis of the alumni under the dedicated aegis of the Alumni Association. History has a way of making the truth known — let us, then, discover and publicize the truth in anticipation of history's eventuality.

Gardner P. H. Foley

Report of the Audit Committee

It is a pleasure to report that the books of the Treasurer of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland were examined on June 30, 1972 by the firm of Davis and Davis, Certified Public Accountants and were found to present fairly the financial position of the Alumni Association for the period January 17, 1972 to June 30, 1972.

Joseph L. Cannizzaro, Chairman

SUBJECT: Clarification and Proper Use of the Name of the Dental School.

The matter described in the following paragraphs of this memorandum is still in the process of being checked for accuracy and clarification with Dean John J. Salley through the Director of University Relations for the University of Maryland at Baltimore. It is important, however, for you to be aware of the problem in order that you may take extreme care when referring to our dental school. This matter came to our attention after an incorrect reference to the school in last year's College Park football program. One or more members of the Board of Regents and President Elkins consider this a subject of concern and asked me to take appropriate action.

A writeup about the University in the program last fall incorrectly stated: "The University expanded its professional schools with the opening of the School of Dentistry in 1840."

It has been clarified that to be correct, the reference to the name would have to read: "The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland." Another point, though, is that the sentence as it appeared is misleading and untrue as the University was not associated with, or in any way connected with, the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1840. The two were associated in 1923.

According to at least one authority, when the Baltimore College became part of the University, one of the conditions was that its name be perpetuated as the dental school of the University. An act of the Legislature was passed to make this binding and was then made official by the approval of the President of the University.

It should be noted that in addition to the correct title mentioned above, several others are apparently acceptable: "Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, School of Dentistry, University of Maryland," is in use by the school, and several variations of that wording, such as: University of Maryland School of Dentistry, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery (letterhead) and Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, the School of Dentistry of the University of Maryland (dedication program for Hayden-Harris Hall), and The University of Maryland School of Dentistry (Newsletter of the School).

As far as we have been able to determine, technically the name remains Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. The School administration, however, has adopted and is currently using the variations given above, i.e. School of Dentistry, rather than Dental School. Departure from one or the other of these and dropping entirely Baltimore College of Dental Surgery with either Dental School or School of Dentistry would not be acceptable.

Robert A. Beach, Jr., Assistant to President for Univ. Relations

we want all of your business, doctor.

Some suppliers don't. They want only your orders for the high-volume, big-ticket, more profitable supplies.

But we want the bothersome "little" items, too. The obscure . . . the inexpensive. And we also want your equipment and parts business.

We want to supply you with service, qualified consultation, and new product information, too.

We want all your business because each of the services and supplies we furnish you helps make all the other things work just a little bit better.

Experience and Quality are Our Major Assets

Bioblend® Teeth make any denture look more natural.

Bone-like enamel. Wrap around translucency. Internally blended color. These are just a few of the esthetic refinements which distinguish Bioblend from all other artificial teeth. The result: Bioblend Teeth are now being used more often for complete dentures than any other teeth in the world. Any other!

Available in porcelain or plastic.

Confidence is a big Responsibility

Your patients come to you because they expect the best. A successful practice is built on a patient's confidence in your knowledge, techniques, and other skills. But they come to you for other reasons as well.

Your patients can depend on you. They depend on you to keep up with the latest procedures, and the latest findings in Dentistry. They depend on you to take preventive action and to give advice.

Your facilities are up to date with all the necessary equipment capable of handling your patients' problems when they arise.

You are accessible to your patients, and your suppliers are accessible to you. Patients know that when there is an emergency, you will be able to take care of them — in most cases without delay.

You are convenient to your patients. Though most practices consist of the people in the surrounding community, there are those who come from greater distances. To them you are more than just a dentist, you are a friend.

More dentists come to Aronovitch Dental Laboratory for these same reasons. Aronovitch Dental Laboratory is the Baltimore area's largest lab specializing in fabricating porcelain fused to gold, porcelain jackets, and aluminous porcelain jackets. We are the largest because our practice too is built on confidence.

Yes Doctor, we at Aronovitch Dental Laboratory have a big responsibility.
